

LIBERAL ELECTED IN RICHELIEU BY BIG MAJORITY

SIXTY GREEKS TO LEAVE PRINCE RUPERT FOR BALKAN WAR ON THE NEXT BOAT SOUTH

TWO GREEKS DESERT THEIR BUSINESS TO GO TO BATTLE

TWO LOCAL MEN WHO ARE ABOUT TO ENGAGE IN BUSINESS THROW UP THEIR INVESTMENT AND WILL JOIN COUNTRYMEN ON WAY TO FRONT.

Among those who will risk their lives in the defence of their homeland, Greece, are two intelligent young business men of Prince Rupert, who are busily preparing today to leave with their compatriots on the next boat to the south. Their patriotism and self sacrifice is winning the approval of their countrymen who themselves are on their way to perhaps death.

John Zeronis and Tom Portos, are the names of the two patriots. After years of struggling, hard work and saving these two young fellows amassed a little money and were preparing to open up a first class restaurant on Third Avenue. Several hundred dollars had already been invested when the call to arms was made, and the friends of the two were ever since trying to persuade them that it would be better for them to remain here.

The sight of the patriots yesterday was too much for the partners and they expressed their determination to join the band and leave with them for the scene of the conflict.

"If we don't go and Greece is defeated, we will blame ourselves," said the men. "While if we do go we will be there to share in the glory."

What has already been invested will be left, and when the British Columbia regiment of Greeks advance against the Turks in the far away Balkans, Zeronis and Portos will be in the front line.

TRAIN WAS LATE AN HOUR

Tree Across Track Delayed Train Last Night for Over an Hour—Greeks on Way to War.

Delayed for over an hour through a big tree falling across the track, the incoming train arrived in the city last evening shortly after 6 o'clock with a large number of passengers, including 62 Greeks, who have dropped their tools and come hurrying to the coast to set sail for the seat of war. Amongst the other arrivals were A. H. Paey, G. T. P. bridge inspector, who left again this morning for Sealey on a construction train; T. D. Pattullo, F. R. Gierston, G. T. P. engineer; E. A. Pichigin, of the A. M. Asenchev & Co. Russian Settlers' Association, and W. J. Larkworthy, the well known Hazelton store keeper.

LIBERALS WIN IN RICHELIEU

(Special to Daily News.)
Quebec, Oct. 24.—P. J. Cardin, the Liberal candidate in Richelieu constituency, was elected over E. A. Morgan, the Conservative standard bearer, by an overwhelming majority today in the by-election for that riding. The contest was particularly keen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the opposition taking an active part in the speechmaking.

T. G. Stephens, representing Leckie & Co., the wholesale boot and shoe manufacturers, left for the south this morning on the Prince George.

NANAIMO MAN IS WEALTHY

Old Timer of Nanaimo Invested His Money in Real Estate and Now Has $300,000.

Nanaimo, Oct. 24.—Many Nanaimoites will be pleased to hear of the good luck that has fallen to their fellow townsman, Mr. Ellis Rodgers, who by reason of the sale of Vancouver property has now to his credit the splendid sum of $300,000.

Mr. Rodgers has held this property for years, paying about $500 each year in taxes. In spite of this heavy draw he held on and is now able to reap the reward. He still retains five lots in the Terminal City which are also valuable, and which he intends to hold for at least several years to come.

GERMANY LEGISLATES AGAINST THE STANDARD OIL MONOPOLY

GOVERNMENT AIMS TO KEEP AMERICAN TRUST OUT OF COUNTRY AND NEW BILL PROVIDED FOR EXPROPRIATION IF NECESSARY.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—A government bill aimed at the Standard Oil Company is announced in the semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung. The provisions of the bill are intended to bar that company from the wholesale business in illuminating oil in Germany, which is to be entrusted to a national stock company operating under government supervision. This form has been chosen by the government as being superior to that of a state monopoly.

The new company is to be empowered to acquire the existing wholesale plants and stocks by expropriation if necessary.

The capital of the new company is to be furnished partly by the big German banks and partly by open subscription. The banks are to be given registered shares and an increased voting power in order to prevent any attempt that may be made to obtain foreign control. The life of the corporation is fixed at thirty years.

As an additional precaution the bill is to contain elaborate provisions to prevent the augmentation of prices. If the fixed maximum price should be exceeded the company's dividends cannot exceed the legal rate of interest, and the dividends are to be distributed proportionately.

