LOCAL STRIKE EXPECTED: NEW BRIDE: ROSES WIN

BRIGHT NEW OPERA COMPANY OF JUVENILES COMING SOON

The amusement loving public of Prince Rupert will be glad to hear that there arrived on the prince George this morning Mr. Bert Lang, the manager of the Juvenile Bostonian Opera Co., who is in advance of his company to see to all preliminary arrangements, the company arriving on Saturday and opening that evening at the Westholme Opera house with the Irish musical play "The Rose of Blandeen." The juveniles are said to be extremely clever youngsters on the lines of the well-known Australian juvenile aggregation known as the Pollards who made such a big success on the Pacific Coast in the past. The Juvenile Bostonians, who have played the opera house, Vancouver, and the Metropolitan in Seattle, have just returned from a most successful engagement in Honolulu, where they took the Island city by storm. The length of their visit here is not definitely decided yet, but they will put on a change of programme each evening. They will be assured of a hearty welcome.

STRIKE IS CALLED FOR BY I.W.W. ORGANIZERS TO TAKE EFFECT LOCALLY TOMORROW

The up-line labor agitation has reached Prince Rupert, and a strike has been declared by the I. W. W. organizers affecting local labor on the drydock contract for excavation in the hands of Archie McDougall. It is announced that the men propose to meet the contractor or his agents with a view to conference regarding the situation. Interviewed today Mr. McDougall remarked that as far as his men are concerned, he does not greatly apprehend any disaffection. Those who care to strike at the call of a handful of agitators, he declares, may lay off if they like. Those who wish to work will be amply protected.

Pat Welch is in the city, and it is understood that he has made arrangements for the prosecution of the various works in his firm's hands, strike or no strike. The feeling is that any attempt at labor disturbance will be speedily suppressed, and that the most of the men are ready to remain with the work.

REV. F. W. KERR BRINGS BACK A BRIDE TO PRINCE RUPERT

A host of smiling friends were down at the wharf this morning to meet the Prince George, and welcome the return of the Rev. F. W. Kerr with his bride. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr were recognized at once by their many friends some time before the boat tied up, but during the rush and excitement of the disembarking of such a number of passengers they retired to the saloon, intending, they said, to remain on board and get ashore under less conspicuous conditions. But their friends would have none of it, and remained obdurately until Mr. and Mrs. Kerr came smilingly down the gangplank amidst showers of rice and congratulations.

A special meeting of the Roses is called for tonight at 8 o'clock in the Maple Leaf Cafe for the purpose of selecting a team for the third league game. Chief Back. Chief of Provincial Police Walter Owens returned this morning from a short business visit to the south.

A LEADER IN GREAT LONDON DOCK STRIKE

Anthony Revilliac, an obscure member of the London Dockyard strike situation reached an acute crisis, when he suddenly shouldered his way to the front with burning championship of the cause of the suffering women. He is said to have originated the terrible prayer against Devonport which has aroused in England indignation against the strikers' cause on the part of the religiously sensitive.

COL. LECKIE OF VANCOUVER, VISITS PRINCE RUPERT

Col. W. H. Leckie, member of well-known firm of mining engineers of Vancouver, who have large interests in the Portland and District, is in the city en route to Stewart, with his partner, Mr. Kirkpatrick, to look into the mining situation there at present. ENGLISH ROSES WIN THEIR FIRST PRINCE RUPERT LEAGUE FOOTBALL MATCH LAST NIGHT

The second league match under the Prince Rupert Football Association was played last night before about 500 spectators. The game started with the Roses having only seven players, but showed that the Caledonians were not going to have it all their own way. Hardy scored the first goal for the Roses. Soon after the Callies made a successful rush on the Roses' goal and Stewart equalized the score. The Rose fielded their eighth man five minutes before half time. Half time score, one goal each.

