G.T.P. OFFICIALS ARRIVE: BAYLEY BEATS SCOTT: LOCAL NEWS: PANAMA PROBLEM: VISITORS

PRESIDENT E. J. CHAMBERLIN PAYS HIS FIRST OFFICIAL VISIT TO PRINCE RUPERT

Refers Not to Receive Any Formal Civic Welcome in His Lately Assumed New Responsibility, But Promises to Dine With the Mayor Tonight When Matters of Municipal Importance in Connection With the Grand Trunk Pacific Development Will be Discussed

A large crowd of citizens were assembled on the wharf this morning, including Mayor New-son and the members of the City Council, to welcome the arrival of the steamer Prince George with the new president of the G. T. P. and his party on board.

Presidential Party. Captain McKenzie brought off starboard land in fine style, making one think it was the Prince Rupert with Captain Bar-ry Johnston at the helm that was arriving. The presidential party, who were to be seen stand- ing on the captain's bridge as the boat pulled in, consisted of A. W.

Smithers, chairman of the Lon- don board of directors; E. J. Chamberlin, president of the road; W. P. Hinton, general pas- senger agent; Captain C. H. Nicholson, superintendent of the steamship lines; Mr. Dewey, Mr. Donaldson, Mr. Deer, Dr. J. Hutchinson, Mr. Kinsella, Mr. W. Smithers and a number of others accompanying the presidential party.

Desired No Reception. It was the intention of the Mayor and Council to present a short address of welcome, setting forth the pleasure of the citizens at receiving the new president of the great railroad on his first visit in that official capacity. The president rather threw a damper upon this proceeding by stating emphatically that he did not wish any official reception and had not the time at his disposal for an interview of any kind.

Mayor Invited to Dine. He, however, extended on invi- tation to the Mayor to meet him at dinner this evening, which, it is understood, has been accepted. The party of officials spent the morning in taking a trip around the harbor in the quarantine launch Evelyn and viewing the progress of the railway work in the city.

ORCHESTRA FOR THE NEW OPERA HOUSE

It will be welcome news to the amusement loving public of Prince Rupert to learn that the popular Westholme Opera House has made arrangements to add to the attractions of the house by providing a permanent orchestra. Mr. George Werner, than whom there is no finer pianist on the Pacific coast, will be assisted this evening and at all future per- formances by two well known musicians, members of the Mu- sicians' Union of Vancouver. Mr. E. Stillwell, who is a trap drum- mer of the first order, accom- panied by his wife and Mr. A. Prescott, said to be a fine violin- ist, arrived on the Prince George this morning to start work at the Westholme Opera House. They were accorded quite a send-off upon leaving Vancouver by the Musicians' Union, a full band being there to bid them farewell.

WORLD-FAMOUS EVANGELIST PASSES AWAY RIPE IN YEARS GENERAL BOOTH IS DEAD

Founder of Widespread Religious Organization Started in a Humble Alley, Dies Near London at the Age of Eighty-Three After a Life of Tireless Activity Leading the Warfare of His Salvation Army Against Evil---History of the Work--Who Will be General's Successor?

(Special to Daily News.)
London, Aug. 21. — General Booth died today at his residence, "The Rockstone," Hadley Wood, eight miles from London. He was born at Nottingham in 1829. The veteran Salvation Army leader lay unconscious for forty-eight hours before his death. The medical bulletins had not revealed seri- ousness in the General's condition, which for a week, it is now admitted, was hopeless. Interest now centres in Booth's successor, it being generally be- lieved that his son, Bramwell Booth, will follow his father. Under the constitution of the army, the general nominated his successor, several years ago placing the name in a sealed en- velope, which he deposited with the army's lawyers. The date of the burial is not yet decided.