The Imperial government is to receive four-fifths of the profits when the price is below the maximum and is not to participate when it is above. This provision is made so as to eliminate one factor tending to excessive prices.

EXTENSION MEN ARE STILL OUT

Full Support is Promised the Sinking Miners at Extension by Union.

(Special to Daily News.)
Ladsmith, Oct. 28.—In spite of the fact that some of the miners at Cumberland have gone back to work with a body of Chaimen in an effort to break the strike, the striking Extension miners, at a meeting called at the Gem Theatre on First Ave., refused by a big vote to return to work until such time as they can get the protection they claim they are not getting in the mines.

Samuel Guthrie, president of the union, was chairman of the meeting, and informed the miners that full support had been promised them by the United Mine Workers of America, in their fight for protection and against discrimination. J. Taylor, secretary of the local, and Thomas Mordy, a fire boss, also spoke.

WANTS EMPIRE TRADE MARK

Sir George Reid Advocates a Trade Mark for British Empire—Will Stop Frauds.

London, Oct. 23.—At a meeting held in the House of Lords with Lord Avebury presiding, the high commissioner for Australia, Sir George Reid, moved a resolution requesting the Empire Trade Commission to receive a deputation in support of an empire trade mark, on the ground that such a mark would greatly benefit the Empire. He thought that each Legislature should be invited to sanction the scheme. His main reason for advocating it was that it was an institution on which men of every phase of fiscal opinion would be able to work harmoniously. He trusted that he would see more vigilance exercised and that the Empire's powers would be used to deal with frauds against trade marks in the motherland. The agent general for Victoria, Sir John Taverner, seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

First Ore Shipment.

The Harris Mines have their first car of ore ready for shipment. A smelter test of the ore gives total values of $98.68, from which $21.50, which includes all charges and deductions from Hazelton, is to be subtracted, showing net proceeds at Hazelton of $77.18 a ton. This must be regarded as a highly satisfactory return, and as the ore now being sacked at the mine is of even higher grade, the result of the shipment is likely to prove even more encouraging to the shareholders in the company and to the miners of the district.—Omineca Miner.

Good League Predicted.

That there is every prospect of plenty of sport this winter in the basketball matches that will be pulled off by the very healthy league that has just been formed in the city goes without saying. Two of the strongest teams in the new aggregation are the Baptist Brotherhood and the Tigers, who played together the whole of last season. To the former club is due the credit of making the initial start in introducing the game in Prince Rupert. They put up many a tough battle last winter, and both teams can be counted on to be there with bells this season and are going to make a hot fight for the cup or die in the last trench.

GREEKS LEAVE TO FIGHT FOR "GOD AND COUNTRY" AGAINST THE TURKS

Sixty Greeks, on the Point of Leaving for Balkan War, Celebrate the Occasion With Dancing and Feasting--Many More Will Leave for the Front Later

Rejoicing in the call to arms and the opportunity given them to once more wage war against their hated foe and lifelong oppressor, the Turk, the sixty-two hardy Greek patriots who arrived in the city on last evening's train immediately proceeded, together with their compatriots living in the city, to celebrate their going away to the front. Feasting, singing and dancing occupied the entire evening.

Met at the train by a number of their countrymen, they were escorted uptown to the Serbian stronghold on Fraser street, known as the "Two Star Hotel." Here their host and compatriot, Joe Fotos, who is the proprietor of the hostelry, did everything possible to entertain and make them comfortable during their sojourn in the city before embarking for the South.

Although only a very short intimation had been given as to their arrival that day, a feast was soon in readiness, to which the heroes and their friends sat down to join together in rejoicing and revelry over, to them, the happy event of being able to offer themselves in the service of their King and country.

After dinner laughter and merriment reigned supreme, music being furnished on the instruments of their native country, and numbers took part in the dances of their homeland.

Many British sympathizers and well wishers of the loyal little band visited the hotel during the evening, and were entertained in the most courteous and hospitable fashion. Healths and successes to the Greek cause were drunk, the latter not forgetting to drink and cheer for our own King George.

The party was not able to leave today on account of having business to transact in regard to financial affairs and may not get away until Sunday on the C. P. R. boat.

