ENGLISH RAILWAYS TIED UP BY NATIONAL STRIKE--EXHIBITS ARRIVING FOR THE FAIR

ALL THE ENGLISH RAILWAYS
MAY BE TIED UP BY STRIKE

EXECUTIVE OF RAILWAYMEN CLAIM THEY ARE ANXIOUS TO AVERT NATIONAL STRIKE, BUT MEN GOT OUT OF HAND.

(Special to The Daily News)
London, Sept. 19.—The executive of the National Union of railwaymen is out with a statement discussing the national strike. This states that the executive was anxious to avert the strike but that the men got out of hand. The trouble began with the strike of the freight handlers at Liverpool against the handling of freight from Dublin, out of sympathy with the striking transport workers there. Over ten thousand of the freight handlers on the railways have already gone out, and a complete tie up is expected on the London & North-western line. Other lines are almost certain to follow, and the bus drivers may also go out.

Dublin, Sept. 19.—The strike of the transport workers, it is believed, may indicate the birth of an Irish labor party destined to wipe out many of the traditional lines of cleavage in the political, religious and industrial life of Ireland. The historic and bitter feud between the Nationalist residents and the members of the Royal Irish Constabulary added fierceness to the fighting during the recent riots, but the strike itself has been carried out as a clear cut issue between employer and employee over the single question of labor unionism.

WILL ADVERTISE THIS NORTH
COUNTRY FOR SCENIC BEAUTY

FAMOUS MAGAZINE WRITER WHO JOURNEYED IN AUTO FROM BOUNDARY OF MEXICO TO END OF STEEL LEFT HERE THIS MORNING

There left on the Prince George this morning a party of tourists whose trip north is of more than passing interest. The party comprised E. Alexander Powell, a well-known writer who represents the Sunset Magazine and Harper's Monthly; A. E. Kuhn, a wealthy resident of San Jose, Cal.; and W. Creffield, of the same place, a well-trained chauffeur. They had come in a Hudson six cylinder auto of 56 h.p., straight through from the Mexican boundary north to the end of steel on the railway, and the machine in which they made this journey was shipped with them.

In speaking this morning of the trip Mr. Powell stated that there was no difficulty encountered until Quesnelle was reached, and he believes that when the auto highway from Hazelton to Mexico is completed it will be one of the most popular touring roads on the continent. The way from Quesnelle to Fort George has been in places, so bad that they had to cut down trees to

ARE ALL WORKING OVERTIME

MUCH MONEY NEEDED FOR DEVELOPMENT OF LOCAL INDUSTRY NONE CAN BE BORROWED FOR CANADA—GREAT PROSPERITY ENJOYED.

Vancouver, Sept. 15.—Business has been so good in London and the old country that it caused the recent financial depression in Canada. Mr. Thomas H. Ingram, vice president and secretary-treasurer of the Canadian National Investors, Limited, who has arrived back in Vancouver after almost a year's stay with Mrs. Ingram in England, says he saw factories and mills working at their full limit as late as 9 o'clock in the evening. The natural result has been that money was kept in the home cities, where the industries were making so much money. Canada's borrowing power suffered accordingly.

Mr. Ingram said that ships could not be built fast enough to carry the increasing import and export trade of England. Money was needed to gather the crops in the hop and wheat fields in the old country. Big industries were making big dividends. Everywhere new records in development of business were being made.

"Yet the stock in well known industries were held low on stock markets," said Mr. Ingram.

It was more or less useless for a Canadian company, he thought, to ask an English investor to buy stock in a colonial company when prominent industries, whose products that investor was accustomed constantly to handle, offered 5 and 6 1-2 per cent. return on their market price.

"Mr. Stephen Furness, the famous shipbuilder, said his ships on their present charters brought in far more than the 12 per cent. offered by some Canadian companies," said Mr. Ingram. "Deliveries in all industries were far behind orders."

Consequently the home manufacturers needed every penny they could get. One wealthy man told Mr. Ingram he was better able to borrow from Canada at a high interest than to loan.

(Special to The Daily News)
Grand Forks, Mich., Sept. 19.—Two robbers with drawn revolvers last night entered the jewellery store of J. Thompson. They commanded the clerks in the store to throw up their hands. As they did not immediately comply, the robbers opened fire. John Thompson, the proprietor, fell dead at the first shot. Ed Smith was also killed and Paul Townsend fatally wounded. The robbers made their escape.

SUDDEN RETURN OF DAVID LLOYD-GEORGE

Believed That He Has Been Called for Conference with King on Home Rule.

(Special to The Daily News)
London, Sept. 19.—Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, returned from the continent last night, where he had gone to spend a fortnight. His sudden return, it is believed, is in connection with the Irish home rule question, and in all probability he will leave today for Balmoral for a conference with the King on the subject. Other members of the cabinet and party leaders have been called to Balmoral for the same purpose.

The appearance of Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor of Great Britain, at the meeting of the American Bar Association in Montreal was made all the more memorable by the now famous message he delivered from the King. This remarkable address on higher nationality was generally accepted as of an epoch-making character, and has been praised for its deep wisdom and humanness wherever the English tongue is spoken. The other pictures are of Sir Kenneth Muir, clerk of the Crown, who accompanied the lord high chancellor, and Frank Kellogg, an able American jurist, who was elected president of the bar association.

GOING IN.

The first of those who went to the Sibolla Creek gold discovery have commenced to return, the first arriving Tuesday, and the stories they tell of the gold strike confirm in every detail the first reports brought in. Colin Munro and Ira McLean, who returned Tuesday, were about the first to reach the creek, where they met Andy Goodwill just returning from cutting a trail from the Sibolla Creek gold discovery to the new camp. Munro and McLean being short of provisions, just staked their claims and returns, as also did Mr. King and party, who returned Wednesday. All of these men, while not having done any work themselves, ports of the country in general.

