SHOCKING TRAGEDY AT MONTREAL BROTHER OF MURDERED WOMAN HELD

Wife Found Murdered in Bed---Husband Badly Battered and Died During Day---Police Believe Brother of Woman Guilty

(Special to The Daily News.)
Montreal, Feb. 24.—Early yesterday morning in the home of Francois Vatour, directly across the street from the Grand Trunk street police station, Mrs. Vatour, 32 years of age, was found murdered in her bed and her husband, who died today in Notre Dame hospital, was found walking around the house with a gash in the side of his face, his jaw broken and his teeth knocked out. There was blood all over the house. The bed on which the body of the woman lay was saturated with blood while there was a large quantity of blood on the pillows in the bedroom when the six children occupied, ranging in age from three to nine years. Captain Coleman of the Grand Trunk street police sta-

DEPOSED PRESIDENT OF MEXICO AND VICE-PRESIDENT ARE SHOT

The Shooting Occurred While They Were Under Escort of Guard From National Palace to the Penitentiary

(Special to The Daily News.)
Mexico City, Feb. 24.—Francisco Madero and Jose Pino Burez are dead. In a midnight ride under guard from the National Palace to the penitentiary they were killed early on Sunday morning. The circumstances surrounding the death of the deposed president and vice president of the republic are unknown except as given in an official account which does not conform in all cases. The only witnesses were those actually concerned in the killing. Provisional President General Victoriano Huerta says the killing of the two men was incidental to a fight between the guard and a party attempting to liberate them. The minister of foreign relations, Frances de la Barra, adds that the prisoners attempted to escape. Neither makes a definite statement as to which side fired the fatal shots. It is possible that neither knows. An official investigation has been ordered and solemn promises have been made that the guilty will be punished.

Servians and Bulgarians Plan to Storm Forts at the Entrance to the Dardanelles---Hospitals are Filled With Wounded

(Special to The Daily News.)
Constantinople, Feb. 23.—A Bulgarian aeroplane piloted by a Russian aviator flew over Adrianople today. It was hit by a Turkish shell but the fate of the aviator is unknown.

London, Feb. 23.—According to a report received by the Turkish embassy here six thousand Montenegrins and four thousand Servians perished in the recent fighting at Scutari.

Constantinople, Feb. 23.—A wireless telegram received at Contza declares that Gallipoli has fallen, but no confirmation is available here. I am reliably informed that two Turkish transports, heavily laden with reinforcements, have been sunk by Bulgarian mines off Rodosto.

The Turks lost 5,000 killed and wounded in the recent battle near Bulair. The Turks were surprised and unprepared, the majority having only one cartridge apiece.

Greek transports, protected by the Greek fleet, have landed Servians and Bulgarians at Aegra- val, the southern end of the Gallipoli peninsula and have also landed troops on the Asiatic shore near the plains of ancient Troy, for the purpose of storming the forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles. Constantinople is quiet, the censor suppressing all news. The hospitals are filled with wounded.

An official Turkish statement claims that hundreds of Bulgarian prisoners have arrived at Constantinople, but the actual count of names on the list furnished to the Russian embassy, which acts for Bulgaria, shows only four.

SERVANT GIRL QUESTION CAUSES A RUMPUS

MRS. PATMORE MAKES A COMPLETE STATEMENT IN CONNECTION WITH HER ACTION AGAINST SERVANT WHO LEFT WITHOUT GIVING DUE NOTICE

To the Editor of the Daily News:
Dear Sir,—I understand that a public subscription list with my name in large lettering as its heading has been taken around by Mr. John Kirkpatrick and Dr. V. Barratt Clayton, seeking aid for a judgment obtained by me against a former servant of mine, Mary Ansen, who quit my service and left me short handed without notice. One would have thought that these zealous gentlemen would have taken the trouble to hear my side of the story before attempting to bring my name into public contempt, but not so, and as they see fit to make public one side of the story I think it is only fair to myself to ask that the facts of the case be made known to those who have been approached.

I hired this girl because her friend, who speaks English, was working with me, and this friend explained to Mary Ansen at my request that she must give me a month's notice in case she wished to leave and similarly that I must give her a month's notice to discharge. To prove that she understood this (which she now denies), I have only to say that these two servants some four months ago came to me and gave me a month's notice of their intention to leave because I had asked them to do what they considered an uncongenial task, and later when I had the opportunity to obtain other help they asked to be allowed to remain, and I consented. Mary Ansen, however, proved to be a poor help

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS GIVEN BOY SCOUTS

Alderman Bullock-Webster and J. W. Chappelle Addressed Boy Scouts on Saturday Evening— Dr. Cade Will Address Next Meeting.

