PRINCE RUPERT WELCOMES THE ROYAL PARTY

THEIR ROYAL HIGHNESSES PLEASED WITH THE RECEPTION GIVEN THEM BY THE NORTH

PRINCE RUPERT GAVE HEARTY WELCOME TO THE ROYAL PARTY

King's weather greeted the royal party on their arrival this morning on board of the Princess Alice at Prince Rupert and continued throughout the day. At the entrance to the harbor the steamer was met by the government fisheries protection cruisers, Falcon and William Joliffe, the former bearing the civic officials and the latter the native bands, while the mosquito fleet of gasoline craft, under the direction of Capt. H. B. Babington, followed and formed an escort to the harbor. National and patriotic airs were played by the bands until the docking of the steamer at the gaily decorated wharf where the populace of the city had gathered to welcome Governor-General and his party to the north.

After the cheers which greeted the Duke's reply had subsided, Mayor Newton presented Mr. Bullock-Webster, who, on behalf of the Prince Rupert branch of the Overseas Club, read a very loyal address, to which the Duke replied:

"Gentlemen: I am very happy to receive your loyal expressions of welcome and to know that the Overseas Club has a flourishing branch in Prince Rupert. "Your membership is now well over 95,000, and the good which can be done by such a widespread organization is incalculable if only all members will bear in mind the creed of the club pledging themselves 'as citizens of the greatest empire in the world to maintain the heritage handed down to them by their fathers.' "

Then followed the presentation of the Indian chiefs and those who had been chosen to receive recognition from His Royal Highness. This was followed by an automobile tour of the city under the guidance of the Mayor and escorted by mounted police.

Luncheon was tendered the Duke in the Prince Rupert Inn by the following persons were present: Messrs. Frank Bratt, A. J. Morris, J. J. Sloan, Captain Tuttle, Salvation Army; L. Bullock-Webster, J. T. C. Williams, Postmaster R. P. McIntosh, Bishop Du Vernet, William Manson, C. A. Vaughan, Dr. W. B. Clayton, Cyril Orme, W. E. Collison, George Leek, J. P. McLennan, H. S. Clements, M. P.; J. H. H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, in rising to reply to the speech of welcome tendered him by Bishop Du Vernet on behalf of the Canadian Club, asked to be excused from delivering a very long address on account of suffering from a severe cold which might make his words difficult to be heard by all in the room.

ITALIANS WIN HARD BATTLE

Rome, Sept. 23—Two hundred Italian soldiers were killed and many hundreds wounded in a desperate battle for the possession of the Zanzar oasis in Tripoli. The Italian soldiers finally drove the Turks out at the point of the bayonet. A correct list of the number wounded could not be secured, but it is estimated to be high.

H. R. H. DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

Welcome!

By those old ties of love and loyalty
Our fathers bore thy fathers in the past;
By the dear homeland far across the sea,
Or by those dearer links that bind us fast,
By Britain's gift of freedom when we speak
We of the alien tongues, by justice known,
By every beat of patriot hearts, we seek
To welcome here Prince Arthur to his own!

We of the West are doers, words be few
That falter forth our joy of welcoming—
But Western arms be strong, and hearts be true
To serve in need their country and their King.
So wave ye flags! and clash ye bells in glee!
Shine, kindly sun! cheer— hearts with love elate!
That our loved Prince we hail so joyously
Find welcome to the Empire's Western gate.

INDIANS ERECTED BEAUTIFUL ARCHES IN HONOR OF DUKE

No greater expression of loyalty could be desired from the Indians than that expressed by the many beautiful arches throughout the city, which for artistic beauty and appropriate greetings rival anything erected in honor of the royal party on their tour throughout the Dominion of Canada.

The natives of British Columbia are a most loyal people and they most heartily co-operated with the city authorities in making the reception a worthy one. Without the native bands much of the excellence of the entertainment and a considerable portion of the picturesqueness of it would have been wanting. The Metlakatla arch at the intersection of McBride street and Second avenue is one of simple beauty, bearing charming inscriptions, while as the corner of Fulton street and Third avenue the Kitlallaws have erected a beautiful structure of evergreens surmounted by pictures of the royal house and decorated with gay bunting. The Tsimpsean arch is also one worth notice and has taken a considerable time to erect and a good deal of patience and ingenuity to plan.