COMPROMISE EFFECTED IN THE
NANAIMO STRIKE CASES TRIAL

COUNSEL FOR MEN AGREES THAT THERE SHALL BE NO PICKETTING PROVIDED MEN CHARGED WITH INTIMIDATION ARE LIBERATED

(Special to The Daily News)
Nanaimo, Sept. 19.—As long as the present coal strike on Vancouver Island exists there is to be no more picketing done by the United Mine Workers of America. This decision came in the form of a proposal made yesterday in court by Mr. Leighton, counsel for the accused strikers, to the crown prosecutor. Mr. Leighton said that a recent decision having declared picketing illegal he could undertake to say there would be no more of it during the continuance of the strike, providing the court would withdraw the charges of intimidation against the men now on trial for picketting.

The proposal was accepted by the crown prosecutor and the men charged were given their liberty by the court. This materially reduces the number of men to be tried.

OLD TIME ALASKA MINER SAYS
"STAY AWAY FROM CHISANA"

W. T. BOYCE, WHO LEFT PRINCE RUPERT A FEW WEEKS AGO, SENDS DISCOURAGING REPORT

That the Chisana stampede is nothing more or less than a transportation and road house game is the opinion of W. T. Boyce, an old time resident of Alaska and recently of Prince Rupert. Mr. Boyce, who made his headquarters at the Empress Hotel in this city, left here with his wife about a month ago bound for the new diggings.

In a letter to Mr. Jones, of the firm of Shepard & Jones of this city written from Cordova, Sept. 14th, Mr. Boyce says:

"We arrived here all safe and found the stampede busted. It looks to me and most of the old timers here like a transportation and road house affair. Of course there may be gold in the country but it has to be found and this stampede was started in the hopes that it would be found. The first people to leave this place returned without staking any and some reliable people told me they had panned on several creeks could not get a color. A great many old timers have returned to the States. Mr. Dawson from Ketchikan gives it an awful name, so do a great many others. Of course these town people are trying to boom it as it was a God send to them. They were slowly starving out but this gave them a new lease of life. We will leave here on the next boat for Juneau as there is absolutely nothing here. Advise everyone to keep away. One lot of about 20 horses that came on the steamer Sampson were to be shipped out on the Alameda when Steve Birch of the Guggenheims bought them so it would not kill the stampede. Please advise my friends at the Empress and Royal not to think of coming. If anything is found later I will be advised and will let you all know. I think by next season something will be done about opening the coal and other resources of Alaska. Then everything will go ahead but at the present time everything is very quiet. Juneau is the best town on the coast."

STENOGRAPHERS AS HARVEST HANDS.

The News published yesterday an account of the number of hands yet required in the harvesting and threshing of the great harvest of the prairies, and some of the newspapers of the east published stories of an exodus of Calgary stenographers to the harvest fields to help gather in the sheaves. In regard to this the Calgary Herald says:

"We haven't noticed the exodus here, but it is just possible that we are so close to the vortex of things that a few details of the swiftly moving panorama of human events have escaped the home folks. Still we are reluctant to put too much credence in the story. We know our stenographers too well. Ninety-nine per cent. of them are wearing hobble skirts and even Anthony Comstock will admit that hobble skirts and silk hosiery are not proper dress for the harvest fields."

"In the first place the stubble would play havoc with the stockings and in the second place the hobble skirts wouldn't permit of the rapid execution of a flank movement when a shoal of mice darted unsuspected from underneath a stock."

"Then it must not be forgotten that most of our stenographers are the virtual proprietors of the establishments in which they seem to toil. Why should they go out to harvest grain when they can pretty nearly buy a farm every day? Following the lead of President Wilson, we are disposed to 'Tut-tut!' the whole story and proclaim it a falsehood."

AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND.

Although New Zealand has declined to become an integral part of the Australian commonwealth, they continue to have many interests in common. It is not an exceptional instance of the curious parallelism which is apt to occur that in this respect Canada and Australia have had much the same experience, and Newfoundland, like New Zealand, prefers to remain independent, and no doubt there is a certain feeling of pride and satisfaction in appearing at the council board of the imperial conference on terms of parity with the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia and the Union of South Africa. Nor would the rash judgment be ventured that their decision must operate to the disadvantage of the common interest of the Empire.

New Zealand, however, as an Australasian state is by no means unwilling to co-operate with its big brother in the arrangement of matters of joint advantage. The Dominion and the Commonwealth have both old age pension schemes and an agreement was recently reached providing for reciprocity in their administration. The bill embodying the arrangement was introduced in the end of July in the New Zealand legislature, and it practically provides that the requisite residence in any part of Australia will entitle all persons to pensions in that state where they have resided for twelve months before making application. New Zealand's proportion of the cost is one-seventh, irrespective of the length of residence. As this new departure is of a tentative character, the agreement will be revised at the end of five years.

It has been discovered in the port of Prince Rupert, by the ghost of Admiral Nelson, that "the Borden dreadnoughts are being built." A visit to the Johnson shipbuilding yards might or might not verify this statement.

OLD BILL MINER'S NOTORIOUS CAREER IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

STORY OF HIS TRIAL AT KAMLOOPS FOR HOLDING UP CANADIAN PACIFIC TRAIN TOLD BY A PRESENT RESIDENT OF THIS CITY.

Death has freed "Bill" Miner, notorious robber and jail breaker, from his last prison term. His picturesque career, which included clashes with the laws of more than a score of states and several Canadian provinces, recently ended at the Georgia state prison farm.

