PREMIER M'BRIDE GIVES WELCOME OF THE PROVINCE TO FORESTRY ASSOCIATION

(Special to Daily News.)

Victoria, Sept. 4.—The annual convention of the Canadian Forestry Association opened this evening. Men from every province gathered to take part in the deliberations. A. C. Flumerfelt, chairman of the citizens' committee for arrangements, was in the chair, and on the platform were Sir Richard McBride, Alderman Cuthbert, representing the city; J. J. Shallcross, president of the Board of Trade; the Hon. Colin H. Campbell, attorney general of Manitoba; J. K. Fleming, premier of New Brunswick, and the Hon. Jules Allard, minister of lands of Quebec. The welcome of the province and the capital city was voiced by the Premier.

ORIGINATOR OF THE GREAT "GOLD MOUNTAIN" BOOM AT STEWART IS IN DISTRICT

Amongst the arrivals in the district yesterday on the Prince George was Mr. James Cullins, a well known newspaper man of the province, lately on the staff of the Vancouver Sun. Mr. Cullins, who is connected in a business way with D. R. Young, who owned the paper at Masset, is going to start up immediately a paper, to be called the Masset Leader.

There is ever indication that a great deal of development is going to take place in the near future on Graham Island, and the venture ought to prove in every way a success. Mr. Cullins is one great claim to fame—the fact that he was the acting manager and editor of the Portland Canal Miner when, two years ago last June, that paper came with its historic special on the paper heralding the discovery of the famous "Big Reef," twenty miles in extent, of free milling gold, that came as boom upon the unsuspecting world as nothing had done since the Klondike excitement of '97.

SCIENCE CLIMBING TO GOD-POWER

Dundee, Sept. 5.—The most interesting feature of the opening of the session of the British Association shows a great advancement. In his presidential address Prof. E. A. Schaeffer of Edinburgh University dealt with nature, origin and maintenance of life. In his address he said: "We may fairly conclude that all changes in living substance are brought about by ordinary chemical and physical forces." Further on he said: "We may even hope some day to see the material which composes the nucleus of cell life prepared by some combination of proper substances." In summing up his remarks he said that research "seems to point to the conclusion that there is a possibility of the production of life that is of living material. Not so remote as has been generally assumed."

PRINCE RUPERT AS SEEN IN PERSPECTIVE FROM POINTS THROUGHOUT ALL CANADA

Travelling Editor of "Canada-Illustrated" Pays Special Visit to Prince Rupert for Purpose of Recording Fresh Impressions in the Light of Far Spread Comment

THE MOST TALKED OF CITY IN THE DOMINION

Prince Rupert is Known to and Spoken of by Leading Business Men in Every Centre of Importance All Over Continent

High compliment has been paid Prince Rupert by the vigorous interest taken in the city's growth since last year by Mr. J. R. Cogger, travelling editor of Canada Illustrated, who on his annual tour of the Dominion, this year a particularly extended one, has made a special trip to this city. Mr. Cogger spared a day or two for this visit because of the keen interest he took in Prince Rupert on his visit a year ago. He desired to see what the terminal city could do in twelve months and to compare its progress with many other go ahead cities with which he is familiar throughout Canada.

Vivid and lasting, he readily admits, has been his impression of the changes made. First and foremost he finds new wharfage extending along the waterfront, graded streets where he saw rough plankways, the hotel sprang up around to a new location, the dry dock works striding along through the shallows at Hays Creek and booming ahead ashore. "Prince Rupert," says Mr. Cogger, "is the most talked of city in all Canada." This means something when you realize that Mr. Cogger has toured every possible centre of interest and population in the Dominion, and that with the express purpose of talking about Canada's cities and other developments with the business men who know.

Very interesting is Mr. Cogger's account of his last interview with the late C. M. Hays, for it throws a strong light on the ill-fated president's keen concern for and admiration of Prince Rupert. To Mr. Cogger, not long before he left on his ill-starred sea journey, Mr. Hays in conversation expressed the view that Prince Rupert was destined to be not only

Special Story of Rupert.

