MUTINY OF SWISS GUARDS AT VATICAN--TO PREVENT IMPORTATION OF ARMS BY MEXICO

GOING AT SAME OLD GAIT

UNITED STATES NOW CONSIDERING REPEAL OF NEUTRALITY LAWS AND A PROCLAMATION PROHIBITING THE IMPORTATION OF ARMS.

(Special to The Daily News)
Hermosillo, July 24.—The Constitutionalists of Sinaloa yesterday defeated a federal column at Hermosillo. The federal loss was thirty killed and a large number wounded. The battle took place on the line of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, twenty miles from San Blas.

Washington, July 24.—The repeal of the neutrality laws and the proclamation prohibiting the exportation of arms to Mexico is being considered by the administration here as the next step in the Mexican situation. A conference between Henry Lane Wilson, the ambassador to Mexico, who is now here, and the congressional leaders has been planned for today.

The discussion will include this proposal, to which many of the leaders have already given approval.

It is understood that the belief of the administration officials is that should the free exportation of arms be permitted to all factions in Mexico the present situation might adjust itself. The congressionalists claim that the lack of arms is the only bar to quick victory.

The repeal suggested is proposed on the ground that there is no recognized government in Mexico. When the prohibition was enacted a regularly constituted government, recognized by the United States, was in existence.

The administration will make no move in the Mexican situation and will reserve announcement of its future policy toward the Huerta government until after President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have had an opportunity to confer with Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson.

"BABY MINE" RAISED MANY HEARTY LAUGHS

Griffith Company at Westholme Continues to Entertain its Audiences

"Baby Mine," the comedy presented by the Griffith Company at the Westholme theatre yesterday evening kept the audience in a state of continual merriment. It centres around the squabble arising between the uxorious but jealous Alonzo Hunt and his wife Lois, who is a veritable lady of lies. Lois has disappointed Alonzo in so many things that he finally resolves to leave her. When she finds herself abandoned she is willing to use any means to win him back. She therefore eagerly accepts the suggestion of her friend Maggie to adopt a baby and pretending that it is her own, use it as a decoy to draw her husband back to his home. Out of the complications that follow the fun begins.

There was a special feature last night which it is to be feared will not be repeated tonight. The light went out in the middle of the second act leaving the audience for some minutes in complete darkness, save for the illumination caused by match strikers. The Westholme Theatre was not the only place deprived of light, however, as in all that section of the city the same thing is reported to have happened.

"Baby Mine" will be played again tonight. Tomorrow night the play will be "The Confessions of a Wife."

MULTIMILLIONAIRE TEA KING IS VISITING PRINCE RUPERT

THE FAMOUS YACHTSMAN, SIR THOMAS LIPTON, THE BOSOM FRIEND OF KING EDWARD, IS HERE AS GUEST OF THE GOVERNMENT.

Prince Rupert has had many prominent visitors of late, but none of greater importance than the famous yachtsman and bosom friend of the late King Edward, Sir Thomas Lipton. The business men of this city, the real estate brokers, the members of the Board of Trade, will be surprised to hear that Sir Thomas arrived in this city yesterday by the Prince George and has been here for almost thirty-six hours without his presence being known to them. Yet so it is.

Great men often like to escape the attention which their notoriety attracts and prefer to have occasional trips in quiet. Doubtless it was this way with Sir Thomas. Perhaps, on the other hand, he wanted to look over Prince Rupert's possibilities by himself that he might have a few calm moments to consider where he might best invest his money before listening to the siren voices of the real estate men.

Just to think, though, of the millionaire tea king being in town unspotted by real estate men! Of course they will all rush to him now that they have learned that he is here.

Where is he staying? At the Inn? No, not there. Where, then, at the Premier, the Royal, at which of the hotels, or is he staying with some friends here? Why, no. As the King's friend, it is only fitting that Sir Thomas should be lodged at the King's expense. He is in the police cells.

To explain how Sir Thomas comes to be lodged in the police cells it will be best to narrate from the beginning the story of his coming to Prince Rupert.

When the Prince George was preparing to leave Vancouver on Monday night, Steward Newey was examining the tickets of the passengers as they came aboard. One gentleman came who showed no ticket. When questioned by Mr. Newey he replied: "It's all right, my dear fellow. I'm a stockholder."

He was a man of very respectable appearance, but Mr. Newey looked at him doubtfully. "A stockholder?" queried the steward. "Who, may I ask?"

"Tsh, tsh," said the unknown gentleman with a lordly air. "It's quite all right, believe me, but," he added, "if you want to know my name, why, I am Sir Thomas Lipton."

While the steward was pausing to take another look at Sir Thomas, that gentleman walked aboard, and, as the steward was busy with other passengers, he was not asked again for his ticket until the next day. Then when he saw Mr. Newey approaching he walked toward him with outstretched hand, saying, "Why steward, good day. How are you?"