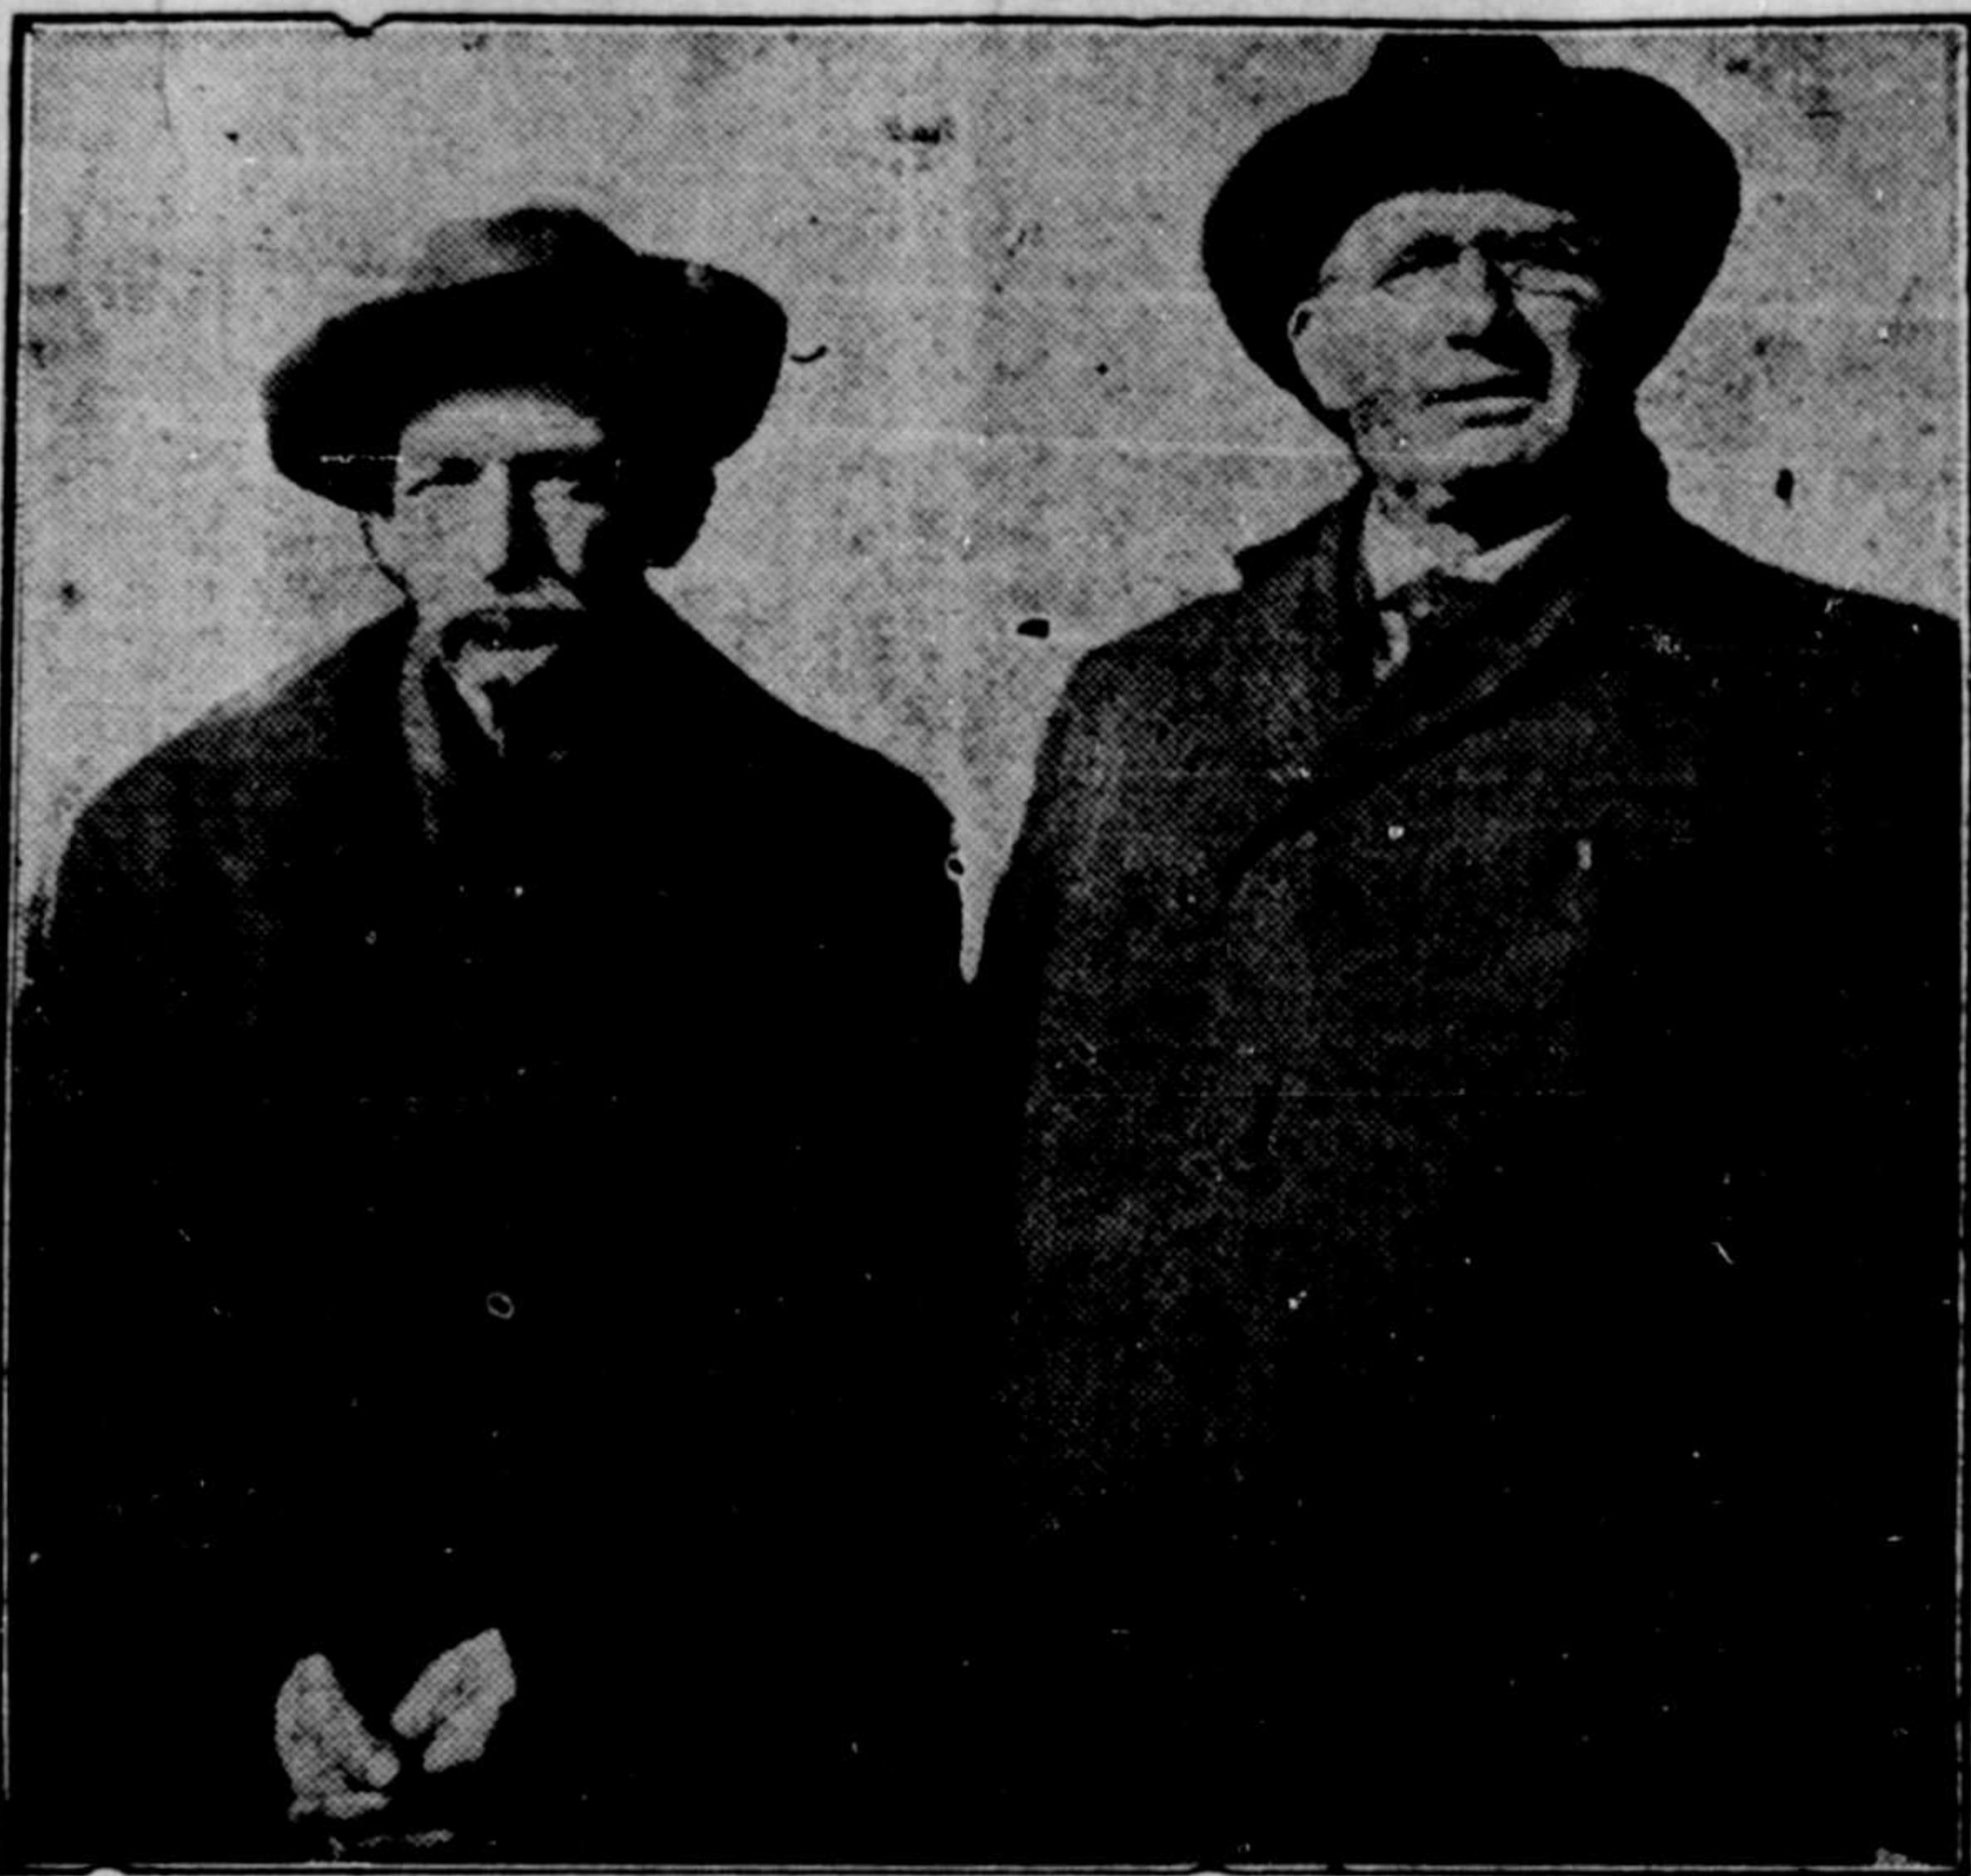

Miner's criminal career began nearly sixty years ago. He left his home in Jackson County, Ky., before he was 15 years old, and went west. He admitted numerous stage coach robberies and train holdups and was several times imprisoned for robbing banks. Three years ago he was brought to the state prison farm of Georgia for robbing a train near Lula, Georgia.

His Canadian career created a new record in the annals of the west. He was held in prison at New Westminster as an accompanied in this trial that a long time resident of this city, and one whose veracity is unquestioned, has a story to tell but does not desire his name to be published in connection with it.

Edwards, as Miner was then known, had been engaged in mining in the vicinity of the Similkameen for some time, and his quiet, genial qualities had won him respect and popularity. The Prince Rupert man knew him well, and says that particularly the women and children of the Similkameen valley liked old George, as he was then known. An instance of this popularity was particularly noticeable at his trial.

When he was arrested no one in the district could be persuaded that the gentle, mild-mannered man could possibly be the desperado who had held up the Canplian in the now famous Bank of Montreal robbery there, when in a daring break for liberty Miner escaped, and though trailed for days by posses and mounted police made his getaway. He was seen, according to reports at that time, in nearly every part of the Dominion at the same time. All trace of him was lost for many months until, becoming daring again he was caught at Lula, Georgia, after a bold train robbery and sent to the prison farm at Milledgeville.

OLD BILL MINER'S LAST ARREST

The above picture was taken some time ago, when old Miner escaped from prison in British Columbia