The Rev. William Booth, founder and head of the Salva- tion Army, was born at Notting- ham, April 10th, 1829, and edu- cated at a private school in that town. He studied theology with

WORTHY SON OF A WORTHY FATHER

Alderman Douglas was down at the wharf early this morning to welcome the Prince George, both in his aldermanic capacity as one of the leading members of the City Council to receive the G. T. P. officials and as the glad father to welcome to Prince Rupert his clever and accomplished son, Professor Milton Douglas, pro- fessor of music and dancing with a well known academy established in the city of Seattle. Professor Douglas, who is also a pioneer of this northern country, having been in Dawson away back in 1901, has come to Prince Rupert at this particular juncture to take in hand the training of a num- ber of children in Scotch and other dances to take part in an entertainment to take place at the forthcoming visit of the Gov- ernor General.

OVERSEAS CLUB MEMBERS RALLY TO PREPARE PLANS FOR WELCOME TO CONNAUGHT

loyal and enthusiastic supporter of the Imperialistic idea. VISIT OF THE G. T. P. PRESIDENT.

Prince Rupert greets President E. J. Chamberlin cordially on his first visit to the city in his new role of heavy responsibility. Prince Rupert reposes a good deal of confidence in the President of the G. T. P., and while realizing that this is but one end of a mighty system under his supervision, is ever alert to the fact that the trend of Dominion development is westward and that the western terminal of the G. T. P. is correspondingly important. Upon President Chamberlin's appreciation of the paramount need in Prince Rupert for a swift, steady and determined campaign of railway development much of the immediate prosperity of Prince Rupert depends. Prince Rupert's citizens are striving to do their part in developing the city and the resources of its surroundings, which mean rich revenue for the railway. That President Chamberlin will do his determined best to speed the railway's progress is Prince Rupert's demand of him.

A GREAT NATION DISGRACED.

It is to the credit of United States journalism that many of the leading newspapers refuse to support Congress in its callous repudiation of the nation's obligation in the matter of the Panama Canal tolls. The New York Times says plainly that the nation is disgraced. The Chicago Tribune thinks "the spirit of the debate and vote in the Senate was deplorable and should be counteracted by intelligent opinion." The dispute, it declares, is one that the United States is "morally pledged before the world to refer to judicial decision." Failure to agree to such a reference would, it says, convict the American people of "palpable hypocrisy." Plain talk of this character may induce the politicians to modify their views as to the popularity of the course upon which, on the eve of an election, they have embarked. The outspoken indignation of the newspaper shows also that the immoral doctrine of "My country, right or wrong" is no longer held in universal respect.

BANDSTAND WOULD BENEFIT.

Both the Metlakatla Indian band, with their new silver instruments, and the embryo city band would certainly appreciate the building by the city of a simple bandstand somewhere centrally. In view of the visit of the Duke of Connaught possibly a point might be strained by the civic administration and an inexpensive structure run up so that the bands may practice with the encouragement of a real audience and the substantial countenance of the City Council to inspire them. A band playing on the street level is at a disadvantage. Any mendicant array of musicians can have that sort of stance, but even little villages have usually better bandstands. The offer of the Metlakatla Indians is worth considering.

THE APPROACHING REDISTRIBUTION.

According to the British North America Act, a Dominion census must be taken every ten years, in the year ending with 1, and after the census is complete there must be a redistribution of the Dominion constituencies, based upon the census figures, the population of Quebec being divided by 65 in order to determine the unit of representation, the representation of each province in the Dominion House of Commons being adjusted accordingly, and each province being divided up into the requisite number of electoral districts. The fifth Dominion census was duly taken last year, and presumably the Redistribution Act will be brought before Parliament at the next session.

RUMORED CHANGES IN THE CABINET IN GREAT BRITAIN END PRESENT REGIME SOON

London, Aug. 21.—With the adjournment of Parliament for a brief session there has been a recurrence of the rumors of cabinet reshuffling that are always revived at the close of a session. On previous occasions the vacation has been used as the opportunity for many important changes, but it is not likely that there will be much alteration this year. This is doubtless due to the belief that the end of the present Liberal administration is not far off. Of the speculations of the cabinet changes which have recently filled the newspapers, the most brilliant is that Hon. Neil Primrose, the brilliant son of the Earl of Rosebery, is likely to get a government position. Members of all parties in the House recognize him as thoroughly worthy of advancement.

