WILL FULLY DISCUSS THE DUBLIN STRIKE

National Trades Union Congress Called for Discussion of the Situation December 9.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Nov. 20.—The parliamentary committee of the Trades Union Congress has decided to call a national congress to deal with the Dublin labor situation on December 9th. The delay of three weeks is due to a belief that the government may in the meantime induce the employers to yield to the men's demands. The delay signifies the triumph of the older labor leaders over what are termed "hotheads."

HERSCHEL ISLAND MOUNTED POLICE POST IS ABANDONED

ALL CHANCE OF POLICE GETTING IN TOUCH WITH STEFANSSON EXPEDITION THEREFORE DISSIPATED — THE LONG MUSH FROM DAWSON

(Special to The Daily News.)
Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The mounted police post on Herschel Island at the mouth of the Mackenzie river, will have to be abandoned this winter and the detachment there of four men and five dogs will be compelled to drop back to Fort McPherson. This is owing to the fact that the steamer Belvedere, which sailed from Nome last July with provisions for Herschel, never reached its destination. It is feared the vessel met with disaster or was frozen in the ice. Efforts are still being made to locate the missing vessel. The post on the island having to be abandoned, all chance of the police getting into touch with the Stefansson party is dissipated. The Dawson patrol will leave Dawson for Fort McPherson on Christmas Day, with dog teams to carry the mails. They will make a stay at the fort of ten days only, but it is scarcely probable under the circumstances that they will be able to communicate with the Stefansson expedition. The patrol on the return trip will reach Dawson some time in March.

WILD MAN AT GRANBY SUPPOSED TO HAVE COME FROM RUPERT

HIS NAME WAS FOUND TO BE GEORGE JOHNSON — CLOTHES FOUND ON BEACH WHERE BODY WAS FLOATING

(Special Correspondence.)
Anxox, Nov. 19.—Further information has been obtained in connection with the body of the man found in the water near Granby. At the enquiry touching his death held on Monday at Anxox, it was found that the deceased's name was G. Johnson. There is a story circulating that he had been let out of Prince Rupert jail, where he had been confined for peddling liquor to Indians, just before coming to Granby, but this story has not been confirmed. At any rate he was stowed away on the Prince Rupert, and was landed here on the 9th inst. He seems to have wandered about in the woods for several days in the dreaching rains, after drinking heavily and then took off his clothes to dry them. Apparently he laid himself down on the beach and died. His body was found head downwards, floating on the ebbing tide and his clothes were discovered higher up on the beach. His appearance is that of a foreigner, possibly of German Jewish extraction, age about 30 years, hair dark. He was of medium height, and his knees and feet were terribly cut up, owing to his shoes having worn through, in spite of which he continued to move around in the woods and on the beach. His body looked as if it had been previously well nourished, and deceased had apparently taken good care of himself. The remains were buried yesterday, Rev. J. C. Andrew conducting the service.

Dictator Huerta Compares Himself to First Napoleon

To Justify His Arbitrary Dissolution of Old Congress---Great Britain Has Ordered the Bermuda Squadron to Mexico---New Congress Opens Today

(Special to The Daily News.)
Washington, Nov. 20.—President Wilson's negotiations with Carranza, the leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, have been broken off short. It is reported here that the rupture of these negotiations was not due, as has been stated to Carranza demanding the credentials of Mr. Hale, President Wilson's special envoy, but because Carranza refused to answer certain questions put to him by Hale. This is putting the boot on the other leg.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Mexico City, Nov. 20.—General Huerta has prepared his message to Congress, which is called for this afternoon. In it he will quote Napoleon in justification of his course in the arbitrary dissolution of the old congress, and he serves notice that he asks and expects the new congress to give him a clear political bill of health.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Ottawa, Nov. 20.—No confirmation of the report that Deputy Minister of Labor Acland has settled the miners' strike at Nanaimo has yet been received either at the department of labor or by J. C. Walters, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. It is understood, however, that there are good hopes of a permanent settlement being effected. Advice received here are to the effect that more men are returning to work daily and that the mines are being worked to almost capacity.

Called Down for Being Dilatory

Dr. Robertson Not Completed Report of Education Commission Started Three Years Ago

(Special to The Daily News.)
Ottawa, Nov. 20.—It is stated that Dr. J. W. Robertson has not yet completed the report of the commission appointed by the late government in 1910 to inquire into the question of technical education and that Hon. T. W. Crothers has sent an ultimatum to Dr. Robertson in regard to the matter. Up to date the commission has cost a hundred thousand dollars and Dr. Robertson has drawn a salary of four hundred dollars per month right along.

