THAT NEW DRY DOCK AT GRANBY.

It is remarkable how men may fail to take notice of happenings in their own part of the world and will first learn of them from strangers. It is doubtful if anybody in Prince Rupert had heard of the construction of a new two million dollar dry dock at Granby. Yet the Toronto Globe, in its edition for Saturday, July 26, has an article dealing with the new Granby dry dock and has a picture of it. The enterprising journalist who has made this big "scoop" is a lady who writes under the name of Margaret Bell. It is sufficient to quote one sentence from Miss Bell's article:

"The new dry docks which are being built at Granby, B. C.—that picturesque spot in the copper belt up near the entrance to Alaska—have cost two million dollars." To illustrate the article there is a photograph of this two million dollar dry dock at Granby. It bears a strong family resemblance to its brother at Prince Rupert. Another photograph gives the view of a steamer "plying on the Portland Canal from Seattle to Granby, B. C." This steamer looks remarkably like a Skeena river boat. The third photo illustrating the article is a view of a blast. Old timers say it looks like one of the first big blasts that was fired in Rupert. But Miss Bell found all these things in Granby, B. C. She is to be complimented on her ability.

THE TREATMENT OF CRIMINALS. There was a remarkable discussion on the treatment of criminals at the annual meeting of the British Medical Association at Brighton. Widely differing views were expressed upon the subject by authorities of high standing. Prof. Benjamin Moore of Liverpool said that crime is a good thing because it brings us to understand social problems.

"Perfect laws would show that we were no longer progressive," he said. "Old crimes are disappearing and new crimes will always arise." Dr. Passmore, of the Croydon Lunatic Asylum, urged that when a man first commits a crime somebody should be appointed to see whether he is insane or criminal and he should be treated accordingly. What amounted to a defence of the existing system of treating criminals was put forward by the chaplain inspector of prisons. He said he had been both amazed and amused at articles of sloppy sentimentalism, which he had read, setting forth that imprisonment does not act as a deterrent to crime. He maintained that the attitude of many who are sent to jail is "once bitten, twice shy." A very different stand was taken by the man who was, perhaps, the most interesting speaker at the meeting. This was a man noted as an author, as a philanthropist and as a writer on economic and social topics, a man who, moreover, has a knowledge of prison life from the prison's point of view.

This was Prince Peter Kropotkin, the Russian agitator who, since his escape from the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, has spent most of his time in England. The prince is 71 and has recently recovered from a severe illness. He was introduced to his audience as "an old jailbird" who had spent two years in Russian jails and a further period in French prisons. The prince told the meeting that imprisonment is no deterrent to crime. "Twenty-four hours of bread and water and a plained bed might be a deterrent to people accustomed to good food," he said, "but it is no deterrent to those who sleep under bridges or by the shores of the Thames. Prisons are the universities of crime and we must do something to change our system." Prince Kropotkin's view deserves the attention of all those who are anxious to help in the solution of one of the great social problems of the age.

SEVERED HEAD OF RATTLESNAKE BITES THE HAND OF ITS SLAYER

LESLIE HILL, A RANCHER IN THE MEDICINE HAT COUNTRY, HAS A STRANGE STORY TO TELL CONCERNING HIS ADVENTURE WITH A SNAKE.

