of time. Not only did he presume to use the government property for his trip, but he took along, at the expense of the beneficent Tory government, those stout supporters of the Borden administration, Judge Carss, J. G. Scott, G. D. Tite and M. M. Stephens, all (as the Masset Leader says in reporting on the party) "members of the Prince Rupert Conservative party."

If a Dominion constable was to make use of any portion of the goods under his charge for his personal use, he would be blackguarded and called a grafter; were an Indian agent detected in the act of making THE CANADIAN personal use of the property SENATE. of his charges, he would be discharged in disgrace. Yet the member of this district boldly makes use of the property of the people of Canada, not only for himself, but for the "members of the Prince Rupert Conservative Association."

The reason for the presence of the "members of the Prince Rupert Conservative Association" on the trip which Clements told the people of Masset was a visit to get acquainted is obvious in light of the well grounded rumor that Judge Carss is the one selected to contest this portion of the riding in the Tory interests after redistribution. So not only was Clements getting acquainted, but he was (after the manner of United States politicians) introducing his chosen sucessor.
