vice bureau and club has been vince. opened in London by British journalist Elizabeth Kenyon. Mrs. Kenyon says an Australian friend once posed the question: "Why isn't there a club where models of all nationalities can get to know each other?"

The idea matured in her mind until she found herself looking at premises. When she found suitable accommodation near Marble Arch, she went ahead and opened the Mannequin Cen-

At present 50 girls from near and far have become members and a further 500 inquiries have poured in since the place opened at the beginning of June. BUSY SCHEDULE .

Services rendered include a monthly news-letter in black fort-nightly get-together, advice on fashion and beauty, loan of accessories and general

The news-letter contains information about modelling work and personalities, and Mrs. Kenconstantly in touch with world, gives the girls advice on jobs in both fields.

Training or experience as a professional model is the qualification required for membership. NO SOAP, NOW

Several male models have inquired about membership, but the centre doesn't know what to do about that situation. "We think we're going to make them associate members for the time being—and just be girls together for a while."

Beatrice Billings, a 24-year-old, brunette from Moose Jaw, Sask., is one of the versatile members. former student of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art who bides her time between modelling clothes, TV and film work, Miss Billings thinks the centre "a splendid idea."

Miss Billings says modelling is only" "a sideline" with her as she's anxious to become a serious actress. Since she came to Britain four years ago, she's played a teen-ager in Charlie Chaplin's King in New York, a dancer in The Hypnotist, and a Jazz-singer who doesn't sing, but talks, in Night Crossing.

... WHAT! you want something special for dessert tonight? Well here it is. Honey Pound Cake with a dish of peaches. Slice one peach for each person. Cut into narrow strips and arrange in a glass sherbet dish. Then pour about one tablespoon of Honey over the peaches. Add cream if you desire, and there you have it! All ready for the table!

The Honey will coat the fruit and help keep the peach from turning color before it is eaten. It lends its own golden color to that of the peach, enhancing the peach's color instead of masking it. Add a slice of Pound Cake to the plate, then lean back with that confident air that comes with knowing you are serving your family a healthful yet tasty dish.

This Honey Pound Cake is worth making. It is mellow flavored and marvelously tender. Here's how to make it:

HONEY POUND CAKE - ³4 cup sugar

1/2 cup homogenized vegetable shortening

34 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon mace ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind ½ cup milk

4 cup butter or margarine

14 cup honey 3 eggs, unbeaten 2-34 cups sifted cake flour 2 teaspoons baking powder

Put first 5 ingredients in mixing bowl and blend, Add sugar in thirds, creaming 70 strokes after each addition. Add Honey and beat well. Add eggs, singly, beating 100 strokes after each addition. Sift flour with baking powder 3 times. Add to creamed mixture in fourths, alternately with milk in thirds? beating 70 strokes for each flour addition and 25 strokes for each milk addition. Bake in 9" x 5" x 3" paper-lined loaf pan in very slow oven 275 degrees F.) I hour then increase heat slightly (300 degrees F.) and bake 1 hour longer, This is a light dessert, good for warm weather. Good in cold weather. Honey and Peaches with Pound Cake, then, are an ex-cellent combination.

New Zealand Man To Visit

Plans to bring six young New Zealand men to British Columbia this fall were announced by Art Simpson, Governor of District 504 Rotary International.

Addressing Prince Rupert Rotarians at a luncheon yesterday, Mr. Simpson said he had been approached by the Rotary Governor of New Zealnad about hosting six New Zealanders between the ages of 20 and 25 who had won Rotary awards for proving themselves as outstanding citizens.

Mr, Simpson said that six Rotary districts in the United States and B.C. would be taking care of all expenses for their guests during their stay. They will probably arrive on the continent August 27, tour Montana, Oregon, Vancouver and the Kootenays and return home October 25.

It is also planned to send Rotarian award winners from the six involved districts to New Zealand next year in exchange, Mr. Simpson said.

However, no resolutions have been passed yet to confirm these plans, he added.
