WHILE ATTEMPTING ESCAPE CONVICT IS SHOT BY GUARD

PRISONER WAS ATTEMPTING TO SCALE FENCE OF NELSON PROVINCIAL JAIL WHEN GUARD FILLED HIM WITH BUCKSHOT.

Nelson, B. C., Aug. 10.—As the prisoners at the provincial jail went out for exercise yesterday, Bert Winn, who has served six months of a twelve months' sentence for taking $500 from an unlocked safe at Kimberly, made a bold break for liberty.

He had fixed nails in the toes of his boots to aid in climbing and started for the high fence which surrounds the jail grounds and scrambled to the top.

Special Guard W. J. McEwen, who was on duty at the lookout tower, and as Winn reached the top of the fence he fired.

Winn dropped, wounded, to the ground and was carried into the jail. He has some half a hundred shots in his person, some of them having penetrated to a depth of one to three inches, one of which is believed to have pierced his kidneys.

A pointed dagger, made from the handle of a bucket, was found concealed on his person.

Plans presented for big dry dock at Burrard Inlet to cost two and a half millions.

Ottawa, Aug. 11.—Plans are being prepared and will be placed before the public works department during the next few weeks for a floating dry dock on Burrard Inlet, with a lifting capacity of ten thousand tons.

The Anglo-British Columbia Packing Company sent a note to the effect that as the B. C. Cannery's Association had dealt with the matter direct, it did not see its way clear to taking individual action.

In the letter from the Skeena River Syndicate regret was expressed that that company was not at present in a position to take advantage of the opportunities offered for the exhibit.

The outfit constructing the telegraph line from the south end to the north end of Graham Island has just completed a very much needed work, viz., a telephone line from Shingle Bay (Sandspit) to Aliford Bay (headquarters of the British Columbia Fisheries). Later on, when the cable is laid across the inlet, it will make a red letter day for the people on the north end of Moresby Island.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Roman Catholic Church gave a picnic to the Sunday school children yesterday, and a most enjoyable time was had. The party set out at 10 o'clock in three launches, the Regent, Alice B and Alouette, and took their luncheon at Tugwell Island.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church are taking an excursion tomorrow to Port Simpson on the "Thomas Crosby" as the guests of Captain Oliver and Rev. J. B. Lamb. The boat will leave the Government wharf at 9:30 a. m. The excursionists will spend about five hours in Port Simpson and return in the evening. Everybody is welcome to join the excursion by donating $2.00 to the Ladies' Aid.

Five bags of flour to be given away. See Quaker Flour advertisement on page 4.

HOW MEMORY FAILS.

"Anything is better than suspense," says the Evening Empire of yesterday, in an attempt to be humorous in criticizing Mayor Pattullo for holding over until tonight the announcement of the result of his recent financial mission. The editor of that paper has evidently forgotten his gloomy secretiveness when as mayor of this city he returned from his important mission to Victoria last spring. He must also have forgotten the harmony that prevailed among his own aldermen as a result of that secrecy.

MEXICAN PEACE POLICY

Foreign Governments Will Not Interfere in the Matter.

DECLARES THAT ALIEN LAND LAW CONTAINED NOTHING NEW

CALIFORNIA'S ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS THAT THE SUNSET STATE SIMPLY FOLLOWED THE LEGISLATIVE LEAD OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—The alien land law passed by the recent California legislature was not different from earlier laws passed by other states, or from federal legislation affecting the territories, enacted twenty-six years ago, said Attorney General U. S. Webb in a short talk before the Commonwealth Club here today.

His topic was "The History of Alien Land Legislation in the United States," and the speaker explained the workings of the law which bears his name.

"Last winter people all over the country, in a sort of hysterical manner, protested against the alien land bill here," he said, "as though California were trying something new, whereas the truth is that California was simply following the federal government as well as other states in the Union."

"The alien land law was passed to prevent the holding of land by undesirable aliens. It was not a question of races at all. Arizona, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, Missouri, Washington and the District of Columbia all passed alien land laws for the same reason as did California, and some of them passed laws much more strict than California."