Mr. Cogger is today visiting the cold storage and viewing points of interest in the city's surroundings for the purposes of his paper. On his return east he has an itinerary embracing every well established and rising centre accessible by railway. He secures information and retains the services of informative sources in all centres, and has arranged for further special articles on Prince Rupert and district to appear in Canada Illustrated from his own pen and others.

MUTINY PREVAILS ON BLACK SEA

Special to Daily News
London, Sept. 4.—A private telegram from Sebastopol reports a mutiny of the crews of the Black Sea squadron, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the Chronicle. The warships bombarded the forts, which replied vigorously and sank one of the attacking vessels.

EARL GREY'S GUARD FOR THE DUKE'S ARRIVAL

Earl Grey's Rifles will form a guard of honor on the arrival of the Duke of Connaught, and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock will rally for their initial parade for this function.

Immigrant Steamer Stranded.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—The C. P. R. steamer Lake Champlain, bound in from Liverpool with passengers and cargo, ran aground on the south shore, five miles below the city.

RETURN OF DOMINION PREMIER

(Special to Daily News.)
Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Premier Borden is expected to leave the Victoria Friday afternoon at Grosse Ile. He will be met by the government steamer Lady Grey and make the journey to Quebec, Three Rivers and Montreal by boat instead of by train. The Premier will spend three hours in Quebec. After the Three Rivers reception the Lady Grey will proceed to Montreal, where the Premier will be met by the mayor and aldermen, escorted to the city hall and presented with an address. He will arrive in Ottawa at noon on Sunday.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Hon. Frank Cochrane has arrived at North Sydney. He will return to Ottawa on Monday.

BAD CHEQUE? MUST BLAME BARTENDER

(Special to Daily News.)
Portland, Sept. 5.—The passing of worthless cheques loses much of its criminality when the victim is a bartender is the opinion of Circuit Judge Morrow, who has admitted to parole Harry Williams and John Kentland. They passed a cheque for $30 on a saloon man. "Saloon men have no business to cash cheques for a man when drunk," said the court.

NICARAGUAN REVOLUTIONISTS ARE DEFEATED

FEARS FOR SAFETY OF U. S. CITIZENS IN DISTURBED STATES SOUTH OF BORDER

(Special to Daily News.)

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 4.—Reports that American ranches are being raided by Mexican rebels below continue to be made. Oscar Sims arrived at Naco, Ariz., and reports that he and Roy Adams were taken prisoners by rebels and 73 horses stolen. Sims escaped, but his companion has not been located. The San Pedro ranch, 18 miles south of Heresford, Ariz., was raided yesterday and property stolen to the value of $5,000. Fifty head of cattle belonging to Marion Williams of Douglas were stolen near San Pedro. No news from Americans at Nazaroni was received today and grave apprehension prevails.

PREPARING FOR POPULATION, HEAD OF WEALTHY SYNDICATE INSPECTS LOCAL HOLDINGS

There arrived in the city yesterday on the Prince George from Vancouver Mr. Albert Dollenmayer, accompanied by his son, Mr. Stacey Dollenmayer. Mr. Dollenmayer Sr., who is the head of the Dollenmayer Advertising Syndicate of Minneapolis and Vancouver, B. C., is a wealthy capitalist and has acquired large interests in this province, owning the townsite of Masset and also big blocks of property in Fort George.

Mr. Dollenmayer left last evening with his party for Masset, where they expect to remain for a week or so. In conversation with The News yesterday, Mr. Dollenmayer, who is decidedly a man of conservative views, expressed the greatest faith and confidence in the future of this entire northern country and particularly of the possibilities of Graham Island as the coming agricultural country tributary to Prince Rupert. Mr. Dollenmayer does not expect, however, any very great stir or rush of settlers until about the time of the completion of the G. T. P.