BAPTISTS WILL PRESENT "OUR BOYS" SOON

The Baptist Brotherhood will present the well known comedy "Our Boys" at the Westholme Opera House on the evening of October 12th. The production will be given under the direction of Mrs. Chisholm, and bids fair to be the best amateur performance so far given by Prince Rupert.

The play is correctly designated a comedy, for the humorous situations and dialogue, are warranted to bring a smile to the most solemn countenance. It will be highly interesting and pleasing throughout, and of a character entirely different from anything so far produced in Prince Rupert.

It is confidently assured that there will be a bumper house to witness the efforts of these talented amateurs, who gave such a good account of themselves upon the occasion of their previous performance.

PERSIA TO BE DIVIDED BULL DOG & BEAR

London, Sept. 23—A practical division of Persia between Britain and Russia appears to be assured according to well founded reports following a conference between the Russian foreign minister here and the British Minister of Foreign Affairs.

All the papers in close touch with the government, particularly the London Times, have editorials forecasting this and claiming that the action is brought about by the necessity of maintaining trade interests.

ST. ANDREWS CHURCH SERVICES

At St. Andrew's Episcopal Church last evening before a large congregation, a special sermon was preached by the Rev. H. E. Fox, prebendary of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, England. The reverend gentleman's visit to the diocese at the present time is in connection with the meeting of the Anglican synod, which takes place here this coming week. Prebendary Fox, who is a most eloquent preacher, delivered a sermon of a most impressive character from a text from St. Paul's First Epistle to the Corinthians, first chapter and the sixteenth verse. The service was also remarkable for the fact that it was the largest gathering of Anglican clergy ever held in the diocese. These included the Right Rev. Bishop Du Vernet, Rev. Prebendary H. E. Fox, Archdeacon Collison, Rev. E. C. Burch, Rev. William Hogan, Rev. F. L. Stevenson, Rev. J. Field and Rev. William Crarey.

PRINCE RUPERT WELCOMES THE ROYAL VISITORS

Today Prince Rupert and the North welcomes His Royal Highness Arthur William Patrick Albert, First Duke of Connaught and Governor General of Canada; Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught and their daughter, Princess Patricia, with the whole souled welcome of the west. Older cities may have put on a gay dress in welcoming the royal party* on their official tour of Canada, but no place has given them a more loyal or heartier greeting than has Prince Rupert, "The Gateway of the Northwest."

From hundreds of miles along the coast line and from the distant islands and the wilds of the interior, men, women and children have come to make the welcome of His Majesty's representative, himself of royal blood, one that will be remembered by him as typical of the spirit of the great west, the home of men.

Gay flags, banners and arches are appropriate and pleasing, but they can not give His Royal Highness half the satisfaction as does the sight of the great rock cuts, the fills and pathway of steel which gradually creeps eastward to connect again and bind stronger the West with the East. All this tells in mute accents of the toil and labor of courageous men, who do not hesitate to undo the work of Nature and battle with the wilderness of Time so that the great Northwest may be developed and His Majesty's Dominion may become more prosperous. These are the people who have gathered together today to welcome the Duke to their battlefield and they do so in truth, for as a greater king has said: "By their fruits ye shall know them."

PRINCESS PATRICIA WHO IS TODAY OUR GUEST IS ROYAL IN NAME AND MANNER

The Princess Patricia of Connaught, who is accompanying her august parents on their tour of state through the cities of the Dominion, and who is today honoring Prince Rupert with a visit, is one of the most popular and striking personalities amongst the younger members of the royal houses of Europe. The Princess' full name is Victoria Patricia Helene Elizabeth of Connaught, and she was born at Buckingham Palace on March 17th, 1886.