POLICE OF NEW YORK AID ARRESTED LIEUTENANT IN GREAT GRAFT CASE

New York, Aug. 20.—A police fund of $50,000 is being raised for the defense of Charles Becker, the police lieutenant charged with instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, according to information in the hands of District Attorney Whitman tonight. The money is being collected, it is said, by the so-called system which, aside from the murder case, is to be the subject of a sure investigation by the district attorney as to its corrupt alliance between the "system" and the gambling fraternity, founded on graft and blackmail. The information came to the prosecutor today in connection with the arraignment of Becker to answer the indictment against him. During five hours of legal procedure, which included the withdrawal by Becker of his plea of "not guilty" for the purpose of offering motions to invalidate the indictment, the prisoner was represented by three lawyers, one of whom entered the cases and mysteriously withdrew, while the status of the other two seemed doubtful in their own minds when the proceedings were over. It was said that the lawyers engaged by Becker were not satisfactory to the collectors of the defense fund, who, the district attorney heard, have practically engaged a prominent criminal lawyer to defend the lieutenant, superseding the prisoner's own personal counsel.

NO BEAR PIT FOR CITY SINCE CITY CAN'T BEAR THE COST; A DEER MAY NOT BE TOO DEAR

It is to be feared that one of the attractions of a metropolitan city, the possession of bear pit, with real live bears, to which the beaming father and mother accompanied by a string of youngsters of varying length can proceed on a bright Sunday afternoon and view with various feelings of awe and amusement, is for the time being to be denied the people of Prince Rupert. Whether or not the three bears that the city has in sight as the nucleus of a zoological garden view the matter with the same feelings of regret as do the people of Prince Rupert is a matter of conjecture. Alderman Bullock-Webster, by way of offering some slight solace in the matter, stated that the city might run to the expense of another deer. If the deer has any sense it will do some running, too.

GIRL HELD BY HERMIT IN DESERT

Sau Bernardino, Cal., Aug. 20. Through a telegram sent Tuesday by Mrs. Alice Wyman, of Minneapolis, to Chief of Police Sebastian, of Los Angeles, the former's daughter, Miss Bessie Wyman, aged 23 years, was rescued this morning by Deputy Sheriff Ed Harris from Mike O'Malley's cabin on the desert at Kramer. O'Malley is a hermit. For over three years he has held the young woman. The first known of her plight by relatives was a letter scrawled hurriedly on a piece of wrapping paper and sent to the Minneapolis parent.

FIRE LOSS OF STATES MAY BE $270,000,000

If the present record is kept up, the 1912 fire record will show $270,000,000 worth of property destroyed in Canada and the United States. One-eighth, approximately, of this loss must be charged to Canada. Of this amount, Manitoba's share is $1,000,000 for the first six months of the year, equal to a tax of $2 on every man, woman and child in the province. In England, the fire tax is only 40 cents a head. This is the statement of Fire Commissioner Liselback, who further states: The fire tax per capita in Canada, as a whole, is $3.50, as against $2.50 in the United States. Launch Alice B., W. J. PITIFUL CASE OF STARVATION AND NEGLECT

Swan River, Man., Aug. 20.—A distressful case of want and suffering has just been brought to light at Alpine, a Swedish settlement, in the Duck Mountains, 34 miles southwest of here. Mr. and Mrs. Findley, of Durban, which is twelve miles from Alpine, heard of a woman in distress in a lonely homestead on the mountain. They went to investigate and found a Swede woman sick in bed and starving to death, with a baby fifteen months old crawling around. The child could not walk, and was clothed only in a small shirt, and was very dirty. It had crawled in and out of the house at will, often sleeping outside the door. The mother was in a pitiable condition, a veritable skeleton. There was no money in the house and only dry bread to eat. The woman has been sick since February last. It appears that her husband had deserted her, as no one seems to know his whereabouts. Mrs. Findley immediately took charge of the woman and the child. They brought the mother to the Swan River hospital.

