WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN RIVER AT HAZELTON--FIRE INSURANCE TALKS AT SELEY BANQUET

INSURANCE REPRESENTATIVES GATHER AT FESTIVE BOARD

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER TENDERED TO F. SELEY AT THE PRINCE RUPERT INN ON SATURDAY EVENING

At the G. T. P. Inn on Saturday evening a complimentary dinner was tendered by the Prince Rupert committee of the Fire Underwriters' Association to Mr. F. Seley, who is spending a few weeks here for the purpose of making a complete report on the local conditions affecting fire insurance.

There were present representatives of all the insurance agencies in the city and representatives of the press.

Mayor Pattullo acted as toastmaster with the guest of the evening, Mr. Seley, seated at his right. When full justice had been done to the excellent repast provided by Geo. A. Sweet, upon which he was very highly complimented by several of those who were called upon to speak, Mayor Pattullo referred briefly to the satisfaction felt by all present in having Mr. Seley come to the city on a mission of such importance. On the printed menu before him there was a note that one that attempted to make a speech would be "shortly rated subject to special hazard."

There was only one exception, Mr. Seley. Under these circumstances the Mayor called upon Mr. Naden to propose a toast to the guest of the evening.

Mr. Naden briefly referred to the beneficial results of getting together on such occasions. It is a good thing once in a while to eat and drink together. It tended towards more pleasant relations in the keen competition for business. He then called upon all present to raise their glass and drink to the health of Mr. Seley, which was done most heartily.

Mr. Seley, in responding, said he regretted that he was the only exception that had been made regard to speech making as he was not a speech maker. However, in return for the splendid compliment paid him he felt that he must give something and as would not be judicious on his part to promise a reduction of rates, particularly with representatives of the press present to report the promise, he would endeavor to make a speech. He felt that he could not show his appreciation of the compliment better than a making a fair, just report on Prince Rupert. He would endeavor to make the results of his work here such that all parts of the city would get a fair and adequate rate.

At the conclusion of Mr. Seley's address the toastmaster called upon a number of those present to speak.

W. M. Law briefly referred to the advantages of such gatherings and the probable results of Mr. Seley's visit. Merchants in the city were carrying large stocks with very little insurance; serious fire under these circumstances would be a disaster. He hoped there would be a reduction of rates.

Ald. Dybbavn said that he was particularly glad to have Mr. Seley in the city at the present time on account of the new building bylaw that is being prepared. Mr. Seley had spent a good part of the day going over it and had made certain recommendations that would be considered.

M. M. Stephens spoke in a most complimentary way of Chief Macdonald, of the fire department. He had known the chief since 1898 and had seen him in two big fires in Rossland. He was not new at the game.

M. J. Hobin referred to the unavoidable absence of Cy Peck. He also drew attention to the fact that they were having perhaps the last banquet that would be held at the Inn.

During the evening a toast was heartily drunk to Chief Macdonald. In a brief speech he said that if Mr. Seley would reduce the rates he would be there with the goods when a fire occurred.

G. A. Sweet complimented the chief for his splendid work when the Inn was partially destroyed last December. Although handicapped by accidents to his men the chief had practically confined the fire to the roof.

Following brief speeches by M. P. McCaffery, J. Lorne McLaren, E. F. Doyle, Ald. Leek, F. R. C. Brown, O. H. Nelson, W. J. Raymond and D. B. Taylor, the banquet was brought to a close.

HAGWILGIT BRIDGE NEARLY COMPLETED

Engineer in Charge Adopts Novel Method of Capturing Bush Tail Rats

C. C. Perry, Indian Agent, who returned last night from a business trip to Hazelton where he was the guest of Government Agent Hoskins, reports that the new high-level bridge at Hagwilgit is almost completed. It is a suspension bridge with a 600 ft. span 250 feet high. Compared with the unique Indian bridge built from telegraph cable it is a magnificent structure.

Mr. Spencer, the engineer in charge, has had some interesting experiences with bush tail rats during his leisure hours. Having lost a couple of pairs of boots and a razor strap which were eaten up by the pests he adopted a novel way of catching them. Pieces of sticky fly paper were thrown about the floor of his cabin and when the animals got tangled up it was an easy matter to capture them.

Mr. Perry, who went to Hazelton on the train that was held up at Terrace on account of the washout, spoke in most complimentary terms of the kind treatment the passengers received at the hands of Mr. Gordon proprietor of the hotel at Terrace.

While in Hazelton he saw a number of exhibits of agricultural products that clipped anything that was sent from the Bulkley Valley to the recent Fair. When asked why these were not sent down the owners replied that they didn't think the exhibition would amount to much. Now that they have heard of the success of Prince Rupert's first fair, a greater variety of exhibits from that district is assured for next year.