Golden brown hair, large fine eyes, a noble profile, strong in its resemblance to that of Queen Victoria, and a really superb carriage, which is emphasized by her height, make Princess Patricia a typical royal lady, her reserved air being tempered by a bright smile and charming graciousness. As a natural consequence adventures have not been lacking. Often she has been embarrassingly welcomed as the prospective bride of sovereign or heir to the throne in lands visited. In Lisbon, with the Duke and Duchess, the populace made such a demonstration that it was deemed wiser that she should not accompany her parents to Spain, where King Alfonso then reigned as a bachelor. Nevertheless he appears to have seen her photographs and heard sufficient to stir his fancy, for he very shortly journeyed to England with the purpose, it is said, of asking her to share his throne. But Princess Patricia showed quite clearly that if she marries it will be solely as her feelings dictate. Should a candidate of equal rank not meet her favor, and alliance with one of lesser station be forbidden, it is not an unsafe conjecture that Princess Patricia of Connaught she will remain until the end. Not many royal ladies are able to withstand the glamour of a throne, but Princess Patricia is an exception. The situation is one requiring a brave heart to meet and vanquish successfully. Not only has individual preference to be considered, but unyielding reasons of state. This is but one instance of the many occasions on which the Princess' marriage has been under discussion. Very often have newspaper headlines proclaimed "A Royal Marriage Rumored," the suitor in each case being of rank brilliant enough to satisfy anyone; but as yet no one has been successful. And the reason? That is known alone to the Princess.

Princess Patricia has endeared herself as royal lady in every quarter of the Empire in which she has shed her gracious presence. No princess possesses a personality more swaying. She has both strength and cleverness; a royal personage to the world, she is the permeating spirit of the home. The most widely travelled of princesses, she knows many a remote corner of the world. She is the first unmarried English princess to have her own lady-in-waiting, and she has as well freedom to visit foreign courts, and last year sojourned in turn at the courts of Sweden Italy and Spain.

The childhood of Princess Patricia, while isolated as royalty is bound to be, was one tended to develop individuality. She and her sister, Princess Margaret, now crown princess of Sweden, lived during their early years with their grandmother, Queen Victoria. Later, during the enforced absences of their parents abroad, the little princesses were in the sole charge of their governess, Madame de Morinno, a really wonderful woman who did much to form and strengthen their characters. She was indefatigable where she felt her charges were involved, and while none can replace a mother's care, here on the side of careful forethought and wise judgment could scarcely have been excelled. Like most English princesses, both daughters of the Duke of Connaught were brought up simply. Princess Patricia as a tiny girl once confided: "Mama says that we may forget about being royal, if only we remember that we are ladies."

Still in short frocks, however, she unfailingly remembered what was due her as a princess, starting to take her place first in entering a carriage with those of lesser rank and sustaining her position in general. Little episodes there were in those days, amusing because of her extreme youthfulness, but curbed by the ever watchful eye of Madame de Morinno. Once no less a personage than Queen Victoria herself, appearing unexpectedly when the small Princess was enjoying an attack of "royalty," to a grandmotherly hand in subduing it. But the grand air has remained with her, though under it is the true, kindly impulse of a genuine heart. The very tone in which she is spoken of as "Our Royal Lady" by those who know her would seem to prove this. Since the marriage of her sister, Princess Patricia has shared an almost constant companionship with her parents. By the Duke's side on horseback, at reviews and manoeuvres, she been a familiar figure. Through-out his official journeys she has been her mother's aid at all social functions.

In a friend's album she once wrote after the query as to her favorite occupation: "Babbling whilst I try on hats." Those who have studied the Princess Patricia will take this only with amused reservations; girlish she is, with all the fresh buoyancy of youth and its capacity for enjoyment, but there are, too, the deeper womanly qualities that make her an endearing spirit in the life of the home.

arrival, but is published now as it contains a question which has been discussed many times before—whether or not a lady should remove her hat during service in God's house.—Editor.

Correspondence on topics of general interest is invited. The name of the writer must accompany the letter, not necessarily for publication.

