This week we have news for you and some ideas on badge work by Mrs. J. R. Johnston, badge secretary for the Local association.

1st Brownie Pack—Last Saturday the Brownies were very pleased when Constable Duke-shiff of the RCMP came to talk to them on traffic. At a future meeting he hopes to show films too. There will be a Church Parade on February 23, at St. Andrew's cathedral.

2nd Brownie Pack—Sixteen Brownies were at the Thursday meeting. They played several games, and then divided into three groups. One group worked on their Golden Hand badges, the other groups were working for their Golden Bar, one group sewing on buttons and the other learning the composition of the Union Jack.

4th Brownie Pack—Tawny Owl Mrs. A. E. Boyle regrets that she cannot continue working with the Brownies, everyone is very sorry to see her leave. The Brownies worked, sewing on buttons and setting a table. They were each given a bulb to take home and grow.

5th Brownie Pack—Brown Owl Mrs. M. J. Saunders is back with the Pack now and reports there are some new tweensies.

2nd Guide Company—Ann Peterson, Hedy Lippert and Heather Small passed their semaphore. John Waruk kindly came to test them on it. There are three girls working on their Tenderfoot badge. The Guides were out collecting boxes to earn money for the company. The Guides are also working on their First Aid and hope to pass the test soon.

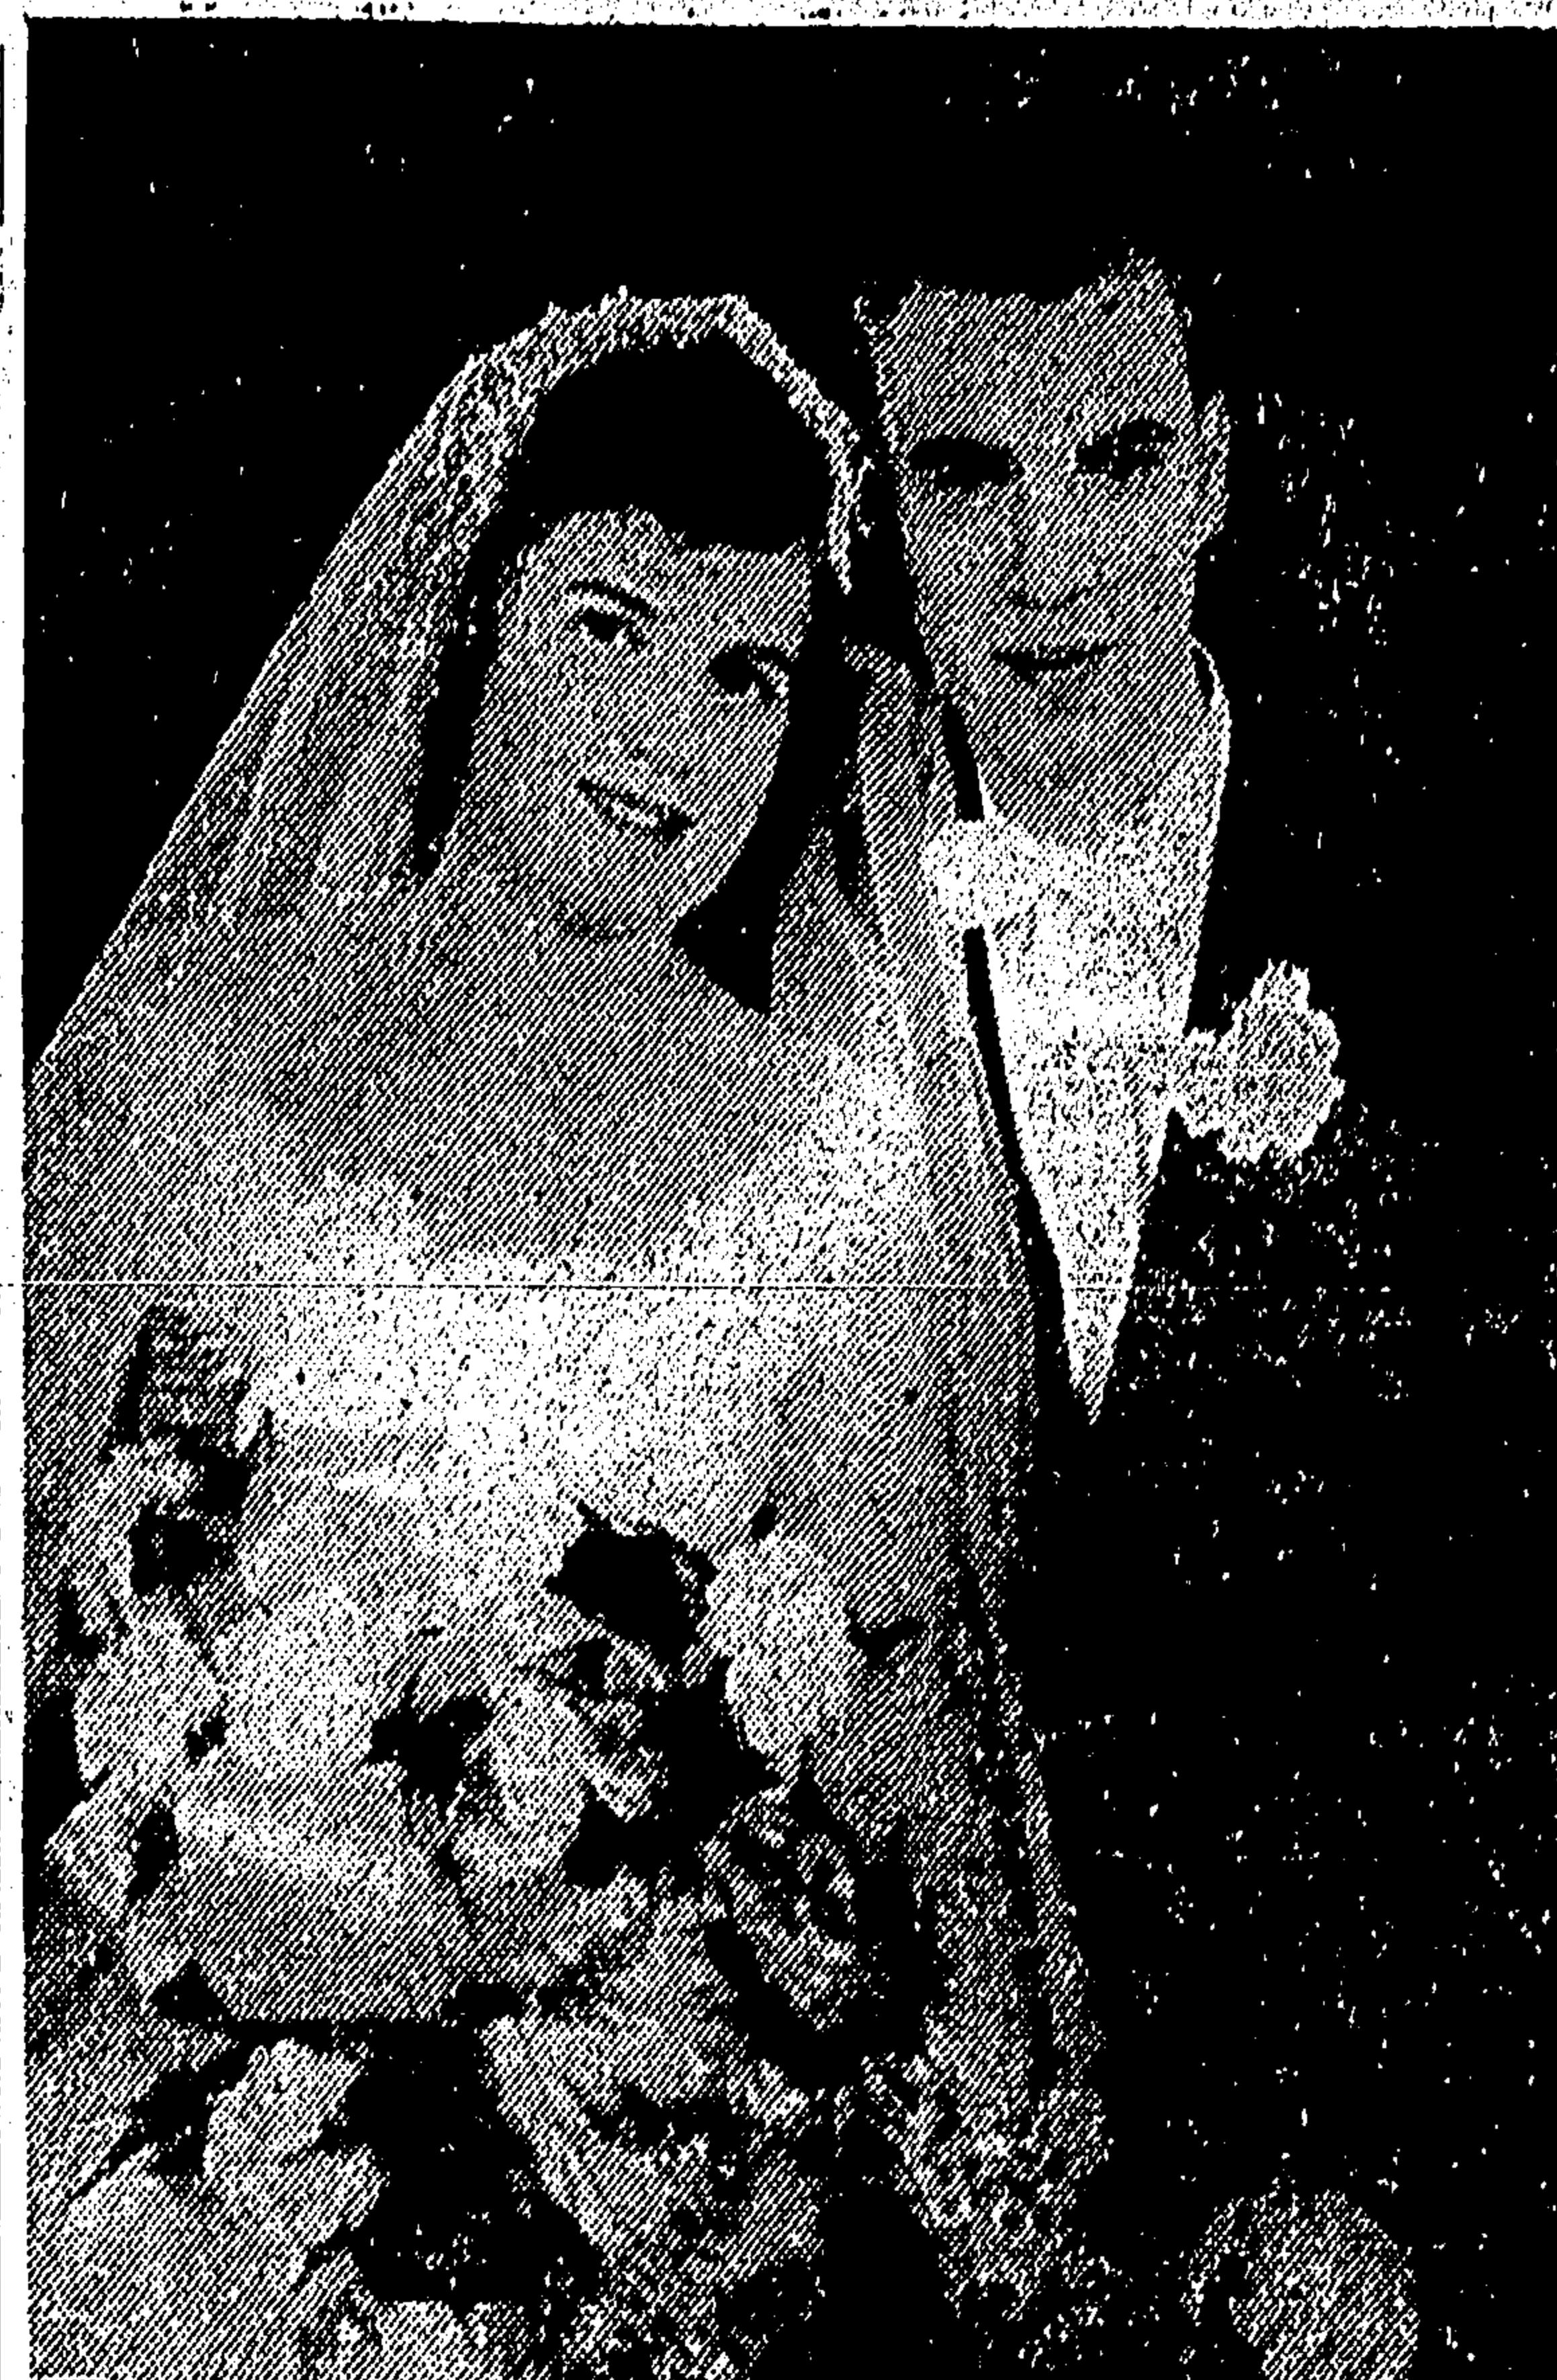

Now the ideas on badge work. The badge plays very important role in the life of the Brownie and Guide. It is a symbol of the progress she has made. Her pack is company. To earn these badges a girl must work very hard, but she is well rewarded when she is allowed to display the badge on her uniform. Guiding trains girls to be good citizens and the Guide and Brownie who works hard and wins her badges is also learning good citizenship.

Brownie badges consist of the following: first the Golden Bar, second, the Golden Hand and then the Proficiency Badges. When a Brownie is 11 years old, if she has won her Golden Hand badge "Flies Up" to Guides, if she has just got her Golden Bar she "Walks up." A Guide who has "Flown Up" is entitled to wear her Golden Wings on her Guide uniform.

