DOUBLE TROUBLE—Philadelphia Phillies catcher Stan Lopata had good reason to think he had been out in the sun too long when he turned around and saw two umpires behind himone normal size, and one half-size. Actually, Stan didn't have to worry about having his eyes---or his head--examined. This is an unusual double exposure taken during a recent Phillies-Pittsburgh Pirates game. The standard-sized umpire is Hal Dixon and the, seemingly, midget one is second-base umpire Jocko Conlan.
