DUKE RADIOACTIVE—Following his tour of the isotope plant at Canada's atomic energy project at Chalk River, Ont., the Duke of Edinburgh is checked for radioactivity by a technician with gelger counter. He absorbed a small but harmless amount of radiation. With the Duke, are: W. J. Bennett, president of the Atomic Energy of Canada Limited; Dr. David A. Keys, scientific adviser; (left), and Dr. W. B. Lewis, vice-president, (right).