Altogether it is estimated that over fifty thousand Greeks will leave the American continent for the seat of war within a very short time, fifteen thousand having already departed. Five thousand alone will be the contingent from British Columbia. The captain of the Prince Rupert band is a reservist, Nick Savos, a man of about 50 years of age, and a loyal enthusiast of the first water. If they are not able to all join the regular army, they do not intend to be left out of the fight, but will start into guerilla warfare on their hated enemy, and from the general appearance and training that most of them have had in the past, they should be able to offer a pretty good account of themselves in this line. Defence of their rights and of those of the other Balkan states, who have from time immemorial suffered the cruelest and most unjust oppression from the powerful Turkish nation, is the keynote of their cry. The war is defensive, not aggressive. They are not looking to acquire by conquest further territory.

As a nation the Greeks today are amongst the most prosperous on the face of the earth. In their country the well-to-do and rich are in greater number than the poor. These men who are leaving here all have money, some a considerable amount and are eager and anxious to pay the entire expenses of themselves, and in some cases their friends of getting to the front. Many are making great sacrifices financially in order to be able to leave. It will take them just 21 days from Prince Rupert to Athens.

In proportion to the population, Northern British Columbia is probably sending more men to the Balkan war than any other portion of Canada. Several smaller parties of Greeks and Montenegrins have already left for the seat of war, and more are preparing to go later.

CAUSE OF THE PRESENT WAR IN BALKANS

The Causes that Have Led to the Present Hostilities Between Turkey and the Balkan States Explained

Many Canadians unaccustomed to follow the intricacies of the Balkan problem are puzzled as to the causes that have brought half a dozen states to war in the Near East of Europe.

The issue is difficult to define, the sources of offense are many; but the central fact emerges that four small powers—Bulgaria, Serbia, Montenegro and Greece—are making common cause in the hope of finally shattering Turkey's power in Europe, and thus preparing the way for that dream of many years, a great Balkan confederation, free from the Ottoman yoke.

Many incidents have occurred during recent months to bring matters to a climax. It was hoped when Turkey set about reforming her administration after her revolution that a better time was in store for the troubled areas of Macedonia and Albania, and that the Greeks, Bulgarians, Serbs and Turks—Mussulman, Christian and Israelite—who make up the warring elements there, would settle down in peace under promised reforms. But recently the last state has become worse than the first.

The Turks again put their heel on the necks of the Christian population, and the reign of oppression and extermination was renewed. Some of the Albanian tribes revolted and brought against them the power of the Turkish army.

Many fled to Montenegro, and the frontier men in that country, making common cause with the refugees, succeeded in bringing the relations of their government and that of Turkey to breaking point.

Unable to stamp out the rebellion, the Turks promised reforms, but these were not sweeping enough for the Albanians, who, like the Macedonians, demanded a complete home rule system.

Bulgaria backed up their demands, and made this one of the chief issues in the present rupture. Passions have been inflamed during recent weeks by reports of massacres of Bulgarians and other Christians in Ishitf Kitchovo, Kotehana and else-

CROWN OF GALACIA HOMEWARD BOUND

The big freight steamer Crown of Galacia, having finished unloading her cargo of pipe for the city waterworks system, left on her return voyage to Glasgow this morning about 9 o'clock. Before coming up the coast she took on enough coal at Nanaimo to carry her until she reaches Corronna, three days from the Straits of Magellan. She will take the outside passage leaving here, not touching port again until she gets to San Francisco. On arriving back in the home waters she will call at the ports of London and Liverpool before tying up at her home port of Glasgow. Then a week at home and off again for another six months. This is the Crown of Galacia's second visit to Prince Rupert.

Return from Burns Lake.

Messrs. T. D. Pattullo and J. Horne returned on last evening's train from a two weeks' trip up the line. They went as far as Burns Lake, about thirty miles beyond Aldermere, using saddle and pack horses. They report the weather as being excellent all the while, allowing an opportunity for making a thorough study of the country all along the line of the G. T. P. in that part of the province.

WENT SOUTH FOR WINTER

Many Stewart Pioneers Go South to Spend Winter in Vancouver and Other Places.

There were several arrivals this morning on the Prince George from Stewart. Mr. Ben Davis, the manager of the Empress Hotel at that place, is on his way south on a short business trip, expecting to return north again in a couple of weeks' time.

George Hughes, who was for some time on the staff of the hotel, having left for the winter, will probably remain in this city for the next few months.

Arthur Dalgleish, a pioneer of the camp from its earliest days, is on his way to join his wife in Vancouver, she having preceded him a short while ago. Mr. and Mrs. Dalgleish, who are both very well known and popular in Stewart, expect to return in the spring, when an awakening of the camp is hopefully anticipated.

