How often do we hear the expression "If I only had now the money I have spent so foolishly?"

To be successful in life it is not so much intellect that is required as common sense and a grasping of one's opportunities.

Two persons start out together in life, equal in every respect; one makes good while the other is a failure.

Ask the successful man how he reached his present prosperous state and he will tell you by strict attention to business and by taking advantage of the opportunities that come his way.

He ACTED while his brother HESITATED. There is today at Hart's an opportunity of laying the foundation stone of a successful career; you would do well to pay us a visit.

KEEP OUT!

66 IZ EEP OUT!" used to hang as a sign on every I factory door. The old idea of secreey in business made it seem a crime to show outsiders processes, materials, and methods of manufacture.

Now the white light of publicity is being let in by those who depend on public favor for business profits and business growth. The "keep out" sign is disappearing from factory doors and the "welcome" sign is taking its Candor and honesty form the backbone of modern Advertising. Nien tel the truth, and it poys. Modern selling relies more and more on the confidence and good will of the buyer.

Te-day, eyes are too sharp and intelligences too keen to make deceit possible. Absolute frankness in Acvertising is the straight road to confdence. The public demands the light; it abominates and fears darkness.

Le-day, many canning factories, packing houses, bakeshops, and public

kitchens welcome visitors, concealing

To-day, many public service companies use the newspapers to tel the truth about themselves.

To-day, many big industrial enterprises are open without hindrance to the inspection of an interested public.

De-morrow, many more companies. depending for their success and properity on public confidence, will lift the curtains that well their board and workrooms-they, too, will come to printing candid advertisements in the news

The public may overlook, but does not forgive, a be or an abuse of its confidence. The public regards with suspicion those who attempt to serve it in secrecy and silence. The public is repelled by juggled facts or beforging words. The public rewards with its favor and money those who tell it the truth. It walks and shops where the light shines and where the paths are straight.