Mr. Perry stated that Government Agent Hoskins has a garden adjoining the government office in which he saw vegetables that were far superior to anything shown at the fair.

EX-KING MANUEL'S WIFE SERIOUSLY ILL
The above picture was taken at Sigmaringen, where Manuel and Princess Auguste Victoria of Hohenzollern were married. They are seen standing on the steps. They proceeded from there to Munich where the Princess was taken suddenly ill and had to be rushed to a private hospital. An operation may be necessary.

RAILWAY COMPANY STARTING STAGE LINE TO THE CHISANA

ALSO GETTING HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH OF GRUB UP THE WHITE BEFORE FREEZE-UP--WHAT MANAGER DICKESON SAYS

General Manager Dickeson, of the White Pass and Yukon railway, was a passenger on the Princess Sophia, which passed through yesterday from the north and it was expected that he might have something definite in regard to the proposed branch line from Whitehorse, the end of steel on their line, to or in the direction of the new gold diggings at Chisana. Mr. Dickeson said that Mr. Close (of Close Bros., Chicago), chairman of the Board of Directors, has made a long stay in the Yukon this summer, and after the discovery at Chisana had been verified the matter had been talked over and Mr. Close had said that he would take up the matter with the board. In the meantime he had authorized the putting in of a stage line for passengers and freight from Whitehorse to the camp.

"That shows what we think of the camp," observed the general manager, and he went on to say that although a hard road in summer he believed that at comparatively small expense a good winter road could be made and in this he hoped that the government would assist.

Of course, he went on, it would take some time for the arrangements to be completed, but already work had started in the building of the necessary road houses and barns at every 25 or 35 miles of the route to Chisana, a distance of over three hundred miles. Road work could only begin after a good snowfall; then they hoped to have as good a road as that of the winter road to Dawson, and it would be of practically the same length.

But they had already made arrangements to land before freeze up some $100,000 worth of supplies up the White River, which would be taken in over the frozen ice by that way. So there would be no need to raise the cry of famine in the camp.

As to the richness of the camp itself Mr. Dickeson said it was too soon to judge, as but comparatively little work had been done. He understood, however, that at least $30,000 had already been taken out. This was from two creeks only, Little Eldorado and Bonanza, and considering the very short time sluicing had been in operation this was exceedingly encouraging. The gold taken out was coarse in character and similar to that of Eldorado in the Yukon in the early days.

TIM HEALY ATTACKS METHODS OF LABOR AGITATOR LARKIN

STATEMENT MADE AT DUBLIN COURT BY A LEADING NATIONALIST--LANCASHIRE COTTON MILL OWNERS DENOANCED ON BIG LOCKOUT SOON

London, Oct. 2.—Timothy Healy, M.P., made an attack yesterday on the methods of James Larkin, in stating a case for the masters at Sir George Askwith's court of inquiry into the Dublin labor war. In the last five years he said, Dublin had been subjected to more strikes than during its entire existence as a capital. The strikes had been brought about by methods which made trade unionists ashamed and the masters would be forced to combine to preserve what little was left of the wreck of trade and commerce in Dublin.

Larkin, he said, acted the part of Napoleon. His men obeyed him as implicitly as the French soldiers obeyed their emperor, and it was that that brought about these strikes. All employers had been the subject of Larkin's attacks and humbled masters had worn out their marrow bones kneeling at his shrine.

The present condition of affairs, he said in conclusion, was as finished a system of tyranny as had ever been started in any country, except, perhaps, the "Reign of Terror" in Paris. In fact, he did not know of any reign of terror so complete as this present one.

Events seem to be moving rapidly toward a grave industrial crisis. "It may," says the Times "be postponed for a time, but recent indications forbid the hope that it can be altogether averted and signs pointing to a speedy development are increasing. One of the most ominous is the fact that yesterday the master cotton spinners' confederation decided to close all their spinning mills from October 25 until the dispute now in progress at one mill in Bolton is settled. This dispute has nothing to do with wages or other standing conditions. It is the result of a demand on the part of the spinners that an overseer, to whom they object, should be discharged.

Chief Walter Owen of the Provincial Police left this morning for New Westminster, having in charge Wm. Brown sentenced to ten years and ten lashes for a serious criminal offence.