FOR STEWART VISITORS

Change in Steamship Schedule May Be Arranged.

In order to make it more convenient for people from the north to attend the Prince Rupert exhibition, it is possible that the G. T. P. will so arrange its steamship schedule for the week that the visitors from Stewart will be able to return to their own town after spending two days at the fair. Under the present system they would have to spend a week in Prince Rupert. This long stay might prove such an inconvenience to some of the visitors as to deter them from coming at all. The committee of the exhibition have therefore asked the G. T. P. to make this change, which is at present under consideration.

TEA GIVEN FOR LADIES' AID OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Westenhaver threw open her beautiful home on Fifth avenue to the ladies of the Presbyterian Church. The day was ideal and throughout the entire afternoon large numbers of ladies kept the spacious and handsome apartments continuously crowded with guests.

Mrs. Dawson presided at the tea table, while Mrs. Manson and Mrs. McClymont, assisted by Misses McKenzie, McIntosh and Holthy, served the refreshments. Miss Froud and Mrs. Carpenter at the piano played a sweet musical accompaniment to the happy conversation, while everyone present was delighted with the vocal solos of Miss Naumann, Mrs. O'Neill and Mrs. Munro. A cake and candy table was in charge of Mrs. Gamp and Mrs. John Meltae. An admission fee of 10 cents was levied upon everyone, thereby adding $26.60 to the treasury of the Ladies' Aid.

The unbounded success of this tea has aroused great enthusiasm among the women of the church as this is the first of a chain of fortnightly teas, the next to be at the home of Mrs. Steen. Mrs. Westenhaver was showered with congratulations by her guests, who had thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

THREE HUNDRED MILITIAMEN SENT TO STRIKE IN NANAIMO

Wires Have Been Cut and Little Reliable Information Can Be Obtained---Nine Men Reported Killed at Extension---Strike Breakers Home Dynamited

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, Aug. 14.—Nanaimo was again last night in the complete grip of the mob and with no police protection worth speaking of, as practically all the specials brought in from outside points deserted when the rioting was at its height. The twenty-five picked police sent by Vancouver were met at the dock by a howling mob of over five hundred and were not allowed to land. One of the number, it is reported, was shot and killed. With the inadequate force at his command, the mayor is absolutely unable to enforce order.

The rumors of the destruction wrought by the mob, and of killings and beatings, are many. One rumor from Extension is that nine men had been shot and killed, but at 10 o'clock last night information was sent in that while there had been considerable shooting no one had been killed.

The reports are specific, however, as to what occurred when the Vancouver policemen arrived. They did manage to land, but were afterward escorted back to the afternoon boat by a mob of eight hundred. This same mob then marched to the Herald office and demanded that the management should retract in today's issue certain published statements, and also publish an apology for the same, or the building and plant would be blown up. Threats also extended to the homes and families of the employees. In consequence of these threats the newspaper plant has been closed down and there will be no issue today.

The most stirring events of yesterday were at Extension, when six hundred men from South Wellington and Nanaimo marched on the properties of the Canadian Collieries. A hot fight took place and much damage was done to property. How many were hurt is not known.

Vancouver, Aug. 14.—Martial law has been proclaimed in the strike zone. Three hundred militiamen of the Fifth regiment of Victoria were dispatched by train last night. As soon as the strikers heard of their coming they started to tear up the rails, and it is reported that at certain places the track was blown out by dynamite.

The strikers are well armed and the troops took an ample supply of ammunition along. All the available gun shops have been secured, but this was done too late to prevent large quantities of arms and ammunition being sold to the strikers. It is again reported that six men were killed during the fighting at Extension. Seventy-five non-unionists were last night stopped by an armed mob and started firing. As both sides had mostly shotguns there were no great damaging effects. The strikers kept up the fire until the non-unionists became frightened and bolted for the woods. The torch was then promptly applied to the mine buildings, which were burned to the ground.

