SPOKANE STRIKES ROCK OFF CAPE LAZO—NEW BRITISH CRUISER MAKES THIRTY-FIVE KNOTS

TWO LEADERS WHO ARE OPPOSED TO THE HOME RULE CONFERENCE

MOND SAYS NATIONALISTS WILL NEVER GIVE UP DEMAND FOR IRISH PARLIAMENT—CARSON EQUALLY FIRM ON ULSTER'S DEMANDS.

(Special to The Daily News)
London, Oct. 4.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, is opposed to any conference of the leaders of party on the home rule question because, he says, no could be effected by it. The Nationalists will not give way. He declares Ireland must have an Irish parliament and repudiates the demands that they will surrender to demands for this.
Sir Edward Carson is also opposed to the proposed conference which, it was stated, the government was going to force upon the party leaders. In his speech at Bannockburn on Thursday, Sir Edmond said:
"I know the time is coming when the men on whom I can rely will be the men who will not let the men who are to be drilled and prepared to fight. A great deal has been said in the political world about a conference and conciliation. That may be well, but until a principle has been agreed upon which is consonant with our covenant no conference will take place.

"John Redmond is at this moment dictator, not merely of Ireland, but of England and Scotland as well, and almost of the whole destiny of the Empire. We have the promise of Mr. Bonar Law and some of the best leaders of the Unionists ever had that we will have behind us the whole force of Unionist Britain. With such a promise, it is impossible to confine our battles to this country. They must be fought to a finish in England and Scotland as well as here.

"The fight will mean disaster which will break not merely Ireland, not merely Great Britain, but the whole great Empire overseas into two parties, struggling in a religious and fratricidal war just at the time when we need unity in the Empire."

DR. PRESIDENT OF MEXICO A THIRD CANDIDATE IS NAMED

GENERAL INTEREST TAKEN IN RE-CALL OF EX-PRESIDENT PORFIRIO DIAZ—AMERICAN OFFICIALS ARE MUCH PUZZLED OVER IT

Mexico City, Sept. 29.—Colonel de la Fuente, former Minister of Communications and Public Works in Gen. Huerta's cabinet, has been put forward as a presidential candidate by the so-called Liberal Republican party. This makes the third nomination for presidential honors.
Dr. Gregorio Mendizabal, a former senator, was nominated for vice-presidency with Col. de la Fuente. Both have accepted. The sphere of influence of the Liberal Republicans is confined largely to the capital. The party has no definite organization but consists chiefly of the adherents of a group of congressmen who constitute a wing of the opposition in the Chamber of Deputies. The lively interest is centered in the announcement of the recall of Gen. Porfirio Diaz.

Many appear to see a connection between the recall of Gen. Felix Diaz, the recent visit to the capital of Gen. Geronimo Trevino and the invitation of the aged ex-president to return.

Gen. Porfirio Diaz has been on the retired list for more than a year. He is in his 84th year.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Official Washington puzzled itself today over the reported recall of Mexico of Gen. Porfirio Diaz. One theory advanced was that Provisional President Huerta was endeavoring to demonstrate that tranquil conditions had returned. Another was that the former president of Mexico might throw his influence to secure the election of Federico Gamboa.

It was thought also that the return of Porfirio Diaz would insure harmony among the factions.

FISHING COMPANY TO ESTABLISH HERE

Little Fishing Company Has Decided to Locate in Prince Rupert.

Mayor Pattullo returned this morning from a week's trip to Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle. Interviewed by The News as to the object and success of his trip, he stated that he had gone to Victoria in connection with the financial and that the result of his visit would be announced in due course.

During his visit in the south Mayor Pattullo noted a very decided revival in interest in Prince Rupert. The prospects of an early completion of the railroad is attracting a great deal of attention to this city and the indications point to a considerable influx of people and capital in the course of the next six months.

In Seattle Mr. Pattullo met one of the members of a large business which intends establishing a plant here next spring. One of the members of the company left Seattle for New York the same night to make certain arrangements in connection with the matter.

