CANADA'S HIGH COMMISSIONER IN LONDON WAS A GREAT CANADIAN AND AN INTERNATIONAL FIGURE

(Special to The Daily News)
London, Jan. 20.—Lord Strathcona died at 1.55 a.m. He passed peacefully away in sleep. For those in attendance on the Canadian High Commissioner realized that the end was near.

Donald Alexander Smith, G.C.B., K.C.V.O., was born in Morayshire, Scotland, in 1838, and educated at that place. He came to Canada first in the employ of the Hudson Bay Company and won such favor by his work as to be made Governor of that company in 1888. Hudson Bay factor he saw Canadian early history in its development.

He was honorary president of the Bank of Montreal and a director of the Canadian Pacific Great Northern Railways. He was also an LL.D. of Cambridge and Yale universities. He was member of the House of Commons for several terms, representing Selkirk and later Montreal. In 1896 he was Canadian High Commissioner, which post he held until 1903.

death. In 1903 he was created Baron Strathcona and Mount

INSURANCE RATES DROPPING BUT YET LONG WAY FROM BOTTOM

BUSINESS MAN SHOWS HOW FIRE WALLS IN BUSINESS SECTION WOULD SAVE THEIR COST IN PREMIUMS

The date of the ten per cent. insurance rate in Prince Rupert is almost over," said a prominent fire insurance man this morning. "Only a few of the down town congested districts have the big rate now and those blocks under the ten per cent. rate could cut it down a little co-operation among business men who carry the insurance."

The annual meeting of the board of the Fire Underwriters' Association is called for tomorrow afternoon, and it is the mention of this fact which caused the insurance man to express some facts on fire insurance to The Daily News. "Do you know," said the insurance man, "that if the business men who are carrying heavy insurance on buildings and blocks in the congested blocks could club together and build a fire wall, they would save the price of the walls by the reduced premiums on one year's insurance?"

A fire wall is a brick or fire-proof wall 18 inches at the bottom and 12 inches at the top projecting three feet above the roofs of the adjoining buildings.

An illustration was given. If a wall was built on the west side of the Majestic Theatre all other risks in the block could be reduced $2.20 per hundred on the east side and $1.70 on the west side. If a fire wall is erected between P. Burns' shoe shop and Wark's store it would lower the rates $2.40 on the east side and $1.85 on the other.

If another wall was put in on the east side of the Law-Butler building it would reduce the rates $3.

It is estimated that one of these walls would cost about $900.

Another hazard which has kept up the rate on one of the central blocks was the Prince Rupert Planing Mill. Now that the business has been disposed of the rate has dropped $1.80 on adjoining property.

The local insurance men strongly advocate that no more building permits for this class of fire risk be permitted in the business or any congested district. The key rate of the whole town is affected by the city's treatment of this class of risks.

The local insurance board, representing all tariff companies, has done much during the past year to get the rates reduced. It was through their efforts that the inspector of the B. C. Mainland Fire Underwriters' Association made an official inspection of the city, which resulted in a new rate book being issued last week.

This rate is still far from being satisfactory in the opinion of the local board, but they deserve credit for what they have accomplished, and they hope that with the co-operation of the city authorities and the business men themselves they will get a further reduction in the near future.

These problems will be discussed at the meeting this afternoon.

PREMIER WHITNEY BACK IN TORONTO

Sir James Sinking According to Last Despatch—Wanted to Go Home

Toronto, Jan. 20.—After lying sick in a strange hotel in a strange city since December 14, Sir James Whitney is back in Toronto and is now resting comfortably in a private ward at the General Hospital.

With total unexpectedness Sir James was removed last night from the hotel in New York and transferred to the New York Central train for Toronto. The move was rendered possible by two days of continuous improvement in the patient's condition, though the change came as a complete surprise.

Thirty-five minutes behind schedule time the train which carried the Ontario government private car "Sir James" arrived at the Union station this morning, and the sick premier was transferred to an emergency ambulance and taken to the General Hospital.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—A bulletin from the General Hospital where Sir James Whitney, premier of Ontario, has been removed from New York, says that Sir James is much weaker. His condition is regarded as very unsatisfactory.

SAFETY SHIPS AT SEA NEW REGULATIONS

International Conference Makes Recommendations—Wireless for All Passenger Boats

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Jan. 21.—The task of securing greater security of ships at sea and of passengers was dealt with in a thorough manner by the international conference on safety at sea which ended today.

The most difficult point the committee had to deal with was the division of ship's watertight compartments. The convention provided that the degree of safety should increase in a regular and continuous manner with the length of vessels and that vessels should be as efficiently subdivided as possible. It was explicitly stated that the requirements imposed by the convention are minimum requirements. The convention provides that all merchant ships engaged in international or colonial trade, whether steamships or windjammers, carrying passengers or not, must have a wireless equipment if they have fifty or more aboard. It is possible to make suitable exceptions in certain cases, the most important of which applies to ships on voyages not more than 150 miles from land.