In Canada, so far as known, he only operated twice, the last time holding up the Canadian Pacific express in British Columbia in 1906. That three men could hold up a big transcontinental train, crowded with passengers and manned by a big train crew, seemed incredible, but they did it, completed their robbery and got away. The three robbers, Miner, Louis Colquhoun and Thomas Dunn, held up and robbed the train at Ducks, 260 miles from Vancouver, on May 10, 1906. It was the second train robbery in the history of Canada, and the first had also been Miner's, a robbery committed on a train at Mission, near Vancouver. The three robbers were taken to Kamloops for trial, and it is adrian Pacific express, and one woman went so far as to enjoin her husband that if he were called upon the jury he should certainly vote for the old man's acquittal.

The man promised and kept his promise. He was chosen on the jury, as it happened, and he served on it. It was a lengthy trial and there were eleven for the conviction of Miner and one against it. They were sent back to the jury room several times, but always with the same result, the one jurymen remaining faithful in the face of all evidence to the promise he had made to his wife.

After this there was a new trial, the first one having cost the province in the neighborhood of $5,000, and the second jury convicted Miner in two hours. Miner and Dunn got life sentences and Colquhoun twenty-five years.

On the morning of August 9, 1907, Miner, Clark, of Nanaimo, serving three years for forgery; W. J. Woods, of Victoria, a light term for forgery, and A. F. McClusky, of Vancouver, seven years for robbery, were found to have escaped by digging their way out of the jail yard. All were taken except Miner.

GAMBLING HOUSES CLOSED NOT BY LAW BUT MONEY SHORTAGE

PROPRIETORS OF LONDON CLUBS COMPLAIN THAT THERE IS LITTLE READY MONEY AND THAT "PIGEONS" ARE SCARCE

