TURKEY BEATEN AND WILL TRY AND END WAR

TRAWLER CANADA ALMOST SINKS IN HEAVY SEAS OFF BANKS ISLAND--LIGHTENS CARGO

TURKS TO MAKE PEACE PROPOSALS TO THE VICTORIOUS ALLIES IMMEDIATELY

So Badly Beaten and Discouraged is the Turkish Army That the Porte is Compelled to Make Advances of Peace--- Most Remarkable War in History

(Special to Daily News.)
 Constantinople, Nov. 1.—Serious news has been received here from the front and upon receipt of it the council convened and after some hours are still sitting at 11 o'clock this morning. It is believed that the ministers and the Sultan are discussing the advisability of concluding the war.

Intense excitement reigns in the city and the wildest kind of stories are running about the city. The fate of Nazim Pasha is unknown. Some say that he was taken prisoner, others that he was killed and again that he committed suicide upon seeing the battle going against him. The Bulgarian forces are supposed to be closely following the Turkish army, which is within fifty miles of Constantinople. Scenes in the streets of the city were terrible when the news of the defeat of the army was heard. Men ran to and fro cursing the victorious Bulgarians.

The great Turkish army, commanded by Nazim Pasha, minister of war, and consisting of nearly a quarter of a million men, has been defeated and is now in full retreat, and Constantinople, the capital of Turkey, is now believed to be at the mercy of the invaders.

What can be learned from the Turkish ministers is that the government is considering the advisability of suing for peace. The war was only formally declared a fortnight ago. The first week of the campaign closed with the dramatic fall of Kirk Lissesh, which for the first time revealed the disorganization, bad morals and inefficient commissariat of the Turkish army. Although composed of 200,000 men, that army is now defeated and is routed within fifty miles of the sacred city of Constantinople.

Only the most vague reports of the battle of Luluburgas have been received here, owing to the fact that for the first time in modern warfare correspondents have not been allowed to accompany the armies in the field except with the Montenegrin forces.

giving were held in most of the churches and prayers were offered for the further success of the allied armies in their fight against the Turks.

SCOTSMEN HOLD MERRY EVENING
 St. Andrew's Society Have Very Successful Social and Dance in Pythias Hall.

The big social and dance held in the Knights of Pythias Hall last evening by the St. Andrew's Society in fitting celebration of Halloween Night was, as is usual with all affairs given under their auspices, a huge success and attended by a large and merry throng.

Songs, recitations, games and dancing made the all too short hours fly like magic. Refreshments in bounteous quantities were provided by the ladies of the society.

Gray's orchestra dispensed most excellent music, and altogether a most delightful and long to be remembered evening's entertainment was enjoyed by the large gathering of young and old met together in celebration of the night that has been thus commemorated for more years than one can remember.

Those who took part in the entertainment and added to its enjoyment by singing and dancing were: Miss McLean, song; Mr. W. Cook, step dance; Messrs. R. Dowther, R. Gibson, James Kelly and McKinnon, songs.

NORTHERN B.C. ORES ATTRACTED MUCH ATTENTION AT BIG FAIR AT SPOKANE

H. B. Brown Writes of the Success of the Ores From This District at the Spokane Fair and Offers Prospectors Here Advice and Assistance

In a personal letter to the editor, H. B. (Bulldog) Brown, whose successes with the Vancouver mineral exhibit at the two annual fairs in that city are too well known to have to repeat here, tells of the splendid showing made by British Columbia ores at the Spokane exhibition lately. Mr. Brown, who is to attend the mining congress as a representative, makes a splendid offer to the mining men of Northern British Columbia. Mr. Brown says:

"My success with the B. C. ores at the Spokane fair is of special interest to the coast, as those ores were in the limelight and the constant subject of inquiries. So keen did the interest become in the ores of the Northern B. C. coast and the Interior that donations were asked for and were given to the Spokane permanent exhibit of samples of Red Cliff, Portland Canal and Stewart Development companies of Stewart; high and low grade samples from Hidden Creek at Granby; Silver Cup, Lead King, Rocher de Boule, Canadian King, Silver Standard, Hannis Bros., and Omineca mines in the Hazelton district. These latter were commented upon with more than usual interest as silver-lead ores have always been a feature in the Spokane mining circles and much capital is now being put into the Coeur d'Alene and the new Leadville camp in the Tulameen Mountains.