Remanded Till Friday

The "rolling" charge against Wm. George which has occupied the major portion of the police court sittings for three days, has now been laid over until Friday. The prosecution has completed its evidence and anticipating the case going to the higher court, the defence will probably not submit any evidence in police court.

A City Joy Ride

"Speaking of joyrides abroad," remarked a civic politician yesterday afternoon, "look at that personally conducted tour of the mayor's in the city fire wagon." He was referring to the trial trip of the new fire auto. The speaker was a member of the anti-hydro agreement party and evidently he had not been invited to the "joyride."

DISINTEGRATING A HILL NINETY-FIVE TONS POWDER

BIG SHOT BEHIND KNOX HOTEL FIRED AT NOON TODAY—THOUSANDS WATCHED THE LIFTING OF 100,000 TONS OF ROCK

It was noon hour. A thousand people were scattered along the cliffs and view points of the whole waterfront. Suddenly a great black cloud burst from the cliff side; another white cloud rolled southward, a rumble and a hissing, and the hill which stood on the waterfront side of the Knox Hotel had burst into a million fragments.

It was the last "big shot" to be fired in Prince Rupert, according to present plans. It was also the biggest shot ever fired in the city. There were something like 110,000 cubic yards of rock "lifted," and this took about 95 tons of powder, including over one ton of dynamite. There were six coyote holes in the face of the hill and five cross tunnels inside. These were all loaded with the powder and back-filled. The shot was fired by an electric battery in the hands of a man who was located behind the railway yard house.

Just after the passenger train left this morning the railway section gang began tearing up the tracks in front of the big hill. These were removed to save the rails, as experience has shown that a big shot tears and twists the rails beyond hope of repair.

Promptly at noon, the advertised hour, the warring whistle of a big locomotive announced that it was time for those in the danger zone to run to cover. A few venturesome spirits went out on the end of the G. T. P. wharf but were chased away.

When the explosion came there was very little noise from the powder itself, but the rocks hurled into the water for hundreds of yards out kept up a report like a rifle battery for a minute or more.

When the dense cloud of dust and powder fumes rolled away, the hill had disappeared. A small tidal wave on the harbor showed that much of it had gone into the salt chuck, and a scattered mass of broken rock covered the railway grade.

The G. T. P. slip was blown to pieces, only a few twisted piles being left to show where it had been. The old warehouse on the grade in front of the shot was completely shattered and carried into the harbor. Not a stick or plank of it was left. The whole hill was well broken up and the remains will be easy to move.

So well regulated was the shot that some small tool houses which stood within a few feet of the hill on the east end had not even a pane of glass broken. Everything fell on the waterfront side.

It is estimated that the shot cost in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Contractor McDougall is well pleased with the results. He has a steam shovel now working on each end of the rock pile, clearing a track space so that the railway company will be able to run their trains through tomorrow.

Several hundreds visited the scene of the blow-up after the shot was fired.

The damage to the Knox Hotel, which is situated just behind the hill broken up, amounted to only a couple of broken panes of glass.

COLLUSION OF PROVIDENCE POLITICAL OPPORTUNISTS

LIBERAL MEMBER EXPRESSES HIS OPPOSITION TO CONSERVATIVES WAITING UNTIL THEY GET MAJORITY IN THE SENATE

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—The debate on the address was resumed by Mr. McLean of Halifax, who commended the government's announced policy of bringing down the estimates at an early date in the session.

Referring to Premier Borden's remarks on the issue in the senate Mr. Maclean suggested that if there is a conflict between the people now is a good time to have it settled.

Referring to the Naval Bill, he said no one was bold enough to talk emergency today, but he would like to know whether Henri Bourassa and Armand Lavergne are as powerful today in shaping the policies of the Conservative party as they were in 1911.

He criticized the government's policy of waiting until they got a majority in the senate as collusion between providence and political opportunists.

PRAIRIE BANDIT CAUGHT $13,000 REWARD CLAIMED

ROBBER WHO ESCAPED WINNIPEG JAIL INJURED HIMSELF IN FALL—HID IN STORAGE WAREHOUSE

Winnipeg, Jan. 21.—Thousands of eyes have watched every movement of the Winnipeg police as they have been drawing the dragnet about the notorious John Krafchenko, who is charged with the murder of a bank manager, and who escaped a few days ago, and the concluding chapter of the sensational series of events came on Sunday night, at 11:08 o'clock, when he was once more placed behind the iron bars, and the $13,000 reward earned.

