LIEUTENANT BECKER SENTENCED TO DEATH IN ELECTRIC CHAIR FOR KILLING ROSENTHAL

COUNCIL IS CONDEMNED BY MATTHEWS WHO PREDICTS TROUBLE FOR CITIZENS

Supt. of Electric Light Plant Predicts Trouble When He Leaves
---Bullock-Webster Heartbroken at Loss of Zoological Specimen

Although occupying the prescribed length of time for its weekly session—from 8 until well after 11—there was no business of very great moment transacted by the City Council last night. G. R. McKenzie of the electric light plant asked for two weeks' holiday and the matter was referred to the Electric Light committee. James Matthews, the retiring electric light superintendent, wrote two voluminous epistles to the Council, one dealing with the subject of his resignation being accepted with such cheerful fortitude, and the other reasoning why his claim to be indemnified for the services of his typewriter machine to the city hall should be recognized. The reading of the former letter by City Clerk Woods, which occupied a considerable time, caused the aldermen to wriggle in their seats with anger and indignation. The gist of the communication was that in allowing himself, Mr. Matthews, the superintendent, to leave their employ, they were making a serious and almost tragic mistake, apart from the ingratitude of the course shown. He claimed that the plant in operation in this city was one of the most unique and stranger on the face of the globe, and he, and he alone, was the only man who thoroughly understood its many and complicated intricacies. Danger lurked in the near future for the safety of the plant if his eagle and experienced eye was not around to detect weak spots and apprise them of possible accidents and breakdowns. He gave a number of reasons why the plant was not as stable and efficient as it should be, mainly that he had been consistently refused a supply of proper material, and asked to endeavor to get along for the time being, until more funds were available for that purpose. He specifically stated that he had told them "the blood be upon your own head" if anything goes wrong, and that he would repudiate all blame for any faults to be found with the installation.

Upon the conclusion of the reading of the letter Alderman Maitland rose in his wrath and wanted the superintendent to be brought instantly before them to hear a few remarks as to his own opinion of his efficiency. Alderman Douglas said "it beat anything he had ever heard in his life for unmitigated gall," and that apparently Mr. Matthews thought he owned the city. Alderman Bullock-Webster referred to it as a piece of gross impertinence and wanted to know whether the fact that the two engines in the power station had never been synchronized was because the superintendent did not know how to do it, or whether there was another reason.

There was some movement made to have Mr. Matthews asked if he would come before the board for an explanation of his letter, but at that late hour it was found impracticable. The matter was referred to the committee. The subject of the loan of the typewriter was also laid on the table for consideration. W. T. Donnelly, engineer for the G. T. P. dry dock, wrote regarding the supply of water for fire protection, etc. The matter was referred to the city engineer for a report. The question of the qualification of voters was gone into, the city solicitor furnishing exact information as to the standing of property owners and license holders wishing to vote under these qualifications. Considerable discussion took place on the subject of the boats tying up at the Government wharf using the city water for domestic purposes. The government at present pays $15 a month for water for fire protection and other purposes, but there had been a distinct understanding that boats were not to be supplied with water for fire protection.

MR. GEORGE LEEK IS INJURED

Prominent Man Badly Hurt While Hunting—In Hospital in Semi-Conscious Condition.

George Leek, the well known real estate and insurance man, was brought into the city about 1:30 this morning suffering from a badly broken ankle and several cuts and bruises about the head and face. Mr. Leek, who had gone up the line early in the morning upon a hunting expedition, must in some manner or other have sustained a nasty fall. He was immediately taken to the hospital, where he was attended by Dr. McNeill. The injuries to his face and head are of a very painful nature and he is in a semi-conscious state and unable to speak. The last advice from the hospital were that he was doing as well as could be expected, but it will be some little time before the genial "George" will be able to be around again.

