Special to The Daily News LONDON—British Columbia will see 17 inches of royal legs this summer when England's Princess Margaret attends the B.C. Centennial celebrations, representing the brown.

Top London style houses last week presented their collections in a royal fashion show, from which Princess Margaret will pick her tour ensembles.

Fashion leaders Norman Hartness and Worth were the pace setters in the show of dainty costumes, fit for a princess. The consensus after the royal showing was that Princess Margaret would introduce 17 as the magic number in British tury plead that we have no connection with the events of that first "Good Friday." For the same sins which nailed Jesus to the Cross on that day are still crucifying Christ today -- jealousy, envy, pride, arrogance greed for power and money, treachery and cowardice, conformity to the morals and pleasures of the crowd, etc. Juniors and Kindergarten 11 a.m.

Everyone of us is found in the people around the Cross on the first "Good Friday." The soldiers gambled for his few scraps of clothing; they couldn't care less. The scoffers passed by and Klages. 2300 Seal Cove Circle Dial 2554 jeered at Him: "If you are the Son of God, come down from the Sunday School 10 a.m. and 12:15 | Cross." The priests and scribes thought they had saved their bara McLaren, presented solo positions by doing away with this "troublemaker." Pilate had > the faithful few remained watch from afar. It will be the same tomorrow. Where will the overwhelming crowds of Easter morning be? Either asleep in their beds, or out fishing and picnicking. On Easter Sunday our churches will be full to overflowing, but on Good Friday only the faithful few will be there. But surely if Easter Sunday and the Resurrection are to have any real meaning for us, must we not enter into the Cross of Good Friday? How can we expect to share in His suffering on the Cross?

Why do we call it "Good Friday?" Simply because on that day in which the evil within man did its worst, God revealed Himself as One who suffers for us and with us. On that day Christ, the Son of God, bore in His body the sins of the whole world, saying, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." It is "Good Friday" when we realize our own sinfulness and accept the divine forgiveness which was poured out on Calvary's Cross. It is "Good Friday" because "God was in Christ reconciling the world to