Along with his arrest comes that of his counsel, Percy Hagel, and Constable Reid, the latter of whom was one of Krafchenko's guards. The charge of complicity in the escape will be laid against Reid, while no charge so far has been preferred against Hagel until the circumstances in connection with the escape have been more fully investigated.

How the police secured the information leading up to the arrest has not become known as yet, but it was learned late last night that the fugitive had only been in the apartment house two days. His companion there was John Westlake, an employee of the Security Storage Company, and he, too, was placed under arrest and must answer to a charge of "aiding, abetting and comforting" Krafchenko.

Krafchenko was placed within the walls of the provincial jail, as he is wanted for a crime committed outside the city and he is therefore a provincial prisoner. At the conclusion of the royal commission investigation, Constable Reid was surrounded by officers, who took him to a small room and read to him a warrant charging him with complicity in the escape of his prisoner. Reid had been the prisoner's constant guard practically the whole time since he had been confined in the city jail.

How Krafchenko made his break for liberty was told by the gunman himself to the chief of police after his arrest tonight, but by no manner of persuasion could he be got to implicate any confederate, or say where he got the rope and key.

After gaining the photographer's room he threw up the sash, tied his rope and climbed through the window. He was only a third of the way down when the rope broke, and he fell to the ground, hurting his leg. He struggled to his feet and limped along the lane behind the station until he gained Main Street where the police signal lights were already flickering.

He crossed to William Avenue where he got a big scare, a big touring car pulling up beside him and offering him a "lift." It was not a police car, however, the driver being a stranger, who, seeing the man limping painfully along, had offered him a ride out of charity. The man took him along William Avenue for some distance and set him down not far from Toronto Street, where he made his way to the Burriss Block, where he remained in hiding all the time, save for some days when he found refuge in the Security Storage warehouse. As to his friends in the Burriss block or the warehouse he would say nothing.

CANADA TO MAINTAIN CONTROL OF ALL OIL FOR EMERGENCY

NO OIL COMPANY WILL BE PERMITTED TO FALL INTO THE HANDS OF FOREIGNERS—MUST BE OF CANADIAN OR BRITISH REGISTER

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—New oil regulations have been prepared by Hon. Dr. Roche and approved by the Dominion cabinet council. One of the regulations is that any company holding a lease under the regulations shall at all times remain a British company, registered in Great Britain or Canada. The company shall not at any time be or become directly controlled by foreigners or by a foreign corporation. This is to enable the crown to obtain in time of war a reliable supply of fuel oil when it is most needed. It also prevents speculators putting prohibitive prices in force in times of necessity. Another section gives the crown the right to assume at any time of emergency the control of any lease or works, to operate and maintain them at a compensation to be fixed by the exchequer court.

DAILY EDITION

Wednesday, Jan. 24, 1914

The disastrous panic which occurred at Calumet, Mich., on Christmas Eve serves to bring vividly before the world the great miners' strike which has been in progress in that state for the last six months. From information to hand it seems to be a fight for the recognition of the Western Federation of Miners. Several times during that period the men have offered to arbitrate but the mine owners will do nothing to lend a shred of recognition to what they call an organization of "graft, murder, assault and assassination."

The statement therein contained no doubt has reference to the revelations of such men as Orchard and the McNamaras. In recent years there have been crimes perpetrated in the name of labor that has caused almost all civilized people to shudder. The Western Federation of Miners seem to be held responsible for much of this odium, and they seem to be reaping the natural product of the seed sown.

Turmoils in the labor world are as old as the days when the plebeians retreated from Rome. The only difference at present is that the men of our time are more intelligent and resourceful. General education has raised the standard of efficiency and the modern workman is as keenly organized as his more fortunate opponent.

Consequently we have in many cases two highly trained and effective bodies in constant mistrust of each other and capable of inflicting terrible revenge upon their adversaries as well as upon society as a whole.

If civilization is not destined to take another circle into the gloom of the Dark Ages then some solution of this great problem must be found. It seems hardly necessary to say that this solution must lie along the line of justice to both parties. The solution, also, must be some form of compulsory arbitration, and the arbiters must not be politicians. A body of men must be found who are big enough to decide the question on its merits and who will receive such a remuneration for their services that they will be beyond the reach of "graft."

The President of the United States is making good his pre-election promises. First of all his Tariff Bill struck a powerful blow at the big trusts and the high cost of living. Many of the necessities of life were placed on the free list with regards to the customs duty, while the general business of the country was freed from the shackles of the trusts.

His Currency Bill, which just became law, is believed by many thoughtful people to be a solution for the problem of the "money trust." The idea is to create a great central bank for the United States with an immense capital which shall be available all over the United States in times of stress, and which it is believed will prevent a repetition of the money panics of recent years. It will concentrate the reserves of 25,000 banks, for they are all compelled to unite in the scheme or forfeit their charters.

