NO CHANGE IN THE BALKAN SITUATION—TURKS CLAIM TO HAVE WON BIG VICTORY

NO CREDIT PLACED IN TURKISH VICTORY IN FRONT TCHATALJA.

(Special to Daily News.) London, Nov. 22—No visible effort toward peace was made today in the Balkans. Exchanges of artillery fire proceeded along the line of the armies at Tchatalja. Nazim Pasha in a despatch to Constantinople claimed that an infantry battle occurred in front of his central position and that the Bulgarians left several thousand dead on the field after retiring from the breastworks. Not much credence is placed in the report. Elsewhere the situation of the armies is unchanged.

DONOVICH FREED ON BONDS TO KEEP THE PEACE FOR ONE YEAR

M'KENZIE NOT GUILTY OF ROLLING MAN—DONOVICH FREED ON BOND TO KEEP THE PEACE AGAINST PERSONS HE THREATENED.

At the sitting of the Assize Court yesterday three cases were disposed of. The morning session was brought to a close upon the jury in the case of Solomon Bright bringing in a verdict of guilty on the second count, that of shooting and causing bodily harm. The Chief Justice will pronounce sentence at the close of the Assize.

Upon court assembling at 2 o'clock the case of Rex vs. A. E. McKenzie for attempted theft from the person was proceeded with.

This was a charge, as His Lordship remarked, known in the west as "rolling." According to the witnesses for the Crown, the accused on the night of October 30th last went through the pockets of a man named Williamson, who was lying in a drunken stupor upon a bench in a room at the back of the bar in the Empress Hotel.

Two independent and presumably unbiased witnesses, the porter of the hotel and a passing customer of the house, swore to seeing the prisoner searching the man's pockets in an expedition and business like fashion. Upon the arrival of a constable who had been telephoned for the accused, without offering a remark, accompanied the officer to the police station, only asking finally what the charge was just before arriving at the latter place. Upon being told he was going to be searched he held up his hands in the most approved fashion.

The prisoner, who was ably represented by Mr. Williams, of Williams & Manson, was the only witness in his own defense. His story was simplicity itself. He was merely, he said, upon the investigation of his companions who were sitting on the same bench with the man he was charged of attempting to rob, endeavoring to place the latter in such a position that he would not roll from the bench out to the floor. Further, therefore, he would not take the trouble of going through a man whom he believed to be broke. He swore that his supposed victim had only that afternoon remarked to him that "it was a pretty bum town as he was not eating regular." The accused had himself loaned him a quarter to go and eat upon.

Mr. Williams for the defense in order to try and show that the Crown's witnesses might be mistaken in what they imagined they had seen got the Chief Justice to grant a temporary adjournment whilst the entire court went across the street to the Empress Hotel and viewed the exact spot where the crime was supposed to have taken place.

The jury, after retiring for about fifteen minutes, returned into court and pronounced a verdict of not guilty, and the prisoner was discharged with the advice from His Lordship to be very careful of his actions in the future.

The last but one of the criminal cases, that of Mike Donovan, charged with writing a letter threatening to murder his wife and brother-in-law, lasted but a few minutes. The accused, a young Russian Finn, through his counsel, Mr. Williams, pleaded guilty and begged the clemency of the court.

The Crown prosecutor did not press for a penitentiary sentence. His Lordship, addressing the prisoner, pointed out the extreme seriousness of the charge laid against him. The government of the country were going to treat him leniently and hoped that he would appreciate the lesson to the end of his life. He would be let free upon suspended sentence after furnishing a bond of $250 to keep the peace toward the persons named in the complaint for the period of one year.

This morning the civil action of Thomas Conroy vs. the G. T. P. Ry. occupied the attention of the court. This is an action for $1,500 damages for the defendant company's placing their tracks on the plaintiff's property. Also begging for an injunction restraining them from continuing in the same. Mr. A. Manson, of Williams & Manson, is representing the plaintiff and Mr. L. W. Patmore the defendant company.

(Special to Daily News.) Ottawa, Nov. 22—The statement was made this afternoon by a prominent western member of the Senate that the bill for an increase of representation in the three western provinces would not be allowed to pass the Senate unless a bill for the redistribution of the Commons was submitted to parliament this session. These bills it is contended should be submitted at the same session of parliament.

MASTER OF ROBBERS WAS KILLED BY THE POLICE

Modern Fagin Is Killed in Duel with Police—Strange Women in the Case.

(Special to Daily News.) New York, Nov. 22—Henry Vogel, "Weeping Thief" and "Fagin," master of more than forty girl thieves who stole for him, died fighting when trapped in a Bronx hotel. He did not turn his eleven shot automatic pistol on himself after he had shot one man to death and wounded four others, but with the woman who was known as his wife, was killed by bullets from detectives' revolvers.