The home of Alexander McKinnon, on the strike breakers, was blown up with dynamite. He saved his six children, but he himself was fatally injured and can only live a few hours.

Constable Ryan was shot and mortally wounded when the police were trying to force a car through Extension. Several others were badly injured. It is believed there have been several fatalities at South Wellington, but it is difficult to get reliable information as the Cumberland wires have been cut. There is no doubt the mob is in an ugly mood and citizens are fleeing to places of safety because the authorities are powerless to protect them. It is generally expected that there will be a free-for-all fight between the armed strikers and the militia.

He was a native of Cologne and was there elected a member of the North German parliament in 1867. From his first appearance the Socialistic statements he made were startling, and in 1872 he was condemned to two years' imprisonment on a treason charge. After this he was further imprisoned for aspersing the Emperor, the grandfather of the present Kaiser. In recent years Herr Bebel has been generally recognized as one of the leading Socialists of the world.

DIPLOMACY FOR THE PEOPLE.

A despatch was recently published in this paper concerning a flag waving fracas in Saskatoon. An American girl in that city waved an American flag in front of one of the members of the bugle band of the 105th Fusiliers. The bandsman snatched the flag out of her hands, broke the staff in two and trampled it under his feet. He was discharged, but reinstated because of a protest from his comrades.

The real cause of all these flag incidents is the failure to recognize that in a democratic country every man and woman is a diplomat, who ought to behave just as the British ambassador at Washington or the American ambassador at London would behave; as the British minister or the American minister charged with foreign affairs would behave.

There is no mystery about modern diplomacy. Its central idea is to carry on international intercourse upon the same lines as two friendly, courteous families would conduct themselves.

When you travel in a foreign country you are its guest, and you ought to behave as a courteous guest would behave.

When you meet a foreigner in your own country, you are his host, and you ought to behave as a courteous host would behave.

The American girl at Saskatoon undoubtedly broke this rule. But the fact that she behaved discourteously is no reason why a Canadian should do likewise.

If a young girl, the daughter of one of your friends, visited your home and behaved in a rude, rash manner, you would not box her ears, but would meet her with grave displeasure, and a courtesy which would be an example to her.

Always bear in mind, whether in your own country or in a foreign country, that under diplomatic institutions you are a volunteer member of the diplomatic service. You represent your country, and are bound to act exactly as an ambassador or a minister of foreign affairs would act.

England will have no exhibit at the Panama exhibition, neither will Germany. Uncle Sam will learn after a while that to hold a good fair you must play fair.

SHUSHANNA DESCRIBED AS VAST PLACER MINING DISTRICT

DETAILS GIVEN BY G. B. EDWARDS, DAWSON AGENT OF WHITE PASS & YUKON ROUTE—TELLS THE BEST WAY TO THE GOLDFIELDS.

Vancouver, Aug. 11.—Although sufficient development work has not been done in the Shushanna district to form an accurate opinion as to the extent of the gold deposits, the distribution of the precious metal is said to be general and to warrant the belief that the new diggings indicate an immense placer mining district. Mr. Farr, assistant purchasing agent for the White Pass & Yukon Route, has received a report from Mr. G. B. Edwards, general agent for the company at Dawson, which gives some interesting information regarding the recent strike. After a reference to the gold poke, he goes on to say: "I have talked with both the discoverers personally and find them to be conservative men, not inclined to overestimate their find. However, they are candid in their belief that their find is the foundation of an immense placer mining district. There were but few men in the camp when the discoverers left, and but little real work being done at that time, the new arrivals being anxious to locate ground in preference to prospecting. However, they state that where work had been done on other creeks good pay had been located.

"This leads to the belief that the distribution of gold is general on several creeks at least and not in pockets, one of which had merely been found by the discoverers. At the present time sufficient work has not been done in the district to give an accurate opinion of the extent of the gold deposit. "The district is located in the mountains above timber line, but very shallow ground, being only three feet to bedrock where the discoverers found their pay. The ground is thawed on Discovery claim but quite likely where the deposit of muck and gravel is deeper it would be necessary to thaw. In washing the gravel they state that about equal quantities of heavy galena has been discovered.