"Prince Rupert is the initial point for those interested who would seek investments in the Northern Coast and Interior and the showings we had cover only an atom of the rich mineral areas known to exist in the territory adjacent to your city.

"There was a very complete showing of coals and cokes from the province, but you will be pleased to know that the main interest was centred in coal coming from the Groundhog Basin and samples from along the G. T. P. Undoubtedly the coal resources of the North are to be an important factor in the development of that section and Prince Rupert.

"Mining is receiving renewed attention all over the world and now is the time to direct capital to this section, and a proper showing of the commercial ores with definite and reliable data as to the working conditions of the district to furnish inquirers will do much to popularize the district. The establishment of a permanent exhibit of the ores of the Northern Coast and Interior with the co-operation of the press and business men with the prospector will attract capital to the section so doing, and if the information published is reliable and the terms agreeable the men will not be lacking to take hold of likely propositions and develop them as they should be developed. To do this reliable and definite information is absolutely essential as is a proper exhibit of your ores, as the whole world is in competition with you in the mining industry. The American Mining Congress will meet in Spokane on November 25th. Eight hundred delegates will be present from all over the world, as well as interested capitalists and mine owners who will listen to the discussions and scrutinize the data furnished by the different delegates. I have been appointed delegate from British Columbia, and will be pleased to receive samples of ore from the different prospects with information regarding the same by mail. If the owners wish to sell they might say what prices they demand, as often after having seen a promising sample the interested person asks as to the prices of claims in the vicinity, and in that manner I might be able to help your prospectors and the district. You can intimate to them through their mining body or what organization they have in Prince Rupert that any samples addressed to me at Hedley, B. C., will receive my best attention. I will also be pleased to answer any questions that may be asked of me."

GREEKS TAKE TWO ISLANDS

Grecian Navy Took Two Turkish Islands and Raised the Grecian Flag on Them.

(Special to Daily News.)
 Athens, Oct. 31.—Admiral Contouriotis has announced that the Greek squadron under his command have occupied the islands of Thasos and Sobros and have raised the Grecian flag there.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hannifan went north on the Prince George this morning to spend the winter in Vancouver. Mr. Hannifan, who has been a resident of this city for nearly four years, was on the staff of the Royal Hotel and was very popular in Prince Rupert.

MASONS HOLD ANNUAL BALL: GREAT SUCCESS

McIntyre Hall last evening presented a most brilliant and gala appearance upon the occasion of the second annual Masonic ball, given under the auspices of the officers and members of Tsimpssean Lodge, No. 58, A. F. & A. M. The ballroom, decorated with a mass of flags of the Empire covering the entire four walls and ceiling of the hall, was a perfect setting to the handsome gowns of the many ladies present and the immaculate evening attire of the gentlemen.

The music was provided by the famous Westholme orchestra, augmented by the services of Professor Kauffmann, and it is needless to say that it was of the very highest order.

At midnight a most delightful supper was served, to which all sat down, when conversation and laughter reigned supreme. Dancing was kept up until the early hours, every one present having a pleasant and most enjoyable time.

The arrangements were carried out in the most satisfactory manner by the committee in charge under the able chairmanship of Mr. Thomas McElymont. Among those present were:

BIG GOLD STRIKE AT KITSELAS ON G. T. P.

News was brought down on last evening's train by Fire Warden G. A. Kerr, whose headquarters are at Kitselas, that great excitement reigns at that place over the rich finds of free milling ore that have lately been discovered.

That it is the real thing and is tremendously rich is established beyond doubt. Assays made recently have run as high as $700 to the ton, and quantities of it are to be found within a short distance of the railroad. The recent strike made at Kitsumkalum Lake in this district, and the present find is attracting much interest in mining circles to the gold-bearing quartz of that section of the interior where gold is known to exist and which was worked some years ago.

