BRITISH COLUMBIA LACROSSE ASSOCIATION "BUSTED UP" WESTMINSTER WITHDRAWS

(Special to Daily News.)
Vancouver, July 24—The B.C. Lacrosse Association "busted up" last evening with a beautiful declaration in most unparliamentary language after a short meeting here last night. New Westminster withdrew from the league and left the meeting. The meeting came suddenly following the passing of a resolution by a majority vote. President H. Gowan is ordering next Saturday's game and the one scheduled for Sept. 14 to be changed and played at Vancouver instead of Westminster. This was violently opposed by Westminster. After the retirement of the Westminster delegates the Vancouver executive arranged with Con Jones and other officials to go east tomorrow night and secure seven or eight men for a new team. Several local men are available and a second Vancouver team will be made up.

PASTORS IN SASKATOON SHOCKED

Saskatoon, July 23—While the sporting fraternity of the city is jubilant over the announcement that the city fathers would not interfere with the staging of the Burns-Rickard bout for the heavyweight championship of Canada on August 8, the local ministerial association are shocked, and are waging war against it being held. They have already taken steps to prevent it taking place, having sent a telegram to Premier Scott denouncing it in strong terms expressing their disapproval of the contest.

PROFIT SHARING SYSTEM

Tables issued by the London Board of Trade showing the progress of the profit-sharing system are of some interest at present when a body of public opinion is urging a wider acceptance of co-partnership principles as a means of checking industrial unrest. The tables are mainly based on cases which have been in the press, and as a number of cases, most of small works, have not been noticed, the figures may be regarded as understating the extent of the operation of the system. Since 1829, down to 1911, the number of live profit sharing schemes established has been 2. Of these 153 have ceased to exist; there were in 1911 three schemes as to which particulars could not be obtained, leaving in operation at June 30, 1911, the number of people employed in business in which profit sharing existed was at that date 84,777, of whom 24,420 were engaged at gas works. The average bonus in all the cases enumerated, including those which no bonus was paid, was in the proportion of 4.3 per cent. to the wages paid during the year 1910.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE Charter and Supplies Have Arrived and Lodge Will Open Next Week

The many members of the Loyal Order of Moose in Prince Rupert will be pleased to hear that the charter and supplies for the lodge have arrived, and Mr. C. P. Keyes, local organizer expects to announce the date of institution shortly. It was planned by Mr. Keyes to hold the grand opening this week and arrangements were made to that end, but word from Mr. R. L. Replogle, grand organizer for the north-west, who is at present at Vancouver, has changed his plans, and the opening has been postponed until his arrival next week.

Members of the lodge are to be congratulated on having the opportunity of hearing and seeing Mr. Replogle, for it has been chiefly through his efforts that the Moose have gained the enviable position they have in the west.

Official announcement will be made through these columns of the exact date of institution.

BORDEN BUSY; PLANS ATLANTIC STEAM SERVICE

Ottawa, July 23—It is believed that during his visit to England Premier Borden will take up a new question, that of a fast Atlantic service. The fact that the contract has been renewed but temporarily is taken as an indication that something on an improved scale is contemplated. Some time ago there were rumors that such an agreement was being negotiated with the Canadian Pacific on the basis of a greater increased subsidy, but at the time this was denied by Mr. Borden. At the existing contract expiration, however, the subject will be very much to the front and will be carefully looked into and following the Premier's trip to England, some developments may be expected. Whether the increased subsidy would be granted to one company or divided among several as has been advocated, is a question to be determined. It has furthermore been suggested that the ships be of a cruiser type, but it is stated here that the whole question has as yet reached no definite form.

CITIZENS SUPPLY FAN AT CENTRAL

Many public spirited and good hearted citizens yesterday phoned in to Acting-Chairman Kerr of the Telephone Committee, offering to subscribe the money for a fan purchase of which was vetoed by the Mayor on Monday night. So readily did the citizens come spontaneously forward with offers to subscribe in one, two, three, four and five dollar amounts towards the cost of the fan, that the amount needed (only a little over thirteen dollars, after all), was many times over-subscribed in a few minutes. The fan has now been ordered, and will be installed speedily.

"BEFORE THE END OF 1914" COLLINGWOOD SCHREIBER'S DATE G. T. P. COMPLETION

(Special to Daily News.)
Vancouver, July 24—Collingwood Schreiber, general construction engineer of Dominion government, and chief government engineer for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, reached here today, having just completed his inspection of the line to Fraser, 40 miles west of railhead at Tete Jaune Cache, which is fifty six miles beyond the summit of Yellowhead Pass.

"I have every confidence that the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway to Prince Rupert will be finished and in operation before the end of 1914 and think it will be ready before that period but it will take some time to get the road bed in shape for traffic," said Schreiber.

Schreiber will be joined tomorrow by B. B. Kelliher, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific who left him at Tete Jaune Cache to proceed westward over the line to Fort George. Kelliher is coming out via Ashcroft. They leave here on Thursday for Prince Rupert and go inland to inspect the G.T.P. line as far as Aldermere, in the Bulkley Valley.

among the others that one gentleman had the pull somewhere and could get all the wine he wanted. The gentleman in question was kept busy supplying the youths with their thirst slaker and one or two colonials did not hesitate to get in on it. The elderly gentleman was standing in the middle of the grateful crowd when an aide-de-camp appeared on the scene with the remark, accompanied by a salute, "Your Royal Highness' presence is requested by His Majesty." The soldiers around stood dumb-founded, and at once asked who he was. "The Duke of Connaught," was the reply. Consternation reigned until the Duke himself set them all at ease by taking care that the soldiers on duty were looked after during the rest of the day.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT WENT AND GOT COLD CHAMPAGNE FOR THE YOUNG OFFICERS

The happy spirits and splendid good fellowship which is being shown by the Duke of Connaught is responsible for some good anecdotes which are typical of the man. One of the best told of him happened during the coronation ceremonies in England last year. The Duke, who has spent a great deal of his time abroad, is not very well known by sight to the younger officers of the army. A very large number of the young officers of aristocratic families were on duty at the big coronation garden party and their duties resulted in their being kept out of the hall where in was being served refreshments. The day was very hot and a batch of young officers were standing around bemoaning their fate. A smart looking, soldierly man approached them and listened to their complaints concerning their very healthy thirst.