TURKEY FIGHTS DESPERATELY TO KEEP Foothold IN EUROPE; TURKS CUT OFF

War Minister and His Forces are Surrounded and Communication is Cut Off, But the Turks are Fighting Desperately
---Powers May Interfere

(Special to Daily News.)
London, Oct. 29.—The long waited for battle which is to decide the fate of Turkey is now being fought. The Turks have been placed in position under the command of Nazim Pasha, minister of war, as commander-in-chief, and are now hotly engaged with the allied army. According to advices received here, the Turks have had the advantage of the fighting, and they are battling desperately to retain their last chance of continuing in Europe. Although Nazim Pasha has had the best of the hand to hand fighting today, he is in a hopeless position, as all communication is cut off and it is impossible for him to obtain supplies. Diplomatic activity continues in London. Premier Asquith has had another audience with the King, but no formal action will be taken until the result of the battle is known.

Vranja, Serbia, Oct. 29.—At the battle of Kumamova the Serbs lost 500 killed and 2,000 wounded. Accounts received here from the front pay the highest tribute to the bravery of the Serbian soldiers. Lieutenant Milich, commanding a detachment of infantry, blew out his brains rather than to obey an order to retire from an exposed position which he was holding at great loss to his force. His example so fired his men's enthusiasm that they charged upon a far superior force of men and nearly all died. The cavalry, under the command of Prince Arsemo, the King's brother, charged repeatedly. Athens, Oct. 29.—According to reliable information, the allies have at the front 166,000 more men than have heretofore been acceded to them.

Constantinople, Oct. 29.—Kiamil Pasha, president of the council of state, assumed office as grand vizier this afternoon in succession to Chazi Mukhtar Pasha, who resigned. Berlin, Oct. 29.—It is rumored here that the government feels that it is time for intervention whether the warring nations request it or not. Europe would not tolerate the destruction of Turkey, nor would the occupation of Constantinople by another power. Alderman G. W. Kerr and J. W. Merryfield returned this morning on the Prince George from the South, they having been at Revelstoke attending the Conservative convention there.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS HAVE FIERCE DEBATE ON SUFFRAGE

INTERESTING DEBATE IN HIGH SCHOOL AS TO WHETHER OR NOT WOMEN SHOULD VOTE—GIRLS WIN HONORS BY CLOSE MARGIN.

The first meeting of the High School Literary and Debating Society took place on Friday evening, the 25th inst. The object of this society is to cultivate a taste among the pupils for what is best in literature, and by taking part in debates prepare them in the art of public speaking. Toward this desirable end the pupils are encouraged to give readings, recitations and debates. The programme presented on Friday evening was full of merit, and promises well for the future of the society. Recitations were given by Principal Brady, Messrs. A. Manson, W. Anderson and W. Reynolds; readings by Miss Phyllis McCoskie, Miss Alma Christensen and Miss Genevieve Macdonald; violin and mandolin solos and duets by Messrs A. Humble and W. Rowell, and a sword dance by Master J. Mitchell. On the conclusion of this programme a debate followed. The subject, "Resolved, That Women Should Be Given the Franchise," was extremely well handled. For the affirmative the speakers were Miss Alice Garss, leader; Miss Edith King and Miss Kathleen Hazlett.

For the negative Masters I. White, leader; A. Hunter and W. Anderson. That the students gave close study to the subject was evidenced by the amount of matter that was introduced into the debate. All the speakers acquitted themselves admirably, but the weight of logical reasoning was with the young ladies, who won by a small majority of points. As is usual in debates, some statements were made that were delightfully humorous. As a proof that women should not be allowed the vote, one speaker said: "The suffragette leaders have no brains; all they do is to break windows, and knock the brains out of hard working business men," which drew the retort from a young lady "that it only showed how clever the women were since they did find men who had brains." Another speaker said that "one-third of the women of the world were crazy; one-third obey their husbands in everything; one-sixth would vote any way you'd make them, and there was a bare chance that the rest might vote right." "If women had the vote," said one young lady, "politics would be talked at home and not, as at present, in the saloons." "Give the vote to women," said a rising young anti-suffragette, "and they would steep the country in war, so that they might get their husbands killed off and have everything to themselves." Principal Brady acted as judge and awarded the victory to the affirmative side. The marks were: Affirmative, 140 points; negative, 125 points. In this debate the girls expressed the desire of stating their side of the case, feeling confident that they would make a good stand, which they satisfactorily did, but it will be a harder thing to convince the boys that they are right.

