In appealing for local support of the national Red Shield campaign, Army officials outlined some of the work of the organization, stressing the "Of, By and For the Common People" theme.

Noting that it was said of Christ that the "common people heard Him gladly," they said the fact that the Salvation Army also is heard by the common people may be one of the secrets of success of its manifold operations.

"It was raised among the common people. It is largely made up of common people and it is conversant with the needs of the common people as all the world now well knows! It serves the common people wherever it finds them."

Rotary Growth In Northland Pleases Visitor

Special to The Daily News

TERRACE — Induction of a new member by the visiting District Governor highlighted last Thursday's meeting of the Terrace Rotary Club.

District 151 Governor George Maloney, of Puyallup, Wash., introducing new member C. J. (Jim) Norrington, told him that "although it doesn't take much of a man to be a Rotarian . . . it takes all of him."

Addressing the club, Governor Maloney expressed pleasure at the "amazing expansion" of the international organization in Alaska and Northern B.C., with many new clubs organized, as well as increased membership in established clubs.

Emphasizing the ideal of Rotary "Service Before Self," he said he looked to Rotarians not only to "pull their own weight in the community . . . but also to do that extra bit."

Pretty Swedish New Canadian Finds B.C. People Fascinating

VANCOUVER, B.C.—A pretty so many Vancouver women wear new, Canadian has progressed to dowdy raincoats and dark felt hats—the point where she's learning hats even when it's not raining, her English backwards.

Marianne Helsing who came from Eskilstuna, Sweden, about a year ago, says, "When I came to Vancouver, the letter 'j' became 'jay' instead of 'yay.' Now I have to think hard so I don't say 'yellow' for 'yellow!'"

Canada interests Marianne, but she says it's the people who fascinate her most.

"It's fun to call out 'Hi' when you meet people a second time, and to laugh and have fun right from the start."

She said young men here are nice. Swedish fellows don't find it so easy to tell you if you're smart looking and a good dancer.

Marianne said it was a shame

Former City Teachers Wed In Ceremony at Vancouver

Of widespread interest was a September 2 wedding ceremony in Vancouver, uniting two former Prince Rupert teachers, Helen Alicia Langley, daughter of Mrs. Langley and the late H. G. Langley of Speers, Saskatchewan, and Frank Moore of Cranbrook.

The Rev. R. Hardy, formerly of Speers and Cranbrook, conducted the rites in St. George's United Church, for which the bride wore a tailored suit of navy wool with coral velvet hat and corsage of Talisman roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Lillian Wasuta of Edmonton, Alta., wore a steel grey dress with yellow hat and accessories, and rose corsage.

Groomsmen was Mr. Victor Keating of Victoria, and soloist during the ceremony was Mrs. Les Harmsworth of Victoria, singing "O Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. E. Lessard of Qualicum Beach.

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Langley's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. M. McGinley, at which the toast to the bride was proposed by Anthony Aldridge of Vancouver, and Claire Lessard assisted in serving refreshments.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a dress in rose tone with navy hat and accessories to match and corsage of pink roses, while the groom's mother was gowned in a suit of taupe with velvet trim; her toque and other accessories in pink and her corsage of pink roses.

CLAUDE JOBIN, of Montreal, was elected president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada at its annual meeting in Regina.