London, Sept. 15.—The gambling clubs of the West End of London are suffering from a decline, but not on account of the police. The complaint of the proprietors is that there is too little ready money. The tendency of their clients now is to come to the gambling table with a few pounds in their pockets and pay heavy losses by checks which are dishonored next morning. Another drawback is that many of the available "pigeons" have been plucked bare, and the other birds are becoming wary. The net result is that some of the smaller gambling houses are closed, as their expenses are very high. "The gambling spirit was at its height about the beginning of the year," said a police officer. "The number of gambling houses in the west end of London was incredibly large. Then it was a profitable undertaking. As much as $500 a week had been paid for a furnished flat in the heart of the West End. Champagne suppers were given to all the patrons, and champagne was supplied freely all the evening. In spite of the heavy expenses, a huge profit could be made out of the percentage of the stakes, even where sharp practice was not the rule. Now the complaint is that people have no more money to lose." It is no secret that several of the best known managers of gaming houses are looking to foreign clients to bring grist to the mill. Their "runners" are very much in evidence at the leading hotels.

COMPROMISE POSSIBLE ON IRISH HOME RULE

Conference of More Moderate Men Suggests Settlement by Consent as Final Solution.

London, Sept. 16.—Mr. Redmond says that the home rule bill will be law by next June. Sir Edward Carson says Ulster will never submit to it. But among moderate men of all parties the conviction is growing that neither is right, but that home rule is coming, not in the shape of the present bill, but in the form of a compromise.