Winnipeg, Aug. 1.—Leslie Hill, a rancher living 26 miles north-east of Medicine Hat, says that he was bitten by the head of a snake a few days ago while he was holding the severed head on the end of a short stick examining it. He at once rode to a neighbor's and was brought in by automobile to the hospital. Mr. Hill was out on his land when he saw the snake, which was apparently dead. He knew it at once to be a rattler, and took no chances. After he had struck the snake a hard blow with a stick he was certain the thing was dead and threw it into his buggy to take home. When he reached his shack he proceeded to cut off the head of the snake, having a curiosity to examine a rattlesnake's head. He then held the head up on a short stick to examine it. All this time the snake had shown no sign of life, but in some unexplainable manner the head of the snake, with the last instinct of life, covered the few inches to his hand. At any rate, the next thing he knew the snake's fangs were fixed in his index finger. Realizing that he was bitten, he at once jumped on his horse and rode as fast as possible to Nicholson's ranch, four miles nearer Medicine Hat. He had hardly started on his journey before he began to feel the effects of the poison. There was no time lost at the Nicholson ranch, where he was placed in an auto and driven to the city. On the way it took two men to hand kept down the effect of the poison until the hospital was reached. Although his arm swelled up like a balloon, he is now recovering nicely and is able to be around. CANCEL ALASKA COAL. Claim Adjoining the Cunningham Group Is Disallowed. Seattle, Aug. 1.—The commissioner of the general land office has cancelled the Alaska coal claim of James Wardall of Juneau, located October 28, 1905, on land adjoining the Cunningham group, in the Bering River district. This is the first Alaska coal cancellation since the voiding of the Cunningham claims in 1911. Wardall was a deputy United States marshal when he located the claim. Forfeiture was because of failure to open and improve the land. Pioneers as Decorations. Ernest McGaffey, writing of carnival week in Victoria for Canadian Progress says of the Capital Building: "They will be able to pass from splendid room to room, studying the classic architecture of the interior walls, which they will find decorated with many pioneers of the past who had their day and who worked out their salvation in the dawn-ding days of the province." This is probably the first time in history dead pioneers have been used for mural decorations and fully demonstrates that the usefulness of such men does not end with death. We cannot answer for our danger when we have never been in danger.—La Richefoucauld.

BUNS AND BLISS WERE POOR FARE FOR BRIDE

More Kisses Than Cash Supplied to This Hungry Wife by Her Husband.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 1.—Kisses and buns for breakfast, kisses and buns for luncheon, kisses and buns for dinner. This has been the daily menu of Mrs. Rosie Schwanke ever since her marriage to Frederick Schwanke, July 21h.

And Mrs. Schwanke is the sister of Mrs. Theresa Deems, the famous un-kissed wife. But, unlike her sister, Mrs. Deems, it isn't the kissing part of the menu that Mrs. Schwanke objects to. It is the buns. The combined sweetness has been too much for her and she wishes to dispense with the buns. The kisses, if it is possible, she wants to keep. To change the monotony of buns she appealed to Justice Levinson, of the southern district yesterday. Frederick, she thinks, should supply a few more of the staples of life. Mrs. Theresa Deems, sister of Mrs. Schwanke, strayed into the limelight last spring and stayed because of her assertion that she had never been kissed by her husband or child. High School Exams. The following passed the high school examinations at this centre: Preliminary Course, Junior Grade—Maximum marks, 1,000; number of candidates, 12; passed, 7. Kathleen F. Haslett, 654; Edith N. Sing, 650; Mary C. Inrig, 606; Alma M. Christiansen, 553; James R. Mitchell, 535; Genevieve M. Macdonald, 521; Wallace G. Anderson, 514. Advanced Course, Junior Grade—Maximum marks, 1,000; number of candidates, 3; passed, 3. Georgia Dill, 734; Alice Carrs, 675; George A. Hunter, 554.

Truth alone can stand strict and stern investigation, and rejoices to come to light.—Moses Harvey.

HAZELTON MINING NOTES

Duke Harris returned from the Hudson Bay Mountain this week and brought in some samples of nickel ore which may also have associated with it cobalt and white iron. It is quite a new ore in this district. The Glengarry group has been causing considerable interest the past week on account of a number of samples of ore brought in by W. J. McKenzie, one of the owners. The property is situated on the New Hazelton side of Rocher de Boule Mountain, and adjoins New Hazelton Heights, in fact, one of their stakes is located on Twenty-third avenue. Ritchie and Schwarzler have been doing considerable work on the property for a week or two and they are showing up the vein in pretty good shape. They have thus far discovered three veins on three different claims, and all of them are very promising. The ore is copper, gold and silver.

