FINANCE COMMITTEE WILL BE DISAPPOINTED
IF WORK ON CITY HYDRO-ELECTRIC SCHEME DOES NOT START BY MIDDLE OF FEBRUARY

An anti-bylaw party liked the reception they got when they appeared in public and the habit of coming on them. They turned almost solid front again tonight. The absentees were Manson, M. L. A., and J. C. Manson. They had no message to give to the council or hand down to posterity; they were after money. They just wanted to tell the council they really wanted the hydro-electric scheme developed as soon as possible.

The delegation was a little late in coming but the mayor was expecting them and delayed proceedings until they turned up. The personnel of the party was C. V. Bennett, Dr. Clayton, A. Kirkpatrick and Mr. Morrison.

Peck said they represented the citizens' committee and were urging the council to go on with the city hydro-electric scheme. They did not wish to go to the council, but they had a clear mandate from the citizens to go ahead.

Clayton noted with pleasure that the council was already taking steps to go ahead with the scheme by getting statistics. He said this would be a great boon to the citizens at large. If they could be of any help to the city they would be glad to do it.

Bennett congratulated the council on the way they had conducted business. He thought the council had no finer publicity than the city hydro-electric scheme. It was vital to the industrial growth of the city.

Mr. Stephens, while not a member, expressed himself as in accord with the sentiments of the council.

Mr. McPherson and Mr. Kirkpatrick also spoke briefly. The mayor was pleased to have the committee show sufficient interest in the undertaking to appear before the council. Most of the after assuming office are to paddle their own canoe. If the opinion is offered it will prove a great aid to the council. He had no definite plan to make on the scheme, but he had been getting down to hard work as far as financial condition is concerned and have referred the problem to the head office.

The mayor asked Magistrate Carrs if he was one of the delegation. He said he was not. He merely came up to get his impression of the council first hand. He was interested in the hydro-electric scheme.

After mutual thanks and hesitating courtesies the delegation withdrew.

UNSTABLES HAVE CONFESSED HELPING PLUM COULEE BANDIT

MAID HIM WITH ROPE AND GUN AND AIDED IN HIS ESCAPE

(Special to The Daily News) Winnipeg, Jan. 26.—Offering a voluntary confession before a royal commission, Robert Plouffe, constable and one of the officers guarding Krafchenko, a clean breast of the whole case. He also implicated Percy J. John Buxton and John Lake. His fellow guard, Able Flower, he cleared of suspicion.

He gave the rope, key and rear to Krafchenko two days before the escape, when Flower was turned. The loosened in the window had been tampered with while Ryan, the day guard, was asleep in the cell. All arrangements for the escape were made in the office of Percy J. Krafchenko's counsel. He did not know what had happened to help Krafchenko. He had given the gun to the constable in his office, and the number had been filed off in Hagel's presence. Hagel had gone to Plum Coulee to get $400, he said, to handle the case. He did not know whether he got it or not.

Krafchenko had told him he had a car of his own which he had stolen in the States, and this would be waiting for him on his escape. Krafchenko had told him he had given $500 to Ward Brooks, who lived near Plum Coulee. Brooks had an underground passage between his granary and his haystacks. Brooks was an ex-convict. From him Hagel was to get the money to conduct the defence.

FALL FAIR SOCIETY WANTS $5,000 GRANT

Delegation Waited on City Council and Made Modest Request

M. M. Stephens appeared before the city council last evening, vice the president of the agricultural society, asking for a grant of $5,000 to aid the fall fair. He said he was making the request early as the society wanted to know where they were at financially before they got out their prize list. He spoke of the success of last year's fair.

The mayor thought the fair a good advertisement and expected another good fair this year. He expected the chairman of the finance committee would do his best for the fair. He knew he was in sympathy with it. If the hydro-electric scheme is floated independently he knew they would find Ald. Morrissey liberal.