The main object of their present visit to Masset to look into a proposition for reclaiming some tidelands adjacent to the town of Masset, which, if found feasible, would furnish a large area of rich cleared land, ready for the plough, and prove of great value. Upon their return here they will proceed to Hazelton, thence with saddle and pack horses make the trip overland to Fort George to look over their properties in that district.

A special general meeting of the Prince Rupert Rowing Club will be held on Friday evening at the court house at 8 p. m. 210

LIFEBOATS FOR EVERY ONE ON BOARD

(Special to Daily News.)
London, Sept. 5.—As an outcome of the Titanic inquiry the Board of Trade has issued revised rules for increasing the safety of lives at sea, to be effective on January 1st, 1913. They provide that ocean going passenger ships, the emigrant steamships and foreign sailing ships carrying passengers shall be required to furnish lifeboat accommodation for all on board.

EVENING DRESS IS NOT EXPECTED

This evening Sir George will address the members of the Canadian Club at a dinner to be given in his honor at the G. T. P. Inn. The affair will be of an informal nature of the character of the usual luncheon tendered by the Canadian Club to distinguished visitors.

Gray's weekly select dance commences Thursday, September 5, and every Thursday during the season, in the McIntyre hall. Dancing from 9:30 to 12:30. Gentlemen one dollar, ladies free. Gray's full orchestra. Don't miss the opening night. 209

MORE HUNTING PROWESS IS DISCOVERED

A very small and select little hunting party, consisting of two men only, Messrs. Walter Clayton, son of J. L. Clayton of the cold storage plant, and Robert Mathieson, probably brought in the best bag that was got on Labor Day last. Only their natural modesty precluded the possibility of obtaining wind of it earlier. The two of them left Seal Cove on Sunday evening, going some way up the inlet and camping for the night. The next day they were lucky enough to bag four deer, one a buck weighing over 180 pounds. Great rejoicing and hiyu mowich at the cold storage mess.

Sir George Doughty will address the Canadian Club at a dinner to be given in the G. T. P. Inn on Thursday evening, September 5, at 8:30 p. m., on matters appertaining to the Empire. Tickets can be procured at the Inn. Dr. Clayton, Sec. 209

KILBANE VS DUNDEE.

(Special to Daily News.)

New York, Sept. 5.—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, holder of the featherweight title, easily outpointed Johnny Dundee in a ten round bout. Dundee rushed from the start, but was met invariably with left jabs to the face that rendered his efforts futile.

SHEARWATER REVISITS RUPERT

M. S. Shearwater arrived in the district last evening on her return after making her annual tour of the islands to the north extending as far as the Behring Sea. During the voyage good weather prevailed the whole time and the trip partook the nature of a regular summer outing. All the sailors boys looked exceedingly fat and jolly, as if they all had the very best of times. A number of them were on shore last night on leave, taking in the sights of the city. Anchor was weighed this morning at 7 o'clock, when the Shearwater left for Captains Cove, where some fishing and hunting is going to be indulged in before returning to headquarters at Nanaimo.

SIR GEORGE DOUGHTY'S ADDRESS TONIGHT.

High compliment has been paid the people of a certain Scottish seaport by the London press because on the occasion of a great assembly of scientific men in their midst this month the citizens of that seaport made a special request that opportunities for the public hearing of the greatest men of science should be doubled. That is a tribute to Scotland's characteristic eagerness for education. It is the greatest characteristic of Canadian Clubs, indeed it is their essential characteristic that they seize every opportunity for hearing the words of the world's great men. Prince Rupert's Canadian Club is well to the front in this respect, and every compliment is coming to it. Tonight through its efforts and invitation and under its auspices opportunity is given to hear Sir George Doughty speak on "Empire," a subject which certainly intensely concerns Prince Rupert, gateway of Empire, as our city is.

PRINCE RUPERT PROGRESSES.

