It was thought by some that Hart's Sale would lose its interest after the first week, but we are glad to say those timid ones have been disappointed.

We believe this is the most impressive sale ever held in Prince Rupert and we don't exaggerate when we affirm that the interest is on the increase.

Our experience has taught us that to be successful in business we must be alive to two things—we must learn what our customers want and then we must make the prices attractive. This is the sure pathway to success, and we are following it, turning neither to right nor left.