So far no great amount of work has been done, and will not be probably, until the spring, on account of the snow and difficulty of getting supplies, material, etc., on to the ground, for the early stages of development work.

Quite a rush has been going on to the vicinity and a number of claims staked and despite the obstacles to be contended with stated above, one company thinks with the railroad facilities at hand, they may be able to make a trial shipment.

The coming spring will see a great development in quartz mining in this promising district, as for some years experienced prospectors have been going over the ground, and mineral in paying quantities has been known to exist. These men have only been waiting for the railroad through the country to be completed, to enable them to open up their mines and obtain the commercial returns from the known mineral wealth of this rich section of the province in the shape of the much to be desired dollars and cents.

Mrs. Hascamp was a passenger on the Prince George this morning, leaving on a visit to the lower coast cities.

BASKET BALL LEAGUE WILL BE OPENED TONIGHT AT THE RINK

FIRST GAME OF THE NEWLY FORMED BASKET BALL LEAGUE WILL TAKE PLACE THIS EVENING AT THE SKATING RINK—BANKERS FAILED TO ENTER TEAM.

Tonight, in the splendid arena provided by the Auditorium on Sixth avenue, the battle of the rinks will begin. The first match of the season of the basket ball league will be played, the opposing teams being the mighty warriors of many a hard fought battle pulled off in 1911: viz., the Tigers and the Brotherhood Crescents. Five teams in all are practicing assiduously in preparation for the season's struggles.

There was some talk of the bank boys putting up a team, but for some reason or other they have not so far become organized. This is much to be regretted and it is to be hoped immediate steps will be taken at once to remedy this and the boys

TRAWLER CANADA COULD NOT MAKE SKIDEGATE IN STORM

WEATHER WAS TOO MUCH FOR LITTLE BOAT WHICH CAME AROUND THE HORN—WILL COMMENCE TRAWLING IN A WEEK—COAL HAD TO BE THROWN OVERBOARD.

After sailing over 16,000 miles, or more than half around the globe, covering a period of nearly four months, and then to come very close to losing their ship within a few miles of its destination was the experience of Skipper Quinn and his trusty little crew of eight men on the steam trawler Canada, which tied up at the cold storage plant shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The two steam trawlers, Canada and Triumph, of the B. C. Fisheries Co., of which Sir George Doughty of Grimsby, England, is the head, left the latter port on the 12th of July last for the waters of Northern British Columbia.

SAVING THE COUNTRY.

These are the days when the good wife scrubs, does the washing, feeds the cow, licks the kids, gets the meals and does things generally while her liege lord is to be found downtown on the corner saving his country. It is a great snap, this saving one's country, and it is a great pity for some of these old ducks that it can't be worked oftener than once in four or more years.—Yorkton Times.

DECEIVED OR DECEIVING.

In a mass of half truths and squinting falsehoods the Mail and Empire impudently tried to make Liberal newspapers responsible for the argument that "if Canada made a contribution to the British navy the British government would retrench its expenditure on naval account by an equal sum." The truth of that argument is another question, but its origin was not in Liberal circles. More than three years ago in London and in Canada that argument against a "contribution" either of money or of ships was presented with vigor and frankness by no less a Tory authority than Lord Charles Beresford. It is no secret that the jaunty admiral was outspokenly opposed to a Canadian "contribution" and was just as unreservedly in favor of a Canadian fleet. The very argument charged now against Liberal newspapers Lord Charles propounded in Toronto somewhat to the confusion of the jingo element that had hoped for his approval. To him "contribution sounded like "tribute." He saw in it division of Canadian opinion and weakening of Canada's sense of responsibility. He stood, as he so often declared, for "an Imperial navy made up of as many national fleets as the nations composing the Empire choose to maintain." He would have had the Canadian fleet Canadian in the fullest sense, with one unit on the North Atlantic and another unit on the North Pacific. And one of his definite arguments was that, no matter what stipulations might be made, the British government, looking for chances of relief from excessive taxation as all governments find it advantageous to do, would reduce its naval budgets by a sum equal to the amount of Canada's contribution.

