Am directing chatter this day to the future Plymouth owners the children of the present. On Monday next children, we celebrate the nintieth anniversary of the birth of this nation-you will be told all about that when you start your book learnin'.

On that day children, if you can talk Mom and Dad into taking you downtown you will see all sorts of people acting silly. Things like Mayors riding horses, bands playing, clowns clowning, jungle animals all over the place and planes flying overhead in salute to our Canada by our friends across the border in Alaska.

- All this may confuse your little minds and make you gaze in wonderment yet it is all to convince you that you are Cana-"dian, that you should be proud to be Canadian and that those that go to make up all this merriment sincerely hope that you will grow up to be proud Cana-