Dear Sir,—I wish, through your valuable paper, to express my heartfelt gratitude to the young lady who sat directly in front of me last Sunday evening in the Empress Theatre. For my part I enjoy going to church, and would probably go even if I have to listen to the sermon from behind a bunch of roses or tuft of feathers, but a few weeks ago I persuaded a friend to accompany me to church. He had not been a house of worship for five years, and when leaving said that if he had to be barred from seeing the speaker by a plume in front and jabbed with a hat pin by the lady sitting at his side, it would be another five years before he would go to church again.

Church is a place where unselfishness and consideration for others is supposed to be taught, but if the same ladies were asked to remove their hats by the theatre manager during a show, they would do so, yet they refuse the same courtesy to those behind them on Sunday.

There is at least one bachelor heart that is full of gratitude to the generous young lady who removed her hat last Sunday.

NEWS NOTES OF THE GREAT WEST

The Hon. Col. Sam Hughes, Canadian Minister of Militia, accompanied by his staff, arrived in Paris on September 12. The Canadian party was met by Dr. Philippe Roy, the Agent-General of Canada in France, and later proceeded to Touraine to witness the manoeuvres of the French army.

A shortage in the potato crop and high prices for tubers were indicated in reports to commission merchants from farming communities throughout the upper peninsula of Michigan. The crop is said to be away below normal owing to the incessant rains which wilted and rotted many of the plants.

Dr. S. H. Palmer, county health officer of Phelps county, announced the successful use of tetanus serum in the treatment of horses stricken with the new disease diagnosed as a form of meningitis.

All but one of the teachers' professional unions or syndicates has voted to disband. The Paris union refused to disintegrate and the Cabinet decided to prosecute it for violation of the law of 1884. The Government ordered the teachers' union to dissolve because of the action of the Congress of teachers' societies held in Chambery in August last, when resolutions approving anti-militarism were adopted.

The conferences between the southeastern railroads and the representatives of their conductors and trainmen over the question of an increase in wages were brought to a close at Washington, D.C., by the railroads agreeing to submit the matter to mediation under the Erdmann Act.

In connection with the rumors current on the Isthmus that a conflict between Guatemala and Salvador was imminent, Dr. Manuel E. Arauz, President of Salvador, has cabled to the Salvadoran Minister at Panama the following message: "The relations between Salvador and Guatemala are cordial. My Government will maintain peace with the neighboring countries no matter what will be the sacrifice."

Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army in America, on her arrival in New York from England, declared that the funeral services to General Booth in London had been for her an inspiration which she hoped would make her an abler teacher in the work founded by him.

V.A.C. RETAIN CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE WORLD

By amassing a total of 47 goals against 7 for the Canadian Northern Railway team, of Winnipeg, Mann Cup challengers, in the two games played, the Vancouver Athletic Club retains the amateur lacrosse championship of the world, and the trophy emblematic thereof donated in perpetuity by Sir Donald Mann.

The second game of the series was played on Thursday morning and the score was: V.A.C., 19; C.N.R., two, upon the conclusion of the game. The visitors failed to score in the first three quarters, but were relieved of the ignominy of a whitewash defeat when Smith, the fast little third home of the challengers, shot a hard one past Davis for their first goal of the game in the fourth quarter.

The visitors played a much better game on Thursday than they did the week before, evidently profiting by the lesson learned that day. Their checking was much closer and their passing more accurate, but they were, nevertheless, outclassed in every department, besides being outspeeded and outconditioned. They showed, however, that with worthy opponents, they might develop into a first class combination, their individual playing marking them as really skillful men in the embryonic stage.

The game closed with the best of good feeling on either side, three cheers for the C.N.R. men being given with a tiger by their opponents as they left the field, and the challengers responded with an expression of equal sincerity to the cupholders.

Vernor W. Smith was amongst the arrivals on last evening's train from Hazelton, and will be in the city during the royal visit.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. English, of the Balmoral cannery, are in the city.

DOING WHAT?

Buying Lots in Fort George

Why? Because the G. T. P. who own the Indian Reserve, are clearing fifty acres immediately adjoining Central Fort George to the east for the location of their station at Fort George.

Because the Pacific & Great Eastern line from Vancouver to Fort George have already cleared through Lot 1427 a four hundred foot wide right-of-way for its station immediately adjoining Central Fort George to the west.