LAST TRIP OF PRINCE GEORGE

Big Steamer Makes Last Mid-Week Run for Season—Rupert Comes Next Wednesday.

The Prince George arrived this morning well on time with a considerable number of passengers for this time of the year. This is her last trip north this season; the Prince Rupert going on her run, until the middle of January. There will be no G. T. P. boat next Saturday from the South, and we shall have to wait for a week before the Prince Rupert again comes into port. Below is a list of the saloon passengers on the Prince George this morning: Mr. Smith, Mr. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. F. Stone, Miss Payne, H. C. Head, A. D. McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Rowan and child, G. W. Kerr, Miss Stewart, Miss Wood, Miss A. Tingley, Miss M. Wood, Mr. Payne, Mr. Swell, Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Phiscator, Mr. Horn, Mr. Hogarth, Mrs. Woods and child, Mr. and Mrs. Ewhank, F. W. Farrell, Mr. Gemmer, Mr. Bayley, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bainter, Mr. Rose, F. Bowness, Mr. Ledlie, J. E. Merryfield, R. J. McClean, James Hodgson, W. J. Mordridge, Mr. Bachelor, Mr. H. Bachelor, W. #### ROBBERS AGAIN ENTER MARKET

Prince Rupert Fish & Cold Storage Market Again Burglarized—Man Seen and Chased.

It is reported that another attempted robbery of the premises of the Prince Rupert Fish Market took place shortly before midnight last evening. A man obtained entrance to the office, it is presumed, through a back window. Mr. Shepard, one of the employees, passing along Third avenue about half past eleven, noticed a light in the office, at first imagining it was one of the staff, but a little later noticing a strange head appear through the glass door as if contemplating doing a quick exit he hastened to apprise Mr. Bacon, who lives in the adjoining house. Meanwhile the man, whoever he was, made his escape through the back and although chase was given he effected a successful getaway. The police were immediately notified, but so far no further trace has been found of the supposed marauder.

NEW HAZELTON BRIDGE AND POWER CO. IS INCORPORATED

BUILD HAQUELGATE BRIDGE, DEVELOP WATER POWER, SUPPLY ELECTRIC LIGHTS, TELEPHONE AND WATERWORKS, CONSTRUCT TRAM LINES, BUILD STREETS, SEWERS.

The B. C. Gazette of October 17th contains the announcement of the incorporation of the New Hazelton Bridge & Power Co., Ltd., with head offices at Prince Rupert. The capital stock of the company is $40,000, divided into 800 shares. The objects of the company are to construct a bridge over the Bulkley River at Haquelegate to connect New Hazelton with the mines and Kispix Valley; to carry on a general contracting business; to erect public or private buildings, and public works of all kinds, such as trams, roads, streets, flumes, dams, bridges, sewerage systems, electric light plants, telephone, water supplies, hotels, power supply, etc.; to acquire water power and carry on a water and light business. In short, the company is chartered to take part in the development of the country by developing the natural resources, which will enable private enterprises to carry on business. The incorporation of this company throws a new light upon the future of New Hazelton and the Hazelton district. The first thing the company will do will be to construct the high level bridge at Haquelegate. They will also undertake the development of the great water powers of the district for the benefit of the mines and farms, and of the town of New Hazelton, thus enabling manufacturing, electric railways and trams, etc., to be operated, and the mineral and agricultural resources of the district to be handled in the most up-to-date manner. The Hazelton district has the resources—excelled by no district in the country—and all that is required is the development of these to make New Hazelton the big city that nature destined her to be.—Omineca Herald.

TSAREVITCH IS OUT OF DANGER

Little Son of Czar of Russia is Recovering from Knife Wound of Nihilist.