"To meet demands," says a contemporary, there will be a brewery soon in Prince Rupert. It is even rumored that the work of erection is speedily to commence. Welcome news! Never did Prince Rupert's metropolitan aspect become more apparent. Many a small place, it is true, may boast of a brewery, but inevitably the presence of this industry means the thronging somewhere near of population in big number. Prince Rupert is so situated that nowhere nearer than Port Essington is there any great congestion of population. It cannot be, in spite of waggish suggestions, that Port Essington's thirst is to be quenched by Prince Rupert produced beer. No, the product must be for Prince Rupert consumption and for export. The indication is infallible. Prince Rupert has been picked by the industry that makes cities famous as a place of permanent abode. Prince Rupert is really on the way to become in detail and in general a metropolis.

IN CASE YOU MAY BE DISHONEST.

It's insulting, of course, but there's no other way of looking at it. When a corporation in favoring you with a service of electric light demands from you a deposit of one month's average rates in advance of course that corporation is implying that you are not to be trusted. You may be all right, but you are not fit to take chances on. You must pay your month's charges in advance be they trifling or tremendous, just in case you "skip out" and leave the last month's bill unpaid. Who is it that so insults you? Your own city. If you are an electric light user you know about it. You have received a printed slip explaining the system approved by the Council by which every consumer of electricity in this city is required to deposit a month's average charges in advance before light is granted him. The petty insult of it is already causing comment amongst large users of light. The memory of the absurd ruling by the City Council that the proprietor of a certain central restaurant could not have light supplied unless he paid the back charges due by the tenant who occupied the premises before him is fresh in memory. That miserable bit of mismanagement of a public utility is the excuse for the present insinuation that every user of electric light or power in Prince Rupert is dishonest.

PUTTING UP WITH PEOPLE

Appreciative persons are invariably loved, because it is so comfortable to go to a friend who credits one with good motives, who believes what one says, who does not hide disapproval or ridicule behind inscrutable eyes, and who is too tender and kind to dig down to the grimy roots from which even the sweetest flowers spring. Without doubt, to be happy over little trivial things is a great source of pleasure in a world where little things are so important and putting up with ordinary people and appreciating their society is a means of enjoyment which few of us can afford to neglect. Most of us, after all, are just ordinary people to other people, and cannot hope to receive from them a more lenient judgment than the judgment we give.

GREAT RAILROAD STRIDES RESULTS OF WHICH REALIZE C.P.R. OR GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

Advances Made Recently in Roadbed Building, in Grade Design, in the Construction of Bridges, Rolling Stock, Locomotives and Signalling Systems

Advances in railroading since George Stephenson have been so gradual that the contrast between his practice and that of today is simply amazing. Samuel M. Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western Railroad company, in a masterly review presents a picture of modern American railroading as against the crude beginnings of 50 years ago. In the rough and ready plans of pioneering grades of 53 feet and more to the mile were common. Of course with heavy traffic the motive power on such lines was largely wasted. At once reform in grades began, so that before many years a grade exceeding 16 feet to a mile was rare.

Ties Treble in Price

In the good old times of 1850, hardwood ties of the best kind were bought at 25 to 30 cents each. Today an inferior article bears a trebled price. Accordingly chemical methods have been applied, and a properly treated cedar tie now lasts 15 to 20 years, nearly three as long as untreated wood. Next to ties is ballast. Of old anything and everything was dumped down as ballast. Nowadays it is carefully chosen as to quality, properly crushed and screened, all its dust and dirt removed, and so placed as to ensure thorough drainage, and properly distributed to its roadbed to bear the loads of heavy rolling stock.

Rails and Spikes

In no detail has railway practice won a more decided advance than in the design and manufacture of rails. At first they were mere strap iron, weighing 19 pounds to the yard. Today steel rails for the heaviest traffic weigh 135 pounds to the yard, and are so contoured, thanks to Plimmon H. Dudley, that they have twenty-fold the rigidity of the ill-designed primitive rails. For a good many years rail was joined to rail by chairs and fish plates lacking strength at joints as anywhere else. At first a railroad spike was nothing more than a common nail, liable soon to work loose from the shocks and shakes it underwent. Modern spikes are of screw form, so as to hold rails and ties securely together.