This places Central Fort George just between the two depots, and makes this property the business centre of Fort George.

Fort George is now what Prince Rupert was three years ago, and with the trains from Edmonton ready to reach Fort George by next spring prices will advance rapidly.

EXCITEMENT

IS HIGH ON HOME RULE

Colebaine, Ireland, Sept. 23—Excitement increases in regard to the Home Rule Bill and its enforcement in Ireland. Ulster is in a state of great unrest and the southern and western provinces are as determined to secure Home Rule as Ulster is to reject it.

Ten Acres and Freedom

There has been placed with me for a limited time 40 blocks of ten acres each, situated in the famous Lakeise Valley district. Both private and government reports pronounce the soil to be rich and fertile and capable of producing large crops of fruits and vegetables, also ideal for poultry raising. This is the closest land to Prince Rupert suitable for fruit growing, and think of the market this city will afford for poultry, eggs and vegetables in the near future. We import these at present from Seattle. Good government roads are being built through the district and land easy of access. In a few years this will be worth from $200.00 up per acre, same as Okanagan district, while all we ask is $600.00 for a 10-acre block. You dig down for $200.00 and prepare to pay the balance in one, two and three years. Weigh city and country life in the balance, then thank me for putting you next to a good thing. Call or phone

INTERESTED IN THE LAST WEST

The delegates to the convention of the International General Passenger and Tickets Association, which was held in Seattle last week were keenly disappointed after spending two hours here on Saturday evening that the arrangements had not called for a more extended visit in Vancouver. Everyone of the visitors was delighted with the city and none more than I.

The speaker was Mr. J. D. McDonald, assistant general passenger agent for the Grand Trunk Railway in Chicago, who accompanied the visitors to Vancouver and remained over to take a trip up to Prince Rupert and out on the Grand Trunk Pacific as far as the end of steel.

"This is my first visit to Vancouver, and I am surprised to see such a large and well built city. It is a city to be proud of. This was the first time our association met on the Pacific slope, and many of the eastern delegates were amazed at the wonderful progress being made on this coast.

Down in Chicago and the middle states there is a great deal of interest in British Columbia, which is regarded as the last and most promising west. I believe there will be a big exodus from the States to this province before long and an inducement will be the opening up of the interior by the new railway lines and improvement of transportation facilities.

Mr. McDonald was general passenger agent for the Grand Trunk in Toronto for many years, and is one of the most popular and best known officials of the system.

Mr. McDonald followed out his intention and spent a few days in Prince Rupert, leaving on the Prince George Friday morning. He was delighted and surprised at the wonderful progress made by this city and foretells a great future for it.

Floating Dock for Canada. The two Dutch tugs Roodzee and Swatzeze, reputed to be the two most powerful in the world, took in tow last Saturday at Barrow the huge floating ship dock the Duke of Connaught for the long voyage to Montreal.

The floating dock is the second largest in the world. It has been built specially to enable it to be utilized at all seasons of the year, the possible freezing of water in the compartments and the affecting of mechanism by frost being averted.

The dock is capable of lifting the largest vessels afloat, her length over all being 600 feet, breadth 135 feet and height above pontoon deck 42 feet.

Forgot Her Baby. A woman was seen to place her little girl on a seat at Eastbourne railway station on Tuesday and go away for a ticket. She then disappeared, and the child was handed over to the police. It was learned later that the baby was accidentally left behind by the mother, who was leaving by the train. As soon as she realized what had happened, she took the first train back to Eastbourne, where her child was restored to her.

Companies Will Join The Liverpool correspondent of the "Telegraph" writes that there is little doubt entertained in the shipping circles that the reported fusion of the Allan and C.P.R. steamship lines will shortly be fully justified.

For a Deserving Cause The ladies of New Westminster are collecting funds for a purse which they will present to Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught for the Victorian Order of Nurses. Mrs. C. B. McAllister is acting as treasurer of the money collected.