MOVEMENT STARTS FOR AN EVENING SCHOOL

Plan to Give Elementary Education of Technical Character to Workers.

A movement has been started with good promise of success for an evening school for workers. It is believed the school room on Second avenue could be obtained for the present, and that there would be a good enrollment to start with.

The school is planned to give instruction to all workers, including those of the trades. And especially the latter, as it is believed that with a winter of such education as applies to their trade they would be able to demand higher salaries and thus keep pace with the higher cost of living.

These trade studies will include arithmetic, mathematics, trigonometry and geometry and drawing, and two or three gentlemen who are thoroughly capable will give elementary lessons in these and also in technical trade studies.

A public meeting to discuss the proposition has been called for 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening at the city hall.

STEAMER SPOKANE ON ROCKS BUT FLOATED THIS MORNING

STRUCK FIFTEEN MILES NORTH OF CAPE LAZO—PASSENGERS TAKEN ON THE LATOUCHE BUT LATER RETURNED TO SPOKANE.

Seattle, Oct. 4.—The steel screw steamer Spokane, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, went ashore late last night fifteen miles north of Cape Lazo. The passengers and crew took to the life boats and were picked up by the steamer Latouche, the steamer Alki of the same line standing by. All passengers are reported saved, and will arrive here today. The Spokane had one hundred and eight passengers aboard when she left Ketchikan and two more were taken aboard at Prince Rupert. She carries a crew of eighty. Her cargo was light. It is supposed she struck a rock during a heavy fog.

The steamer Spokane, which left here yesterday for the south, at half past 9 last night struck on the rocks fifteen miles north of Cape Lazo. She made water very fast and, there appearing imminent danger of her sinking, Captain White had the passengers taken off in the ship's life boats. Before they were landed ashore the steamer Latouche came along and picked them up. Later the steamer Alki arrived and stood by to render any assistance required.

Although the Spokane was far aground at 2:15 this morning she was floated. She was not so badly damaged as expected and as soon as daylight came Captain White came to the conclusion to proceed. He therefore took on the passengers from the Latouche and made sail for Seattle.

Among her passengers from Prince Rupert the Spokane had C. J. Lund and Andrew Jump.

HOSPITAL BALL LAST NIGHT WAS A BRILLIANT FUNCTION

LADIES' AUXILIARY TO BE CONGRATULATED ON WELL CONDUCTED SOCIAL EVENT—MANY STRIKING GOWNS IN EVIDENCE.

The ballroom of the St. Andrew's Society, in the Kaien Island Club building, was crowded with representative citizens last evening upon the occasion of the third annual ball of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Prince Rupert General Hospital. The walls were hung with flags and streamers, the color scheme being red and white, the hospital colors, while festoons of greenery added a pleasing variety to the decorations. The floor, which was a little heavy during the early part of the evening, limbered up after a liberal application of chalk and was in excellent condition. The music by the full Westholme orchestra was delightful, encores were demanded again and again and were most good naturedly responded to by Mr. Werner and his excellent musicians. The program consisted of eighteen dances, four extras and one extra extra, so it was close upon 3 o'clock before the strains of "God Save the King" brought this most delightful function to a close. Too much credit cannot be given to Mesdames Hubert Ward, George A. Sweet, Arnold, Besner, Mobley and the other ladies of the committee for their untiring efforts in making the dance a success.

Some exquisite toilettes were seen in the ballroom. Mrs. Arnold had a charming gown of black nylon over blue satin, with motifs of moonlight sequins.

Mrs. G. A. Sweet was very handsome in lemon colored satin with tunic of black panne velvet and shadow lace.

Mrs. Hubert Ward was much admired in a smart gown of black nylon.

Mrs. Morris had a stunning gown of white satin with tunic. (Continued on Page 4.)