AN EARLY MORNING CHURCH WEDDING

H. H. D. Hemmel of the Union Bank Claimed as a Bride a Popular Young Lady

At St. Andrew's church this morning at 7 o'clock Mr. H. H. D. Hemmel, accountant in the Union Bank, claimed as a bride one of Prince Rupert's most popular and accomplished young ladies, Miss Laura Jean Holby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Holby. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Rix.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father was most becomingly attired in a Royal blue travelling suit with Bulgarian trimmings and hat to match. She carried a beautiful bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. O'Neil, the bride's sister, acted as matron of honor, attired in a pretty suit of navy blue with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of carnations. Mr. Lionel Holby, brother of the bride, assisted the groom. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, only a few invited guests being present. The bride was the recipient of many handsome wedding gifts, among which was a cut glass vase from the choir of St. Andrew's church of which she was a member. Mr. and Mrs. Hemmel left for the south on the 9 o'clock boat on a honeymoon trip to the lower coast cities. There was a large gathering of their friends at the wharf to extend congratulations and good wishes. As the boat pulled out the happy couple were showered with rice and a regular fusillade of old shoes. Three hearty cheers were given them. They expect to return in two or three weeks.

LEFT FOR VICTORIA

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. McLeod Take Their Departure from the City

Rev. W. H. McLeod and family left by the ss. Prince Rupert this morning for Victoria, where Mr. McLeod will engage in the study of law. The remains of their infant daughter, who died a week ago, were also taken on the same boat for interment at Victoria. The departure of Rev. Mr. McLeod, who filled the position of pastor of the Baptist congregation here for the past three years, is regretted by the congregation generally as well as by the members of all other denominations. He will be particularly missed by the young men of the city as he always took an active interest in athletics.

Change of Ownership

Jas. Currie of Knott's bakery, and W. Purvis Garnet, an employee of Clifton's bakery, have purchased the latter business which it is their intention to conduct along improved lines. Both being experienced men they should have no difficulty in retaining all of the old customers of Clifton's bakery and will likely add materially to its patronage.

FISHING SCHOONER HAD STRENUOUS TRIP

Could Not Move For Nine Days—Lost Nearly All Her Sails—Catch Nearly Nil

The fishing schooner Albert Meyer which went to northern waters some weeks ago to engage in cod fishing arrived in port last night about midnight. She was towed in by the James Carruthers. On account of bad weather the schooner had a most unsatisfactory trip, being able to fish only three days. The catch is therefore practically nil. For nine days the schooner was anchored about 500 miles west of Rupert, unable to move on account of the storm. She lost practically all of her sails. The schooner has been out about two months. Capt. Dan Martin was in charge with a crew of about forty.

Those not registered before five o'clock this afternoon will not be able to get on the lists until next May, and meantime the Conservatives may spring a provincial election upon us. Register at once at the office of the government agent.

DISAPPEARED IN THE NIGHT, BODY IS FOUND IN THE RIVER

HAZELTON WOMAN SUPPOSED TO HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE—BODY WAS FOUND FIVE MILES UP RIVER

News reached the city last night of what is apparently a sad suicide case at Hazelton. On Friday night Fritz Harris, a half breed and his wife, Louisa Harris, retired at their usual hour. He awakened about two o'clock in the morning and was somewhat surprised to find that his wife was not beside him. On making enquiries from the children one of them said that the mother had told them the previous day that she would not be with them very long. Fritz immediately started out to search for his wife and although he kept up the search till daylight no trace of her could be found. The police were notified Saturday morning and search parties started out in all directions. About eleven o'clock that night word reached Hazelton that the body had been found in the river at Glenowel, five miles above Hazelton. Government Agent Hoskins and Dr. Winch, coroner, went to Glenowel Sunday morning to arrange for an inquest today. It is believed that the woman's rash act was the result of worry over a criminal case pending of which she was supposed to be the victim.

DEATH OF JOHN DOYLE

Received Fatal Injuries on Way from Here to Chisana

News was received on Saturday evening of the death of John Doyle at Skagway. He left here in fine health bound for Chisana. Shortly before reaching Skagway he accidentally fell down a hatch, breaking his collar bone, and fracturing a rib. As soon as the boat touched Moore's wharf he was removed to the excellent hospital at Skagway and received every attention. But he never fairly rallied from the shock and in a couple of days passed away.

"Johnny" came here early last year because he had become largely interested in Graham Island oil lands. Meantime he attended bar at the Windsor and later at the Savoy. He was among the best known Klondikers here, as he had been proprietor of two hotels in Dawson.

MURDERED FOR Pelf

SUSTAINED PAINFUL INJURIES

Workman on Terminal Excavation Had Leg Broken and Ankle Crushed

About six o'clock on Saturday evening Gus Bolin was the victim of a painful accident while working in the excavation near the temporary G. T. P. engine shed. A large rock fell on him causing a crushed ankle and a fractured leg. He was immediately taken to the hospital. Today it was reported that he is progressing as well as can be expected.