In these two reforms we have the keynote of President Wilson's "New Freedom." His doctrine of "regulated competition" seems to have in it the solution for a great many of the evils of our present industrial system.

PLAN TO FOIL EGG TRUST IS DISCOVERED

Scheme is to Make Hens' Day 12 Hours Long and Double their Output

Cleveland, O., Jan. 19.—A prayer for the increased efficiency of the hen coop, offered by the Housewives League, has been answered. A scientific device has been discovered which will double the output of eggs in the United States. The inventor says his device will make hens lay two eggs daily.

Supt. Leonard, of the Mansfield reformatory, and J. H. Darling, head of the institutions poultry department, have been making experiments and say the plan works.

The plan is to divide the day of twenty-four hours in half and make the hens day twelve hours long, with six hours of light and six hours of darkness. The hen coop is a huge steel box, well ventilated and illuminated by electricity. The lighting arrangement is such that by turning on a switch the room gradually is illuminated, just like at sunrise, until the proper degree of light is reached. The hens then awaken and go to work. Sunset will be made just as gradual.

DIVER'S EXCITING FIGHT WITH BIG DEVIL FISH

To be caught by the left wrist by the tentacle of a devilfish and to cut himself clear with a spear bar, was the nerve-racking experience of Mr. Fred Maddison, diver, in the employ of the Vancouver civic waterworks department.

Mr. Maddison was engaged on his task in connection with the Vancouver and Point Grey partnership pipe, and was operating at the bottom of the First Narrows, when, all at once, he felt his wrist seized by the tentacles of a devil-fish. Fortunately for the diver, the octopus had either misjudged its distance or had over-estimated the strength contained in the one tentacle which was called into play. Mr. Maddison had a steel bar—something of the nature of a pitchfork—and with this was able to slash at the arm of the monster and cut himself free. Losing no time in sending the necessary signal to those in charge of the apparatus above, the diver was hauled up in safety, none the worse for the exciting moments beyond the nausea which would be natural to anyone under the circumstances.

The customary habit of these monsters is said to be to lie in wait, with the tentacles gathered closely around them and then as soon as a victim comes within reach, to stretch out one or more of its arms and gather the said victim in.

FISHERMEN MUST BE NATURALIZED

New Order on Puget Sound Causes Rush for Citizens Papers at Bellingham

Bellingham, Jan. 20.—Because of a recent ruling which holds that only naturalized citizens or those holding their first papers may take fish from Puget Sound waters, eighty-five foreigners today applied for citizenship.

Among the applicants was one woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Smith, a widow.

Several prominent men were in the class. Former County Commissioner Jack Simpson was one, he having entered Washington when it was a territory. He has voted and held office but under a new ruling applied for full naturalization papers.

QUEEN WITH UMBRELLA BARRED FROM MUSEUM

Doorkeeper Fails to Recognize Her Royal Highness, but Bishop Intercedes

London, Jan. 20.—Because she refused to give up her umbrella the Queen of England was refused admittance to Norwich Castle Museum today. Queen Mary was accompanied by the Bishop of Norwich.

As it was a purely private visit no notification had been given. The attendant, failing to recognize the queen, stubbornly refused to admit her with the umbrella, which she, with equal stubbornness, refused to surrender. The bishop intervened, but without effect until he disclosed the identity of the royal visitor. Profuse apologies followed, and the queen entered, bearing her umbrella in triumph.

Frozen - Pipes

Don't follow the old expensive methods of thawing pipes. It costs more than the pipes are worth.

I have just received a new device for thawing pipes by electricity. You don't have to open up your pipes. Just turn the current on and in three minutes the frost is gone.

Jolly Social Evening

The social evening under the auspices of the Prince Rupert Catholic Club proved one of the really enjoyable events of the season. Over 80 couples were present and every one had a jolly time. The first part of the evening was a whist drive at which Miss L. Taylor was the victor. Later a dance was indulged in. Grey's orchestra furnished the music. Dainty refreshments were served. The party broke up at 2 a. m.

New Fire Auto Tested

Just at four o'clock yesterday afternoon a camera clicked in front of the fire hall and the big new fire auto wagon pulled out into Fulton Street with a heavy load. There were aboard Mayor Newton on the driver's seat, several aldermen, members of the fire insurance board and the representatives of the press. They were guests of Chief McDonald, who is naturally proud of his new machine. It was the trial trip and every one of the guests agreed that the wagon is all right. It rides without jar over all the rough spots and responds quickly to expert handling.

A trip was made around section one and then out to Seal Cove. From the Cove in to the fire hall the wagon took only nine minutes.

The new machine has a number of improvements over the old one, one feature being the automatic gas-lighting system.