And if it is argued that 1909 is a long time ago, and that the situation has changed since then, the Mail and Empire might consider the circular issued on September 26, 1912, by the Imperial Maritime League, giving the authorized report of the interview in London of the league with the Canadian Minister of Marine. The spokesman, L. Graham H. Horton-Smith, M. A., certainly no Liberal, used these words to Hon. Mr. Hazen:

"A mere gift of cash will have no useful effect at all. . . . The giving of money for the navy by the Dominion of Canada will merely have the effect of saving the pocket of the Liberal government for other schemes of so-called social reform, which, being interpreted, means further sops to the United Kingdom electorate, and will be of no advantage whatsoever to the navy. The Liberal government here would only spend on naval defense by so much less as would coincide with the extent of the Canadian gift."

What Lord Charles Beresford said in 1909 is repeated in 1912 by the Imperial Maritime League, whose president is the Rt. Hon. Lord Willoughby de Broke, the valiant leader of the Tory "Last Ditchers": "A mere gift of cash will have no useful effect at all."

The argument may be sound or it may be unsound, but it is of English Tory origin and is still used and endorsed by the Imperial Maritime League, which boasts high Tory leadership and "over 200 admirals and generals" on its council, in flinging it as an accusation of disloyalty against Liberal journals in Canada, the Mail and Empire either is deceived or it deliberately deceives its readers.—Toronto Globe.

MR. C. HARRISON HELPED TO DEVELOP NORTH AND ISLAND

PIONEER OF MASSET INLET IS VISITING PRINCE RUPERT— HAS BEEN AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN DEVELOPMENT OF THE NORTHERN COUNTRY.

Mr. C. Harrison, of Masset, who has been a resident of Graham Island for 27 years, is in the city on a brief visit in connection with his business as magistrate. He is very optimistic as to the future of Graham Island and especially Masset, which he remembers as but an Indian village.

Mr. Harrison has been an important factor in the building up of the island and has the entire confidence of not only the settlers but of the Indians. In fact, so great trust was placed in his honor and integrity by the natives that some years ago they adopted him into the Eagle tribe. His experiences and the stories he has to relate of the early settlement of the north are wonderful and particularly interesting. Having mastered the Haida language he has heard and can recount the wonderful legends of that remarkable race. Recently Mr. Harrison completed a series of articles on the building of Graham Island and they are now appearing in the Queen Charlotte Islander.

Mr. Harrison's lovely new house, just completed, is filled with curios and articles of great value on account of their historical association. Several times he has presented the Dominion and British Columbian museums with specimens for which he could have received large sums had he cared to dispose of them. One relic, however, he gave to Harvard University, but not before the Canadian authorities had refused its acceptance.

This was a huge carved spread eagle, once the figurehead of an American ship, which was captured and broken up by the Indians. The lives of the crewman, Chief Edenshaw, whose son were saved by that remarkable present chief, Henry Edenshaw, is so well known and so prominently identified with the development of the wonderful resources of Graham Island.

The eagle came into Mr. Harrison's possession and he offered it to the museum authorities at Ottawa, but they would not pay the freight on it.

Several American college students holidaying at Masset saw and coveted for their several college museums the relic. Finally Mr. Harrison, seeing their anxiety, offered it as a prize for a half mile swimming race.

Harvard won the race by a narrow margin and the delighted student packed the wooden bird in cotton and shipped it east where it now adorns the walls of the museum.

Mr. Harrison is a most genial man and has never spared himself to use his every endeavor in aiding in the development of the country.

PROPOSE PATROL OF THE ATLANTIC

Iceberg Ship to Travel in Track of Liners and Give Warning of Ice.

London, Oct. 31.—A permanent iceberg lookout ship in mid-Atlantic is suggested by the British Board of Trade as a sequel to the report of Lord Mersey on the Titanic disaster.

At present the plan is being considered by the advisory committee of the Board of Trade. If the proposals are carried out, the vessel will be stationed in the track of Atlantic travel and she will cruise along the boundaries of the ice region. She will then be in a position to warn the hurrying liners by her powerful wireless equipment of the exact position of the various ice fields. The proposed ship will also send warning of drifting icebergs and any derelicts which she may encounter.