This new light on the sensational affray was revealed by the autopsy. The woman, at first thought to have been killed by Vogel, also was killed by bullets from the detectives' weapons.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH WAS THE VERDICT OF JURY

Harry Kingston Met His Death Under Car on the G.T.P.—No One to Blame

Yesterday afternoon the coroner's jury summoned to enquire into the cause of death of Harry Kingston, who lost his life through being run over by a freight train in the G.T.P. yards on the morning of the 20th inst, brought in a verdict of accidental death.

The evidence went to bear out the facts of the story as first published in the daily press. The deceased with a number of others went alongside a freight car to avoid being struck by pieces of falling rock from a blast that was being set off. He crawled under a car, not knowing that it was part of a made up train attached to a locomotive and the train starting up, the wheels of one of the cars passed over him.

All the evidence went to show that absolutely no blame attached to any of the crew of the G.T.P. train.

A verdict was brought in to this effect.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY TO BE FORMED IN CITY

To Aid in the Work of Preparing for Fall Fair Society Will be Formed

A public meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, December 3rd, at the city hall for the purpose of forming an agricultural society. This is in accordance with a movement that the Prince Rupert Board of Trade have had in view for some time past. It is practically decided to hold an agricultural and mining exhibition in the second week of September next year.

By next fall rail connections will be completed to the Bulkley Valley and beyond, and there is every incentive for the citizens of Prince Rupert to take an active interest in the promotion of a fair that shall be both a credit and distinct material advantage as regards the future welfare of the city.

The forming of an agricultural society, with a strong and efficient executive, will be a great step gained toward the consummation of the long cherished plan to bring off a fall fair that has been in the minds of a number of Prince Rupert's citizens for the last eighteen months.

Miss Sylvia Bain, who has been visiting her sister, Miss Bain, of this city, returned yesterday morning on the Prince Rupert after spending a most enjoyable time in Prince Rupert.

Failing to Receive Required Number of Votes, Progressives May Lose Chance

(Special to Daily News.)

Portland, Ore., Nov. 22—It is announced that on account of their having failed to secure one-fourth of the congressional votes in the state, the members of the progressive party will be unable to participate in the direct primaries hereafter until they can legally show that they are entitled to participate.

This means that they will have to nominate by convention in lieu of participating in the direct primaries at future elections.

There were but 25,000 Progressive congressional votes cast, whereas under the direct primary law, the vote would have to be 30,000, or one-fourth of the total congressional poll.

Crescents Win Basketball Game from Tigers—Royals Best Men's Own

Two well contested games of basket ball took place at the auditorium last evening. Despite the fact of the inclemency of the weather a large crowd of spectators were present. Crescents, Jarvis McLeod (captain), Schaeffer, Ross, Mobley and Leo Ives.

The second game, the Royals vs. The Men's Own, resulted in a win for the former by 20 to 7. In the first half of the match the score was fairly even, the Royals running away with their opponents toward the latter end. J. Weston injured his hand early in the game, necessitating a substitute taking his place. The teams taking part were as follows: Royals, Ramsay (captain), Smith, Brooks, Sidle and Gray. Men's Own, Barrie (captain), Corkill, J. Weston, Kuhn and Shrubhall.

Editorial Notes and Clippings

SIR RICHARD'S AMBIGUITY.

It is very difficult to discover just what is in the mind of Sir Richard McBride when he discusses the Canadian naval problem. At different times during the past year Sir Richard has been emphatic in declaring that the real Canadian peril is an Asiatic peril, and that the coast line vital to the security of Canada is left absolutely unprotected. Twice while in the east and twice lately in British Columbia Sir Richard has given expression to the unequivocal opinion that only provision for a Pacific fleet unit in the Borden naval policy would satisfy the reasonable demands of his party, his government and the people of British Columbia. This view has been quoted by newspapers of both political parties in the east, who have interpreted it as meaning that Sir Richard deems a Pacific fleet unit of paramount importance; a view which asserts, indeed, that a Borden naval policy without provision for Pacific coast protection will be repudiated by Sir Richard. This is also the interpretation put upon the words of Sir Richard by his own local organs, by those who heard him at Golden and Revelstoke and by all those throughout the province on whose behalf he professed to speak.—Victoria Times.

LOOKING FOR THE NAVAL PROPOSAL.

As the time approaches when Premier Borden is to announce his emergency naval policy the interest of the public becomes more and more manifest. Never, perhaps, in the history of Canadian politics has the curiosity of the country been strained to the extent that it has on this question. This is not only because Canadians are intensely in earnest in the matter of proffering assistance in Imperial naval defense, but because the intention of the government on a matter of vital importance to the Dominion and of undoubted concern to the British people everywhere has never been withheld over as long a period or has been subject to the same speculation as this naval question has.—Vancouver Sun.