Celebration at Smithers

The arrival of the first passenger train at Smithers on Saturday evening was the occasion of quite a celebration. Mr. Armstrong, the train agent, on his return last night reports great activity in the new divisional point. Quite a large number of buildings are going up and every thing points to a busy winter.

MOVIES INVADING THE LEGITIMATE.

The Pollard company played a successful engagement here because it was a good company and also because it was a change from the "movies," which are well attended every night at all three theatres. But it is becoming more and more apparent from outside newspapers that the motion picture business has turned the art of playwriting upside down, and robbed the stage of a large per cent. of its capital stock by the bodily appropriation of the Villian in Search of the Papers, the Unfortunate Maiden Nicked of Her Inheritance, and the Hero Who Throws the Villian Over the Precipice. It has also taken the Stage Snow Storm and left only the Stage Thunder because it was impossible to make a picture of it. The movies have even appropriated Eliza and the wonderful ice scene, with the Thrilling Pursuit of the Bloodhounds, and the Cruel Overseer in the Distance. Instead of paying twenty and thirty for this kind of recreation, as formerly, the tired worker of the larger cities may now absorb it for five and ten, going home with his eye full instead of a gorged ear.

The stage has been driven to desperate expedients to preserve its high position in human affairs. Well knowing that it is impossible to take a clear negative of a moral problem, the playwrights have burned the midnight oil on problem and morality plays, so that the devotees of the old regime may still have their feelings harrowed among the old familiar surroundings.

Musical comedy, vaudeville and grand opera, of course, have remained undisturbed through all the changes and chances of this mortal life but whenever Edison gets his phonograph in satisfying correlation with the moving figures on the screen the day of special trains for operatic stars and five dollar seats will have passed forever.

SAYS CARSON IS SUPPLYING NEWSPAPERS WITH SILLY SEASON COPY WHICH RIVALS SEA SERPENT STORIES, AND IS ALL A BLUFF

Carciveen, Ireland, Sept. 29.—"Sir Edward Carson and his friends have supplied the newspapers with amusing silly season copy which has made the sea serpent pale into insignificance," said John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, replying to an address of welcome here today.

The Ulster provisional government, he declared, would require many millions of capital, would cut itself off from the imperial government and the Irish government from old age pensions and the benefits of the insurance act, from imperial aid for education, agriculture and public works, from the operations of the housing and land purchase acts, and from the post office. No merchant could draw a legal check, give a legal receipt or recover a debt outside of Ulster.

"The whole thing is a gigantic and preposterous absurdity," he exclaimed. "It is meant merely the English people are not fools or cowards. They won't be humbugged by talk about provisional governments, nor intimidated by the wooden muskets of Ulster."

In a second speech, Mr. Redmond declared that the home rulers had been silent, law abiding and orderly, while their opponents had been shrieking and boasting of illegality and inciting to riot and bloodshed.

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—Physicians who examined Ralph Rose, at the Central Emergency Hospital yesterday discovered that his heart was on the wrong side of his body forced there by an attack of pleurisy. IS GOING TO GREENVILLE
Popular Pastor Transferred to the Naas for Winter Months

General regret will follow the announcement made by Bishop Du Vernet of the Church of England that Rev. William Crarey, rector of St. Mark's church, is to be transferred for the next five months to the Greenville Indian Mission on the Naas river. He is to take over the work founded there by Rev. Mr. McCullough, who will proceed to Aiyansh. Rev. Mr. Crarey and his wife returned on the Thursday boat from Prince Rupert where they have been attending the Anglican Synod of that diocese, and are busily engaged in packing up their furniture pending the arrival of the "Northern Cross," the mission boat, to take them to Kincolith, en route to their future residence. They expect to return to Stewart in spring, and meanwhile St. Mark's and the rectory will be closed. Rev. Mr. Crarey has resided here for a little over a year, coming to Stewart from Dawson, and through his many ways made himself very popular with the congregation and the public generally, and both he and Mrs. Crarey will be greatly missed by their many friends.—Portland Canal Miner.

TRAGICAL DEATH OF A POPULAR NEWSPAPER MAN AT VANCOUVER

GENIAL "BILL" HARKIN WAS WELL KNOWN TO LEADING MEN OF THE PROVINCE AND ALSO ALL OVER THE COUNTRY

In the tragic death of William A. Harkin not only the Dominion at large suffered but the Province has lost its brightest and ablest newspaperman. He was probably the most esteemed member of the Fourth Estate in Canada, and had a wide range of personal acquaintances from Halifax to Victoria acquired during a period of thirty years in harness. There are many in this camp who knew Billy Harkin and loved him for his sterling worth, kind heartedness and generosity. To The Miner his death is a personal loss as Billy was one of the best pals the writer ever had, a friendship that commenced in the early days of the Boundary, a section of the province that owes much in its upbuilding to Harkin's versatile pen. "Thirty" has been written to the life's work of one of Nature's best men and we can do no better than add "God rest his soul."