"I understand, though, that a quartz lead has been found. The value of the quartz is not yet known. The location of this discovery is about thirty-five miles west of the Alaska-Yukon line, between the sixty-second and sixty-third parallels, on the head waters of the Tanana River. The streams, however, are rather small and for a distance, estimated 80 to 100 miles down these streams, they are not of a sufficient size to permit of the use of polling boats or any other means of water navigation.

"The Cordova Railroad is built to Copper Mines, approximately 80 miles distant from the new discovery. From the terminus of this railroad to the new strike there is reported to be a continuation of muskeg and glaciers to cross. From the head of navigation on the Tanana River the trail is said to be of muskeg for something like 100 miles. On the eastern slope the trail leads through a low divide and strikes the White River at the intersection of Snag Creek, some 25 miles above the mouth of the Donjek River, and the Donjek is 90 miles from the mouth of the White River.

"The discoverers and two or three other men have been in that district for some three months and have prospected in the country more or less since 1906, always having had a firm belief that pay existed in that district. It is the belief of these men that the most feasible route to reach the new camp is up the White River by polling boat or steamboat navigation to the mouth of the Donjek River, thence overland. "Up to the present time the travel into this country has been limited to prospectors carrying but very small outfits. Therefore the best trails or means of making the trip to take a heavy outfit is not yet known, but from the fact that the discoverers have come to Dawson and are taking back with them on our steamer Nasutlin, leaving Dawson, an outfit of some 30 or 40 tons, indicates their belief that the White River route is the proper one to take to land their supplies in the country.

"In addition to the discovery of placer, the head waters of the White River are rich in copper deposits of immense magnitude and covering a large area of country. Native copper nuggets are found filling creek beds for miles, as well as leads of native copper, also immense leads of borinite and other high percentage copper ores. It is a rich mineral district and the present influx of stamperders will help to prospect the country and bring into prominence the mineral wealth of the entire district lying at the head waters of the White River.

"The steamer Vidette left Dawson July 26th, carrying the first load of stamperders from Dawson. The steamer Nasutlin, with a barge, left Dawson July 28th, carrying a full cargo of stamperders and supplies. Most of these people are taking a supply to last them the greater part of the winter. A great many horses are in the outfit, as well as polling boats, every one having his own idea of travel from the head of navigation at the mouth of the Donjek River.

"The White River is very difficult to navigate, the waters being thick with volcanic ash, from which the river derives its name 'White.' These ash deposits form numerous bars along the river, which are continually changing in different channels and filling the creek bed, causing the water to spread over large areas where the current is not sufficient to carry away the sediment. For this reason steamboat navigation on the White River is regarded as not only uncertain but hazardous. It is a risky trip we are undertaking with the steamer Nasutlin, and future trips will rest on the report of the officers on their return.

"The White River is short and fed largely by glaciers. Therefore a few days' hot weather or heavy rains will cause the river to rise several feet, and the water will fall as much within 24 hours, under the effects of cold weather. However, up to September 1st navigation for small craft should be reasonably safe for 90 miles from the mouth of the river. After that date the water generally gets very low and no prospects of a rise during the season.

"Mr. Fred Wann, an American engineer, is now in the district, and in addition to working as a surveyor, he is also, temporarily, mining recorder. Up to the present time we have heard of no arrangement to establish a customs house by either nation at the line. The Canadian customs, Dawson, however, inform me that American goods can be sealed at Dawson and a deposit left here covering the duty, and when goods are taken back into Alaska the deposit will be refunded."