SMITH SAYS BOWSER IS MIXED IN REGARD TO NAVY QUESTION

IN INTERVIEW WITH VANCOUVER SUN, RALPH SMITH POINTS OUT BOWSER'S INCONSISTENCIES—SPECIAL PRIVILEGES ARE NOTHING NEW.

Flies in the amber of announcement made by the Hon. J. Bowser, attorney general, yesterday in an evening paper, simultaneously with his return to Ottawa, were pointed out to the Sun last evening in the course of an interview with Mr. Ralph Smith, ex-M.P.

Calling particular attention to the statement made by Mr. Bowser in regard to the naval question, on which he was quoted as being "anxious to speak," Mr. Smith said that he was glad the Attorney-General admitted "the people were hungry for the announcement of the naval policy." "It is true the people are starving for thirteen months," declared Mr. Smith, "and during that period the Borden Government has done nothing, and said nothing in regard to the question."

Serious Inconsistency

"In Mr. Bowser's reference to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, one must notice a serious inconsistency," he continued, "for if the people are hungry and thirsty for information which has not as yet been given, how can Mr. Bowser say that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will oppose a policy not yet announced, and about which no one knows anything except perhaps Mr. Borden himself. Sir Wilfrid made his announcement of policy on the navy two years ago, and provided $37,000,000 for the construction of warships. Mr. Borden has done nothing to carry that policy into operation."

Asked about the lists of privileges which Mr. Bowser stated he had received from the Dominion Government, Mr. Smith pointed out from actual newspaper cuttings that the list was just a rehash of things Premier McBride announced had been secured months ago. "It does not matter," explained he, "to the people of British Columbia whether rights are given by the Dominion or Provincial authorities, but it matters a great deal to the McBride and Bowser party whether or not they can have their friends at Ottawa increase their privileges for patronage."

Must Appeal to People

"If must appeal to the people by this time," said Mr. Smith, proceeding, "that the provincial resources have been distributed so largely among so many friends of the present government, that the supply must be getting a little scarce, and to have a supplemental supply of commissions and other Dominion and Imperial privileges will be very gratifying to Tory followers."

In referring to the appointment of a commission to investigate Indian affairs, Mr. Smith flatly stated that the only possible reason for such a commission was to provide positions for political friends. This or the fact that the investigations recently carried on by the commissioner had been unsatisfactory.

"There are a few things which Mr. Bowser might well have been expected to get from Ottawa," concluded Mr. Smith. "One of these is a system for the strict regulation of Oriental immigration into British Columbia. Twice the Conservative government of this province has been elected by the cry 'A White B.C.' Mr. Bowser has repeatedly passed a Natal Act to prohibit the entrance of Orientals, putting the same before the Liberal Federal Government.

"People must take notice that since the act was passed at the last session, no attempt has been sentatives at Ottawa to change the position of the Oriental question in British Columbia. Mr. Bowser might have told us what special privilege he had received from the Dominion authorities in this regard."—Vancouver Sun.

Mr. Thomas Dunn, one of the best known and earliest of the men to take up his residence in Prince Rupert, left yesterday morning on the G. T. P. boat, en route to San Diego, Southern California, where he intends to reside with his family in the future. Mr. Dunn, who is a prominent British Columbian, having been identified with the City of Vancouver from the days of the early eighties, has been very successful in his business and investments since settling in this city. His eldest daughter, Miss Dunn, accompanied him south, the rest of the family not leaving for a few weeks' time. Many regrets are expressed by the numerous friends of the family at the decision to permanently give up their residence here.

NEWS NOTES OF THE GREAT WEST

In Winnipeg bank clearings for the week amounted to $14,718, compared with $36,067,000 during the same week last year, being an increase of 24 per cent. direct by farmers since September 18th.

Henry Stege has left New Denver for the moist climate of Vancouver. He kept an hotel for nearly twenty years in New Denver, and his removal from the Lucerne is like losing part of the scenery of that beauty spot.

George Clark, who recently was injured by an explosion in the Payne mine, will soon be out of the hospital in Vancouver, and has saved one eye.

Joe Wilmshurst, Provincial road superintendent, now has his headquarters at Courtenay. He was formerly connected with the road service in Greenwood.

There is some talk of building a $5,000 agricultural hall at Duncan. This town is called after W. C. Duncan, who came from Sarnia, Ontario, to B. C. in 1861.

In Hope last week a trapper sold the skins of two mink, six lynx and one brown bear for $45. This is a low price, but the fur may not have been of first quality.

