RESTAURANTS AND LIQUOR.

At the Police Commission meeting yesterday afternoon there was some little discussion introduced by the Mayor regarding the proximity of certain lunch counters to the bar rooms of their proprietors' hotels. Nothing definite was done in regard to the matter, which was merely commented upon, the commissioners being concerned only to assure themselves that nothing in the nature of a licensed restaurant business in liquor was being carried on. They felt satisfied that all was in order, and the city solicitor probably voiced the opinion of the License Board when he said the intention was not to issue restaurant licenses in Rupert. It is interesting to note, in this connection, that in this country, as in the United States, nine-tenths of the whole restaurant business has no connection with the liquor trade. And yet it is not so very many years since restaurants had to depend on bars, and were notoriously unprofitable where liquor was not sold.

NO HALF-AND-HALF STATUS.

It is to be hoped that Premier Borden will succeed in securing recognition of the full British citizenship of any foreigner who becomes naturalized in Canada. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, on his last visit to London, called attention to this matter as one urgently needing attention, and it is stated in a despatch that Mr. Borden will press the point.

At present a newcomer from the United States or any other country becomes only a British subject so far as Canada is concerned. This kind of qualified and local citizenship, if asked for by foreigners entering this or any other country, would not be granted, and should not be conferred undesignedly on strangers entering Canada.

The arrangement, while it is permitted to continue, reflects upon the full British citizenship of everybody in the country, for by means of it men are naturalized as Canadians, and their status is limited to that. It is a distinction and a difference altogether out of keeping with the idea of a British Empire.—Toronto Star.

THE CHINESE LOAN DETERMINED.

After many weeks of diplomatic communications the announcement has been definitely made that the bankers of Great Britain, the United States, France, Germany, Russia and Japan have agreed to lend the Chinese government three hundred million dollars to enable it to pay off the troops employed in the late revolution and to put the public finances in a sound condition. China has to submit to conditions that would be both onerous and odious to a solvent government, but the first four out of the six powers are friendly, and they may be trusted to see that Russia and Japan get no more advantage out of the transaction than is properly coming to them. Part of the understanding finally arrived at is that political conditions and problems are by common consent left entirely out of the international agreement. It is hardly too much to say that the slower the progress made just now under the tutelage of the friendly powers the more likely is the new Chinese political organization to prove enduring. It is safe to cite this politico-financial international agreement as a potent guarantee of general peace.—Toronto Globe.

WOLGAST WON FROM RIVERS IN THIRTEENTH

Fight at Vernon, Cal., Yesterday Resulted in a Decision for Ad. Wolgast From a Foul—Rivers Had Best of It at Start

Vancouver, July 4.—First and second rounds all Rivers, also shade in third. Up to the end of the fourth round Rivers had all the best of it; Wolgast clinching to save himself.

Rivers has big lead in sixth. Right to jaw sending him down. After being heavily punished Wolgast had a shade the best of it at the end of the eighth.

Ninth Round—As this round opened it was evident that Wolgast was improving his position. He upper cut Rivers with his left several times and landed twice on his nose. Rivers landed a right hook to the jaw staggering Ad. The round ended in a hard clinch slightly in favor of Rivers.

Tenth Round—The opening of this round was marked by heavy fighting. Wolgast landing on Rivers' ribs and forcing him to the ropes. Rivers retaliated with two bad jabs to the neck and managed to stall him off up to the end of the round which was an even break.

The eleventh round was opened by Wolgast in an aggressive fashion. Landing one on the stomach, he followed right and left to the jaw and forced Rivers around the ring. Rivers swung right to face and left jab to jaw, but missed right swing. Round ended in favor of Wolgast.

Twelfth Round—In this round Wolgast got in several uppercuts and Rivers put in left to jaw and got a stiff blow in exchange. Wolgast showed up strong and as the round finished landed two hard ones on Rivers' nose, tapping the claret. Rivers seems to lack punishing power, and the round closed strongly in favor of Wolgast.

Round 13—Wolgast wins on a foul.

GRAND TRUNK OBEYS ORDER

Ship Fever Monument Replaced by the Company as Ordered by Judge Mabey—Rude Monument Respected by Commission.

Montreal, July 4.—Acting under instructions from the Railway Commissioners, the Grand Trunk Railway yesterday replaced what is known as "Ship Fever Monument." This is a huge boulder of Canadian granite, weighing fourteen tons, on the face of which is inscribed the following:

"To preserve from desecration the remains of 6,000 immigrants who died of ship fever, A. D. 1847-48." This stone is to be erected by the workmen of Messrs. Peto Brassey & Betts, employed in the construction of the Victoria bridge, A. D. 1859. For nearly half a century the huge boulder rested in "Ship Fever Cemetery," at Point St. Charles. A few years ago it began to interfere with the development plans of the Grand Trunk, and was removed by the company to St. Patrick's Square, a few blocks distant. This roused the ire of the Irish residents of Point St. Charles, many of whom were descendants of the ship fever survivors of 1847-8, and protests were made to the government and to the railway commission. After hearing both sides of the case, the late Judge Mabey ordered the Grand Trunk to replace the monument. This was done yesterday.

Pulling Down Historic Inn in England.

New York, July 4.—According to a cable from London the old Globe room in the Reindeer Inn, at Banbury, in which Cromwell held counsel before the battle of Edgehill, is being pulled down. The ceiling and paneling of this historic room is in course of removal to London by a firm which is about to re-erect them in their premises.

Up to the present it has not been decided to remove the windows and gables of the room, because the people of Banbury expressed the wish that they remain.

FORGOT WHO HE WAS AND LEFT

Leading Lawyer Found in London Hospital After a Search of a Year—L. M. Jones Lost His Memory Three Years Ago.

London, July 2.—Luther Maynard Jones, a former law partner of the late William C. Whitney, and the first secretary of the Yale Alumni Association, was found today in Streatam Infirmary after a disappearance of three years, due to loss of memory caused by an abscess on the brain.

Mr. Jones came here several years ago in connection with an important lawsuit, but was compelled to give up practice owing to brain trouble. He afterwards became a noted antiquary.

J. R. Quain, of Ottawa, a life-long friend, found Mr. Jones today as a result of a year's search.

To-day's Impressions To-morrow's Sales

Many a September purchase is really decided in July.

Many a woman is gathering information to-day that will influence her selection of a stove two months hence.

Many a man is thinking right now about the store he will patronize for his Fall suit and overcoat.

Many an October piano purchase is really determined on the porch of a summer hotel or home in August.

How unwise, then, to put off the Advertising of these and similar articles until the actual time of their use arrives.

One advertisement seldom makes a sale. It is the repeated impressions created by Advertising that develops purchases by a discriminating public—and these impressions are seldom built up in a day, a week or a month.

Yet some manufacturers and merchants still procrastinate until the first nip of frost is felt—and then besiege the public with belated announcements of Fall clothes, kitchen ranges, home furnishings, winter underwear, and other articles usually purchased in the Fall.

Purchased in the Fall—oh, yes—but decided upon in the Summer. Decided in favor of the goods that are continuously advertised.

It's the Advertising read in July that bears fruit in September and October. For to-day's impressions inevitably lead to to-morrow's sales.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 London Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