The first meeting of the freshly organized body of Boy Scouts for the purpose of discussion and instruction was held at the Presbyterian Hall on Saturday evening last. There was a full attendance of the boys so far enrolled. Alderman Bullock-Webster, who was present, addressed a few words of advice and encouragement to the youngsters.

Mr. J. W. Chapple, an ardent enthusiast in the Boy Scout movement, delivered a short and pithy address telling the lads incidents of his own experience in bush and frontier life. He also gave them practical illustrations of the many thousand and one things necessary to know, whilst travelling in the bush, together with strong words of warning and advice as to the unwritten law that exists amongst frontiersmen. Mr. Chapple concluded by impressing upon his youthful hearers the importance of always living up to the great traditions of imperialism that had been handed down to them for generations as a heritage to be treasured and revered as Britishers all the days of their lives.

Scout Master C. V. Eviitt with his assistant, Mr. W. J. Ken- naugh, who were on hand to marshal their youthful forces, gave the boys some instruction as to future duties.

On Empire Day, May 24th, the boys will have charge of the bonfires that will be lighted on several prominent peaks in the vicinity, that will in common with other parts of the Empire encircle the globe on that auspicious day. The fires that are to be lighted on Queen Charlotte Islands will have the distinction of marking the most westerly point of the British Empire.

FUTURE WORLD LEADERS WILL COME FROM CHINA

THE DESTINY OF CHINA WAS THE SUBJECT OF REV. F. W. KERR'S ADDRESS LAST NIGHT—CHINA A POWER TO RECKON WITH.

Last evening at the Empress Theatre the Rev. F. W. Kerr, Presbyterian minister of this city, preached an eloquent and instructive sermon on the subject of the destiny of China in the future of the world, as things were shaping at the present time. First and foremost it was necessary he said for us to acquire a missionary education. The famous British soldier, Lord Wolseley, had said upon his return from China some years ago that the future leaders of the world would come from that strange and remarkable land.

Within the last few months there had taken place in China the most sudden and tremendous revolution that the world had ever seen. During this incredibly short space of time an age long dynasty had been overthrown and a great and wonderful republic set up in its place. Pointing out the motive power at the bottom of this great upheaval he mentioned two men whom he characterized as the quintessence of the modern Chinese Christian gentleman. These were the first president to hold their reigns of power in China, the youthful reformer Mr. Shi Ki, and Dr. Sun Yat Sen, a man of maturer years who exiled from his country directed the operations that bore such wonderful fruit from the U. S. of America. During the few short months that the young president Shi Ki had been at the head of affairs, he had reorganized the army, introduced sanitary methods of the latest and most modern kind and put the important school question into the hands of the most able and competent men to be found, who were busily engaged upon inaugurating a system that would compare favorably with that to be found in any country in Europe or America.

What was the great underlying thought that was expressed in all this wonderful change, brought about by Christian leaders and carried on by men, 90 per cent. of whom were converts to that glorious faith? Dr. Sun Yat Sen who was responsible for bringing about the revolution had been a Christian proselyte for a number of years. The Chinese Christian, the preacher, declared was the finest type of man extant. It took longer possibly to make converts out of the Chinese than any other infidel nation, but when once they had received the light, there were no stauncher or more steadfast adherents of the faith ready to lay down their lives if necessary for the new creed they had subscribed to. This had been proved in many instances in the last few years, during which men had suffered great martyrdom for the

DEBATE.

Ever since the government at Ottawa announced that it had no further arguments to submit on the naval question, that the speech of Hon. Mr. Foster was the final declaration of the Conservative party on the subject, there has been an endeavor to persuade the public that "the fight" has gone out of the Liberals. We find this old, absurd assertion repeated in yesterday morning's despatch containing the political intelligence of the capital.
That, however, is not a very reasonable way to endeavor to persuade the country that the opposition, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier at its head, is prepared to let this matter peter out.