George L. Charleton has opened a general store at Mud River. It is near Slim Miller's ranch, and will be a great convenience to settlers in the Fraser Lake country.

The C. P. R. is now double tracking its road between Ruby Creek and Vancouver. Next March work for the same purpose will begin between Ruby Creek and Spence's Bridge.

STEAM SHOVELS WILL MOVE OVER THE SNOW

Great Shovels Are Awaiting Fall of Snow to Be Taken to Burns Lake for Work.

On Sunday last the first steam shovel of three arrived in town and has since been dismantled and loaded on sleighs ready for shipment to Burns Lake as soon as the snow comes. This shovel came from camp 24 and was brought to town under her own steam. Dick Johnston, superintendent at Stewart Bros.' camp, Burns Lake, is in charge of the work. The other two shovels will arrive any time now and will be ready for shipment when the snow comes.

The Burns Lake work is one of the big pieces on the western end of the G. T. P. Stewart Bros. and Rankin are the contractors, and to accomplish their task they will use three shovels, six dinkey engines, one hundred cars and between three and four hundred men. The engines and cars are now at Sealey and along the line ready for shipment, and Johnston will have at least a hundred head of horses on the road when he once gets started. To complete the work will take at least two years and during that time an immense amount of supplies will be sent out from New Hazelton to keep the camps going. There are between 600,000 and 700,000 yards of material to move and the rock is some of the hardest yet encountered. At the present time they are drifting for a big shot, which will be put off about the first of the month. This one shot will use 35 tons of powder. The completion of the Burns Lake work will very nearly mark the completion of the western division of the road and the eastern division will not be many months behind. It is hardly expected, however, that the road will be connected up in less than two and a half years.—Omineca Herald.

Messrs. N. McIvor, Berkshire; P. Byng Hall and A. Harvey, the four prominent Victoria business men representing large British financial interests, who have been visiting the district for some little time past, returned to Victoria yesterday morning on the Prince Rupert. They returned the evening before on the train from the interior, where they have been negotiating a big land deal.

TELKWA WANTS STATION AND THINK WILL GET IT

Organized Efforts Being Made to Induce G. T. P. to Build Station at That Place.

The Telkwa people are organizing for the purpose of a united action to get a station at that town as soon as the railway reaches that point in the spring. Telkwa is the oldest place in the northern interior to Hazelton and for many years people have made that their headquarters; the Provincial government has spent many thousands of dollars on roads, trails and bridges leading from all points to Telkwa. At the present time all roads go there and the mining properties in the district make that their headquarters. The town is growing rapidly and is quite a size. It is exceptionally well situated and the people there do not wish to move. They have a strong case and there is no doubt but that they will get a station.—Omineca Herald.

WEE JULIA FEHR IS A BIG SUCCESS IN PLAY

As Little "Mother" Tiny Girl is Excellent in Title Role at Westholme

"The Little Mother" was presented by the Griffith Stock Co. last night featuring in the title role little Miss Julia Fehr. To say that she is good is to put it too mildly. She is perfectly charming on the stage, and carries her difficult part through with a grace and ease of a finished adult actor. The piece is a strong drama replete with heart breaking scenes, and at the same time carrying a vein of humor. It is a play that requires the most finished acting and hard work, and it needs only to be said that the Griffith Stock Company produced it as they did the other bills during the week, making it an entire success. It will be repeated tonight.

ACCUSED OF STEALING A VALUABLE DIAMOND

Ned Williams Sent up for Trial After Telling Remarkable Story

With a story of accidentally finding a valuable diamond ring valued at between $150 and $200 and leaving it with the bartender at the Knox Hotel as security for a temporary loan of a $2 bill, Ned Williams found himself in the police court this morning upon a charge of theft.

The prisoner, together with one or two companions, had been drinking. They were all stopping at the Victoria Hotel.

Al. Goodwin, a miner, together with his chum, on last Wednesday night occupied a room together. As was his custom before retiring he placed a gun together with a wallet containing $7.00 under his pillow. Upon awakening in the morning he found the gun and the empty wallet under the bed, and a ring which had been upon his finger gone.

The story was soon around and reached the ears of the night bartender of the Knox Hotel. Between 6 and 7 o'clock that morning the accused had handed a ring to the bartender in question asking for the loan of two dollars, and obtained that sum. Accused was shortly afterwards arrested. His story was that between 6 and 7 o'clock that morning on going in his stocking feet to the basement, trod upon a hard object. He looked down and saw nothing on the ground. Further investigation discovered, under the carpet, the ring in question. He apparently considered himself in luck, and resolved to negotiate his find for coin of the realm, which would purchase liquid refreshment.

Magistrate McMullin committed the prisoner for trial.