Ald. Morrissey recognized the necessity of the grant and realized that the council cannot hold the purse strings against the general interests of the people. He considered the request modest. The people had heard in the recent campaign that there was a surplus of $137,000 and he was proud to say it was a fact. He thought a portion of this could be applied for the fair, and for advertising.

The request was left to the finance committee to report on.

Concert and Social

A concert and social will be held in St. Peter's church, Seal Cove, on Tuesday evening, January 27th, at 8 o'clock. A splendid programme has been arranged and with Mayor Newton in the chair, a most pleasant time is promised. Admission, including refreshments, 25c. 22

The mayor has been "digging down deep into the financial situation" and has struck "hard pan." He told the anti-bylaw delegates last evening that he had put his troubles in a letter and sent it to the general manager of the Bank of Montreal. The general manager is a new man just on his way out from England. Probably the mayor thinks that being new on the job and being an Englishman he is a "fall guy." Anyway the mayor asked him to wire immediately if he could have the money.

MAYOR IN A HURRY SESSION WAS SHORT

Nevertheless There Was Quite a Lot of Talking With the Chair Doing Most of It

The city council sat just one hour last evening, and a session which had all the promise of being a conversational drive turned out to be a small-talk fest. The mayor came in five minutes late by the hall clock. He appeared in an evening suit and a mourning tie. He was evidently going somewhere. That probably accounted for his late arrival and early departure.

There was no heavy business transacted although the council for fifteen minutes discussed the question as to whether the office of sanitary inspector is vacant. The city hydro-electric scheme was talked of freely and Ald. Morrissey bravely said there would be power by September 1. A couple of delegations waited on the council and presented them with some metaphorical bouquets.

On the Scene Early

H. E. Gammop wants to get his before all the Pattullo surplus is gone. He made application for a four-foot sidewalk on Jeffery street, section seven, and along Seventh Avenue and Emanuel. He commented that five houses would be served and that he wanted to build a $1,500 house there.

Back Taxes

H. G. Helgeson, Ltd., asked the council to take up the question of back taxes and rebates for the Swanson Bay Company, who had received no tax notices. The local company had just recently been appointed agents for the company here. The communication went to the finance committee to report on.

More Applications

The clerk reported eighteen more applications for the office of sanitary inspector. They were sent to the health committee.

Reading Room Committee

The reading room committee was formally appointed: Rev. Rix, J. Brady, O. Hansen, Victor Basso-Bert and J. H. Thompson.

CLOUDBURST DROWNED BANKER AND HIS WIFE

Floods Carry Out Bridges and Destroy Many California Homes

(Special to The Daily News) Santa Barbara, Jan. 26.—Louis Jones, a wealthy retired banker, and his wife, resident at Montecito were drowned in a flood from the mountains caused by a cloudburst. Half a dozen houses in the city were wrecked and nearly every bridge in the county, including the railway bridges north and south of the city, were washed away. The telephone wires were put completely out of commission.

The wharfinger at the government dock complained that the price of water for boats was too high. Steamer captains say it is twice as high as in other cities on the coast. The city engineer suggested a price of 12 cents per 100 cubic feet. This was adopted.

The Prince Rupert Planning Mills asked for a reduction of the $20 minimum charge for electric power as they had been shut down. The light superintendent recommended the rebate under the special circumstances. It was left to the light committee with power to act.

W. W. Foster, M.L.A., is introducing into the Legislature a bill to incorporate the architects and form another professional trust. He already has a doctor's trust and a lawyer's trust and a dentist's trust, the principle object of each to keep out competition. Now the architects want a trust. Next will be the preachers, the real estate men, the bakers, the merchants, the artisans and the ranchers. If this policy is followed up theoretically every class of citizen is entitled to a trust and British Columbia would soon have a Chinese wall around it, when no one could enter without first convincing these professional trusts that he had no serious intentions and only intended distributing a few visiting cards.

