(Special to the Daily News)
Boston, Dec. 4.—Twenty-seven men were killed in a fire which swept through the upper floors of the Arcadia Hotel lodging house at the south end last night. Others are missing. Scores were taken to the hospital. Nearly all the bodies were terribly burned, making identification impossible. Their escape was cut off by the burning of the stairways and the entrance to the fire escapes was jammed. The dead are all poor workmen.

MINING CLAIMS BONDED Four on Copper River in Which Local Men are Interested

J. B. Rittenhouse, representing New York and Seattle capital, has bonded the Independence group of four claims on Copper River for $40,000, the bond calling for development work to begin in the spring and to be carried on continuously. The claims carry silver-lead and gold and are situated thirteen miles from Copper City on the Copper River. The deal was completed yesterday afternoon and the vendors are Archie Carmichael, James Crocker, Amos Ross of North Yakima, and Ald. Geo. W. Kerr.

Capt. Fitzsimmons of the Bonaventura, like most sailors admires the beauty and scenic grandeur of the inside passage but finds the poetic beauty of it overshadowed by the hazards to his ship. A. J. Burroughs, of the Prince Rupert Lumber Co., received word on Sunday that his sister, Mrs. Nehr, was very ill in Oregon, where she went some two and a half months ago. This news was followed by another message yesterday advising that she was worse, and Mr. Burroughs left on the Venture this morning in an effort to reach the bedside of the sick at the earliest possible hour. The many friends of both Mrs. Nehr and Mr. Burroughs will regret to know of the serious illness which has come to the former and will wish for her speedy recovery. Mr. Burroughs will remain in the south until after the holidays.

MAYOR PATTULLO IN FAVOR OF HYDRO-ELECTRIC OFFER

Property Owners to Decide by Plebescite Whether the City Shall Add to Present Power Equipment or Shall Accept The Company's Amended Offer

The new proposition from the Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company to furnish the city with electric power was submitted to the city council last evening. The main features were practically as outlined in The Daily News yesterday.

The aldermen discussed it briefly and adjourned until Friday afternoon when they will probably decide to submit it to the electors at the forthcoming civic elections, along with an alternative proposition for the city to put in its own diesel oil auxiliary plant.

The mayor introduced the subject to the council with an explanatory letter.

December 2nd, 1913.
Gentlemen:
I beg to transmit herewith for your consideration a proposal of the Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company to supply the city with power. In this connection I may say that at the present time the city plant is very much overloaded, and some steps must be taken immediately for the supplying of additional power. It is proposed in January next to submit to the people a number of bylaws covering public improvements, one of which will be a bylaw to provide for additional power equipment. The amount of money which will be required by the city in this regard will be a very considerable item, and the plant as proposed under the bylaw to be submitted would be only an auxiliary to a larger plant when the city might be in a position to undertake the same.

In view of the fact that under any circumstances the city will not be desirous of making money from power, but is anxious to be in a position to supply power as cheaply as possible; in view of the fact that any investment in a power plant will be a charge against the legal credit of the city and that there are so many other directions in which the city will be required to use its resources, and in view of the urgent necessity of being in a position to offer power to industries which may require it, I am of the opinion that if a good agreement could be made with the Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company it would be advisable for the city

PROPOSITION IN NUT-SHELL

P. R. Hydro-Electric Co. to deliver power to the city in any amount up to 3000 h.p.

Point of delivery to be designated by city.

Company cannot sell power within present city limits or within limits as defined in the future.

Graduating scale of rates. Present rate to consumer would immediately be reduced by one-third.

City's total investment necessary for sub-station and distributing lines $60,000.

Company to build and maintain auxiliary plant.

City may have revision of rates every five years, but company cannot apply for revision.

All disputes to be settled by arbitration.

Power ready for delivery next September.

This and alternative proposition to be submitted to electors.

to make such agreement with them.