(Special to Daily News.)
St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—The condition of the Tsarevitch Alexis, heir to the Russian throne, who was stabbed by a nihilist last Friday when out walking with his nurse near the imperial hunting lodge at Spala, Russian Poland, is reported to be improving and he is considered now to be well out of danger. When the Czarina heard of the attempted murder of her 8-year-old son, she attempted to hurl herself out of the window and was prevented from doing so only by main force.

BECKER TO DIE IN THE CHAIR

Lieutenant Convicted of Murder Will Die in Electric Chair for Killing of Rosenthal.

New York, Oct. 30.—Lieutenant Becker, the convicted murderer of Herman Rosenthal, was sentenced at 10:30 this morning by Justice Goff to expiate his crime in the electric chair on December 15th at Sing Sing prison. Mrs. Becker was present at the time and fainted when the death sentence was read. The murderer will be removed immediately to the "death house," where he will remain until he goes to the chair. Special guards have been appointed to watch Becker, while the police have to protect the judge, jury and witnesses from the revenge of the gunmen.

DAILY EDITION. WEDNESDAY, OCT. 30

Editorial Notes and Clippings

MR. MATTHEWS GIVES WARNING.

The full text of the letter of complaint and warning from Mr. James Matthews, the retiring superintendent of the electric light plant, was too long to print in the news columns, but complaint number seven practically sums up the whole of the three closely typewritten pages which comprise the communication. It is as follows: "You are liable to have endless troubles this winter during stormy or snowy weather, and had you given me the power to get the material that is so urgently wanted and the time and men to do the work, and at the same time curbed your insatiable desire to unduly interfere with and harass your trained technical official (myself), then you would see this have an entirely safe and satisfactory installation."

The preceding clauses were an effort to put the blame of any trouble discovered at the power plant after his departure on the Council and not upon his "highly trained technical" head. In clause two he admits that the installation is faulty, but blames the City Council for this in curtailing his estimates.

Three nights when danger threatened, he, with Spartan fortitude, stood at his post all night that the lights might burn, and in clause eight he tells of this and in pathetic language accuses the Council of ungratefulness.

Not one alderman remained unmoved while this clause was being read. So vividly was it portrayed that it was an easy matter to imagine the aldermen on those three occasions enjoying their beauty sleep while with grim, set jaws and hardened face Mr. Matthews battled for the safety of the city.

Revenge is sweet, and in the ninth clause Mr. Matthews revels in the agony which he is causing the city fathers. It was too bad that he was not present to see the ruddy countenances pale when they heard Clerk Woods read: "In your wisdom you have decided that you can do without all this highly technical knowledge, known only to myself, and which I offered to give to you, and you can rest assured that after your treatment to me I am not going to again offer this valuable information to you."

The whole Council up to this point had been squirming under the displeasure of such a "highly trained" man, but the truly great always reward as well as punish, and Mr. Matthews is no exception. In the final chapter of his epistle he commends the Mayor and Alderman Montgomery. It was sad to see the envious glances cast upon the two favored members of the City Council by the others who were under the dark indictment of the "highly trained technical" man.

Such a letter coming from a schoolboy would have made him the laughing stock of the whole city, but when it comes from a man boasting of his training and education is a matter more of pity than of mirth, and reminds the reader of a petted child from whom some one had taken a toy. Indeed, if most children acted in that manner they would be soundly spanked.

INDIAN FIGHT ON GRAHAM ISLE TO BE TOLD IN RUPERT COURT

PRINCIPALS AND WITNESSES IN FIGHT BETWEEN INDIANS AND WHITE MEN NEAR MASSET WILL COME TO PRINCE RUPERT AND APPEAR BEFORE JUDGE YOUNG.

Masset, Oct. 28.—After reading the report of the recent fracas of Indians and whites, Attorney General Bowser ordered Leslie Randol committed for trial. Special Constable Mactavish has gone up the Yakoun River to notify Randol of the decision.

Randol and Freeman Tingley put up a desperate fight against an overpowering force of Indian fishermen aboard the steamer Claxton. Trouble between the Indians and their rival white fishermen had been brewing some time and the fight with Randol and Tingley was the first outbreak.