"Why," said he, "I think I might be able to manage two or three bottles of champagne."

This suited the soldiers down to the ground and the white-moustached, bronze-faced gentleman hurried off, returning shortly with his arms full of bottles of cold champagne. The thirsty ones slaked their thirst and the word was soon around

The Duke's favorite story, however, is told by himself. He had just returned from India and was taking a quiet walk in the park, thinking that no one would recognize him. Suddenly he was startled by a coster's voice close beside him.

"I say, Harthur, old cock, give us a match, will yer?" The match was handed to the coster, who, not in the least abashed, lit his pipe, and with a "Thanks Harthur," walked on.

MAYOR MADE A MISTAKE

No more marked indication that the citizens are not behind the mayor in any mean or petty penny-wise policy for Prince Rupert could be seen than the action of the community in regard to the purchase of an electro-ventilating fan for the Telephone Department. Hardly had the Daily News appeared giving prominence to the mayor's mistaken zeal for civic economy in this respect, than Acting chairman Kerr, of the Telephone Committee was besieged with offers from the citizens to subscribe the price of the fan. Twenty fans could have been purchased with the money offered. Patrons of Prince Rupert's excellent telephone system will be pleased to know that the fan is now ordered and the little hello girls' lot in the present hot weather will be happier accordingly. The mayor will probably be pleased, too, since others have paid for the fan.

HIPPOGLOSSUS VULGARIS

No specimen of this useful creature will ever be found in the proposed menagerie to be established some fine day on Acropolis Hill. Opportunities for viewing the Hippoglossus in his natural haunts are extremely rare. Even the hardy Hippoglossus hunters of Prince Rupert see their quarry only in extremis after he is captured. Yet the species flourishes in thousands, in tens of thousands, in millions even, very close to Prince Rupert; and upon the industry of capturing Hippoglossus great hopes of prosperity for Prince Rupert are rightly based. People of Prince Rupert have immortalized the hippoglossus on their city's coat of arms, and even proposed half-jestingly, a monument to him. A monument in the commercial sense, does actually exist to him in the great concrete cold Storage plant at Seal Cove. For the Hippoglossus Vulgaris is simply the halibut.

ROBBED THE WEST OF RECIPROCITY

It would be useless to attempt to disguise the fact that the west (Alberta and Saskatchewan) is keenly disappointed over its failure to obtain access to the larger markets of the United States, and so long as that feeling of disappointment prevails it cannot be said that reciprocity is dead. Nor can we afford to close our eyes to the fact that the provinces mentioned feel aggrieved with us in the east for the part we played in thwarting their desire. No amount of specious argument or flag-waving will allay that feeling or satisfy the west that it has not been robbed. Such was the assertion of Mr. G. Frank Beer, retiring chairman of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, referring at the annual meeting the other afternoon to the defeat of reciprocity with the United States.

MORE MONEY LESS TALK

"What the British Empire needs is More Talk," and Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden ably and eloquently proceeded to meet that need. If talk were money Canada had provided enough speeches to build all the Armadas in history. But of "the stuff that is more precious than talk" Canada has not given enough to build a rowboat. Mr. Borden's speech was fine, but there has been a superfluity of speeches on the subject of Canada's share in the defence of maritime freedom. The time has come for Canada to either close its lips or open its cash box.—Toronto Telegram.

The city specifications called for only 400 pounds to the square inch.

A Modern Force in Business

ADVERTISING has established a new order of things in commerce. It has become a mighty power in business progress; a complex yet comprehensible transmitter of many parts for the distribution and selling of merchandise and service.

Its function is fivefold:

To enlighten or educate—to create new wants or to satisfy old ones—to protect and foster legitimate enterprise—to establish a medium of understanding between buyer and seller as a basis for mutual profit and advantage—to prescribe an economical price and the maintenance of a fixed standard of quality.

None know better than the buying public how well these functions have been fulfilled.

Modern advertising has given us an insight into various manufacturing processes. The producer has taken us, the consumers, into his confidence and told us just how his mince meat, his flour, his clothing, etc., is made. We know why certain things should or should not be. Advertising has told us—broadened our understanding and guided our judgment.

Modern advertising has enabled us to unlock the treasure house of the world's divinest melodies through the medium of the player-piano. The motor car has lengthened the business day and brought the fragrant countryside to our door. Men shave in comfort in ten minutes where they used to take twenty. A magic bottle provides us with cold drinks with the weather at 90 degrees or gives us a warm beverage when Jack Frost dips at 40 below.

Modern advertising has elevated the standard of business ethics. It protects the manufacturer from unscrupulous competition and the consumer from base imitation. It conserves trade—extends business—creates good will. It enables the corporation, the manufacturer or private individual on trial to take his case directly to the public, and to secure the public's judgment on his policy or character based purely upon their respective merits.

Modern advertising has opened up new opportunities to the oppressed and poor of far-off lands. It has turned an unceasing tide of immigration to new countries. It has developed nations, and made the name of the New World a promise of better things among the people of the Old.

All this advertising has done and will continue to do. It is the ever-increasing influence for the advancement of mankind—the most potent, indeed, of the many forces influencing human action.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.
