FORSOOTH, A TOOTH—Though he is an object of wonder hecause he was born with a tooth, Michael Wasylyshyn seems displeased. The reason is simple; he wants to bury that tooth in a nice juicy steak, and all he can get is milk. Michael was born at Polyclinic Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wasylyshyn, and already he knows the truth of the adage, "Oh, sharper than a serpent's tooth ..."