TEN PEOPLE SHOT AND KILLED BY TWO DRUNKEN MULATTOES

STARTED FIRING AT EVERYONE THEY SAW—BOTH WERE FINALLY LYNCHED—NATIONAL GUARDSMEN RUSHED TO THE SCENE

Harriston, Miss., Sept. 29.—Twenty persons were injured, sixteen of them negroes. None of the negroes were dangerously hurt.

The shooting was started by Walter Jones, aged 20, in the negro quarter, when Johanna Aiken, the negress, and Thead Grayson were shot and killed. Walter then went home, aroused his eighteen-year-old brother, and together they proceeded through the main streets of the little town, firing at every one in sight.

The two boys went to the home of former Constable Frank Keinstly, and Walter Jones killed him when he responded to their call to come out.

The Yazoo & Mississippi Valley depot is near the Keinstly home, and the two negroes walked in that direction. Train conductor E. B. Appelby was standing at the station talking to Flagman W. C. Bond. Without warning the two negroes fired on them and both fell. Then the negroes killed Claude Freeman, who was waiting for a train.

AN UNWARRANTED PRONOUNCEMENT.

Sir Richard McBride leaves England tomorrow week and sets sail for home. It is to be hoped that he makes no more foolish statements to the old country papers in the meantime about the navy question, and no more loose remarks about the voters of this province. He has no warrant, for instance for asserting that British Columbians "are all to a man behind Borden" in the matter, because he knows that such is not the case. Also, it is quite known all over Canada that a large proportion of the people of British Columbia prefer a Canadian navy, and for the very good reason that in the event of its institution there would be a fleet unit on the Pacific Coast.

It suits Sir Richard to ignore the agreements arrived at by Canada and Australia in 1909, with the sanction of the British admiralty, that these two countries should in co-operation assume the task and perform the duty of guarding British interests on the Pacific Ocean. Australia has carried out what she then undertook, and Canada will do the same thing as soon as Canadians afford an opportunity to get it done by a Liberal ministry. When that time comes Sir Richard McBride will express his real sentiments in approval of what has been done.

It was quite beneath the dignity of a Canadian provincial premier to accuse the Liberal party of shirking "their obligation to undertake their share of the Empire's naval responsibilities." The Liberals of Canada are just as good Imperialists as the Conservatives are; far better, indeed, for at the last general election they fought the Quebec Nationalists, of whom Mr. Borden has taken three into his cabinet. In the debate of the Naval Service Bill of 1910 Sir Wilfrid Laurier defined the Liberal attitude on the fleet question by stating that "when Britain is at war Canada is at war," and that when the Canadian fleet is in actual naval service its vessels will be under the absolute control of the British Admiralty. Sir Richard McBride is perfectly familiar with that debate and, of course with these pronouncements.

LESSONS OF THE ULSTER REVOLT

In Ulster a standard of rebellion has been raised, and those who are organizing this desperate resistance to Home Rule boast that they have on their side some of the foremost of British generals.

If the Ulster revolt is encouraged, how long will it be before workingmen follow the Ulster example? Armed resistance to a government is either right or wrong. You cannot say that it is right for Ulster to resist, and at the same time say that it is wrong for workingmen to use arms in defence of rights which they hold as sacred as those of Ulster.

There is evidence all over the world that the most formidable conflicts of the future will be between labor and capital. A very serious responsibility is assumed by those who teach workingmen to seek redress by arms. And that is the lesson taught by Ulstermen who are taking up arms and by those who encourage them.

ADVENTURED INTO THE PERILS OF THE ARCTIC ONCE TOO OFTEN

NAVIGATOR WHO LOVED THE DANGERS OF THE NORTHERN SEAS LOSES HIS VALUABLE SCHOONER IN ICE OFF POINT BARROW.

Seattle, Sept. 29.—The four masted sailing schooner Transit, which was crushed in the Arctic ice at Point Barrow, was worth probably $75,000, though Captain John Backland, her owner and navigator, bought her for very much less several years ago. Her cargo is estimated to have cost $25,000, including supplies for trading stations in the Arctic owned by Backland.