In the Highest Degree Profitable. Some men figure that as the mercury climbs up sales will fall down. And figuring that way, fate is kind and does not disappoint them. So there has grown up a commercial superstition that Summer is a dull season. No greater fallacy has ever gone so long unchallenged. Summer is a dull season for many lines—but there is no fundamental reason why it should be. For instance, take a typical case—that of the Canadian wallpaper manufacturers. They wished to secure their placing orders from the retailers before the early Fall—when American lines are offered. Through education by Advertising, they advanced the season to start the middle of June, instead of the end of August, and they now beat their foreign competitors to the market by nearly three months. Perhaps you face a selling problem that education by Advertising will solve. Perhaps your Summer business needs the tonic of Summer Advertising. As the mercury climbs up to its highest degree, increase, rather than slacken, your Advertising and selling efforts. You will find it profitable—in the highest degree.

BARRIEAU IS GIVEN THE FIRST OPPORTUNITY. Vancouver Boxer Promised the Next Bout with Joe Bayley at Victoria.

As a result of a flying visit to Victoria by Chet McIntyre, Ernie Barrieau, the Vancouver amateur lightweight champion boxer, will be given the first bout which Joe Bayley, lightweight champion of Canada, engages in at the capital. Mr. McIntyre made the arrangement with Morris Condon, manager for Bayley, and also agreed to post a forfeit of $1,000 for weight, the figure laid down by Bayley, 133 pounds at 7 o'clock, being accepted by the Vancouver man.

That was as far as the arrangements for the proposed bout progressed, however. There are several rival promoters in the field in Victoria and so far no permit has been issued by the Oak Bay municipality for the contest. Condon demanded a guarantee of $5,500, or 50 per cent. of the gross receipts for Bayley's end, but neither McIntyre nor Billy Davies, who with Vince Gray is undertaking to promote the bout, could see this demand at all, and the match may fall through on this account.

McIntyre received a proposition to match Barrieau against Al. Jeffs, the amateur lightweight champion of Victoria, but he made no decision in this matter pending the settlement of the negotiations for the bout with Bayley, though he admitted that he was prepared to accept this bout if the other match fell through.

German Liner Wrecked. The Hamburg-American Line steamer Kamerun, which sailed from Hamburg August 24th, has been wrecked on the west coast of Africa. The members of the crew were rescued and taken to Monrovia, Liberia.

Aviator Killed. Lieutenant Seibert, an aviator attached to the Red Army in the imperial manoeuvres now in progress in Saxony, fell with his aeroplane while scouting and was killed. His companion, Lieutenant Zimmerman, was seriously injured.

Eucharistic Congress. The official opening of the Eucharistic Congress took place last week in the Cathedral of St. Stephen's, Vienna. The message sent by Pope Pius was read by Cardinal Van Rossum, the Papal legate to the congress.

Wants Protection. The Southern Pacific Railroad Company has asked the State department at Washington to protect its interests in Mexico.

GUARD THE GIRL NEW-COMER, SHE IS PRECIOUS AND YOU CAN HELP PROTECT HER

Girls are coming into Canada in tens of thousands. The country needs them, and ought to care for them. And the best kind of care is personal, not official. "A girl friend for every stranger" is a grand motto. What is needed is the co-operation of tens of thousands of great-hearted, broad-minded, democratic women, who will welcome the strangers as guests, steer them away from the dangers that beset the lonely and friendless, and help to cure the dread disease of homesickness.

Class prejudice may exist among workers and domestic service be rated lower than it deserves. At the same time, there are many complaints of the scarcity of domestic helpers. Let those who feel the need take the lead in raising domestic service to its rightful honored place. Then it will be easier to dispel the prejudices that exist in the minds of workers.

Few of us realize the situation of a girl who comes to Canada from other lands, or to the city from the country—the cutting off of familiar associations, the appalling loneliness and homesickness, the narrow life in the boarding house, the craving for company that makes the stranger seek the bright and crowded streets.—Toronto Star.

Try advertising as an investment, if only for a short time, and watch your business grow.

THE LONDON TIMES DISCUSSES THE COMING CARTIER CELEBRATION

(From the London Times, Aug. 26, 1912.)