Militants' New Dodge

"No Rent" Crusade Is Next Stunt They Will Put On.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Nov. 20.—Interviewed after her speech from a window in a shabby house in the West End, Sylvia Pankhurst, who is now a fugitive from justice, refusing to leave her room, where she alone is safe, according to the provisions of the Cat and Mouse act, declared that a "No Rent Strike" will prove the most effective method of obtaining the vote for women.

Home Rulers to Arm

Dublin to Have an Organization Similar to Ulster.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Dublin, Nov. 20.—A movement is under way to form Nationalist volunteer forces, on the same lines as Sir Edward Carson organized the Ulster forces, to uphold the dignity of the Crown government in the event of there being trouble in passing the Irish home rule bill to embrace all Ireland.

He died from a fractured skull an hour later. Dr. Ross was pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church in Montreal and professor in the Presbyterian College there.

Nanaimo Strike May Have Been Settled

Report That Deputy Minister of Labor Acland Had Settled It Not Yet Confirmed.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Ottawa, Nov. 20.—No confirmation of the report that Deputy Minister of Labor Acland has settled the miners' strike at Nanaimo has yet been received either at the department of labor or by J. C. Walters, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. It is understood, however, that there are good hopes of a permanent settlement being effected. #### Grand Trunk Pacific and the Government Unable to Agree

Price to be Paid Government for Barrack Property at Calgary to be Used for the Railway Company's Terminal

Calgary, Nov. 17.—A hearing is now being held in the council chamber, before Mr. Justice Audette, of Ottawa, for the purpose of fixing the value of the barracks property. The G. T. P. has negotiated for some time with the government for this property, with a view to using it for its Calgary terminal, but failing to agree on its value, Justice Audette of the Exchequer Court was appointed by virtue of a minute in council, to examine witnesses and report. It is not a sitting of the exchequer court itself. Justice Audette is sitting as an independent valuator.

There is considerable difference of opinion between the government and the railway company as to the value of his property. The company offers $150,000 for the 30 odd acres desired. The government does not think this enough. There is a spread of about $20,000 between the amount asked and the amount offered. If the company refuses to accept the finding of the judge there is no further appeal and the property still remains with the crown. This would mean that the G. T. P. would have to either pay the sum fixed in the judgment or look elsewhere for a station site. A number of witnesses were examined yesterday, including City Assessor Wallace, who estimated the value of the property in 1906, when negotiations began to have been $5,000 an acre. J. K. Lee, a real estate agent, estimated that in 1906 the property was worth approximately $148,000. In 1911, it was worth, the witness thought, from $450,000 to $475,000.

Urging Canada to Purchase Point Roberts from America

Vancouver Board of Trade to Approach the Dominion Government on Subject—American Fishery Men Liable to Raise Objections.

That little point of land known as Point Roberts, about eight square miles in extent, which has for years been more or less a bone of contention, commercially, between the United States and Canada, is once again in the limelight, the Vancouver Board of Trade recently deciding to consider taking up with the Dominion government its purchase. The feeling was voiced by Mr. T. E. Julian, proposer of the resolution to purchase, that a much better way to keep peace between the nations was instead of celebrating centenaries by building monuments and having dinners, speech making, etc., to remove such things as had, or would, cause friction.

Point Roberts, said Mr. Julian, was such a thing, and it has caused continual friction for the reason that it is the place where the cannerymen of Washington have their fishtraps. Point Roberts is a small island and through it, cutting off about eight square miles of its end, passes the 49th parallel. Mr. Julian proposed that Canada either purchase this land or that it trade for it an island in the Strait of Georgia. Point Roberts, he explained, was worth nothing to the United States as a nation, though admitting its commercial value to the cannerymen.

DAILY EDITION  Thursday, Nov. 20, 1913

THE PASSING OF FATHER DUNCAN

It will be seen from an article in this issue that the Indians of New Metlakatla are proving themselves an ungrateful lot and that the United States government is backing them up in their ingratitude. After devoting the best part of his life to their intellectual growth and their material welfare, Father Duncan is to be incontinentally shelved. Everyone who reads this will feel deeply grieved.

Father Duncan, a young graduate from Dublin University, came out to this part of the province as a missionary and for some years labored among the Indians of the Skeena and the interior. Fifty-seven years ago he started a mission of his own across Prince Rupert harbor, and labored there for thirty years. By that time his plans for the advancement of the Indians had matured and he felt his efforts were being cribbed, cabined and confined by the red tape of the Canadian government. Then he applied to the United States government and they gave him for his purpose Annette Island. What the result has been is history.

Separated entirely from contaminating white influences, his community at New Metlakatla has prospered in a wonderful degree. The church and educational buildings, the workshops and the cozy homes and gardens from such a complete scene of community prosperity as is rarely if ever seen. In all books of tourist travel to the north New Metlakatla has for years held a foremost place as one of the show places of Southeastern Alaska. The trained carpenters and other workmen he has turned out from his schools are welcomed by employers everywhere along the coast. They are so sober and steady, so courteous and such masters of their tools that they are often preferred to whites at such large places as the Treadwell mines. How does this compare with Old Metlakatla or any other of the Canadian agencies, many of whom may have had missionary ministrations for a similar length of time?

