THE CIZEK FAMILY of Dundas, Ontario, faced a bleak future when the father offered to sell his six children because of continued unemployment. Soon after their plight was publicized, Otto Cizek was offered a permanent job. The couple fled their native Czechoslovakia in 1948 and came to Canada but the 36-year-old father could not find a steady job. In this photo, Mrs. Cizek poses with four of her six children. On her knee is two-year-old Rudolph and beside her (left to right): Slavak, 3; Georgie, 6, and Anna, 4.

BEGINNER'S LUCK held true in a big way for nine-year-old Ronald Peyton of Island Park, New York, who landed this monster sea bass on his very first fishing trip. But it looks like his trophy is in jeopardy unless he keeps a firm grip on that cat, who's already getting in his licks.