The second period opened much to the pleasure of one section of the crowd, the Rose players dominating the Callies' goal and once when the goalie was out the wavery was "Has anybody here seen Kelly?" Hardy took advantage of Kelly's slip and scored. One minute later the Roses were awarded a penalty kick. Hollis took the kick and scored, but was ordered to retake the kick and wee Kelly saved magnificently to the joy of the Scotchmen. From another burst away the Callies obtained another goal. The game evened up and full time was called with the score: Roses, 3; Callies, 2. The league standing at present is as follows: Played W. L. Callies 2 1 1 Roses 2 1 1 The Roses have a meeting tonight to pick players for the next game. They congratulate themselves considerably on their win last night as they were playing shy of one of their best players in Carrs, and had the services of Golden only part of the time.

MOTOR TRAIN TORPEDOES MAY BE USED SOME DAY ON G. T. P.

The Railway Commissioners of New South Wales are thinking of introducing motor trains in the country districts of that state for the benefit of settlers in the newly settled districts, where there is not enough traffic to warrant ordinary passenger trains being run. These motor trains will replace the slow "mixed" trains, which at present have to cover both commercial and travelling requirements of these remote districts, for passenger transit. The motor trains will carry a limited number of passengers at the rate of 45 miles an hour. These cars cost between £6,000 and £7,000 each. Accommodation is provided for some 70 persons in one long car, about 70 feet long, which also includes the engine. The roof of the car is curved, and the head is shaped to a wind-cutting edge, so that the vehicle presents a torpedo-like appearance, the round port-holes accentuating the strangeness of the whole aspect of it as compared with what is usually seen on the steel track. The motor driving the car is of 200 horse-power, the cylinder holds 88 gallons of benzine, the oil consumption being about half a gallon per mile. Motor cars have now been in successful operation in the United States for some years, and they should prove of similar benefit in New South Wales.

WHAT PREMIER BORDEN SAW WHEN BRITAIN'S NAVY STEAMED TOWARDS THE SEA

And at last came the end of the great day, when the fleet prepared to move out to sea for the manoeuvres. At 5 o'clock the mighty fleet weighed anchor, and as the 20,000 tons, cutting lights as a steam yacht, led the way out to the open sea, she was followed at short intervals by the battleships, the cruisers, and the other great ships. In single file they moved on to the horizon, making a seemingly continuous line of steel.

All this time there was tremendous activity in "high street," the main line of ships. A thousand frigates were roaring under the guns, and soon a pall of smoke hung over the fleet, that would give the British admirals a headache. This high street, it is said, began to move first the Northern and the Southern, then the Gloucesters and the Incessants, then the Essexes and the Guelphs, and so on, down the "long line." It is not easy to convey an impression of the overwhelming

THIS BURGLAR PECULIAR IN TASTE; STOLE A PHONE BUT LEFT MANY VALUABLES

There have been many burglaries of wireless sets, but perhaps one of the most peculiar on record is the case of a man who, besides the premises of the Jersey Trust, stole a telephone. The burglar, some time ago, went to a clock shop, and there he saw a clock which he had been promised to the police. As he was about to take it, he noticed a man who was looking at the clock. He took it as well as possible, and he became frightened as he saw the man. He ran away, but he did not get far. The police were notified, and they were looking for the burglar. The burglar was found in the street of the burglar.

KEEP OUT!

"KEEP OUT!" used to hang as a sign on every factory door. The old idea of secrecy in business made it seem a crime to show outsiders processes, materials, and methods of manufacture.

Now the white light of publicity is being let in by those who depend on public favor for business profits and business growth. The "keep out" sign is disappearing from factory doors and the "welcome" sign is taking its place.

Today, many public service companies use the newspapers to tell the truth about themselves.

Today, many big industrial enterprises are open without inhibition to the inspection of an interested public.

Tomorrow, many more companies, depending for their success and prosperity on public confidence, will lift the curtain that has heretofore shut workrooms away from the public eye.

The public may overlook, but does not forgive, a lie or an abuse of its confidence. The public regards with suspicion those who attempt to serve it in secrecy and silence.