Recently a very important convention was held under the auspices of the All for Ireland League. This was attended by independent Unionists, like Lord Dunraven, and independent Nationalists, like William O'Brien and "Tim" Healy. Resolutions were passed urging the government to call a conference of all parties to consider the question of a settlement by consent. These resolutions were merely formally acknowledged by Messrs. Asquith and Birrell. But many unofficial Liberals are sanguine that the government will call the suggested conference. And it is even hinted, in some quarters, that the King himself may preside at it. The compromise which those behind the movement have in mind is believed to be a scheme in the nature of federal home rule.

Missed the Squirrel, But—

Nelson, B. C., Sept. 16.—Striking with a long steel rod at a squirrel which was on one of the poles of 20,000 volt electric current trunk lines, Peter McEachren missed the squirrel, hit the line with the pole and fell to the ground dead at Silver King mine, near Nelson. He leaves relatives at Websters Corners, P. E. I.

Will Start from France.

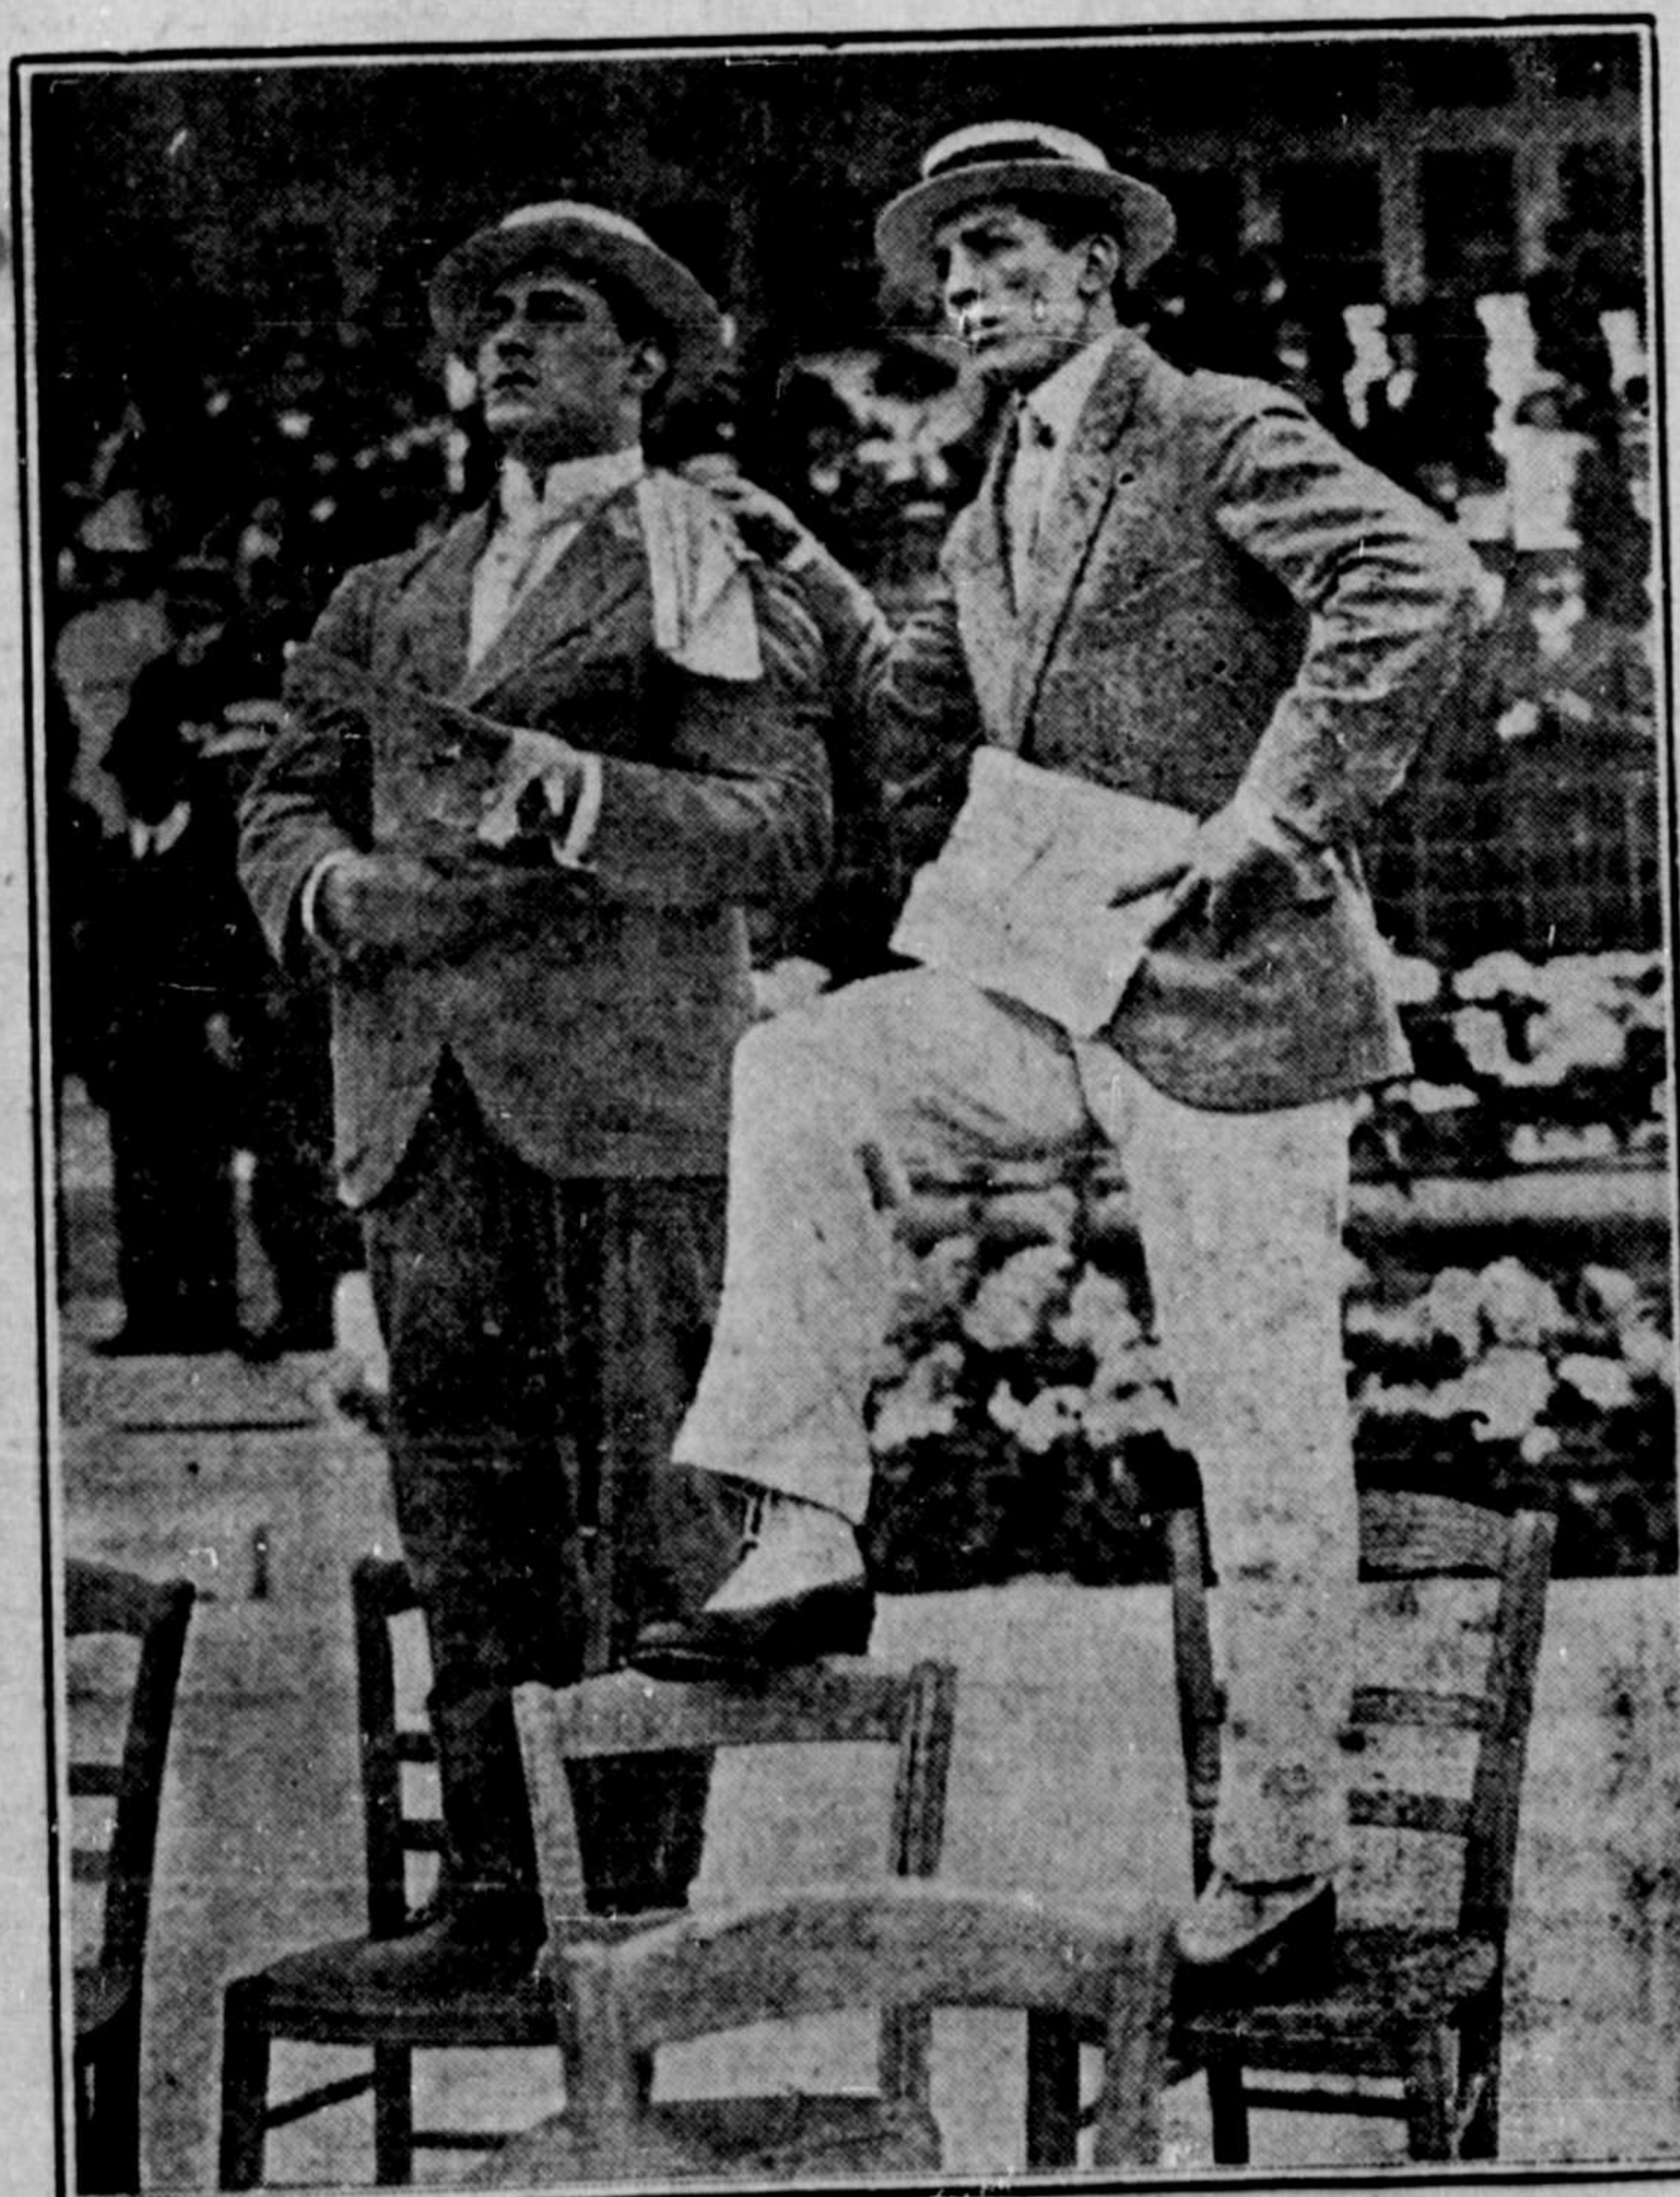

London, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, doughty leader of the militant suffragettes, now under a three year British prison sentence, will sail from Havre, France, for New York aboard the French liner La Provence, on October 14th.

ONCE when King Edward VII. paid a visit to Sheffield, all the fires in factories and plants were allowed to die out. Not a wheel in Sheffield turned for twenty-four hours. The primary object of this was to lift the pall of smoke that hovers over that wonderful steel-producing city, and to ensure, as far as man was able, a bright day and a blue sky for an auspicious occasion. It was Sheffield's expression of respect.

BUT the action was unique—it was unprecedented—it was unthought of that those hundreds of mighty furnaces, raging night and day, and those seething boilers, with quivering valves, should ever be allowed to cool. This extinguishing of fires cost Sheffield hundreds of thousands of dollars—the price of the effort to get back again to high-power efficiency.