The steamer Claxton, of the Wallace Fisheries, had a tow of small boats, including the boat of the white men, who broke away and an argument started midway between the Indian village and Masset. Two Indians attempted to board the white men and one of them was knocked overboard and another sustained a broken arm when Randol swung the tiller, with which he had armed himself.

When the Claxton brought up at the Masset wharf the white men sought refuge in the cabin from an united attack of several Indians. They were overpowered finally and badly beaten.

The trouble in the small boats had been seen from the shore by other Indians, who came running from their village. While the fight was at its height the Claxton signalled for assistance and a score of white men responded and met the Indians at the wharf, where a pitched battle was averted.

At the hearing of the case before Magistrate Harrison and James Martin, J. P., several Indians were fined and Randol was put under bonds to await the decision of the Attorney General.

Randol's defense was he had used the tiller only to defend himself. The Indians said they were in the face of Randol's warning to "keep off," trying to board him to "make peace."

Magistrate Harrison scored Captain Warren of the Claxton for not keeping order on his ship. Freeman Tingley is still confined to his home.

Randol's trial will take place in Prince Rupert in December.

EASTERN PEOPLE DELIGHTED WITH LAND ON GRAHAM ISLE

WINNIPEG PERSONS ARE WELL PLEASSED WITH THEIR PURCHASES ON QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS—MR. M'CREA WILL START EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

"Graham Island land sells itself," last Friday declared James W. McCrea, a well known real estate broker of Winnipeg, who is a heavy owner of Graham Island land. He headed a party of eight investors of the prairies, every one of whom became enthusiastic over the land in the vicinity of Meyer Lake.

The party lost two of its members at the lake, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rennie, who decided to stay and commence work on the place they purchased at Meyer Lake. The party was further reduced in number at Prince Rupert by the loss of A. A. McCrea, who will return with the launch Westover, which will be added to the mosquito fleet of Masset Inlet. Mr. McCrea will stay and make preparations for the 100 acre experimental farm which will be started in the spring.

With the party was an interesting character, T. E. Femby, of Watrous, Sask., who absorbed information about the country like a sponge absorbs water. He never quit asking questions from the time he sighted land until he left the island behind, and what he did not learn about Graham Island nobody knows.

While he is naturally conservative, Mr. Femby, like all the others, grew enthusiastic. Mr. McCrea expects to return with another party in about two months.—Masset Leader.

Council Condemned by Mr. Matthews

plied. This, apparently, Manager Jack Beattie had not lived up to, hence the trouble.

The city engineer and one or two of the aldermen thought that in view of the lateness of the season and the fact that meters would be installed at the beginning of the year it would be as well to let things go as they were. It was mainly the one or two government boats that had been thus served and they were not expected to be around much more this season.

Alderman Montgomery was steadfast in his view that drastic measures should be taken against Manager Beattie for allowing the boats to get the water.

The subject was finally dropped, the committee being instructed to confer with Mr. Beattie for adjustment.

Alderman Bullock-Webster in solemn and almost tearful voice, next informed the Council that the city deer, imprisoned upon Acropolis Hill, had either been murdered or kidnaped, as, to the horror of a citizen taking an early stroll in the park, the little wire gate, the lock apparently having been forced, was found wide open and the deer vanished.

It was as if a thunderbolt had dropped into the council chamber. The aldermen for once were almost struck speechless and unable to gather themselves together for some little time.

Alderman Morrissey, the first to recover his nerve, arose to his feet and in no uncertain terms demanded that every effort be put forth by the city authorities to bring the guilty party or parties to justice.

The matter of the immediate installation of the Gamewell fire alarm system came up next, the plan showing the location of the several alarm boxes not meeting with the entire approval of Alderman Morrissey.

He complained that whilst Third and Second avenues seemed to be generously supplied, there was not a single box on Fraser street, a particularly populous part of the city. The matter was referred to the committee, with the assurance that everything was being done to the best advantage of the city generally. It was further decided to allow the present system of fire alarm telephone boxes to remain up for the use of the city police force.