The naval question contains a real and vital principle in it for which the Liberals are contending and for which they will fight absolutely to the end. It is possible that Mr. Borden, with his forty odd majority in the House, may be able to overcome all opposition. That is one of the adventurals that must be looked for. But the enforcement by Parliament of Mr. Borden's proposal will never be consented to, and cannot be consented to, by the Liberals. The debate on the matter has made it clear that there is absolutely nothing which can justify the contribution which constitutes Mr. Borden's programme. If there were anything to justify it, if there were any emergency, any necessity for present assistance being given, then it would be a different matter. In those circumstances the Liberals would be as eager as the government could possibly be to offer this aid to the mother country; they would be eager to offer more than is contained in the government's proposal.

But there is no need of it; and the principle which the Liberals are contending for, the principle which has been recognized in every speech made by every member of the opposition from Sir Wilfrid down is that we shall construct our own navy, construct it and equip it and man it ourselves as a Canadian navy, which in time of need would be placed at the service of the mother country.

That is the whole issue of the fight in Parliament on this question, and it will be the issue, if it ever comes to a fight, in the country. It is absurd then, for the government to attempt to produce the impression through its newspapers that the Liberal opposition had the slightest intention of abating in any degree the strength of its hostility to Mr. Borden's programme.
Should the government, by means, which we all realize are at its disposal, succeed in crushing Liberal opposition to the Borden programme, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his supporters will have to submit.
But it will only be as a result of that crushing process that they will submit. The Conservative newspapers may be quite assured that the Liberals will not forego their allegiance to the principle which their leader and his colleagues in Parliament have convinced the country is guiding them in this matter. The assurance may equally be felt that there is not the slightest possibility of "the fight" being taken out of them, either now or at any time in the future.—Vancouver Sun.

Lester Patrick Will Not Stand for Six-Men Hockey

Victoria, Feb. 22.—It would be hard for Lester Patrick to take any other view of the six-men hockey when one considers to what extent the Victoria hockey enthusiasts are made up in their team. That championship looks mighty good to the Capital city folks and Lester is not going to displease his patrons in any way whatever, and take a chance at finishing out the season with the six-men game. And the Victoria boss is just about right.

Playing seven men hockey the Aristocrats have undoubtedly shown their superiority over the other clubs, and six-men hockey might possibly prove the undoing of the league leaders and spoil the now brilliant outlook of the jaunt back east in search of the Stanley cup.

SCOTT'S BROTHER A SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

Portland, Ore., Feb. 22.—Bruce Scott, soldier of fortune of the family of Captain Robert Falcon Scott—the latter's roaming expatriate younger brother—was found yesterday. Bruce is in the foothills of the Cascades, nine miles from White Salmon, Klickitat County, Washington.

"Bob knew no fear," Bruce said. "It's always was adventurous. He was true to his country and his ideals and England can do no better than give him highest honors."

Bruce, who enlisted with the Boers, has fought in seven lands.
He is 36 years of age.

"Robert's death must have been a terrible shock to mother," Bruce continued. "She took great pride in Bob and loved him deeply. The last time I saw Bob was seventeen years ago, when I visited home for a short while."

ACTING MAYOR IS CHOSEN AT LAST

Council Deadlock is Relieved by the Member Who Headed the Polls Being Selected for Honorary Office.

Victoria, Feb. 22.—At last Victoria is the proud possessor of an acting mayor. While the problem of who shall be mayor remains yet to be settled, the dignity of the city has, to a limited extent, at least, been preserved.

With the acceptance last night by the Council of City Solicitor Robertson's opinion that the Council has the right to appoint an acting mayor, and the acquiescence therein of the members by the unanimous selection of Alderman Porter, the Gordian knot, the unravelling of which has split the Council into two factions, was put. Both Alderman Guthbert and Alderman Gleason approved of the choice.
At least the former gave expression to his approval, while Alderman Gleason, while making no remarks, did not vote against the motion appointing Alderman Porter. But it looked at one time as if there would be a resumption of the battle on the point of who is senior member of the Council.