CHICAGO POLICEMEN NEED PROTECTION OF POLICEMEN

TEN MEMBERS OF FAIR SEX ON FORCE ARE FOLLOWED BY GREAT MOBS WHEN THEY START ON THEIR NEW WORK.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—The ten women assigned to duty on the police force have begun their work. So great was the curiosity aroused among pedestrians by the women police that in several instances plain clothes men and even uniformed men were needed to extricate the women. The policewomen, selected because it was thought they might be able to detect certain crimes which male policemen might overlook, were sent out in pairs, a pair being assigned to each of the four most populous districts and one pair to detective duty. Male officers pointed out to them the district limits, the use of patrol boxes, locations of doubtful saloons and dance halls. In one of the crowded West Side tenement districts such great mobs followed the women that they took refuge in the Maxwell station. Arrangements were made for the women to visit the detective bureau during roll call and be introduced to the methods. None of the women attempted to make an arrest.

WOMAN CHASED THREE OFFICERS FROM HOUSE

Sturdy Dame Wouldn't Allow the Police to Dispossess Her of Her House.

New York, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Oscar Siverson, a sturdy inhabitant of Harrison, N. J., put three men to flight when they tried to dispossess her from her home, 409 Seventh street. "Get out of here," shouted Mrs. Siverson to Constable Charles White when he said he intended to put her furniture on the street. The officer flashed his dispossess notice. "Get out with your notice. Where will my ten children live?" continued the woman with a threatening eye. White beckoned to two assistants, William Case and Thomas Barry, especially deputized for the job. The enraged tenant whipped out a small revolver and White says she fired two shots at him. He took to his heels. The deputies did likewise. Mrs. Siverson pursued. White jumped a nearby fence. The woman followed. He raced across a field and scaled another fence. He told Police Justice Joseph M. Branegan that the militant woman got over this, too, and that he could not shake her off until he got near the station. Branegan issued a warrant for the woman's arrest on the charge of "attempt to kill and to interfere with an officer in the discharge of his duty." The local police were hunting for Mrs. Siverson last night.

San Francisco Saloons Start Early Closing Hours for First Time.

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—San Francisco's saloons closed at 2 o'clock this morning, marking the first time that retail liquor traffic has been interfered with here by statute. While the city was in the throes of the fire disaster of 1906, the sale of liquor was forbidden by military edict, and later local restrictions required the closing of bars between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock in the morning, but this lasted only a few months, and the old order of things, with saloons open day and night and Sundays, was restored to flourish until today, when the new state law became effective. "It is illegal in California now to sell, give or deliver to any person intoxicating liquor between the hours of 2 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock," the law went into force last night at midnight. The police officers who went about the enforcement of the new law in the early hours reported a general willingness on the part of the saloon men to comply with the measure. Everything was closed up, according to these reports, and no arrests were made. In numerous instances the police found saloon proprietors perplexed by the lack of front door keys, which had been lost for years, and by door locks rusted by disuse that refused to work. An effort to keep open after 2 o'clock was contemplated by proprietors of certain downtown cabarets, but this was checked sharply by police order.

BABES TURN BURGLARS

Tots Reveal Hiding Place with $100 Loot.

Oakland, Aug. 11.—Following the burglary of the residence of Mrs. I. D. Watson, Theresa and Jenny Peters, aged respectively 7 and 5 years, revealed to the police yesterday a hiding place in a stable where they had secreted about $100 worth of loot, and tearfully admitted they had committed the burglary. They had been guided by a story they had been reading, the tots explained, and using a screwdriver as a burglar's jimmy had opened a rear window of the Watson home while the occupants were away. From the cache in the stable the police recovered a small amount of money, four gold rings, two gold chains and other jewellery.

Miss Roche brings a charge against one of the city commissioners.

THE PRICE OF HOMAGE

ONCE when King Edward VII. paid a visit to Sheffield, all the fires in factories and plants were allowed to die out. Not a wheel in Sheffield turned for twenty-four hours. The primary object of this was to lift the pall of smoke that hovers over that wonderful steel-producing city, and to ensure, as far as man was able, a bright day and a blue sky for an auspicious occasion. It was Sheffield's expression of respect.