I believe the agreement proposed to be an advantageous one for the city to enter into, and I am of the opinion that this council having arrived at what it considers to be a fair proposal, should as a matter of duty, submit that proposal to the electors,

Chappel Party Safe

Yesterday the government steamer Quadra went out to look for Chappel and his party, who are two weeks overdue. The Quadra searched the inside shore of Prescott Island, but found nothing. Later she anchored in a small bay and found a gasoline boat, whose occupants claimed that a number of gasoline boats were laid up for shelter in a bay on the other side of the island. It is presumed that the Chappel party is one of the number.

London, Dec. 4.—The Royal Horticultural Society has forwarded to Premier McBride the gold medal of the society for the exhibition of apples made by the province.

who are the final court of arbitration in matters of this kind.

In January, therefore, I would propose that both propositions be submitted, one for the extension of the city system and the other an agreement with the Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company, and the electors may choose which they prefer.

All of which is respectfully submitted for your consideration.
T. D. PATTULLO, Mayor.

The agreement was read, the main points of which are shown in tabulated form. An informal discussion was made of the various clauses.

To Ald. Maitland the city light superintendent explained that the present connected load at the city plant is 550 h.p., the peak load is 380 h.p., and the horse power of the machinery is 320. The 3000 h.p. proposed under the agreement would be sufficient probably for a city of 25,000 people.

Ald. Maitland thought that inasmuch as the date fixed for the first delivery of power was next September that it ought to be left to next year's council to deal with.

The mayor explained that that date was arbitrary. He had suggested it as the city would probably not need the extra power before that time. Power could be secured probably as early as March.

The light superintendent said it would be necessary for the city to have a 1000 h.p. plant immediately as he was now refusing power and current for electric signs. He had prepared estimates of three different plans and based on the present consumption of power, the prices to the consumer would be all practically the same.

A diesel oil plant would mean the investment of $150,000.

Developing the first unit of the city hydro-electric scheme would

DEFENCE ASKS TO POST-PONE SCANDAL TRIAL

Motion Made by McFarlane to Have Case Laid Over—McLeod Here Saturday
Today the defence in the case of McLeod vs. McFarlane, being a charge of slander, moved to have the case postponed as they were not prepared to go on at the coming sitting of the assizes, which open next Wednesday.

A few days ago the plaintiff's counsel moved to have a portion of the defence thrown out as being slanderous and contrary to the rules of court. Two paragraphs were thrown out and the defence was also ordered to give certain particulars.

As a result the defence now asks for a postponement.

Power Proposition Looks Good

The latest offer from the Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Power Co. to furnish this city with electric current is a very different proposition to its previous overtures, and one which the electors may very reasonably accept. By it the city secures all the power it will require for some time without having to invest in anything excepting the distributing plant. That expenditure would be necessary under any of the proposed schemes. There is no franchise given. The city will be tied up to nothing but an agreement to take any power required up to 3,000 h. p. for a period of 20 years. In a nutshell, it means Prince Rupert will not have to finance any power proposition of her own until she is using 3,000 h. p.

If Prince Rupert decided to stand out and finance her own hydro-electric scheme immediately it would require a further investment of $100,000 for an auxiliary Diesel oil plant. In a few years this plant would be worn out, probably just at a time when it would be most practical to invest that $100,000 in a larger scheme.

Under the proposed agreement the P. R. Hydro-Electric Company will have to build and operate the auxiliary plant. Just at present Prince Rupert can utilize all her credit in city improvement works. It would seem reckless for the city not to accept this chance to get power at a reasonable rate without investing our own money.

Fisheries Under Dominion Control

The fishing interests of British Columbia will joyfully celebrate the decision of the Privy Council on the B. C. fisheries question. The telegraph despatches indicate that the Provincial government have no rights in the fisheries of tidal waters and of the arms and estuaries; that such fisheries are open to the public under regulations from the Dominion government only. This decision has long been the opinion of those who have studied the question, but owing to the tenacity of Hon. W. J. Bowser, who persistently kept the question out of the courts, the dual system of governing the coast fisheries has gone on year after year.