SOME business men in Canada pay an unwitting homage, not to a king, but to a superstition—the superstition that hot weather justifies letting the fires of business energy go out. They stop Advertising in the Summer months. By paying homage to tradition, custom, superstition, they have allowed Summer to become their "dull" season. You know how dull it can be when you don't advertise. Do you know how brisk it can be made by Advertising? Do you realize how much momentum you now lose in the Summer that must be regained in the Fall?

DON'T LET YOUR ADVERTISING FIRES DIE OUT THIS SUMMER.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 508 Lumden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

GOOD REPORTS FROM SIBOLLA NEW PLACER MINING CAMP

gave out the most favorable report and said that the formation and the lay of the ground was all that could be desired in a placer camp.

The first to return were B. N. M. Hoops and George Axley, who came in yesterday evening. They went in on horses, making the trip via Moore River and Owen Lake, and returned by way of Francois Lake, which is the better of the two routes. Two days were spent by them on the creek and they state that in every pan they washed more or less gold was found and that this was also true with the other prospectors, and one man who was washing his gravel on a shovel, found a piece of coarse gold about the size of a 5-cent piece.

They arrived on the ground the same day as the rest of the advance guard of the small army of gold seekers and only remained two days, but in that time saw in the neighborhood of sixty men on the creek, which was all staked before they left, and there has been a steady stream of men going in ever since. Prospectors have already commenced to branch out on some of the tributary creeks, on one of which some gold was found and several claims were staked by Billy George and party, who, however, returned to their original stakings near Discovery and had started sinking to bedrock just before Hoops and Axley left for the return trip.