On Saturday afternoon the first shipment of coal to leave New Hazelton for the coast, or for any other point, was pulled out by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and was bound for the Nanaimo Gas and Coke Company's works. The coal came from the Grand Trunk B. C. Coal Company's property at Twenty Mile, about fifteen miles east of New Hazelton, and located alongside the railway.

BELLA COOLA NOTES.

Mr. Cran returns to his duties as manager of the Bank of B. N. A. after spending his vacation with friends in Lillooet, where he was formerly in charge of a branch of the same bank. The catch of salmon at Bella Coola this season is much below the average, the total pack to date at the local cannery being only 5,000 cases. About the same pack is reported from both the Kiskit and Manitou canneries on Dean Channel. While this year's pack at Bella Coola cannery is considerably below the average, the packs at the Kimsquit plants are somewhat higher than usual. Mr. A. H. Tomlinson, assistant horticulturist, of Prince Rupert, has been spending the week in the valley. District Forester H. S. Irwin of Prince Rupert arrived by motor launch on Monday last and spent several days in the valley in connection with his duties. The local farmers are still busily engaged getting in their hay, of which very heavy crops are reported.—Bella Coola Courier, July 14, 1913.

NEWS FROM SMITHERS

The saw mill of the Seymour Lake Lumber Company has started cutting logs after a delay of two weeks, occasioned by a defective engine part which had to be sent to Vancouver for repairs. The owners are well pleased with the way the new plant works and, although they are somewhat later in getting started than they anticipated, they expect to be able to fill the large number of orders for domestic lumber which they are expecting as soon as the lots are placed on the market. An appropriation has been made for grading Main street from the station to City Hall square, and for laying six foot plank sidewalks on both sides of the street, work on which will be started immediately. Mr. John Hutchison, accompanied by A. C. Aldous, of the firm of Aldous & Murray, Ltd., and P. B. Carr, visited Smithers last week for the purpose of inspecting the townsite in the interests of the government preliminary to the department making their selection of lots. Before leaving Mr. Aldous stated that he would be back within a week, when contracts would be let for some of the preliminary work in connection with their extensive plans for development, which will entail the expenditure of a quarter of a million dollars. The first work to be undertaken will be the opening up of the streets and the installation of a drainage system, after which street grading and the building of sidewalks will be undertaken. Mr. Aldous also stated that the electric light and water power plants were now assured, and the actual work upon the latter would commence within two weeks. Bigelow & O'Neil's new seven passenger Packard car was the first machine to make the trip to Telkwa this year. It arrived last Monday, driven by "Wiggs" O'Neil, and had several passengers for this place. It is understood that regular trips will be made after the week, connecting with every train from Rupert. H. E. Bigelow is having extensive plans prepared for a large, up-to-date building for the business that he will establish in Smithers. T. L. Carr, of the Williams-Carr Lumber & Investment Company, came to Smithers last week for the purpose of establishing the company's permanent offices.—Telkwa Tribune.

WIRELESS SERVICE IS ESTABLISHED TO ASIA

U. S. Signal Service Men Nightly in Touch with Stations in Siberia. Nome, Alaska, July 28—Direct wireless communication between America and Asia now is an accomplished fact, the United States army signal corps station here being nightly in communication since Sunday with the Russian station at Anadyr, Siberia, 500 miles west of Nome. A message from Baron Kleit, governor of the Siberian province of Kamchatka, who visited Nome a short time ago, was transmitted extending congratulations on the establishment of wireless communication. The Russian government operates a chain of four stations between Anadyr and Vladivostok and for the last six months the signal corps operators here have been trying under orders from Washington, to establish communication with the Russian station. Launch Rosebelle for hire at any time. Apply at Government dock float. 181-187. There is always hope in a man that actually and earnestly works. In idleness alone is there perpetual despair.—Carlyle.