When the Transit sailed for the north last May she carried coal and other supplies for the government schools north of Nome, taken on Backland's own account because the sundry civil bill had failed of passage by congress and the schools would have been without fuel, there being no government money to buy it for them.

Backland had acquired a fortune by trading with the Eskimos, making one voyage a year. Each spring he took supplies to the Arctic, and in the fall he returned with ivory, furs and whalebone. He was reputed the most skilful of Arctic navigators and he liked the excitement of the voyages, though he fully appreciated the peril.

During each winter, Backland gratified his love of adventure by taking the Transit to the South Seas on a trading expedition.

The power schooner Wasp, for which revenue cutters are searching in Behring Sea, left Nome for the mouth of the Kuskokwim River nearly eight weeks ago, and is believed to be lost.

Eben S. Draper Jr., son of a former governor of Massachusetts, and who is on the power schooner Polar Bear, frozen in the Arctic ice east of Point Barrow, probably will not learn until next summer of the death of his mother at Hopedale, Mass., two days ago.

LEM KEGG IS AMBITIOUS AND NOW AFTER THE BIG FIGHTERS

JACK WHITE NOW IN THE LIMELIGHT AND MAY BOX WITH JOE BAYLEY—WHITE HAS QUITE A RECORD IN THERING.

Seattle, Sept. 29.—Lem Kegg, lightweight boxer, arrived in Seattle yesterday afternoon from Prince Rupert, where he knocked out Billy Williams of Seattle in the tenth round of a fight scheduled for fifteen rounds. The match was pulled off last Thursday. A good crowd of fight fans was present and considerable money changed hands.

"I am after bigger game now," said Kegg at the Post-Intelligencer office last evening, "and would like to get a chance at Johnny O'Leary or others who have made a name in the pugilistic line."

Now that the excitement attendant upon the Ritchie-Welsh fiasco has died down, the Vancouver promoters are looking around for a couple of fighters in order to stage a season's farewell bout at the Brighthouse arena. Frank Barrieau, on account of his great showing with Leach Cross, would draw like a porous plaster at Vancouver, but because he shook the management of Chet McIntyre and placed himself under the handling of Bert Halstead, a prosperous hotelkeeper, he is in bad with the promoters and McIntyre, who is making the matches, refuses to give him a chance.

Jack White of Chicago is the latest pugilistic light on the scene and in all probability some prominent lightweight will be secured to meet him about the second week in October. There is a possibility that our own Frenchy Vaise, the present Canadian lightweight champion, may be selected, although McIntyre has also been dickering with Frankie Burns and Bud Anderson. There is also a chance that White may meet Joe Bayley at Victoria next month, as it is claimed there is a chance that the lid may be taken off the fighting game there.

White is at present one of the best lightweights in the country, although he has done most of the fighting at the featherweight limit. The only time he was knocked out was when Joe Rivers turned the trick in thirteen rounds. Rivers caught him a lucky punch in the first round and knocked White down four times and then White stuck for twelve rounds until the referee stopped the fight. White has met Johnny Kilbane four times in twelve round bouts, gaining two decisions, losing one and getting a draw for the fourth encounter. He fought a fifteen round draw with Abe Attell at Winnipeg, knocked out Frankie Conley in twelve rounds, won from Owen Moran in eight rounds and from Harry Thomas, the English scrapper in twenty rounds. White has had 150 fights in his career and was only knocked out once. His last scrap was with Johnny Dundee, who gained a hairline decision over him after twenty fast rounds at Los Angeles.

White is a clean cut little fellow. He is 23 years old and is under his own management. He is married and his wife acts as his trainer whenever he is training for a fight. He was formerly a pupil of Harry Gilmore's boxing school at Chicago, and if either Bayley or Vaise should happen to take his measure it will at once put them in the front rank of the lightweight contenders.