Although he had no legal rights in the fisheries, Hon. W. J. Bowser has always been the dominant spirit in their control. He had the final word in everything. His rule was autocratic and arrogant. It was he who was responsible for the monopoly in the salmon industry, the tightest combination in Canada. It was he who boasted he was going to bring in white fishermen as settlers on this coast and make salmon fishing a white man's industry, but who refused bona fide white fishermen a license because they were not British subjects.

The salmon industry has surely suffered from too much government. The cannery have been harassed by ever changing regulations, many of which were the impractical ideas of theorists; the fishermen have been treated as a nonentity in the business, while the people, the real owners of the fish, have been taxed to make a few men rich.

Practical men who have endeavored to invest in the business have had reasonable propositions turned down from no apparent cause. Some have had concessions granted by one government only to have them cancelled by the other. In Prince Rupert last spring the absurdity of the dual control was made apparent to everybody. The big cold storage plant here secured salmon fishing licenses from the Dominion government and had to give them up again under threat of losing their cannery license, all because Bowser did not like it.

Heretofore neither government would accept the responsibility of the errors and misgovernment of the salmon industry. Now it is up to the Dominion government alone. The News does not anticipate any wonderful development of the industry under the absolute jurisdiction of the federal authorities, for they have, in their few years of office, shown an aptitude to play favorites rather than play fair. But the people will now know where to fix the blame.

Prince Rupert must not lose sight of her fisheries. They are the most important asset of this new empire.

DAILY EDITION Thursday, Dec. 4, 1913

POWER POLICY.

The whole southern portion of Ontario is enjoying the cheapest electrical power in America. It is distributed by a commission under the jurisdiction of the provincial government. The power is sold at a price away below figures at which rival power companies said it was possible to get a profit. Yet the provincial power has just announced another reduction in price and all the privately owned power companies continue to pay dividends.

Did anyone ever hear of the McBride government proposing a line of policy like that—some thing which would develop the natural resources and bring a real benefit to the people?

The function of a government is to evolve something for the common good, but in British Columbia the people get only that which they can grab individually.

B. C. belongs to the speculators.

LIBERALISM IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

According to the local Conservative organ, all virtue has departed from the Liberals of B. C. Not only that, but all who would place themselves under that vile name are ipso facto damned. What a pity Shakespeare didn't know the power of a name to make or mar.

Everybody knows that the large majority of the outstanding business and professional men of this city are Liberals. They are men who have won the confidence and respect of all who know them. And yet because of a name they are forever disqualified from serving their country. The same is to be found all over B. C. Now The News is charitable enough to believe that the Journal wasn't serious in that article. Being a morning paper that organ is a product of the night and the editorial was probably written between snores.

The same organ chuckles because the predictions of doom uttered by this paper have not yet come to pass. What a pity the Journal doesn't know that the mills of the gods grind slowly, but—grind. We do not have to quote Liberals to show that the government of B. C. is corrupt. We can prove it out of the mouths of their friends, and we will prove it by the counting of ballots when the next election comes around.

It is true that in recent years the Liberals have not made a very strong showing at Victoria. They console ourselves, however, with the fact that "there is a reason." Times have been too good in B. C. Everybody was too busy making money to bother with politics. Under such conditions any government will do, especially if it caters to the speculator and the land grabber. The mad rush for gold has now become more sane. Serious men are beginning to realize that their country has been sold for a mess of pottage. They are demanding of the government a report of their stewardship and when next election comes they will demand a surrender of their power. Diximus!

THE RED CLIFF MINE WILL BE RE-OPENED EARLY IN SPRING

WAS MAINSTAY OF THE CAMP FROM EARLY DAYS BUT HAS BEEN SHUT DOWN DURING LAST TWELVE MONTHS

The news that the Red Cliff mine is to be reopened in the spring is received with intense satisfaction on every hand. This mine, which was one of the mainstays of the camp from its inception, has now been shut down for the past 12 months, and the loss of its pay roll has been keenly felt. The impetus given to copper mining generally in this part of the world by the activity of the Granby Consolidated Mining Co. has been the direct cause of new capital being interested, and it is learned on the very best authority that sufficient money has been raised to start to block out the immense bodies of copper ore already proven to be existant in the mine. The Red Cliff will eventually be handed down to posterity as a monument of the never failing faith, supported by the untiring energy of its promoter, A. Erskine Smith.