DUKE OF SOMERSET

London, Feb. 22.—The Duke of Somerset, who has accepted the presidency of the Olympic Games Association, which office has been held until recently by Lord Desborough, has thrown himself enthusiastically into the work of the organization. There are few men in England who in appearance become the part as a leader of the greatest sports organization in the world better than the Duke of Somerset. He was nicknamed Anack in the Red River expedition for exceptional strength, carrying heavier packs than any else, and though not strictly an athlete, like Desborough, he always was a great exponent of field sports of every description.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Last evening the Skeena Lodge of the Knights of Pythias held their anniversary service at the Baptist Church. About seventy-five members of the order, which is one of the strongest in the city, marched in parade form from their lodge room in the Heigerson Block to the McIntyre Hall where the service was held. Special music was provided, solos being rendered by Messrs. Davie and Clapperton, Mrs. Rolf Walker presided at the organ. The Rev. W. H. McLeod, the minister of the church preached an eloquent and appropriate sermon for the occasion taking his text from Matthew V Chapter and 41st verse, "And whosoever shall compel thee to go one mile, go with him twain." Remarking that this text was practically a synopsis of the sermon on the Mount, the preacher brought forth most ably the duty of the Christian man toward his fellow. In all the different spheres of our activities, in the ordinary routine of our daily work whether as employer or employee, the great principle involved in this text was brought forth. The man who was only willing to go just as far as he was actually enforced by his obligations, had not the true and broad spirit that was inculcated in the hearts of mankind by our Savior over two thousand years ago. The employee who was only willing to scrape through just enough work to hold his job, as well as the employer who as long as he paid the wages demanded by his help took no further interest in their welfare, or well being, would never reach any great heights either spiritual or material.

Coming round to the occasion of his sermon the anniversary of the forming of the Skeena Lodge of the Knights of Pythias Mr. McLeod pointed out the duties of all true Christians as applied to fraternal brotherhood. It was not only necessary to comply with the requests demanded by their organization when their brothers or sisters were in trouble or distress. The spirit of his text would take them further back than that, and they would go the second mile with a feeling of joy and delight at the privilege the opportunity afforded. There was a large congregation present beside the members of the Order of the Knights of Pythias.

Christian faith. The present day educated Chinese Christian expressed the feeling of his countrymen, when he said that it was the mission of the Chinese to go forth as missionaries and Christianize the world today, for was not our Lord Himself an oriental. The reverend gentleman dwelt on the absurd conceit and fallacy that in many cases filled the minds of the peoples of the west that they were superior in education and intelligence as well as their historical past, to the oriental. Today China with its four hundred million of industrious workers was a force power that we would do well to reckon with. We had been the source or main-spring as it were of this great awakening and must be prepared to meet the new conditions in the world that it was bound to bring about. The Christianizing of China was today one of the most wonderful movements that the world had ever seen. It appeared as if they had just become aware of the great white light that beckoned them, and that God was transforming China for some great purpose of his own. The preacher concluded by bearing tribute to the many noble men in the past of the different denominations of the Christian church who had devoted their lives to the work of carrying the gospel amongst the millions of their fellow men groping in the darkness in the countries of the far east.

JOLLY SKATING PARTY

Roller skating which is having a tremendous vogue at the present moment is drawing crowds to the skating rink on Sixth avenue daily. Many pleasant little social functions have taken place lately in the nature of roller skating parties. On Saturday afternoon last, a number of the young people of the city held a most enjoyable gathering got up largely through the energies of Mr. D. L. Pogson. After enjoying themselves on the rink for a couple of hours an adjournment was made to the home of the Misses Jenns where light refreshments were served, and several of the young people entertained for a short while with singing and music. Everyone voted the affair a huge success and went home loudly praising the event and hoping that there would be many more of them in the not very distant future. Amongst those present were the Misses K. Jenns, M. Jenns, B. Jenns, J. Jenns, B. Curtin, A. Clifton, E. Enock, L. Fisher, A. Du Vernet, J. Mercer, Rietchel, Grant, L. Holby, Messrs. Baird, A. ELOQUENT SERMON ON POLAR TRAGEDY

Bishop Du Vernet Dealt with the Lessons to Be Learned from Capt. Scott's Heroic Death.

Last evening at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church the Rt. Rev. Bishop Du Vernet preached to a crowded congregation a most eloquent and inspiring sermon taking for his subject the story of the terrible tragedy of the late Antarctic expedition that ended so disastrously with the death through starvation and exposure of Captain Robert Scott and his little band of heroic followers. After dwelling on the lessons that were to be learnt, from the self denying and noble actions of men of this stamp, who willingly gave up their lives in the service of their fellowman in the pursuit of scientific research, His Reverence concluded by impressing upon his hearers the duty of never forgetting the grand message left for his countrymen by Captain Scott just before he died. "That Englishmen today could face hardship carrying in its trail death if necessary, with all the fortitude and endurance of their ancestors of old down the long line of the generations that have passed."