L'Envoi.

The Daily Province has sustained a severe loss by the death of William A. Harkin. He was unrivalled in his line and there is not a distinguished man in Canada today who will not feel the loss of a personal friend. But William Harkin was something more than a fine reporter. He was a great hearted man, ever ready to encourage and help those who failed to "make good" in the battle of life. To the victor or the vanquished he was a friend. To him success or failure appealed equally. He never spoke an ill word of any man, but always found the good and enlarged on it.

But among newspapermen, his colleagues for so many years, will his loss be felt most keenly.

Throughout the storm and stress of more than a quarter of a century spent in the varied activities of newspaper life, with which human destiny is so indissolubly interwoven, he was the same good natured, affable, keen, enthusiastic Harkin as when, back in the early eighties, he joined the staff of the Montreal Star.

The elder of his colleagues know full well what this means. There is nothing so persistent and so relentless as news; nothing that comes more quickly or goes sooner, lasting but a moment, then becoming a settled fact—no longer news. A day in a newspaper office has no beginning nor end, for before the click of the type ceases, the thunder of the press begins, and before that is silent the metallic music of the type resumes.

Yet this is but a glimpse at the ceaseless demands of the modern newspaper makes on its devotees. It is the mirror of life with the whole world as its field. And this is the Fourth Estate which William A. Harkin adorned. Of late years he preferred the outside work in preference to the desk, and in this capacity he has interviewed almost every notable man in the financial, commercial and industrial life of Canada. As an interviewer it has been said that he had no equal in the Dominion. Never, within the knowledge of those who knew him best, did he ever violate a confidence, although after he had been given the liberty to publish the information with which he was entrusted, he often admitted that he had it days before.—Portland Canal Miner.

HIGH PRAISE FOR THE MANAGERS OF FAIR

Editorial Comment Made in the Portland Canal Miner—General Review of Exhibition—Some Suggestions

The Miner, on behalf of the many local members of the Northern British Columbia Agricultural and Industrial Association, as well as the several exhibitors and visitors from Stewart, offers its secretary and manager, L. Bullock-Webster, most hearty congratulations on the success attained at the recent fair.

Mr. Bullock-Webster worked in season and out from the very inception of the idea of holding a fall fair in Northern British Columbia. The results surpassed the most sanguine expectations of both the residents of Prince Rupert and the thousands of visitors. It was an eye-opener of the great potential wealth of the undeveloped north. The mineral display alone was equal, in the matter of diversity of commercial ores, to anything heretofore seen in the province. There was shown such an abundance of vegetables, grains, fruits, etc., that necessitated the erection on the eve of the exhibition of three overflow tents alone. The fisheries exhibit, while small, showed what the north is capable of producing in that direction, and the other departments that filled the big industrial hall and adjoining buildings and tents spoke eloquently of the interest taken throughout the district covered by the association. Mr. Bullock-Webster was fortunately surrounded by a group of loyal and hard working directors, who with him share the honors of making the exhibition the big success it was. We all hope that it is the start of an annual event that in the years to come will equal anything of a similar nature held in the province.