As we announce elsewhere, it is proposed to celebrate the centenary of the birth, in 1814, of Sir George Etienne Cartier, one of the chief fathers and founders of the Canadian Dominion, by the dedication of a monument erected to his memory on the slope of Mount Royal, overlooking the city of Montreal. The site is singularly well chosen for it has been associated with the name of Cartier ever since Canada has been known to mankind.

It was an earlier Cartier, Jacques by name, a man of the same race as the later Canadian statesman, who was the first European to set foot on Mount Royal, then overhanging, not the city of Montreal, but the Huron-Iroquois village of Hochelaga. He, too, had been gifted with the prophetic vision of his later namesake, might have felt "like stout Cortez when with eagle eyes he stared at the Pacific" as he gazed at the broad waters of the St. Lawrence and the Ottawa gleaming away to the westward.

The rapids of Lachine barred the further progress of his boats, but it was Jacques Cartier who first discovered the St. Lawrence and gave it its name (giving at the same time the name of Canada to the region it traversed and of Mount Royal to the hill on which he stood at the farthest point of his westward pilgrimage. The name Canada merely means a village in the Indian language from which he took it, and that again is significant in its symbolism.

It is reported of Themistocles that he pleaded that, though he "had no skill to tune a harp nor a viol, nor to play at a psalterion yet if they did put a city into his hands that was of small name, weak and little, he knew ways enough to make it noble, great and strong." This is just what George Etienne Cartier did. We know not if he was any more of a musician than Themistocles was, though in the estimation of his countrymen he was no mean poet in the tongue of his race. But he knew ways enough, and he followed them too, to make the "village" which Jacques Cartier had named into a Dominion noble, strong and great.

George Etienne Cartier was born on September 6, 1814, at St. Antoine, in the county of Vercheres, in the Province of Quebec. He was educated for the law and becoming a member of the Bar in Lower Canada, he soon acquired a lucrative practice in that profession. He took some part in Papineau's rebellion of 1837, and had for a time to leave the country. But he soon repented of his youthful aberration, and returned to Canada as a loyal and enthusiastic subject of the British Crown. From that time forward all his energies were devoted to the consolidation of all the Canadas and their development into one great self-governing Confederation destined to grow in freedom, concord, content, and tranquility under the British flag.

His attitude and sentiments in this regard are best expressed in a few words from a speech delivered in London in 1869 at a time when he was a member of the first Dominion Government. "The Canadian people desire to remain faithful to the 'old monarchical flag of Great Britain, that flag which waves over all seas, that flag which tyranny has never been able to overcome, that flag which symbolizes true liberty.'" If that was the universal sentiment of the Canadian people in 1869; it was largely owing to Cartier's personal influence over Canadians of his own race that it had become so.

This was the higher spiritual element of his work for Canada—a passionate aspiration combined with unceasing effort for the reconciliation of the two races which in his youth had been so bitterly estranged. But his prophetic vision also led him to work with no less enthusiasm, not only for all domestic legislation that might make for the concord and unity of the two races that dwell together in Canada, but also for the extension development, and the consolidation of that great Dominion that now stretches as John Bright once said of the United States, "from the wild billows of the Atlantic westward to the calmer waters of the Pacific main."

We need not enumerate the many measures both of internal organization and of external expansion and development with which his name is associated, the many Ministries of which he was neither a member or the chief, the many colleagues who shared his labors and contributed to their noble results. It suffices to quote Lord Dufferin's appreciation of them in a letter written in 1872, when he was governor-general of Canada and Cartier was within a few months of his death. "Your name is indissolubly incorporated with the most eventful and most glorious epoch of your country's history, commencing as it does with your entrance into political life, and culminating in that consolidation of the Provinces to which your genius, courage, and ability so materially contributed."

To such a man, who is justly held by his countrymen to have been one of the most honest, upright and far-seeing Ministers who have ever held office in the Dominion, it is eminently fitting that a worthy monument should be dedicated on the hundredth anniversary of his birth. We commend the proposal to all who realize the greatness of Canada, her inspiring memories of the past, and her not less inspiring ambition to bear a part worthy of her mighty destiny in the fortunes and burdens of our common and United Empire in the future.

