

FORMER CITY RESIDENTS are summer visitors from Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Frizzell, pictured in the charming home of their hosts Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell, 232 Fourth Avenue West. Mr. Frizzell is a sister of Mrs. Mitchell. Born in Port Essington, Mr. Frizzell is a member of the pioneer family of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Frizzell, who came to Prince Rupert in 1969. Mrs. Frizzell, also Prince Rupert-born, is the former Miss Nocl Roerig, daughter of the late Mr. J. B. Roerig of this city and Mrs. Roerig, now of Chicago, who arrives here Friday to spend a month's holiday with her sister, Mrs. Lorne McLaren of this city. Also joining the family re-union is Mr. Frizzell's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. Douglas Frizzell of 930 First Avenue West. During their stay in the district, Mr. and Mrs. Frizzell plan to visit Smithers, Stewart and the Queen Charlotte Islands, marking their visits with moving pictures, to add to their large film collection. LONDON (P)— London's fashion houses have gone into a whirl of feverish activity to launch a line of placid screnity. The chief designers scheduled three showings a day of their elegant styles, generally featuring an easy flowing shoulder line, curving gently through the waist and tapering seductively to the hemline. Skirts are around the 15-inch mark and hibiscus red will dominate the fall scene. Close color runners-up include every shade of red from pink to pimento. Black, grey, blues—gentian and violet—and neutrals are also favorites.

ANCIENT PARALLEL Ronald Paterson, one of the younger designers, delved into history to give his collection a name. He calls it the "chia line" -based on the shape of a Chinese vase called a chia, of the Shangyin Dynasty around 1500. But there's nothing ancient about Paterson's designs. In his models demonstrated how elegant the chia lines can be. The designer favored subtletoned tweeds for suits with a definite dip at the back of the dress for daughter in so-o litjacket. Now for the first time, you can purchase a capital appreciation retirement savings plan designed to protect the value of your retirement savings against inflation.

New Federal Income Tax regulations allow you to contribute up to 10%of your carned income to your personal retirement plan ($2500 maximum), while deducting from your taxable income the amount of your contribution.

This new legislation allows you to invest in the All Canadian Compound Fund--the mutual fund with the most outstanding record of capital appreciation in Canada-at a saving equal to your maximum income tax rate.

For what this means to you in actual dollars and cents savings, consult a Pemberton Representative or mail the coupon below.

You will receive complete details at no obligation.