We will have more about badge work in a later column so look for it.

One last very important thing—the Local Association annual tea, being held on February 27 at St. Andrew's Cathedral, 2 to 5 p.m. Everyone is really pitching in and helping and right now all the Brownies, Guides and I.A. members are selling tickets.

Happy Guiding!

New Members Initiated Into WOTM

Two new members were initiated into the Defending Circle of the Women of the Moose Wednesday night when the Order held its monthly meeting in the Moose Temple.

Welcomed were Miss Muriel Peltier and Mrs. Ormond Pratt.

Forthcoming events planned for spring were an "Irish supper" to be held in the Temple, March 27 and the annual spring bazaar, May 20.

Mrs. B. R. Tymchuk will head the Mooschaven committee, in charge of the supper party.

A clever skit depicting the duties and aims of the 11 standing chapter committees was presented by the Ritual committee, as the program for the chapter night.

A cold supper concluded the session. Mrs. Helen Tweed won the monthly prize.

Newspaper "Filler" Proves It's Still "Small World"

The old adage "it's a small world" crops up every so often when people meet. In strange places or read about someone they haven't heard of for years either doing something interesting or turning up in the same town.

Another of these cases cropped up yesterday when C. R. Bohannon, of 2386 Sixth Avenue West found his sister's name in a Canadian Press "filler."

A filler is a small item used to fill up awkward holes in a newspaper when actual day-to-day news isn't available. The Daily News receives from Canadian Press some 2,000 fillers a month, of which perhaps 200 are used at the most every month. Just a little item but Mrs. A. G. Weis is Mr. Bohannon's sister and only a short time ago he had written her telling her about the large crowds in Prince Rupert. Then, last night he turned to the back page and reads about his sister and the crowds. He could hardly believe his eyes. As he said this morning "It's a small world."

Yesterday, wet snow wiped out a small world.