Giant Locomotives

Locomotives, if the bull may be permitted, have not stood still these 60 years past. In 1850 and thereabout, a passenger engine weighed 15,000 pounds, with a boiler pressure of 100 pounds to the square inch. Today this weight is exceeded twelve-fold and boiler pressures often reach 225 pounds. Of course freight engines show a development still more remarkable. A Mallet locomotive for the Santa Fe line weighs no less than 616,000 pounds, with a tractive effort thirty-six times greater than the toy of 1850, which weighed only 45,000 pounds. In 1850 a common passenger car was wholly of wood. It had 47 seats, and measured 32 feet by 8½. It cost $2,500. Its modern successor is all steel, carries 82 passengers, and extends for a length of 81 feet, with a breadth of 10 feet; it costs $16,000.

First Sleeping Car.

The first sleeping car appeared in 1858 on the Chicago and Alton railroad, as George M. Pullman converted an ordinary day-coach into a dormitory. Four years later on the line between Baltimore and Philadelphia, a box car was fitted up lengthwise with a quick lunch counter. There and then began the dining car service, which now flourishes on every through line of North America.

Just as marked have been the improvements in freight cars. In 1850 these cars of wood, were 24 feet long, weighed 13,000 pounds, and carried eight tons. They cost $400 each. Today freight moves in cars with steel trucks and underframes, 40 feet long, weighing 100,000 pounds, and bearing a burden of 50 tons. In proportion to total tonnage, the heavy car suffers less than one-fourth as much frictional resistance as the light car.

Bridges Get Bigger.

In pioneer times all bridges were of wood, built at a cost of five to ten dollars a running foot. Today all large bridges are of stone, of steel, or reinforced concrete. They cost 30-fold per foot, as much as the short and slight structures of long ago. As with bridges, so with engine houses, water tanks, stations for passengers and freight. Wooden buildings have given place to brick or stone steel or reinforced concrete, with costs which climb high into millions as at Washington, Chicago and New York. At first machine shops were small wooden buildings, equipped at a cost rarely more than $10,000. In 1912 a locomotive shop, with its motive power machines and machine tools, demands an outlay of five millions or even more.

Signalling System

Besides, all this, a trunk line requires car shops, foundries and repair shops, all representing the latest and best lathes, milling machine and casting processes. Sixty years ago a semaphore was the sole mode of signalling. Today automatic block signals are installed, costing $850 per mile of single track; and $1,250 per mile of double track. Their liability to error is reduced to one in one million, as they protect a stretch of from half a mile to two miles.

As Mr. Felton surveys the world field of railroad progress he gives the chief place to the standardization of gauge which allows any engine or car to have a free path on any track whatever.

SIXTY MILE A MINUTE RUSH OF MONEY

Woodlawn, Pa., Sept. 3.—E. T. Walther, a contractor, tried to drop $900 in bills and $700 in silver coin off an express train going 60 miles an hour into the hands of his brother, Charles Walther, at a station here last night.

Charles Walther failed to make the catch and the packages burst, scattering the money for a hundred yards along the track. The police formed a cordon around the money while all but 70 cents of the $1,600 was picked up.

NEGLECT OF EVEN ONLY A LITTLE BURN IS DANGEROUS;
BEST WAY TO TREAT BURNS

It very frequently happens that the shock resulting from burns proves as serious or even more serious than the burn itself, and physicians who are called in such emergencies devote their energies and skill to assisting the victim in recovering from the shock.

A coal may burn deeply through the flesh and muscles and yet not cause as great a shock as a burn that extends over a larger area, but merely burns the skin and does not injure the flesh and muscles.

Nearly every one knows that oils and flour prevent pain in the case of most burns, and they apply it, but they are not aware that cleanliness and great care to keep out germs are the most important things of all. While fire kills the germs about the wound, it does not prevent others from getting in and thereby doing great damage.