Mr. J. W. Rannie, who first set foot on the mudflats at the head of Portland Canal way back in the early days of '98, when the Klondyke rush was on, is on his way south with his family, a trip to Australia being in contemplation by way of a real holiday vacation before returning north again in the spring. The Rannie family were located on the town-site of what is now known as Stewart long before it had been decided whether the land was on the American or British side.

HELP THE HELPLESS

Now that winter is approaching, would it not be a charitable act on the part of the city councillors to liberate that poor lonely little animal they have penned in on Acropolis Hill?

In some twenty or thirty feet square posts strong enough to hold an elephant have been erected and this has been strung with wire. In one corner of the "park" a little house, of the same style of architecture as a chicken shed or dog kennel has been built for the buck.

Naturally the deer does not appreciate the fact that the city council after careful deliberation erected that as a shelter for him instead of placing him where he could have the advantage of at least some of his natural surroundings. It is no doubt disappointing to the aldermen and park commissioners to know that the animal has not been educated after this length of time to regard his domicile with as much favor as he should, and often after his lengthy walk around the vast enclosure, looks longingly to the hills and smells wistfully the odors of the forest.

No provisions have been made for the feeding of the deer, and were it not for the kind hearted action of a lady living in the vicinity, who daily tramps up the hill with offerings for the four footed prisoner, the poor thing would have died months ago.

If the park commissioners and councilmen intend to keep the poor brute there all winter, they had better make adequate arrangements for its feeding, for the generous lady cannot be expected to continue through the slush and snow of the winter her self appointed task of feeding the helpless thing.

As the authorities have undertaken to civilize the deer by making it live in a house, they might go further in the matter and build a fireplace in the enclosure, for it cannot be expected that the deer is going to keep itself warm running around in the musk and snow with only the sight of Princess Patricia's weak looking tree for company.

CROW'S NEST PASS THE BALKANS OF CANADA.

The Crow's Nest Pass country, like the Balkans, seems to be a region of constant unrest, ready at the slightest provocation to burst into hostilities. This time it is a question of yardage, or some such detail, which the company managers are reported as being unwilling to submit to arbitration in conformity with the terms of the agreement arrived at after the last long drawn out fight in the coal fields, and the threat is that unless a settlement is arrived at in the immediate future two thousand men will lay down their tools at once, five thousand will follow later and the settlers down on the prairie will be again faced with a shortage of coal and winter coming.

Somewhere or other there seems to be something seriously wrong in the Crow's Nest. Trouble has been constant almost since the first opening of the field. Commissions and arbitrations without number have been fruitless to avert the constant strikes and lockouts. A sort of an armed truce appears to be the best that has yet been possible. And meantime, the injured party, the settler, who suffers most, is not at any time a factor either in the making or the settling of the trouble.

Possibly the most potent factor for the creation of this constant state of belligerency is the failure of the coal managers to realize that they are the custodians of a resource which, while it is worked privately for the profit of their stockholders, is virtually a public trust, dependent upon the proper administration of which is the comfort and in some cases the very lives of the thousands of non-combatants who look to the Crow's Nest for their fuel supply.

Were this feature of the case as thoroughly appreciated as it should be by the men in control it is scarcely probable that any company would refuse to submit to arbitration any trifling matters which come up for adjustment. — Edmonton Capital.

WESTERN EUROPE WILL SUFFER IF DARDANELLES ARE CLOSED

THE CLOSING OF THE STRAITS FOR LENGTHY PERIOD WOULD CUT OFF IMPORTANT SOURCE OF SUPPLY FROM EUROPE—DANUBE EXPORTS MUCH WHEAT.

If the Balkan war continues to be confined to the parties now implicated, no serious impairment of wheat supplies through the Dardanelles is anticipated, and thus the market situation of Western Europe will suffer no material change. Nevertheless, that grave apprehension is entertained generally in financial circles that further complications will follow was made manifest by the slump in the stock markets here and in the Bourse of Europe last weekend. The London correspondent of the New York Evening Post reports that over there the situation is considered grave.

In case of further complications, the Balkan war presents a new and important factor in the world's grain market, for all grain markets are becoming one now. Situated by itself in Southeastern Europe between the Black and Adriatic seas, the peninsula, including all the states now at war, is exceedingly fertile, the production of wheat alone ranging from 150,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels a year, or almost as much as Canada produces at the present time. Of this Roumania yields from fifty million to sixty million bushels, Bulgaria and Eastern Roumania about six million bushels; Serbia, fourteen million; Turkey, fifty-eight million, and Greece, ten million.