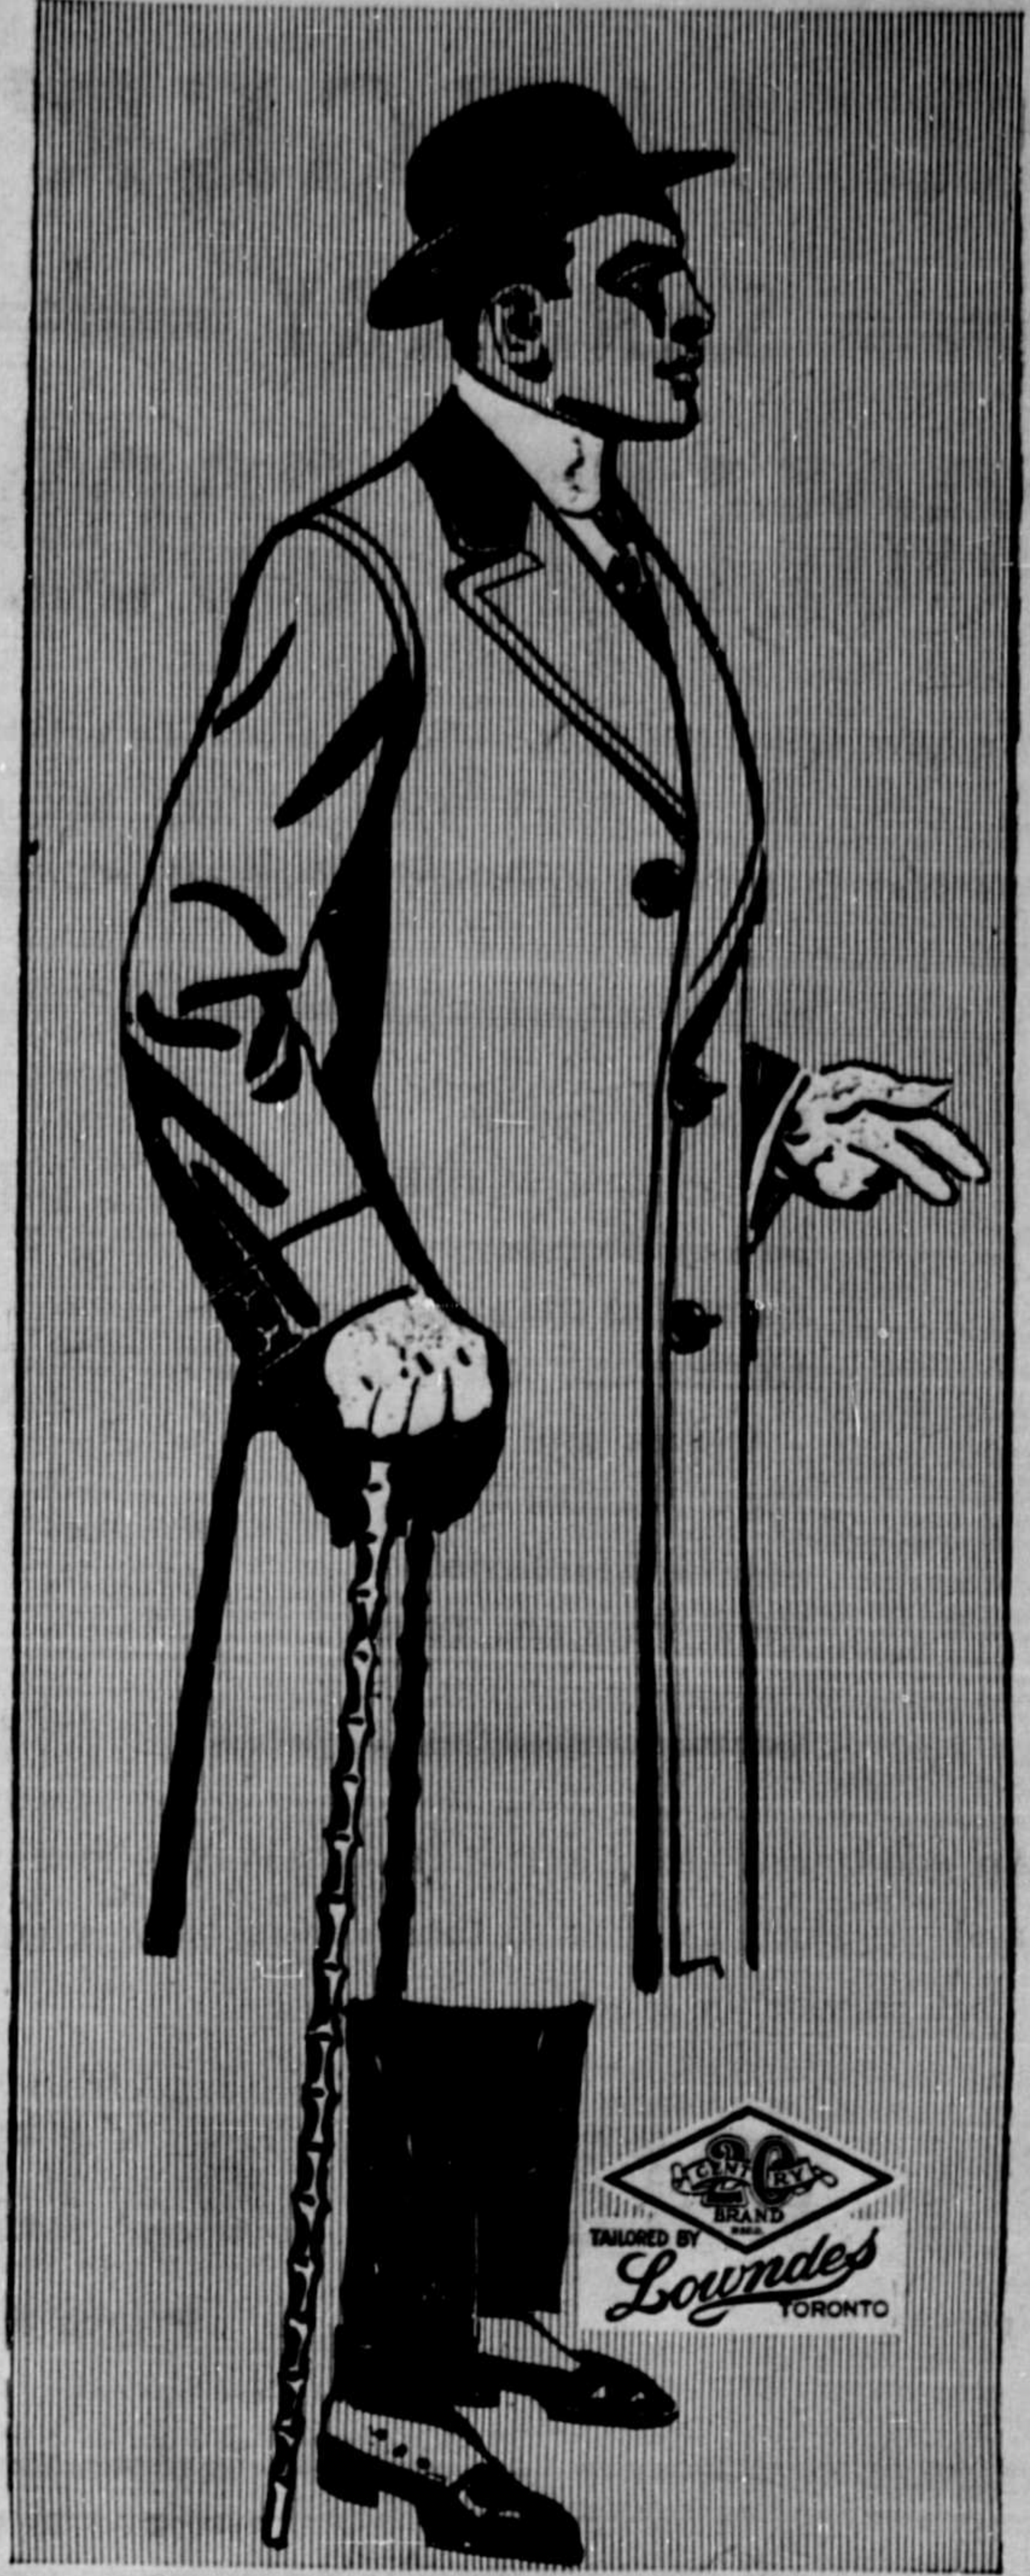

CANADA WILL SHOW AT PANAMA EXHIBITION

Though British Manufacturers Decline, Canada Will Be Well Represented.

Whatever Great Britain decides as to the San Francisco exhibition, Canada is determined to be well represented, for, in the opinion of the Toronto Globe, it would be the outcome of unenlightened small mindedness on the part of the people of this country to hold aloof from such a function. The writer adds:

"It is true that the special exemption of American coastwise commerce passing through the canal from the payment of tolls has disagreeably surprised British people in Canada as well as in the other country, but it has had the same effect on a large proportion, if not the majority, of the people of the United States. Many of the foremost statesmen of that country have protested in no measured terms against the objectionable legislation, but some equitable solution of the matter will probably yet be found, and this outcome will be made none the less likely by the cheerful participation of Canada in the exhibition.

It is to be regretted that a different attitude has been taken up by the British government and those who might under other circumstances have been exhibitors. While there is no warrant for the assumption that the government acted from any unworthy motive or in the petty spirit, it would have given pleasure to Canadians as well as Americans to see a creditable display under the aegis of the Union Jack. The real explanation of what has taken place is probably the fact that, owing to the very high customs duties on imported goods, it is practically useless for British manufacturers to go to the expense of taking this method of advertising wares that are virtually barred from the American market. Apparently this is the effect produced on European manufacturers generally, but Canadians have special reasons for overlooking such a condition. Moreover, it is already quite certain that the duties on many articles will be lowered very greatly in the customs schedules now under preparation, and before the exhibition is thrown open a great change may have already taken place in commercial conditions."

NOTES FROM STEWART.

Harry Avison, who went from here to the Shushanna gold strike, is back in Prince Rupert with the report that the camp appears to have good prospects, but there is already a big shortage of food. He will return next March to the northern camp.

Captain John Irving, after visiting at Atlin, is now en route to his home in Victoria. The captain is most optimistic over the prospects of capital entering this district at an early date.