A new phase in the mining promises to open early in the spring. This is the sacking and packing out of high grade ore from the various rich properties in the district. Ben Lawrence and C. Kripple are this week taking down a scow, on which they propose to tow up a shipment of several tons of rich silver ore which they mined on a lease from the Montana group on Marmot river, owned by George Bruggy and H. C. Magee, and which they will shortly be shipping to the smelter at Tacoma. This is the third of a series of trial shipments made from district properties within the last two months. The first came from the Rush & Bagg property on Glacier creek. The returns received, as published in The Miner, were more than satisfactory. The second was a consignment from the Lakeview group, also on Glacier creek, and owned by J. McKay and C. Bibeau. In each of the three cases the ore has assayed not less than $100 per ton, while some of it ran far higher. On all these properties there is a good tonnage in sight and encouraged by this year's results the owners and leasers propose to do things on a far larger scale next season. In addition to these next summer will see Erickson & Forest shipping ore from their claims on Bear river, which adjoin those formerly worked by the defunct concern incorporated as the Bear River Canyon Mining Co.

On the whole, perhaps the recent depression in the money market may be a blessing in disguise. It has been the indirect cause of the prospector going to work in self-protection. The results will speak for themselves, and smelter returns will probably succeed where the hot air artist fails.—Portland Canal Miner.

ALLEGED CONFESSION OF MAN CHARGED WITH THE ASSASSINATION OF DETECTIVE—RECEIVED TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS IN ADVANCE

Trinidad, Colo., Dec. 4.—Louis Zancanelli, under arrest on the charge of assassinating George W. Belcher, a detective who was shot to death on the street here November 20, has made a full confession, according to a statement made late today by Adjutant General John Chase. The confession implicates three organizers of the United Mine Workers of America, who, Zancanelli declares, hired him to murder the detective.

The prisoner, in his signed statement, says he was given $25 in gold and promised $1,000 more. He declares the plot to kill Belcher was discussed in the miners' hall here on the night of November 17. After that, he says, he followed Belcher for three days before there was an opportunity to shoot him.

Robert Uhlich, organizer of District 15 of the United Mine Workers of America and president of the local Trinidad union, was arrested tonight by the military authorities.

"NO RENT" SCHEME OF MILITANTS DESCRIBED BY MISS PANKHURST

BELIEVES THIS PLAN WILL DO MORE TO SECURE VOTES FOR WOMEN THAN ANY OTHER PLAN SO FAR THOUGHT OF.

London, Nov. 27.—Interviewed after a speech made from the window of her shabby dwelling in the West End of London, Sylvia Pankhurst, who is a fugitive from justice, refusing to leave her room, where she alone is safe, according to the "cat and mouse" act, she said:
"For the first time I have spoken about the plan which, I think, will prove the most effective method of obtaining the vote yet devised. It consists of persuading all rent payers in the crowded tenement district of London to refuse to pay rent until women have the vote.
"At first it may seem difficult to an outsider to comprehend how it can be possible to make thousands of rent payers stand together in so revolutionary a movement and to face the danger of eviction and exposure to the rigors of the winter season, but when one sees how, heart and soul, nearly every man, woman and child in East London and other tenement districts support us it will be understood why we place such confidence in their loyalty.

"The danger of eviction is not so great as it might seem when it is considered how many thousands of families are involved, and what a stupendous task it will be to handle the starving, freezing hordes who would be let loose on the city if landlords choose to take drastic measures.
"Nothing short of a disciplined army on a war footing would be able to cope with them, and even though they maintained good order, think what a tremendous expense it would be for the London authorities to find temporary homes for them. Besides, while the authorities were acting to prevent fearful riots, which would be inevitable in case of wholesale evictions, hundreds of landlords would be losing small fortunes in rents.