In the report yesterday of the annual shooting competition held on Thanksgiving Day by the Civilian Rifle Association at the range at McNicol Creek, it was inadvertently stated that W. J. Greer, the winner of the silver medal, was identical with the J. Greer who is on the staff of the G. T. P. This was an error, Mr. W. J. Greer, the fortunate prize winner being a building contractor in the city and very well and popularly known to his large circle of friends, especially those interested in the sport of which he is such a shining light. Joe Greer of the G. T. P., although also an enthusiast in rifle shooting, was not a member of the team that took part in Monday's meet.

MR. AND MRS. BAINTER BACK
After Extended Trip to States
Prominent Broker and Wife
Are Glad to Be Home.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bainter returned this morning on the Prince George after a two months' vacation spent in the United States, half of which time was spent in travelling. Mr. Bainter, who is a well known business man of this city, being one of the partners in the firm of Bainter & Sloan, real estate and insurance brokers on Second avenue, reports having had a splendid holiday, their visit having been of a most extended nature, Chicago, New Orleans, Los Angeles and their old home in Ohio being a part of the itinerary.

Pleasant and interesting as has been the trip, Mr. Bainter is genuinely glad to get back to his home in Prince Rupert, which city he says will compare favorably with any place he has met on his travels as a place to reside. There may be larger and older cities, but the spirit of youth and optimism that prevails here more than compensates for a few things we have to do without.

WANTS A CITY WHARF.

To the Editor:

Sir: Does it not seem an anomaly that the City of Prince Rupert has not an inch of water-frontage that it can call its own, and this despite the fact that nature has given us an extensive water-frontage on a fine natural harbor? The whole water-frontage belongs, I am told, to the G. T. P. and the small mercy permitted us at present of using portions of this foreshore for the use of private launches may be withdrawn at any moment. Even as it is, private owners have no real shelter for their launches, which, owing to sufficient lack of accommodation are at the mercy of the winds and waves. The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but owing to the G. T. P. monopolizing all our foreshore the City of Prince Rupert has not suitable anchorage for the launches of private citizens. Across the harbor the same thing prevails. Do our city fathers realize that it is their duty to endeavor to obtain portions of the foreshore and hold it as city property for the use and convenience of the citizens? At present, what is the existing state of affairs? We are simply at the mercy of the G. T. P. The wharf and foreshore is their private property, and vessels other than those belonging to that company must pay them wharfage instead of it going to benefit the city coffers. As Prince Rupert grows and its trade extends the want of a city wharf will be acutely felt, as the G. T. P. can dictate whatever terms it pleases to incoming vessels, and a large sum of money will be lost to the city. Again, other aspects of the case must be considered. If we want the people of means to remain here we must offer them incentives for so doing. I do not exaggerate when I say that we possess one of the most beautiful harbors in the world for small craft. Now what incentive is held out to the better class of people to keep launches? Why, none at all. Every city should possess a charter of certain lands within and around it that may be utilized when necessary for the well being of the city, and among these should be included a good portion of the water-frontage of the harbor when the city possesses one. Instead of the city authorities leasing out at a nominal rental portions of this foreshore to the G. T. P. for the site of a wharf or dry dock, we find that the city possesses no right whatever to any portion of this land. This state of affairs should not be allowed to exist. At present there is no convenience for the people of the islands to bring launches here, and with the population of the islands increasing Prince Rupert will suffer much in trade. A wharf belonging to the city and made suitable for small craft would greatly facilitate trade with the adjoining islands. Since the G. T. P. owns everything worth having around our harbor, would it not be a gracious thing on their part to present to the city a suitable portion of the foreshore that could be utilized as a safe anchorage for small craft? To my mind, the time is ripe for action, and steps should be taken before it is too late to acquire for our city a portion of the foreshore. The people of Rupert should agitate in the matter, and they have for their example the concerted action taken by other cities under similar exigencies.