LIQUID SULPHUR CURES

RHEUMATISM, ECZEMA, STOMACH AND KIDNEY TROUBLES
SKIN DISEASES

Why? Read These Facts

Because Liquid Sulphur is the greatest known blood purifier of the century. Every one knows that sulphur is good for the entire system. Almost everyone has taken sulphur in some form or another. But is it known to you that sulphur in its powdered form cannot be assimilated into the blood through the stomach. If the stomach cannot dissolve sulphur, how can the blood be purified? Liquid Sulphur is already dissolved, is, in fact, ready for the stomach to distribute through the system. Liquid Sulphur goes direct to the seat of the trouble, impure blood, attacks and drives out of the entire system all germs and impurities. IT REMOVES THE CAUSE AND PERMANENTLY CURES.

UNITED STATES AND PANAMA A COMPREHENSIVE CRITIQUE OF THE PRESENT SITUATION

"If this work should be ever executed, so as to admit the passage of sea vessels from ocean to ocean, the benefits of it ought not to be exclusively appropriated to any one nation, but should be extended to all parts of the globe alike." So wrote Henry Clay, secretary of state for the American Commonwealth in 1826 when the project of cutting through the Isthmus of Panama was first contemplated as a feasible project. Twenty years later, President Polk, recommending to the Senate the treaty with New Granada, said: "The ultimate object is to secure to all nations the free and equal right of passage over the isthmus," declaring for a guarantee by the great commercial powers that the isthmus should be "neutral territory." In 1881, Mr. Blaine, then Secretary of State, wrote to Mr. Lowell, Minister in London: "The United States recognizes the property guaranty of neutrality as essential to the construction and successful operation of any highway across the Isthmus of Panama."

This two-edged doctrine of equal rights and complete neutrality was reiterated in express terms by President Cleveland, and later still by President Roosevelt. The Hay-Pauncefote Treaty of 1911 was taken, both here and in America, to give an explicit confirmation of both points. Its language seems quite precise. As to rights of use, it says: "The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules, on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation, or its citizens and subjects in respect of the conditions or charges of traffic, or otherwise." As to neutrality, it says: "The canal shall never be blockaded, nor shall any act of war be exercised, or any act of hostility committed within it." When the United States entered the treaty with Panama in 1903, securing the right to construct and maintain the canal, it undertook that the canal, when constructed, and the entrances thereto, shall be neutral in perpetuity.

Justifies British Protest.

We make these questions in order to explain and justify the protest which our government million dollars, for fortifications in the Isthmus is open to the gravest criticism as involving a disregard of the neutrality pledge. For if no act of "war" or of "hostility" is to be committed within the canal, what is the meaning of this expenditure on fortifications? Are we to be driven to the conclusion that, having entered by an unscrupulous coup de guerre upon possession of the strip of land at Panama, hitherto foreign territory, the desire to utilize the canal for exclusive purposes of national commerce and strategy has become so dominant a passion in a certain order of American politician that he is prepared to defy the best public opinion in his own country, in order to steal an advantage over his trade competitors, and to play up to the profitable jingoism of those who are urging this once steep slope of reckless expenditure of armaments upon which European nations fail to stand?

has made against certain provisions of the Panama Canal Bill now before Congress. The bill at present before the Senate committee proposes to exempt from the tolls to be levied for the upkeep of the canal all American vessels doing coastwise trade, and all American vessels of the mercantile marine, whose owners are prepared to part with them to the government in times of war, a condition which practically all American ship-owners would willingly accept. Ships owned or controlled by railway companies, are precluded from all use of the canal, an exclusion probable applicable to Canadian as well as to American railways. The net result would be to free from tolls all American ships, and to throw the entire cost of the upkeep upon foreign ships of a very large proportion of which are British.