According to reports made to the advisory committee, the most suitable iceberg ship would be of about 2,000 tons displacement, 250 feet long and 32 feet broad, with a draft of 12 feet 6 inches. She would have a speed of 10 knots and consume about twelve tons of coal every twenty-four hours. Her wireless telegraph equipment would be of the most powerful type and widest range.

The Board of Trade officials express the belief that the stationing of such a ship in mid-ocean would add immeasurably to the safety of ocean traveling.

JOHNSON'S DAYS AS CHAMP OVER

No Promoter Will Stage Man Who Says He "Can Get Any White Woman."

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—The fighting days of Jack Johnson, the black heavyweight champion of the world, probably are over. Disgusted by the flaunting boast of the negro that "all white women seem to fall for him, and that he could win any of them," Johnson is barred today by leading fight promoters from appearing in any of the fight centres of the world, with the possible exception of Paris.

The debarment of Johnson as a fighting attraction was led by Hugh D. McIntosh, the Australian promoter. He had virtually completed arrangements with the negro for two fights at Sydney, which would have netted Johnson something like $50,000, when word of the alleged abduction of Lucille Cameron and the negro's boast reached the Australian metropolis.

"Cancel all negotiations with Johnson," was the gist of a cable McIntosh sent his American representative, W. C. J. Kelly. "Australians will not stand for a man of this negro's calibre appearing here." This message seals every place on the globe to Johnson except Paris.

ITEMS OF SPORT!

Portland added two tryouts in Norton and Cunningham. Norton is a first sacker who has been with Stockton in the California State League. Cunningham is an infielder hailing from Oakland. The Beavers were after Brooks, the Victoria first baseman, to finish the season, but he was not available.

Jack Killaly has a lead as the coast's winning pitcher that no other twirler will be able to touch, or, in fact, coming within hailing distance. Killaly promises to finish with a percentage considerably better than .300. Walter Leverenz, the Los Angeles southpaw, is an easy second, and Klawitter, of Portland, is running third.

John McGraw has put his foot down on further newspaper work by the Giants. They started in to show one another up with very bad results. The players were panned for some of their mistakes in the last few games.

Jimmie McAleer ridicules the rumors of friction in the camp of the Red Sox after Monday's game. He says the story originated from the fact that Joe Wood and Buck O'Brien tried to ease the feelings of their team mates with a fake wrestling match. There were no hard feelings.

"Who will be the hero of the 1912 world's series?" was the query which filled the newspapers a fortnight ago. His name was Woodmarquardbedientmurraymathewsonherzog.

It's Harold Wood, not Joe Wood. According to a writer from Fort Jervis, N. Y., Harold and Harvey, the Wood brothers, went to a circus one day. Two clowns, Joe and Pete, were the heroes of the show and the Wood chaps immediately appropriated the two names, with parental consent.

SINGLE ERROR COST FORTUNE

When Snodgrass Missed Engle's Fly He Lost $29,000 for His Club.

The $29,000 error. That's what Snodgrass' miff of Clyde Engle's fly in the tenth inning of the final world's series game will be called. It will rank with Schmidt's passed ball in Chicago in 1907, and Mathewson's failure to pass Baker in 1911. It was more costly than Merkle's failure to touch second.

Snodgrass' error decided the game in favor of Boston after the Giants had apparently scored a victory. Engle went to second when Snodgrass dropped his high skier. The next man, Hooper, lined to centre, Yerkes walked, Speaker's single scored Engle and Lewis walked. Gardner's sacrifice fly brought in Hooper.

Snodgrass' failure to hold Engle's fly took $29,544.44 out of New York's pocket and presented the sum to the Red Sox. The money represented the difference between the winner's and loser's end.

The error actually cost over $29,000 that we know of, but think of the many thousands of speculative dollars that were lost when Snodgrass' hands became nervous. At least $100,000 was wagered on New York, and possibly a great deal more. Snodgrass personally lost $1,500 as the result of his miff, as his share of the winning club's money would have meant that much more to him.