In case of a serious burn, make no attempt to dress it yourself, but call in a doctor. And even in a burn on the face, if apparently slight, it is safer to call in a physician because he will know how to dress the injuries to avoid the least chance of disfigurement.

If you attempt to dress face burns you might stop the pain, but at the same time you would not heal the burn properly and a scar would result that would disfigure you for the remainder of your days.

Nothing that can possibly be contaminated should go near a burn. Rags and oils and flour and such things are all right to stop the pain, but the chances are they may not be entirely germ free. Keep boric acid in the house for just an emergency and in case of burns dust this over the injured place.

When blisters occur they should be opened, but care should be taken in pricking them. A darning needle is all right, but it should be cleansed from all possible germs first by holding in a flame. Whether dressing your own burns or those of another, wash your hands thoroughly and clean the nails, as this will frequently prevent germs that are always more or less on the hands from getting into the burn.

After pricking the blister mop the water in it with absorbent cotton and powder with the boric acid powder.

IS SUNBURN
HEALTH?

The sun-burned face is regarded as an indication of health, says The Lancet, and there are some persons who feel that the money spent upon a holiday has been well spent if they come back sun-burnt.

This view is in general justifiable, since the sun-burnt face implies that the individual has been exposed to a fresh, healthy, and open environment—to surroundings, that is to say, which have reacted upon him in a way which routine fails to do. It is true that nowadays the mere pigmentation of the skin can be readily imitated by employing the chemical or ultra-violet rays of the electric light, and in particular the rays of the quartz mercury lamp; and so, if all the result required of a holiday was merely a sun-burnt face, this could be done in the space of minutes instead of an expensive holiday at the seaside extended over weeks. It follows that mere sunburn is not, strictly speaking, an index of acquired health.

No amount of ultra-violet ray treatment, however, can produce the decided general improvement in health and tone which a change of air and scenery does. The truth is that the sun's rays are only one contributory factor to the restoration of health, and therefore the sun-burnt face is merely evidence that the opportunity of an outdoor life has been seized. But the outdoor life means constant fresh air and exercise, in the wake of which follow healthy functional activity, good nutrition, and a general equilibrium of the system, all of which means that the machine is going smoothly, and that the life processes are not hampered by excess or by shortage.

These conditions apart, it is probable that the bronzing produced by exposure to the sun is to some extent an indication of vigor and a satisfactory state of the blood, since the haemoglobin of the blood supplies the pigment to a sun-burnt skin and in this way serves to protect the tissues. If this protection is not afforded blistering or sun eczema may result.

In a word, sunburn is merely a protective effort of the body. The active light rays of the sun, again, undoubtedly give a healthy stimulus to the respiratory process, since under their influence it has been proved that the quantity of oxygen absorbed is greater, while an increasing output of carbonic acid follows.

It is interesting to recall in this connection the experiment which showed the apparent anomaly that animals deprived of nourishment die sooner in the chemically active rays of the sun than when they are exposed to the inactive rays. The inactivity of the vital processes in these cases being augmented, the store of energy was soon used up.

Exposure to sunlight, again, increases the number of blood cells, but the absence of light diminishes the number. A face burnt brown by the sun would seem, regarded in this way, to be a sensible object of a holiday, not, however, because the face is so bronzed, but because the circumstances which conspired to produce the brown complexion have other factors favorable to an all-round healthy state.

NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that under the first part of Chapter 79 of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1906 known as "The Companies Act," letters patent have been issued under the seal of the Secretary of State of Canada, bearing date the 18th day of June, 1912, incorporating Richmond Wyllie Hart, barrister-at-law; George Merle Miller, student-at-law; Pearl Stocks, Jessie Strachan and Winifred Morgan, stenographers, all of the City of Toronto, in the Province of Ontario, for the following purposes, viz:

(a) To acquire by purchase, lease, exchange or otherwise, and to use, hold and improve lands, tenements, hereditaments, immovables and interest therein and generally to carry on business of a land company and real estate agency with the power of renting, exchanging, selling and otherwise dealing in real estate and any interest or right therein.