Flagrant Breach of Treaty.

It is difficult to understand how any respectable American statesman could have drafted or can defend provisions which appear to violate so plainly their pledges and treaty obligations. Some of the weightiest of the Conservative Senators, such as Messrs. Barton and Root, have exposed and denounced in the most forcible manner the unfairness of these provisions, and the defence made by their supporters appears to be of the flimsiest character. It is contended, for example, that the British government, like other governments, gives certain companies subsidies for mails, and in the Cunard case for war purposes, and that the proposed remission of fees for American ships is nothing but a sort of subsidy. But, of course, the answer is that if this is a subsidy, it is precisely the sort of subsidy expressly renounced by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. No analogy, however false, can present even the appearance of conforming to the pledge of "no discrimination in respect of charges or conditions of traffic." It is hard to imagine how the most obstinate elected body in the world, urged by the most scrupulous of business cliques, can so far ignore the remonstrances of their own most influential public men and press as to place on record so flagrant a breach of international law.

Fortifying the Canal.

Less has been said upon this side of the water regarding the proposal to fortify the canal. But the act of the last Congress in making an appropriation of three million dollars as a preliminary contribution towards a larger sum, estimated at fifty Seventeen Millions Extra.

 An able writer in the New York Independent, counting the full burden which this bellicose policy will place upon the maintenance of the canal, reckons that it will add some seventeen million dollars to the cost of maintenance, making up a total annual expense of thirty-five millions upon a project which its stoutest supporters reckon to yield a revenue of no more than four million dollars per annum. To pay a sum of thirty-one million dollars per annum as the price for an express repudiation of one's pledged word, even though the four millions is exacted entirely from the foreigner in violation of another set of pledges, is surely a poor business basis for an undertaking which, fairly executed, promised to do so much for the friendly and the profitable intercourse of nations.

BANQUET FOR BORDEN ON RETURN

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Preparations are now under way for the holding of a big banquet in the Chateau Laurier in honor of Premier Borden immediately on his return to Ottawa from England. The date has not been fixed, pending the receipt of definite information as to the actual time of the premier's arrival home. All the arrangements are being made by the Conservative Association of Ottawa.

CHINESE CONSPIRACY REVEALED

Hongkong, Aug. 20.—The Chinese manager of a secret society of revolutionists whose headquarters are in Kwan Tung province, was arrested today and sent to prison. Documents and badges were found on him indicating that the revolutionaries had selected their own officials to succeed those at present holding positions under the Chinese government.
 A great sensation has been caused in Chinese circles here by the discovery of the revolutionary conspiracy.

NOTED FAMOUS EVANGELIST

the Rev. William Cooke, D. D., became a minister of the Methodist New Connexion in 1850 and was appointed mostly to hold evangelistic services, to which he felt so strongly drawn that when the conference of 1861 required him to settle in the ordinary circuit work he resigned and began his labors as an evangelist among the churches wherever he had an opportunity. Coming in this capacity to the East End of London, he observed that the vast majority of the people attended no place of worship, and he started "The Christian Mission" in July, 1865. To this mission, when it had become a large organization, formed upon military lines, he gave in 1878 the name of "The Salvation Army," under which it soon became widely known and grew rapidly until it had, at the beginning of 1906, 7,210 posts, under the charge of 16,800 officers and employees, with 45,339 local officers, 18,000 brass bands, men and about 50,000 musicians. The army was organized in 49 countries and colonies, and from the international headquarters in Victoria, street, London, General Booth directed its affairs.

"In Darkest London."

General Booth established "The War Cry" as a weekly gazette of the organization in 1880. The paper is now published in more than twenty languages and has a total weekly circulation exceeding 1,200,000. The army maintains about 700 social relief institutions in various parts of the world, under the charge of nearly 3,000 officers and employees. About 7,000 fallen women annually pass through the 116 rescue homes, and, according to the army's reports, about 85 per cent. of these are permanently restored to lives of virtue. There are 132 slum settlements in the slum districts of great cities. The number of annual conversions in connection with the spiritual work is reported as averaging from 200,000 to 250,000 during the past ten years, making a total of over 2,000,000, of whom not less than 200,000 were converted from lives of drunkenness.