Mr. Hoops said that there had been between thirty and forty claims staked above Discovery and over twenty below, which had practically covered all the good ground along Sibolla Creek, but, he said, the country is very large and he expected to hear of further discoveries before long. He said they had a very hard trip going in as the trail was very poor and great difficulty was encountered in finding their way, but that by going in by way of Francois Lake and taking the new trail from the Nadina River there is good going all the way.

Bunches of men have been trekking in from the Bulkley all week and those who returned by way of Francois Lake say that practically all the ranches are deserted. Nearly all the old time Yukoners have stumped, nearly every man in this vicinity has had claims staked for them and the large number of free miners' certificates and powers of attorney sold at the local recorder's office testify to the general interest in the new field.—Telkwa Tribune, Sept. 13th.

INDIANS CHARGED WITH MURDER NOW IN CITY

Arrived on the Camosun This Morning in Charge of Chief Owen—To Be Taken South.

The two Indians, George Wilson and Stikine Joe, charged with wholesale murder at Kimsquit, arrived in the city this morning on the steamer Camosun in charge of Walter Owen, chief of provincial police. At the preliminary trial held at Bella Coola on Monday evidence was produced to show that there had been considerable bad feeling for years between George Wilson, one of the accused, and Charles Wilson, one of the four who were murdered. As a matter of fact, George Wilson, just returned a few weeks ago to Kimsquit after serving an eighteen months' sentence for stabbing Charles Wilson's klookch. Among the eye witnesses of the wholesale shooting was Mary Thompson, who gave evidence at the hearing. According to her testimony, George Wilson shot three of the Indians and Stikine Joe. Wilson also attempted to shoot the witness, according to her testimony, but she was fortunate enough to escape.

The prisoners were brought to Prince Rupert on account of poor boat connections between Bella Coola and Vancouver and no proper facilities for keeping them at Bella Coola. It has not yet been decided when they will be sent south.

To Judge Indian Bands.