(b) To develop, improve and lay out any such property in building lots, streets, lanes, squares or otherwise, and upon such property make, construct, build and maintain roads bridges and other internal communications, houses, mills, factories and other buildings necessary or expedient in occupation or improvement of any such property.

(c) To make advances by way of loans to purchasers or lessees of any part of the company's real estate for building purposes or other improvements, and to advance or otherwise in the construction and maintenance of roads, streets, waterworks, sewers and other works of improvement, calculated to render the company's property more accessible or to enhance its value.

(d) To take and hold mortgages, hypothecs, liens and charges, and to secure the payment of the purchase price of any property sold by the company or any money due to the company from purchasers or advanced by the company to purchasers for building purposes or other improvements.

(e) To act as an agency or association for and on behalf of others who employ the company with money, invest and also the payment of the interest, principal or any money entrusted with the company for investment, and for the purpose of securing the company against loss upon any guarantee or obligation or any advance made by the company and to receive any proceeds of any assets or securities or assigned or to warehoused guarantee, obligation, advance or investment, and to guarantee any investment made by the company as agent or otherwise.

(f) To act as agents, or attorneys, for the management of estates, for the sale of property, the investment, handling, payment, transmission and collection of moneys, rents, interests, dividends, mortgages, bonds, debentures and other securities and the undertaking of investigation, valuation, sales, exchanges, leases, subdivisions and the like.

(g) To construct, build, repair, alter, equip, buildings and other structures and to deal in any building requisites.

(h) To construct, acquire and operate works for the production of power or force and in such power or force for any use or purpose for which the same may be adapted, subject to Provincial and municipal authorities.

(i) To acquire letters patent of invention, patent rights, processes, concessions, licenses, trade marks, copyrights or any other privileges of like nature connected with any business convenient for the purposes of the company, and to turn the same to account by manufacturing or working the same or granting licenses in respect thereof or otherwise.

(j) To purchase or otherwise acquire, or undertake all or any part of the business, property, assets or liabilities of any person, partnership or company carrying on business with objects similar in whole or in part to those of the company or possessors of property suitable and proper for the purposes of the company.

(k) To apply paid up shares, bonds or debentures in payment either in whole or in part of any property real or personal, rights, claims, privileges, concessions or other advantages which the company may lawfully acquire and also in payment of payment or exchange for the shares, bonds, debentures or other securities of any other company doing a business similar in whole or in part or incidental to the business of this company.

(l) To purchase, acquire, hold and own shares of the capital stock, bonds or other securities of any other company, corporation or individual carrying on or engaged in any business which the company is empowered to carry on or engaged in, and to acquire, hold or otherwise dispose of such shares, bonds or other securities, notwithstanding the provisions of section 44 of the Companies Act.

(m) To enter into any arrangement for sharing of profits, union of interests, cooperation, joint adventures, reciprocal concession or otherwise with any person, partnership or company carrying on or engaged in or about to carry on any business or transaction which this company is authorized to carry on or to amalgamate with such company.

(n) To raise and assist in raising for and to aid by way of bonus, loan, promise, endorsement, the guarantee of bonds, debentures or other securities, or otherwise, of any other company or corporation, and to guarantee the performance of contracts of any such persons with whom the company may have business relations.

(o) To distribute among the shareholders of the company in kind, any property or assets of the company, and in particular any shares, debentures or securities of any other company or companies which may be purchased or taken or acquired in whole or in part of the property, assets or liabilities of this company.

(p) To sell, lease, exchange or otherwise dispose of, in whole or in part, the property, rights, or undertakings of the company for such consideration as may be agreed upon, and in particular shares, debentures or securities of any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of this company.