The Thursday's boat brought back a large crowd of returning Stewartites who have been taking in the first Prince Rupert exhibition. They were unanimous in declaring the big fair a success and were highly delighted with the creditable showing made by the camp in the mineral department.

T. J. Vaughan-Rhys, who had charge of the Stewart exhibit of ores at the Prince Rupert fair, was the recipient of many congratulations for his good work at the exhibition last week.

William Crawford of the Portland Canal Transfer Company is back from a flying visit to Vancouver.

John Fitzgerald who is now in the south has applied to the Gold Commissioner for twenty year leases on six placer claims on Nelson Creek.

George Bruggy, whose collection of prospector's ore specimens captured the first prize at Prince Rupert fair returned on the Thursday boat. After spending two days in the neighboring city he went on to Vancouver and Victoria.—Portland Canal Miner.

Col. Lowther Leaves Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Col. H. G. Lowther, military secretary to the Duke of Connaught, left yesterday en route for England, where he will rejoin his regiment. Col. Lowther has been exceedingly popular in Ottawa and a dinner in his honor was attended by Premier Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier and other prominent people.

The Hand That Moves The Lever Saves 162-3 Per Cent. of Your Coal Bill

Here is the opportunity for the housewife to deal the high cost of living question a hard jolt without any effort on her part.

The way is to make sure that her new range is controlled by a Gurney Economizer, which will save 1 ton of coal in every 6 burned in an ordinary range.

The Economizer is to the stove what the control lever is to the engine or automobile. Without control neither is efficient.

With the Gurney Economizer it is possible to quickly vary the heat of the oven. Various foods require different temperatures. The Economizer keeps this desired temperature absolutely uniform.

It also means that when cooking is over, you may have a cool kitchen and still have your fire going—while you can have the fiercest heat in a few minutes by a slight pressure on the lever.

If you possess a Gurney-Oxford your advantages are innumerable. The Divided Flue means heat for every hole on the stove. The New Special Grate guards the lowest fire. The Broiler exposes every inch of the coals.

These features are exclusively "Gurney-Oxford."

It will furnish your kitchen handsomely—it will do your work adequately.

JOHN REDMOND AND WHAT ULSTER PAYS

Leading Belfast Newspaper Gives Nationalist Leader Figures to Ponder Over. It is easy to understand why Mr. Redmond and his fellow Irish Nationalists disloyalists want to have Ulster forced into submission to their proposed Irish parliament. Ulster contains 1,581,000 people, the rest of Ireland 2,810,000. The taxation value of Ulster is £5,521,000 and that of the rest of Ireland £10,092,000. Ulster has 35 per cent. of Ireland's population and 35 per cent. of Ireland's valuation. Belfast alone pays one-half of all Irish taxation, does 70 per cent. of all Irish export trade and has one-half of all foreign shipping trade from Ireland. Ulster produces 48 per cent. of all Irish oats, 41 per cent. of potatoes, 53 per cent. of fruit, and 99 per cent. of flax. The customs duty paid in Ireland in 1911-12 was: Ulster, £2,273,000; the rest of Ireland, £914,000. The poor rate in Ulster is 10 1/2 d in the £1, in Connaught 1s 4 1/2 d, in Leinster 1s 6 1/2 d and in Munster 1s 11 1/2 d. Agricultural laborers' wages are higher in Ulster than in any other province, and Ulster contains the largest linen manufacturing concern in the world, the largest single flax spinning industry, the largest firm of linen thread, twine and netting manufacturers, the largest number of important linen concerns, the largest rope and cable works, the largest shipbuilding firm, the largest single tobacco works, the largest distillery and scores of other concerns which have gained for the province a foremost place in the story of the world's work. And the majority of the business and working men of Ulster are prepared to fight rather than submit to Irish Nationalist misrule.

KAID HARRY McLEAN CAPTURED BY CUPID

Hero of Moroccan War Married to Daughter of General Sir Harry Prendergast. London, Oct. 2.—Kaid Sir H. McLean, once captured by Raisuli, was married yesterday to Miss Ella Prendergast, at All Saints' Church, Norfolk Square. After the ceremony the bride's mother held a reception at the Alexandra Hotel. Then the couple went for a tour of the Highlands in a motor car, which was the gift of the bridegroom to the bride. Sir Harry won fame as organizer of the Moroccan army and six years ago was captured by Raisula, the notorious Moroccan bandit, while he was negotiating the pardon for the tribesmen with the Sultan. He had come from Fez, with gifts for the bandit and had reached Elknes, in the heart of a wild district, three days' march from Tangier, when Raisula's men took him prisoner. He was released later on the payment by the British government of $100,000, a sum which Raisuli was later persuaded to return.