"That's all very well, sir," replied Mr. Newey, "but I should like to see your ticket."

"Oh, that's all right, sir," said

THOUSANDS OF JAPANESE FLOCK TO BRAZIL RICE PLANTATIONS

THEY ARE NOT WELCOMED TO THE UNITED STATES THE JAPANESE FIND OTHER OUTLETS FOR THEIR EMIGRATION

Osaka, July 24.—Although the emigration of Japanese to the United States has been practically stopped by what is known as the "gentlemen's agreement," the exodus of emigrants to South America is increasing. One of the principal causes of this is the establishment of the Brazilian Colonization Company by Baron Shibusawa and other prominent Japanese for the leasing of lands in Brazil. An agreement with the Brazilian government provides for the settlement of 2000 Japanese families in Brazil for the next four years, and a start has been made in sending these people across the Pacific. It is likely that rice cultivation will be the chief occupation.

The majority of the Japanese emigrants are in Hawaii and the United States, with South America and Canada next. There are 600 Japanese workers in the rubber plantations in Malay peninsula. Already there are 8,000 Japanese laborers in Brazil engaged in the cultivation of coffee, about 4000 in Peru in the cultivation of potatoes, 1000 in Mexico in mining and 2000 in Australia. Official figures place the number of Japanese in the Philippine Islands at 3000, chiefly engaged in the production of flax and potatoes, while there are 500 employed in phosphorous mining in the Island of Guam, which belongs to the United States.

ANOTHER BIG SCORE

Members of Parliament Faced a Toy Pistol.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, July 24.—There was another brief scare in the house of commons last night when a blank cartridge was exploded in the strangers' gallery. The home secretary was at the moment replying to questions as to the arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst when the shot was fired. The culprit, who gave his name as Washington, was ejected. The pistol that had caused such terror proved to be but a toy affair.

SPORT SOCIETY IS DOWN ON RAG DANCES

"Bunny Hug" is Considered Bad Old Time "Straight" Dancing Returns

Princeton, July 24.—From a variety of causes the so-called "rag" dances are quietly falling into disrepute among the smart set. They are being gradually abandoned in favor of the old time "straight" dancing. At the dances given here this season there has been a marked change among the young market, as well as those unmarried to dance in a more decorous fashion than during the past season.

There have been no requests made by any of the hostesses to their guests asking them not to dance these dances but society has quietly considered the matter and the fiat will go forth shortly, it is said, that the one-time popular "bunny hug" type of dance in "bad form."

THE UNDERWOOD BILL AND RECIPROcity

Some Conservative journals during the past few weeks have been misrepresenting the tariff situation as between Canada and the United States, with a view to pulling the wool over the Canadian farmers' eyes. It is an interesting feature of the situation that the Congressional statute ratifying the reciprocity agreement of 1911 has never been repealed. It has never been put in force because Canada left the agreement unratified, and so long as that statutory offer to Canada remains unrevoked just so long will the Canadian big interests, who deprived the farmers of the advantages it offered and still offers, feel uneasy in their contemplation of the tariff controversy now going on in Congress.

A very brief consideration of the provisions of the reciprocity agreement as compared with those of the Underwood draft tariff bill will suffice to show that for the Canadian farmer the former is much more advantageous. Under it all the grains were to be admitted free into the United States; under the pending Underwood schedules wheat is still to be taxed ten cents a bushel, barley fifteen cents, oats and rye ten cents, beans twenty-five cents, onions twenty cents, peas fifteen cents, live poultry a cent a pound, dead poultry two cents a pound, eggs two cents a dozen, berries a half cent a quart, cranberries ten per cent, ad valorem, cattle and sheep ten per cent. These proposed duties are much lower than the Customs duties at present collected, but they are quite high enough to make a difference to Canadian farmers and American consumers of many millions of dollars a year.

These duties will unquestionably put Canadian farmers all over the Dominion at a disadvantage as compared with the reciprocity agreement. They have collectively lost many millions of dollars by the failure to ratify that agreement two years ago; under the proposed duties in the Underwood schedules they will continue to lose heavily and needlessly year by year indefinitely.—Toronto Globe.

FAVORABLE CROP PROSPECTS STIMULATE WESTERN TRADE

DESPATCHES FROM THE LEADING TRADE CENTRES IN CANADA SHOW GENERAL CONDITIONS STILL QUIET BUT WEST IS IMPROVING.

New York, July 24.—Despatches to Dun's Review from branches in the leading trade centres of the Dominion of Canada note somewhat quiet conditions with merchants generally awaiting crop forecasts before entering into extensive future commitments.