The Poor Man's University

"JONES knows more about motor cars than any other man I know," said a man to his friend. "He has obtained his knowledge chiefly from motor car advertisements, and the catalogues and booklets circulated through them."

"All I know about photography," declared a well-known amateur, "I have learned from the men who advertise cameras, plates, papers and films."

Advertisements have been well called "The Poor Man's University," but other than poor men have been schooled thereby.

Much of what the average individual knows concerning personal and domestic hygiene, modern office methods, books and authors, electricity, precious stones, investments, and almost everything else, he has learned from advertisements.

Advertisements have stimulated our intelligence, added enormously to our knowledge, and given us aspirations which have raised us to higher levels of thinking and living. Advertising is indeed "The Poor Man's University."

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.
If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

mean an investment of $195,000. Installing a sub-station and distributing plant for the agreement just submitted would require an investment of $60,000.

Ald. Kerr asked where it was proposed to build the diesel oil plant in case that scheme is gone on with.

Supt. Duncan—Corner of McBride and Ninth Avenue. That is the best centre for distribution.

Ald. Kerr thought it ought to be on the waterfront in Section Two.

In answer to Ald. Naden, Supt. Duncan said that with an increase in the use of power the rates with a city plant would come down faster than with the purchased power.

Ald. Maitland said he did not think the city could buy power when they had already sold debentures for their own hydro-electric scheme.

Mayor Pattullo said there were not sufficient debentures sold on that scheme to even furnish the waterworks.

Supt. Duncan said that by using the company's power under the proposed rates the city would be able to cut down the present price of power by one-third. When the amount used is over 500 h.p., which will be next winter, the cost could be cut another half cent per k.w. In answer to Ald. Maitland he said if the city invested $150,000 they could furnish the power just as cheap and eventually cheaper. The first year or two it would cost more.

Ald. McCaffery—If we accept that agreement it means that we will not develop our own power until such time as we require more than 3000 h.p.

The mayor suggested submitting the agreement to another lawyer and another engineer before submitting it to the electors.

The council adjourned until Friday afternoon.

Come in and see the quality and prices we offer. Sale extended till Saturday. Demers. 283-284

TORY REVOLUTIONARY ON HOME RULE

Proposal that Opposition Shall Render Government of the Country Impossible

London, Dec. 4.—While the movement for the conciliation of Ulster gains ground daily among the Liberals, one section of the Unionists is moving toward uncompromising resistance.

J. C. Garvin, whose influence in dictating Unionist tactics is undeniable, has shown his recent declaration of truce is at an end by outlining in yesterday's Observer the Tory revolutionary policy.

He says that in addition to Unionists resigning from the Territorials and using all their influence to prevent recruits joining every attempt should be made to stop the business of the house of commons by volleys and drowning the debate.

"This method, simple as it seems, would be irresistible. If pursued with sufficient unanimity, coolness and determination, it would bring the house of commons to a standstill.

"If this fails, the peers should make a last effort to force dissolution by throwing out all measures, including the annual army bill."

The growth of the conciliation movement among the Liberals is shown in a significant article by W. H. Massingham in today's Daily News. He declares that if the resistance of the Ulster people is overcome by force it will stiffen into an obstinacy that may make Redmond's task impossible and will sooner or later find the majority of British voters on its side.

"It is easy to talk of shooting these people. It will be harder to do. It will be specially odious to Liberals."

He regrets that the prime minister did not approach a little nearer the inevitable task of reconciling Ulster. "If Premier Asquith admits, as we all admit, that the home rule bill is an imperfect instrument for accomplishing the task of perfecting and democratizing the government of the United Kingdom, and that it imparts rather a lopsided air to parliamentary representation, it is up to him to suggest the way in which he proposes to solve this problem of devolution."