Yet these Indians who owe all they know of advancement to Father Duncan would now thrust him on one side like a squeezed orange. He is in his eighty-fourth year and has devoted fifty-seven of these years to the spiritual and intellectual growth of these Indians. Fifty-seven years of self-sacrifice and devotion altogether ignored. It is a pity and a shame. They might have bottled up their ambitious impatience for but a little while, and permitted him to end his labors where he started them, beloved and revered by all thinking people.

THAT LITTLE RIFT WITHIN THE LUTE.

The Medicine Hat, Times sternly rebukes Hon. Dr. Roche, minister of the interior, for spending his time making election speeches in support of the Roblin government instead of in the administration of his department. The Times, being a Conservative paper, does not so greatly object to Dr. Roche speaking for the Roblin government, though that political offence alone should be bad enough, but it believes that there is much of unfinished business in the department to keep any administrator busy most of the time.

For instance, not very long ago Dr. Roche visited Medicine Hat and other points in the west and at the Hat and elsewhere was waited upon by delegations who urged a rebate of pre-emption duties. The usual departmental consideration was promised. Months elapsed and no action has been taken. "This conduct is apt to injure the interests of the Conservative party, which we all hold very close to our hearths."

That is straight talk from a Conservative paper. The Times closes its editorial with the wise saying that, "We do not believe in federal cabinet ministers busying themselves with provincial elections anyway. They should attend to their own work of administering their departments."

How about the Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of the interior and election agent in chief?

GROWING ANTAGONISM BETWEEN NATIONALISTS AND LABORITES

TRADE UNION CONGRESS TO DISCUSS THE DUBLIN SITUATION WITH LARKIN—REDMOND WARNED NOT TO ANTAGONIZE VOTE OF WORKINGMEN.

London, Nov. 17.—James Larkin's invasion of the English labor world, which began at Manchester yesterday, is chiefly notable for his ecstatic exclamation "Damn the British Empire," and his sneers at the British labor leaders. The critical moment will come tomorrow when the Trade Union Congress will meet to discuss the Dublin situation with Larkin and the deputation from the Dublin Trades Council. The English leaders are using all their influence to discourage sympathetic English strikes, as they are bound to end in anarchy and disaster to labor's best interests.

All the same, the growing antagonism between the Nationalists and Laborites may have grave political consequences. The chief English Labor organ and Reynolds newspaper attack Nationalist capitalists in Dublin for callous disregard of grievances of the Dublin workers, and warns Mr. Redmond and other leaders of the serious consequences of alienating the English labor vote. The Times strikes the same note when it says:

"The cynicism which actually led Mr. Redmond to boast of the wealth and prosperity of Dublin when that city is on the verge of temporary ruin, when thousands of its people are near starvation, when 70,000 of its inhabitants are dwelling in one room tenements, may go far toward undoing himself and his party. Mr. Redmond deliberately proclaims at such a moment the riches of Dublin, but does not move a finger to relieve the misery of its citizens."

SHOULD STARBOARD AND PORT BE RETAINED IN SHIP ORDERS?

OLD CONTROVERSY REVIVED AT MEETING OF VANCOUVER SHIPMASTERS' ASSOCIATION—HOLD TERMS ARE MISNOMERS.

The old controversy, which has recently been revived by an order issued to the U. S. navy by the secretary of the navy, Mr. Daniels, over the nautical expressions "starboard" and "port" was tentatively discussed by the members of the Vancouver Shipmasters' Association at its meeting recently. No action was taken.

Captain Wilbur emphatically denounced the present "starboard" and "port" orders as misnomers and antiquated. They did not mean what they said. When a man rolled the wheel to starboard a ship should go that way. He believed that if the new rule was adopted simultaneously all over the world the younger generation of seafaring men would catch on to it at once and the older generation would after a time. "If the new rule was passed and you were told tomorrow to put your wheel to starboard, instinct would probably tell you to put your wheel to port," said Captain McLennan, the president, who thought the change would lead to quite a number of accidents. The French had tried the "left" and "right" principle and had made a mess of it. It had been tried in the Suez Canal, but had not been a success.

Captain Stewart believed that on the whole it was now in the most workable shape, although he agreed that the expressions were misnomers.

The discussion inevitably merged into a controversy about the rule of the road on land.