(q) To enter into any arrangement with any governments or authorities, supreme, municipal, local or otherwise, that may seem conducive to the company's objects or any of them and to obtain from any such government or authority any rights, privileges and concessions which it may be desirable to obtain and to carry out, exercise and comply with or sell and dispose of any such arrangements, rights, privileges and concessions.

(r) To remunerate any person, firm or company for services rendered or to be rendered in placing or assisting to place or guaranteeing the placing of any of the shares of the company's capital or any bonds or other securities of the company, in or about the formation, promotion, organization or incorporation of the company or the conduct of its business with the approval of the shareholders of the company.

(s) To pay all or any costs, charges or expenses preliminary or incidental to or incurred in connection with the promotion, organization, formation, establishment, registration or incorporation of the company with the approval of the shareholders of the company.

(t) To do all such other acts and things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects or any of them and to carry on any business whether manufacturing or otherwise germane to the purposes and objects set forth, and which may seem to the company capable of being conveniently carried on by the company, or calculated directly or indirectly to enhance the value of or render profitable any of its properties or rights.

(u) To do all or any of the matters herein in no wise limited or restricted by reference to or inference from the terms of any other paragraph.

(v) The powers in each paragraph to be in a wide limited or restricted by reference to or inference from the terms of any other paragraph.

The operations of the company to be carried on throughout the Dominion of Canada and elsewhere by the name of "The Prince Rupert Town Properties, Limited," with a capital stock of fifty thousand pounds sterling, divided into 50,000 shares of one pound sterling each, and the chief place of business of the said company to be at the City of Prince Rupert, in the Province of British Columbia.

Ana 99 out of every 100 unprejudiced people will tell you THE DAILY NEWS is the home paper of Prince Rupert.

Advertisers also tell us and will tell you that results obtained from publicity carried in the columns of this paper have exceeded by far those obtained through any other newspaper published in Prince Rupert

The successful business man today is the one who advertises judiciously, who chooses the medium most generally read by citizens of a community; a business man who does not look upon an expenditure for advertising as an expense, but, on the contrary, as an investment. This type of business man you will generally find in the front ranks of his profession, turning his dollars daily and moving his goods rapidly—and all through the liberal use of newspaper publicity.

Try advertising as an investment, if only for a short time, and watch your business grow.

Let our solicitors call and explain why The News is the best medium through which you should inaugurate your initial campaign.

UNCLAIMED MONEY.

Fund May Revert to Custody of Government.

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—Unclaimed balances to the amount of $676, 147 unpaid dividends of $3,659, and unpaid drafts or bills of exchange totalling $19,851 were in Canadian banks at the end of the last fiscal year according to a statement issued today. The unclaimed balances increased by $8,750 during the year, and the unpaid drafts, etc., by $10,000.

The Montreal City and District Bank heads the list with $127,071, the Bank of Montreal is second with $119,000 of unclaimed money, the Bank of British North America has $93,000 of such funds, the Bank of Commerce $18,000, the Bank of Hamilton $52,000, and the Union Bank $41,000. The rest of the amounts are scattered among all the banks.

It is just a question as to whether these balances may not be made to revert to the custody of the government. This was strongly suggested two sessions ago in the commons committee on banking and commerce, and quite possibly may be dealt with when the bank act is revised next winter.

At present the banks have the use of the money, and in many cases it is extremely doubtful if a claimant will ever put in an appearance. In other instances the balances are so small that proceedings in the probate courts to claim them would cost more than the amount due. A bulky blue book has to be published every year with the names of the depositors and the compilation entails much work.

J. HILDITCH WILL BUILD LIGHTHOUSE

J. Hilditch, the managing director of the Northern B. C. Development Co., who has the contract for the erection of the lighthouse and buildings on Holland Rock at the mouth of the harbor, commenced work there yesterday. A gang of men went over, and the tug McCulloch is at the wharf with a big scow of lumber which will probably be taken over to day. An eight roomed house will be put up on the rock, surrounding the base of the tower, for the dwelling of the lighthouse keeper.
