KEEWATIN, Ont. (P- Police gunman, who robbed a bank here! Tuesday of approximately $5,000.

RCMP, Ontario Provincial Police; Kenora and Keewatin police are looking for the robber, about 26, who walked into the Royal Bank of Canada branch at this northwestern Ontario resort town, menaced manager Harold Rolston with a shotgun, and escaped in a waiting taxi.

Three Winnipeg men, arrested in Winnipeg Tuesday night, were released once it was established they were not connected with the robbery. Their automobile was seen at Keewatin earlier.

Another suspect, found in the thickly wooded area near Keewatin shortly after the holdup occurred was held at Kenora jail for questioning.

Bank manager Rolston denied an earlier report which said between $12,000 and $15,000 was stolen.

THE THIRD AVENUE "EL," the only public transit in New York City that's still up in the air, is going even higher at one point. In the Bronx, an 800-foot span is being lifted higher to permit construction of the Cross-Bronx Expressway, major link between the New York Thruway and New England. The tracks, which run north and south, are to be lifted eighty feet at one point. Here, massive "jacking towers" of 14 x 14-inch timber are in place to support the El span during the uplifting. There will be no interruption of train service during the operation, just slow speed while crossing the section.