UNCOVERING POLICE
 GRAFT IN NEW YORK

City Again in Throes of Another Scandal in Connection with the "Fines"

New York, Nov. 15.—District Attorney Whitman confirmed today the report that he had obtained from a gang purporting to steal wireless messages, confessions involving the payment of graft for police protection to a civilian in high authority at police headquarters, a police inspector, and at least two lieutenants. Many hundreds of thousands of dollars, Mr. Whitman said, had been obtained by the swindlers, under police protection. Ten per cent. of this sum and a fixed retainer of $2,500 a month, according to the confessions, had been divided among the police officials involved.

George McRae, confessor-in-chief of the five who have been their records to Mr. Whitman, is authority for a statement that a Chicago woman whose identity is known to the district attorney, was fleeced out of $400,000 during several months by the gang in this city and that the police received 10 per cent. of this sum.

TSIMPSEAN INDIANS RESENTING RESTRAINT OF FATHER DUNCAN

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT HAS GIVEN ORDERS THAT THE VENERABLE BRITISH MISSIONARY SHALL BE PARTED FROM HIS LIFE WORK.

Seattle, Nov. 17.—In answer to earnest plea of the natives of Metlakatla, Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane has set his signature to an order for the establishment of a United States school in Father Duncan's colony, on Annette Island, South-eastern Alaska.

Father Duncan, the "apostle of Alaska," who for half a century has ruled supreme among the Tsimpsian or Metlakatla Indians, converted them from heathens to Christians, raised them from barbarians to a civilized people; built them the largest church in Alaska; taught them trades and gave them a sawmill and a cannery that they might successfully compete with white men, is no longer wanted by his "children."

Oblivious of the growth of the Tsimpsians since 1887, when he migrated from British Columbia with them to Annette Island, granted to him for the purpose of founding the colony of Metlakatla, Father Duncan, now eighty-three years old, still treats his charges, some of them fifty and sixty years old, as what he terms "hobbledehays, neither men nor boys," and is jealous of his power and suspicious of any outside interference.

"They do not know what they want," Father Duncan is quoted as explaining to Governor J. F. A. Strong, on a recent visit of the territory's executive to Metlakatla. "They think they would like to become doctors or lawyers or missionaries. Imagine them professional men. I know them and I know what is best for them. I am myself teaching them the things they ought to know, and only those things. They are all children."

To this attitude the natives strenuously object, while still having great respect for the good old man who brought them to their present state. In their appeal to the United States government they declare Father Duncan can no longer fitted to carry on the work that he initiated more than half a century ago. They intimate that while they, as pupils of the teacher, have gone forward, their teacher has stood still or gone backward.

"We demand better educational facilities, teaching of that practical kind, that will enable us to assume the duties of citizenship to which we aspire," reads the appeal for a government school and a new teacher. They want the right to the land of Annette Island so that they may become in very truth American citizens. They also wish to become business and professional men, as well as fishermen, boat builders and carpenters.

President Verney, of the Metlakatla school board, was in Seattle for two weeks awaiting the reply of Secretary Lane to the request for a new school. The news of success he immediately despatched upon its receipt and with Mr. Lopp and the teachers who are to replace Father Duncan is now on the way home.

Meanwhile, Father Duncan is, as usual, conducting his school and acting his will among those who are still faithful to him. It is feared strenuous resistance to the coming into this village of the government will be offered by the old missionary. It is hoped by government officials that he can be induced by moral suasion to withdraw from Annette Island, but of this there is thought to be scarcely a possibility, for Father Duncan states his purpose to continue his work and trust to Providence to provide a suitable man to carry it forward when he shall have been gathered to his fathers.

Should Father Duncan care to do so he could arouse a storm of protest from one shore of the United States to another, especially among the missionary societies of Great Britain, too, is the opinion of Governor Strong, who has given the matter careful study.

THE ROAD TO THE RIGHT.

YOU'VE met at least one of those few good old souls, who are constantly getting the worst of it when shopping, who don't believe in advertising. A hundred disappointing and instructive experiences have failed to teach him their plain lesson.

When he bought his first watch he was beguiled into buying one without a known name or a trustworthy guarantee. That watch—a poor timekeeper—cost him dearly by reason of missed appointments and missed trains, and for frequent repairs. Yet he paid the price of a good watch.

It is the same story with regard to his underwear, his shoes, and his fountain pen.

This good old soul's case is not unique. Many of us, if the truth be confessed, resemble him; we allow ourselves to be sold merchandise with an unknown brand or trade mark instead of buying merchandise which is well known to us through the medium of advertising. In slang language, we get "stung" pretty often.

In most of these cases we have ourselves to blame, for "the road to the right" thing to buy has been made plain by advertising.

There is no good reason for passing by the known thing, soundly guaranteed, to buy a dubious article, which, quality for quality, cannot be cheaper than the known, branded article.

"It is better to be sure than sorry."

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency.