Wholesale trade at Montreal is not very active and retail business is quiet as usual at this season. There is a fair movement of groceries, especially of sugar, but there is only a moderate placing of orders for dry goods. The iron market is dull but there is a good call for hardware. Receipts of hides are fair and some increase is noted in the inquiry for leather, with both commodities firmly held.

At Quebec general trade is well maintained and local manufacturers are fairly busy.

Toronto reports a slow movement of merchandise, as usual at this season, although there is good trade in groceries and hides. Leather and wool displayed strength. Merchants have orders for Fall and Winter goods, but the delivery of these will depend upon crop results. Prospects, however, in this respect are favorable and there is much confidence in the future.

At Hamilton provisions still show the usual dullness of the season.

In the far west and northwest there seems to be a slight improvement, the generally favorable crop prospects having had a stimulating effect on business. Winnipeg reports that retail stocks of merchandise have been well reduced, but merchants are not yet disposed to buy much more beyond their immediate requirements. Crop prospects are excellent and labor is well employed.

Most lines of trade at Saskatoon are quiet on account of the inclement weather, which has put the roads in bad shape for traffic but there is general confidence in the situation and a large fall business is looked for.

Edmonton reports that trade conditions both in the city and country show no improvement but that the splendid crop prospects have a stimulating effect on sentiment.

At Vancouver a better sorting trade is reported, but merchants continue to operate conservatively in Fall requirements.

Gross earnings of all Canadian railroads reporting to date for the first week of July show a gain of 6.2 per cent as compared with the earnings of the same roads for the corresponding period a year ago.

Commercial failures in the Dominion this week numbered 36 against 24 last week and 37 the same week last year.

CHICKEN AND MELON ENDS HUNGER STRIKE

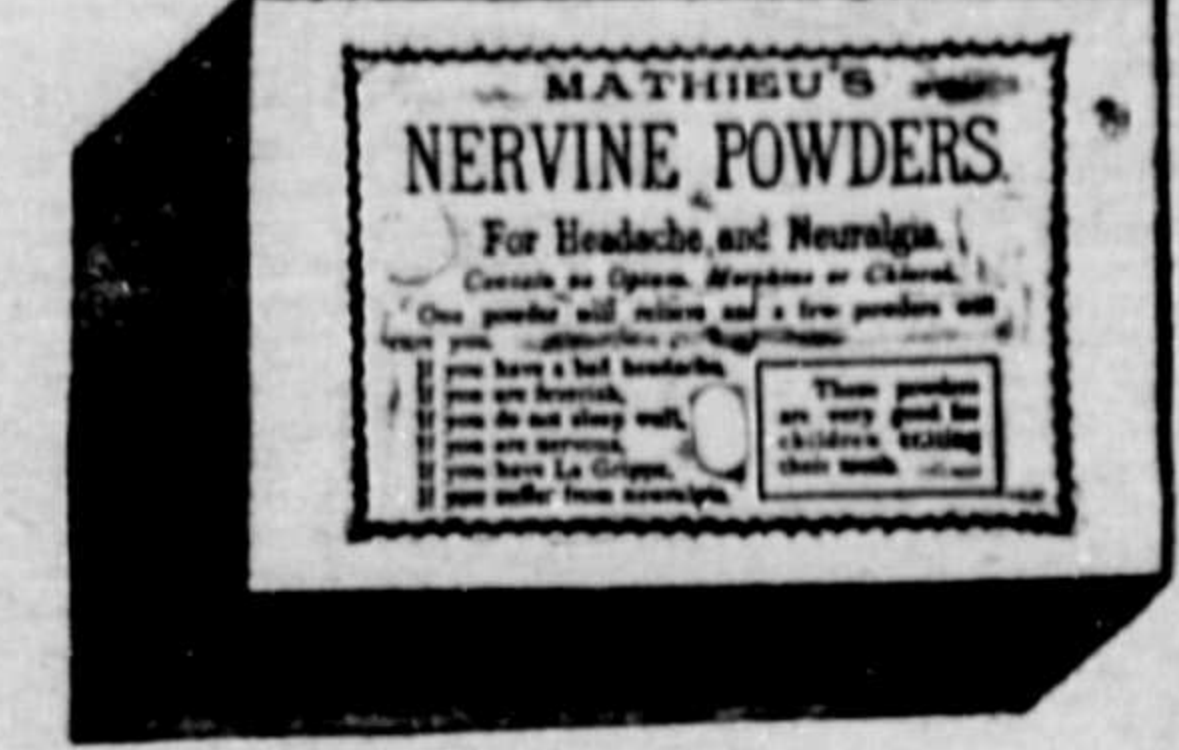

Possibly British Suffragettes Are Not So Adroitly Tempted to Break Their Fast.

Elizabeth, N. J., July 24.—The manner in which Warden Charles W. Dodd, of the county jail broke a hunger strike yesterday may set a useful example, he thinks, to the keepers of English prisons who become custodians of suffragettes. William Turner, a negro prisoner, sought to gain his liberty by refusing to eat.