In 1890 General Booth published a volume entitled "Darkest London," containing a scheme for the enlightenment and industrial support of the lower classes. The work attracted world wide attention and was much commented upon. In its chief features the scheme of General Booth received the endorsement of many high churchmen. During the latter years of her life Queen Victoria made an annual contribution to the Salvation Army and it is understood that King Edward has also given the organization substantial encouragement. In 1905 the City of London Corporation conferred the freedom of the city on General Booth and also voted a considerable sum to the funds of the Salvation Army.

Ridiculed the Army

In the early career of the Salvation Army General Booth and his followers were the object of much ridicule. The street meetings and the methods of the army in general were looked upon as sensational and often the forces were hard pressed by persecution or prejudice. But the organization persevered and when its aims and works became better known, public sentiment underwent a change.

In his work General Booth was ably supported by his family. Mrs. Booth shared largely in all her husband's efforts, and further explained their views in a number of written works. She died of cancer in 1890, after several years of painful illness. Until 1896 the General's chief of staff was his eldest son Ballington Booth. In that year, however, a difference occurred between the two, due to the order of General Booth transferring his son from the command of the organization in the United States. Ballington Booth desired to remain in America. The difference in views resulted in the withdrawal of Ballington Booth and his wife from the Salvation Army and the inauguration of the Volunteers of America.

The direction of affairs in the United States was transferred to Commander Eva Booth, fourth daughter of the General. The second daughter, the wife of Booth Tucker, was killed in a railroad wreck several years ago. She and her husband for a long time supervised the work of the army in India and later was transferred to the United States. A third daughter of General Booth for a long time conducted mass meetings in the chief English cities, so that each member of the family was actively engaged in some branch of the army's service.

General Booth made several trips around the world, visiting America, Australia and other parts, and everywhere he was well received.

Five years ago first indications of failing health were apparent in the General. His eyes troubled him, but he continued indomitably on a long auto car tour of Britain, dust inflamed, one eye previously operated on for cataract. The trouble was never properly overcome and at the time of his death the General was totally blind. To the last his intense interest in the army was maintained.

START WORK ON CAPTAIN'S RESIDENCE

Work has begun on the new residence for Captain Johnston of the G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert, situated on Fifth avenue opposite the residence of the Mayor and beside that under construction for G. A. McNicholl. The new building is being erected by the well known firm of contractors, Messrs. Mitchell, Currie & Watt, to whose enterprise and skill the locality just there owes all its finest residential buildings. Mr. Mobley's house, the Mayor's, Mr. McNicholl's, Mr. Angell's and Captain Johnston's, all within a radius of a furlong or less, have been built by the firm mentioned, and all are exceptionally pretty houses. This morning saw four two-horse wagons in line waiting with building material for the various works in progress.

Before introducing the first speaker, the chairman again thanked Mr. Howell as representing the Hazelton branch for the friendly token of the presentation of the valuable little symbolic badge, which, it had been decided, was to be offered as a prize at the forthcoming celebration of the Governor General's visit to the Indian band giving the best rendering of the national anthem.

Short speeches were then delivered by his worship the Mayor, Mr. G. R. Naden and Mr. R. DeB. Howell. All these gentlemen's remarks were much upon the same lines, emphasizing the importance of fostering the Imperialistic idea of strengthening the bonds of unity between the widely scattered outposts of the great empire to which it is our proud boast to belong, to be British, with statesmanlike ideas of empire rather than those of a party politician, always watchful and ready to join hands and rise as one great united nation should the time arrive when the empire was threatened with any common danger from a foreign foe.

The actual objects and aims of the club were outlined by Mr. DeB. Howell, who has had wide experience in the overseas do-
