FRANCOIS LAKE — Charles Nourse gave us a swede turnip which was too large for his family. It weighed 14 1/2 pounds.

Louise Gair is spending the holidays with her friend Mary Jane Shaffer and her family. Louise lives in Terrace.

Lyman Merrill, his wife and four children have been visiting Lyman's mother, Mrs. Bill Johnson. They drove over from Decker Lake.

Julius Loewen came in for some dry clothes on Saturday morning as he fell in the lake this side up to his waist. He told us that his brother Ben Loewen who used to live here and who moved to Saskatoon, has been badly hurt. He was keeping guard near a house which was burning when the chimney fell and he was crushed underneath. His shoulder, ankle, and a disc in his back were broken, and he was bruised as well.

We have been looking at some new dollar bills and it seems that the devilish face has been taken out of the Queen's hair.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schwab and their two sons Billy and Roddie called in for a short visit on their way home to Prince Rupert. They spent the holidays in Prince George. The boys took a little golden cocker puppy home with them from the kennels here.

If Matt Nobles health keeps improving with the treatment he is having in Vancouver, he will not have to undergo an operation after all. If he improves steadily he hopes to be home again in ten days time.

There was a large and happy gathering at the Peter Peebles home on Easter Sunday when members of their family gathered there with their children.

Gwen Van Zanten was home for a few days from Vancouver where she is learning hair-dressing. She expects to be home for good in about a month's time.

Candlelight, Flowers Enhance Setting For Hagen-Ingebritsen Wedding Rites

A candlelight and floral wedding ceremony was solemnized in St. Paul's Lutheran church Thursday night when Miss Randi Edna Ingebritsen, daughter of Mrs. Klara Ingebritsen and the late Kristian Ingebritsen of Norvik, Norway became the bride of Harry Arne Hagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hagen, 1128 Hays Cove Avenue. Rev. A. S. Olson officiated.

Given in marriage by her uncle Ingvald Fenes, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown fashioned of white chantilly lace-over-net. The strapless fitted bodice was topped with a matching jacket, featuring sleeves tapered toilly-points. Her encrusted pearl tiara caught her finger-tip illusion net veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Maid-of-honor Miss Helen Olson chose Nile green lace and bridesmaid Miss Lonja Selvig, wore turquoise net with a matching bolero. Dainty headpieces and colonial bouquets of pink carnations completed their ballerina-length ensembles.

Petite Linda Johnson, as flower girl wore a pink frock in ballerina-length and carried a nosegay of blue carnations. Best man was Roald Fenes, cousin of the bride.

Ushers were Ronald Hemmons and Morris Kaardal. Soloist Miss Anna Moen sang "A Wedding Prayer." Organist was Peter Lien.

Bernhof Pedersen proposed the bridal toast at a reception in the Sons of Norway hall where the three-tiered wedding cake, which centred the bride's table was flanked by flowers wired from Norway.

In the absence of the bride's mother, her aunt, Mrs. Fenes received some 115 guests wearing a rose-colored lace gown, off-set with navy and white accessories, under the floral bridal arch.

Assisting in the receiving line, the groom's mother chose a grey-toned dress with red accessories.

A tape recording which brought direct greetings from the bride's mother, relatives and friends in Norway was the highlight of the reception. Mr. Pedersen read a poem written by the bride's mother.

A recorded song written by the bride's friends in Norway and describing highspots of her life, was also played. Toastmaster Peter Lien read some 50 congratulatory telegrams received mostly from Norway.

Serviteurs were Mrs. Egil Sornes, Miss Sylvia Helland, Miss Norma Johnson, Miss Edna Johnson and Miss Margaret Johansen, under the supervision of Mrs. John Pedersen and Mrs. Carl Strand.

Prior to an extended honeymoon trip to Norway in July, the newlyweds left for a brief trip to Terrace for which the bride chose to wear a blue-grey suit, pink accessories and a fur jacket, gift of the groom.

The tape recording of the entire event will be taken by Mr. and Mrs. Hagen to Norway. The groom is employed at Rupert Motors Ltd. and the bride is employed at Universal Ladies and Men's Wear. They have taken up residence at 1128 Hays Cove Avenue. Mrs. Hagen has lived in Canada for a year.

New Weapons Against Heart Disease

People can, perhaps, absorb stress or the high-fat diet most Canadians eat. But subject a person to both stress and fat, and heart disease may develop rapidly.

May Reader's Digest reports on how improved methods of detection and treatment, plus sensible diet, are reducing heart attacks. Get your May Reader's Digest today: 38 articles of lasting interest, including the best from magazine and book favourites condensed to save your time.

Moose Orders Pay Tribute To Deceased

The Moose Temple was the scene of an impressive memorial ceremony Sunday night when the Women of the Moose No. 211 and the Loyal Order of Moose No. 1051 paid tribute to deceased members of the lodge.

Governor George Robinson presided over the service. Women's chaplain Mrs. William Pifford conducted the prayer period.

Sacred solos were rendered by Mrs. Lewis Holder, Mrs. Hazel Campbell and Mrs. Michael Karasosky.

The address was given by Deputy Grand Rogenet Mrs. Cherrill McIntyre.

Twelve members of the WOTM formed the memory cross to conclude the ceremony.

Prockters Feted By Brownie Pack

Canon Basil S. Prockter and Mrs. Prockter were guests of honor at a First Prince Rupert Brownie Pack farewell party in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral hall, Saturday morning.

Brown Owl Mrs. George W. Cook, on behalf of the pack, presented Canon Prockter with a gold penknife and Brownie Betty McGruther presented Mrs. Prockter with a box of stationery. Gordon Freeman showed colored movies. Refreshments were served by the Sixers and Seconers, under the direction of Mrs. L. C. Griffiths. Assisting with arrangements was Tawny Owl Mrs. Norman Dry.

Canon Prockter left last night for Regina to take charge of St. Matthew's parish. Mrs. Prockter and family will join him in June.

Water and brine wells as deep as 3,500 feet were drilled in China as long ago as 200 BC.