A committee has been formed for the purpose under the presidency of Mr. E. W. Villeneuve. It has received encouragement and support from men of light and leading citizens representing all shades of opinion in Canadian politics and public life and from others of like prominence in this country. To judge by the list of names we have received, some of the most prominent of which we mention elsewhere, the promoters of the memorial are, as is natural and fitting, well-nigh equally divided between French and English Canadians, and in particular both Mr. Orden, the present Prime Minister of Canada, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, his distinguished predecessor, are a smight to be expected, united in its support.

The Prince of Wales has been invited to visit Canada in the year of the centenary and to preside at the dedication of the memorial, and, should His Royal Highness be able to accept the invitation, it will, we are sure, be felt that the occasion is eminently worthy of his presence and countenance. Invitations have also been sent to the Premiers of all the British colonies, thus the whole British Empire will in spirit be gathered to do the honor which is justly due to the memory of the man who, albeit not of British blood and race, was one of the first to comprehend the majesty and dignity of the Empire, and of the foremost to promote its dignity.

French Army.

The most imposing and most extensive French army manoeuvres in years opened recently in Touraine and Poitou, when 120,000 soldiers and 50 aeroplanes and two dirigible balloons took the field for a week of mimic warfare.

Life Saving Modified.

Modification of life saving regulations submitted by the federal supervising steamboat inspector to Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, at Washington, for approval would permit the lesser life boat requirements of the summer season to remain in force until October 15th for all Atlantic and Pacific coastwise vessels.

Son of Doctor.

Robert Gibson Larimer, for whose arrest a warrant was issued in Winnipeg, is a son of the late Dr. Larimer of Bellefonte, Pa. He left Bellefonte three or four years ago. Nothing is known of his present whereabouts or of his financial difficulties in Canada.

HISTORICAL WORKS OF CANADA TO BE COMPILED AND LIMITED NUMBER SOLD

The Champlain Society was organized in 1905 for the purpose of publishing valuable and practically inaccessible material relating to the history of Canada. It was intended that this society should be representative of all parts of Canada, and that it should be conducted on lines similar to the Surtees, the Hakluyt, the Prince and other publishing societies.

The volumes published by the society are limited, except in special cases where unusual conditions exist, to five hundred and twenty copies, of which twenty are used for review purposes. They are beautiful specimens of book making, and include reproductions of original illustrations, maps, etc., and the original texts. The works produced by the society are edited and translated by the best scholars obtainable, and printed in a style hardly equalled by any similar society.

The volumes are not sold to the public, but are supplied to subscribers only. As only five hundred and twenty copies of each volume exist, the works published by the society will always command a high price.

The society is supported by the subscriptions received from its members when called for, but not exceeding $10 annually. Four subscriptions of $10 each have been called to date. Each member receives, without further charge, two volumes for each contribution of $10.

Seven volumes have already been published, and the eighth will appear shortly. The volumes already published are furnished to new members, and can be paid for either in a lump sum of $40, representing the four subscriptions already called for,

The Gurney-Oxford is prompt

No matter what comes or goes—meals we must have.

The preparation of meals comes round three times a day.

Every housewife wants to know that she can depend on her stove absolutely; she wants to know that there is no element of chance or likelihood of mishap in her cooking arrangements; that meals will be ready promptly on time.

The Gurney Economizer is an assurance against accident and mishap in cooking. It is a simple device and found only on the Gurney-Oxford. One lever controls everything. The fire can be slowed down for hours and revived in a few minutes. An arrangement of flues makes the Gurney-Oxford Oven always uniformly heated—the Gurney-Oxford Oven is never to blame! It will make a good cook a better cook; it does more than its share towards making every meal a success and a pleasure.

Would License Poker.

The Rev. William Morrison, appointed by Mayor Gaylor to the new Board of Inebriety, has decided after an investigation of the gambling situation in New York City that "gambling can no more be stopped in New York than the sale of liquor." He suggests that the only solution of the evil is the licensing of a certain number of resorts.