Yesterday morning the man had been forty-eight hours without food when Warden Dodd appeared at the door of his cell with a steaming plate of fried chicken and a large section of a juicy watermelon. One sniff and Turner's hunger strike ended.

VACATION WITH UNCLE STEVE

“LES ROIS EN EXILE” NOW TO BE MET IN PARISIAN SOCIETY

HAVE BIG PENSIONS, WEAR GOOD CLOTHES AND HAVE NO WORRIES—FORMER QUEEN OF MADAGASCAR GETS TWENTY THOUSAND A YEAR.

The usual image that is brought to mind by the word "king" is a wondrous creature, clad in a robe and wearing a crown of jewels. Sometimes kings are pictured astride magnificent horses and clad in picturesque uniforms. Yet there are today many kings, living without luxury, sans crown, sans throne, sans subjects. Many of these kings are living in Paris. Subjugating the savage tribes in their African and Asiatic possessions has kept France busy for many years. During these subjugations it was sometimes found that France had on her hands a few kings left by the fortunes of war. These kings, once supreme rulers of their kingdoms, had to be put on pensions, so that they would be out of mischief.

Behazin, King of Dahomy, was one of the first deposed kings with whom France had to deal. He was deprived of his throne over twenty years ago. His son is now in Paris, a king without power. He is living on a pension from France. The nephew and successor of King Behazin, Prince King of Dahomey, was dispossessed of the throne in 1900. The thing that pained Prince King most was not the loss of his throne, but the loss of a huge diamond ring. This ring had been a gift from France, the very government which later confiscated it. The former King of Annam, the Prince Ham Nghi, is now living peacefully in Algiers. He has no crown or throne, but is satisfied without either. Prince Ham Nghi is on a pension of $1,600 a year. He was at one time the monarch along the east coast of Indo-China, which has been under a French protectorate since 1885. For a king, the King of Annam's history is not at all eventful. He was taken prisoner by the French in 1887 and was sent to Algiers after his capture.

There is another Indo-China Prince who is a pensioner of France. This is Prince Than Tyai. He receives an annual pension of $6,000 and lives quietly at Saint Jacques. A queen without a throne is another picturesque figure in the list of uncrowned royalty. Her name is Ranavola, and she was once the Queen of Madagascar. She is one of the most interesting of the royal pensioners of France. After the abolition of royalty in the island, Queen Ranavola was taken to France and after to Algiers. At first Queen Ranavola drew a pension of only $5,000 each year. Now France gives her $20,000 annually and $400 a year for the education of her grand-niece, who is now living in Versailles. There are many other lesser royalties without thrones or honors, who are on the pension list of France. One of these is Said Ali. Said Ali was formerly Sultan of La Grand Comore. His pension has been raised to $3,400 a year. The civil list of royal pensioners of France includes Prince Said Bakari, who receives $100 a year; Princess Sittina, who receives 20 cents a day, and two princesses, Adija and Singa, who receive $25.60 a year each. These royal people without thrones are happier now, to all appearances, than when they were the rulers of their people. Well clothed and well fed, with no affairs of state to worry them with no rumors of war or internal troubles to disturb their dreams, they spend their days in peace and idleness, practically unknown and entirely unsuspected without throne or honor, but with a regular pension that France sees they receive with clocklike regularity. In spite of their lack of sceptre and crown, each can probably think of worse things than being a member of royalty—on a pension.

JAPANESE NOW HAVE LOTS OF CANNERIES

After Years of Importing Salmon They are Now Exporting Canned Fish

Ottawa, July 21—That the Japanese, after having for many years practically imported all their canned salmon from Canada and the United States, have recently commenced the industry themselves and are producing at a price that will be a great factor for the Pacific coast to deal with a few years hence, is reported from an interesting item report published in the weekly bulletin of the Trade and Commerce department today. The British Consul at Hakodate has drawn the attention of the British board of trade to the beginning of the industry and it is said that Japanese who have worked in British Columbia canneries have made machines and superintending operations through their experience in Steveston canneries.

When Summer Stops the Swing. Most of us can remember the school lesson in the law of accumulated motion—momentum. If you exert a pound of pressure against a man in a swing, you'll start him moving slowly "to and fro." If you continue to exert a pound of pressure against him every time the swing makes a trip, you'll soon have him going so high that he almost turns the whole circle. If you stop pushing, the momentum will die out and the swing come to rest at "dead centre." Winning trade follows the same natural laws. Advertisements are the force behind the swing of public favor. Each new advertisement increases the momentum. Finally, the accumulated force of these numerous impulses swings indifference to the buying point. If you stop Advertising, you lose momentum. The moral of which is: Don't stop the business swing in Summer. Keep adding the pounds of Advertising pressure.
