WHEN THE COMMISSION COMES WEST.

It cannot be too strongly realized by the boards of trade throughout the west that they have a duty to perform in arranging to have convincing proof furnished to the Railway Commission at every point it visits that there is a solidly united and determined west behind the demand for just railway rates. The points in the west at which the Commission will sit, and the dates, as set forth in an Ottawa despatch are as follows:

Fort William, Wednesday, July 17; Winnipeg, Thursday, July 18; Moose Jaw, Saturday, July 20; Regina, Monday, July 22; Saskatoon, Tuesday, July 23; Edmonton, Wednesday, July 24; Calgary, Thursday, July 25; Vancouver, Saturday, July 27; Victoria, Tuesday, July 30.

The western rates investigation has for some time been in the stage where it is the railway companies' move. By the last judgment of the Commission pronounced by Judge Mabee, Mr. Cowan was declared to have established that the whole existing scale of western rates is discriminatory against the west and that, therefore, under Section 77 of the Railway Act the railway companies must show cause why the discrimination shall not be done away with by an order of the Commission for a complete revision of the rates. Mr. Cowan also established, from the official figures furnished under oath by the railway companies themselves, that the cost of operation is lower, not higher, in the prairie provinces than in the east.

It is stated that "these western hearings may reveal certain traffic conditions which may be of value later in the formation of a judgment." What every Western Canadian has reason to desire with all earnestness is that everything which can in any way possibly assist in the clearing up of the whole question of western rates shall be brought to light. The surest way—in fact, the only way—toward the securing of just treatment of the public by the railways is the way of absolute publicity in regard to the traffic conditions and all the other workings, the expenditures, the revenues, the accounts and everything else there is to be found out in regard to these most important of public utilities.

What the west desires is the full daylight of publicity upon all these matters, so that the Commission can see its way clearly to the enforcement of a square deal, placing the rates from end to end of the whole country on the basis of justice to all with discrimination for none. It is for the boards of trade throughout the west to frustrate any strategic attempt on the part of the cunning, adroit and craft corporation counsel to make it appear that in this demand for justice the people of Western Canada are not standing shoulder to shoulder, without distinction of section. All that the west wants is a square deal; and that is what all the west wants.

"Closed for the Game."

"Me grandmother's dead," the office boy said, caressing his eyes with his sleeve; "Too bad," said his boss, with a shake of his head; "You must take a day off and grieve."

"I've a pain in my dome," was the bill clerk's moan. As he rubbed his knob, which was hairless; "You'd better lay off," said the boss, with a cough; "Your headache might make you careless."

The rest of the force, with no sign of remorse, killed their relatives off. 'Twas a shame! And the boss, with a glance at his calendar askance, hung a sign out: "Closed for the game."

What Roosevelt Said.

They ran the roller over him, despite his cries infernal; It really was no way to use a person like the Colonel. And when they picked him from from beneath all bunged up and disfigured; He gave a gasp or two for breath and said: "Well, I be jiggered!"

To-day's Impressions
To-morrow's Sales

Many a September purchase is really decided in July.

Many a woman is gathering information to-day that will influence her selection of a stove two months hence.

Many a man is thinking right now about the store he will patronize for his Fall suit and overcoat.

Many an October piano purchase is really determined on the porch of a summer hotel or home in August.

How unwise, then, to put off the Advertising of these and similar articles until the actual time of their use arrives.

One advertisement seldom makes a sale. It is the repeated impressions created by Advertising that develops purchases by a discriminating public—and these impressions are seldom built up in a day, a week or a month.

Yet some manufacturers and merchants still procrastinate until the first nip of frost is felt—and then besiege the public with belated announcements of Fall clothes, kitchen ranges, home furnishings, winter underwear, and other articles usually purchased in the Fall.

Purchased in the Fall—oh, yes—but decided upon in the Summer. Decided in favor of the goods that are continuously advertised.

It's the Advertising read in July that bears fruit in September and October. For to-day's impressions inevitably lead to to-morrow's sales.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Laidlaw Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