The importance of these states in the markets of Western Europe is indicated by the fact that from them about 75,000,000 bushels of wheat are exported every year. In case the Dardanelles were closed a large percentage of this wheat would be cut off from the market, not to speak of what would come via the Black Sea from Hungary and Southern Russia. With heavy surplus crops in other parts of the world, Western Europe would probably only suffer by having to pay high rates. It would come hardest on England, Liverpool being by far the heaviest importer of wheat in the world. Last year exports of corn from the Danube were 70,376,000 bushels.

TORONTO IS BAD

So Says an English M. P., Who Criticizes Canadian Morals and Depreciates New Wealth.

London, Oct. 24.—A remarkable indictment against Canada was made by Alfred E. Hutton, Liberal M. P. for the Morley division of Yorkshire, at the autumnal assembly of the Congressional Union now being held at Manchester. Twenty years ago, he said, he found Toronto resembled a good, steady Scottish town, such as Aberdeen. He did not think anybody would then have dared whistle on the Sabbath. He wished he could say that was the worst thing today in Toronto. There was now a feverish state of affairs, general disregard of the conservative Scottish instinct as in any American city. This change is noticeable throughout Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The desire to get rich quick pervades Canada, so that it is ten times more difficult for religious work to make progress in Canada than here.

It may be noted incidentally that Hutton himself is not a poor man. He has town apartments in fashionable Arlington street, two houses in Yorkshire, and is a member of the exclusive Brooks and Devonshire clubs.

Causes of Present War in Balkans

where, and the delay of the Turkish government in detecting and punishing the culprits (despite the pressure of the Bulgarian government) has helped to bring matters to a crisis.

Then came the partial mobilization for "manoeuvres" by the rival countries, and as the "manoeuvres" were mapped out near the frontiers, the rival states regarded each other's movements as a menace.

Although Serbia has been equally incensed by the news of the massacres the immediate cause of her participation in the present quarrel is the stoppage at Salonika by Turkey of several vanloads of ammunition which were in transit from France to the Serbian capital. Turkey regarded the purchase of ammunition as evidence of hostility to her, and demanded a declaration of amity before the consignment was released.

Serbia, on her part, regarded Turkey's action as a hostile one, and after preliminary diplomatic interchanges declared war.

Greece, too, made a diplomatic incident of the matter at Samos (now in revolt), where a Turkish battery by some bad practice fired at a Greek vessel in the harbor. Montenegro has also had her "diplomatic incident" with Turkey, who complained that some Montenegrins fired on one of her ammunition columns.

The cumulative effect of these and other happenings has brought about the war, but beyond it all the fact must not be lost sight of that Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Montenegro entered into a military alliance to take common action in a united attack on Turkey, in the hope of securing home rule for Albania and Macedonia, with a view to their ultimate place in a Balkan federation of their own making.

SMALL LIST TO SOUTH ON BOAT

SPLITS AND SPARES.

Any night some curious man with a mechanical turn of mind can be seen trying to figure out how the ball on the return alley at the Empress loops the loop.

Lockhart wears out a pair of shoes in a surprisingly short time by his manner of dragging a foot when bowling.

Jack Johns is climbing into prominence as a bowler and was overheard last night offering to play a handicap match with a less experienced player.

E. Dansereau is hailed as the original "splitter." His title is not one of his own choosing, and if he had his choice it would be the "original striker."

Wee Jamie Watts is throwing a heavy game and had easy "pickings" last night.

Joe Hickey was overheard explaining how to "English" the ball, but when the player tried to do it he didn't even get a billiard off the corner pin.

HARD BOILED NEWS ITEMS

Mrs. Charles Gillard met with a terrible death at Newmarket, Ont., the other day when the coal oil with which she was endeavoring to light her kitchen fire ignited and burned her to death.

Miss Helen Merrill, an aged lady, unfurled for the second time a historic flag over Brock's grave, near the spot of his death, at Queenston Heights. Seventy-two years separated the time between the first and present occasions on which she unfurled it. The flag, torn and faded, had been placed on Brock's monument by a sailor when it was blown up in 1840.

W. L. Phillips escaped out of jail at Charlottetown, P. E. I., the other day and before doing so rigged up a dummy in his bed. He escaped by means of a key made from an aluminum comb.

When Constable W. A. Smith arrested Alex. Pipinick for stealing peaches he did not reckon that the trial would end in his discomfiture, but he had proved that the policeman had beaten him with his stick and handcuffs before arresting him, and the judge severely censured the "cop."
