

Softballers Get Ultimatum If League To Be Kept Going

Regals Trim Amerks

By The Canadian Press

The leaders of the Coast and Prairie Divisions of the Western Hockey League tangled in Brandon Wednesday night. Brandon's 6-2 victory gave Regals a clear eight-point lead over second-place Edmonton Flyers in Prairie standings.

Seattle's defeat, coupled with New Westminster Royal's 4-2 win over a scrappy Victoria Cougars squad, left the Americans with 10 points, seven more than the second-place Royals.

Cougars remained in the coast cellar, one point out of much-bought-over third place behind Vancouver Canucks.

Last-place Winnipeg Warriors of the Prairie section gained a close 5-4 victory from Calgary Stampeders to keep the Cowboys still two wins away from clinching the third-place playoff berth.

Support Needed From Membership

Prince Rupert Softball association has issued a one week ultimatum to members: Either the executive gets increased support, or the league folds immediately.

If softball is to be played in the city this year then members have only one opportunity left to express their enthusiasm: Attend the next meeting of the association to be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Savoy Hotel sample rooms.

Elected president and vice-president respectively at a meeting last night attended by only 11 persons, were: Joe Pagot and Len Harrington.

Both officials accepted the election by acclamation on the condition the support of members at next Wednesday's meeting improves considerably.

Both have threatened to resign immediately if there is no co-operation.

Mr. Harrington bluntly stated he would divorce himself from the association altogether.

He added this warning was applicable throughout the season.

"If the co-operation slackens, or if support is not guaranteed, then I'll resign and write a letter to The Daily News giving my reasons," he warned.

Mr. Harrington admitted that he himself had not given the association as much co-operation as his position of vice-president last year merited.

Tentative plans to be formulated at the next meeting for the forthcoming season were discussed last night.

It was generally considered five teams would be adequate for the season. However, Mr. Harrington said that if more teams wanted to join the league, "we cannot boycott them."

At the same time it was indicated there may be six teams this year. They are: Local 703, Navy-Army, RCMP, Atlin, Savoy and a possible entry from Annunciation School. Canifisco will not be playing this season.

Secretary of the PRSA, Pearl Woon told the meeting that there was an urgent need for more scorekeepers, and six teams was far too many for any score-

The remainder of the executive will be elected at that time.