BUT the action was unique—it was unprecedented—it was unthought of that those hundreds of mighty furnaces, raging night and day, and those seething boilers, with quivering valves, should ever be allowed to cool. This extinguishing of fires cost Sheffield hundreds of thousands of dollars—the price of the effort to get back again to high-power efficiency.

SOME business men in Canada pay an unwitting homage, not to a king, but to a superstition—the superstition that hot weather justifies letting the fires of business energy go out. They stop Advertising in the Summer months. By paying homage to tradition, custom, superstition, they have allowed Summer to become their "dull" season. You know how dull it can be when you don't advertise. Do you know how brisk it can be made by Advertising? Do you realize how much momentum you now lose in the Summer that must be regained in the Fall?

DON'T LET YOUR ADVERTISING FIRES DIE OUT THIS SUMMER.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

AUTOISTS ROBBED

Family Party Victimized by Bandits in Suburb.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—An automobile party was held up and robbed near the northern suburb of Evanston tonight, the robbers taking the automobile and starting it, it is thought, toward Milwaukee. Mr. A. R. Bennett and Frank F. Healy, both of Evanston; Mrs. Bennett, two children and a nurse were in the car. A red lantern in the road brought the car to a stop, when two masked men with revolvers jumped on the running board and forced the party to descend.

Isador Strauss and His Wife and Benjamin Guggenheim Are in List.

New York, Aug. 9.—Mr. Isador Strauss, the merchant and philanthropist, who lost his life when the Titanic sank in April, 1912, left an estate valued at $1,565,106. His wife, Mrs. Ida Strauss, who refused to desert her husband when she could have been saved before the Titanic went down, left an estate of $335,578. The appraisal of the two estates was completed today.

The partial estimate of the estate of Mr. Benjamin Guggenheim, another Titanic victim, which was filed today, shows that it will total several millions, although the exact amount will not be known for six months. The incomplete schedule shows holdings of $748,010. The bequests total $440,000. Many accounts are yet to be collected and property to be appraised, which will greatly increase the total estate.

The six children of Mr. and Mrs. Strauss inherit the combined estates.

In his will Mr. Strauss made mention of no charitable bequests, but left a letter to his children urging them to continue his philanthropies. In conformity with this letter the six children have already contributed $185,000 to benevolences in which the father was interested.

TEMPLARS AT DENVER

Hordes of Plumed Knights Gather for Annual Conclave.

Denver, Aug. 9.—With a million vray-colored lights illuminating the hordes of plumed knights and thousands of Denver spectators, the thirty-second triennial conclave of Knights Templar was informally opened here tonight shortly after the arrival of Grand Master Most Eminent Sir William B. Melish and other grand officers of the Templars.

Thousands of knights already in the city, and in full dress, added much to the spectacular promenade and festivities of the night. Perhaps the most dazzling bit of illuminated decoration is the welcome arch at one end of the four blocks long court of honor.

PRINCE'S ESCAPE

Rides Onto Crossing as Express Arrives.

Berlin, Aug. 11.—Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, Emperor William's son-in-law, recently had a very narrow escape from death. He was riding at the head of the Zeithen Hussars, near Rathenow, and owing to some oversight the regiment was allowed to march on the level crossing just as the express came tearing down the line.

The band managed to get to the other side, but the Prince had not time to do this, and his retreat was momentarily cut off by the lowering of the barrier behind him. Fortunately, the gate was raised just in the nick of time, and the Prince, vigorously reining back his horse, succeeded in getting it off the rails before the train dashed past.

CAT AND CANARY

Feline Stops Fugitive Bird and Returns It Unharmed.

Reading, Pa., Aug. 11.—While Mrs. Franklin Woods of Denver township was cleaning her canary bird's cage four days ago, the canary flew away. The family cat seemed disconsolate.

That night the cat disappeared and nothing was seen of either of the household pets until today, when the cat came back. Tenderly holding the missing bird by a wing, pussy delivered her burden to Mr. Woods. His wife at once restored it to its cage. There was not a scratch on the bird. Mr. Woods believes the cat went out in search of the missing canary and when he heard its song captured it.