HONORED GREAT SCOTSMAN FEAST, RHETORIC AND MUSIC

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY BANQUET IN MEMORY OF BURNS WAS MAGNIFICENT SPREAD AND AN EVENING FULL OF ENJOYMENT

Last night the local Scotsmen celebrated in a fitting manner the immortal memory of Robert Burns. A large assembly gathered at the Central Hotel and sat down to a sumptuous repast, which was followed by a large number of speeches and songs which would have done credit to a much larger centre.

The president of St. Andrew's Society, Mr. S. D. Macdonald, acted as toastmaster, and after extending his hospitality to the large gathering, called upon the Rev. Mr. Kerr to propose the toast to the "Immortal Memory." Mr. Kerr did justice to that great theme. He showed how Burns was a product of his race, the first real big Scot. He had articulated the best things in Scottish life, and even yet across the departed years his voice was speaking. The toast was drunk in silence.

"Bonnie Scotland" was proposed by Mr. W. E. Williams. He had never visited that noted country but he believed that beautiful though it was the charm about it was the creation of Sir Walter Scott and Robert Burns. Knowing the writings of these men, he could understand the wealth of sentiment that the term "Bonnie Scotland" contained.

Ald. McClymont responded and extolled the land of his birth. Scotsmen need no praise from others; they could do that for themselves. He removed the stain of meanness cast over his race by explaining that thriftiness was not meanness, although often confused. Lord Strathcona was a great example of Scotsmen who had honored the land of his adoption as well as that of his birth.

The toast to Canada was one of the stirring speeches of the evening. In that Rev. Canon Rix was seen at his best. In the early part of his speech he showed that he is a good deal of a humorist and later on he convinced his hearers that he is a great Imperialist as well. He reviewed part of the early history of Canada and mentioned some of the names made famous therein. He believed a great responsibility rested on the present generation to uphold the traditions of the past. The Canon is also a man of war but no doubt the righteous kind. He would like to see a local navy with headquarters at Prince Rupert and with mighty fortresses towering Mounts Morse and Hays. The toast was responded to by H. F. McRae.

A. M. Manson proposed the toast to Our Province and showed the similarity between its physical features and that of the land of Burns.

O. H. Nelson and M. M. Stephens responded by short impromptu speeches.

The City We Live In was the subject of a stirring speech by P. F. Godenrath, responded to Mayor Newton and Alderman McClymont.

The never failing toast to The Lassies naturally fell to one so well qualified to sound their praises as Principal Brady. His speech was received with great applause. Lee Baker and Cy Peck responded.

The Imperial Forces, Kindred Societies and the Press were also proposed and were received in a very fitting manner.

CHATEAUGUAY CORRUPTION DEBATED IN HOUSE COMMONS

BRODER BLAMES LIBERAL SENATE FOR STANDING IN WAY OF PEOPLE ON HIGHWAY BILL WHICH IS POPULAR

(Special to The Daily News) Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The debate on the speech from the throne was resumed today by Mr. LaFortune, member for Montcalm, who complained that the government was not giving sufficient attention to the agricultural classes, particularly the growers of tobacco in the province of Quebec. LaFortune declared that the Chateauguay by-election had been won by corrupt methods. Agents for the government, he said, had passed from house to house offering to buy the products of the farmers. They would pay something down in advance, but needless to say they were never seen after election day.

Fire at Cold Storage

At one o'clock today an alarm was sent in from the cold storage plant and the fire brigade responded. The fire was from an overheated stove in one of the warehouses. Although the hose wagon could not get within striking distance of the fire the boys took their chemical extinguisher and assisted in putting out the flames with the company's own water hose. Very little damage was done.

DAILY EDITION

Tuesday, Jan. 27, 1914

The time is hardly opportune to agitate for the commencement of the long promised road around the island. There does not seem to be the prospect of an election within the next few months, and what's the use of spending good money now when it can be used to better advantage a little later in buying votes?

Seriously, however, what is the matter with William Manson and his government? Why is it that this important work has been delayed? Is there not room enough to corrupt the workmen of Prince Rupert without setting aside such an important work as this new highway?

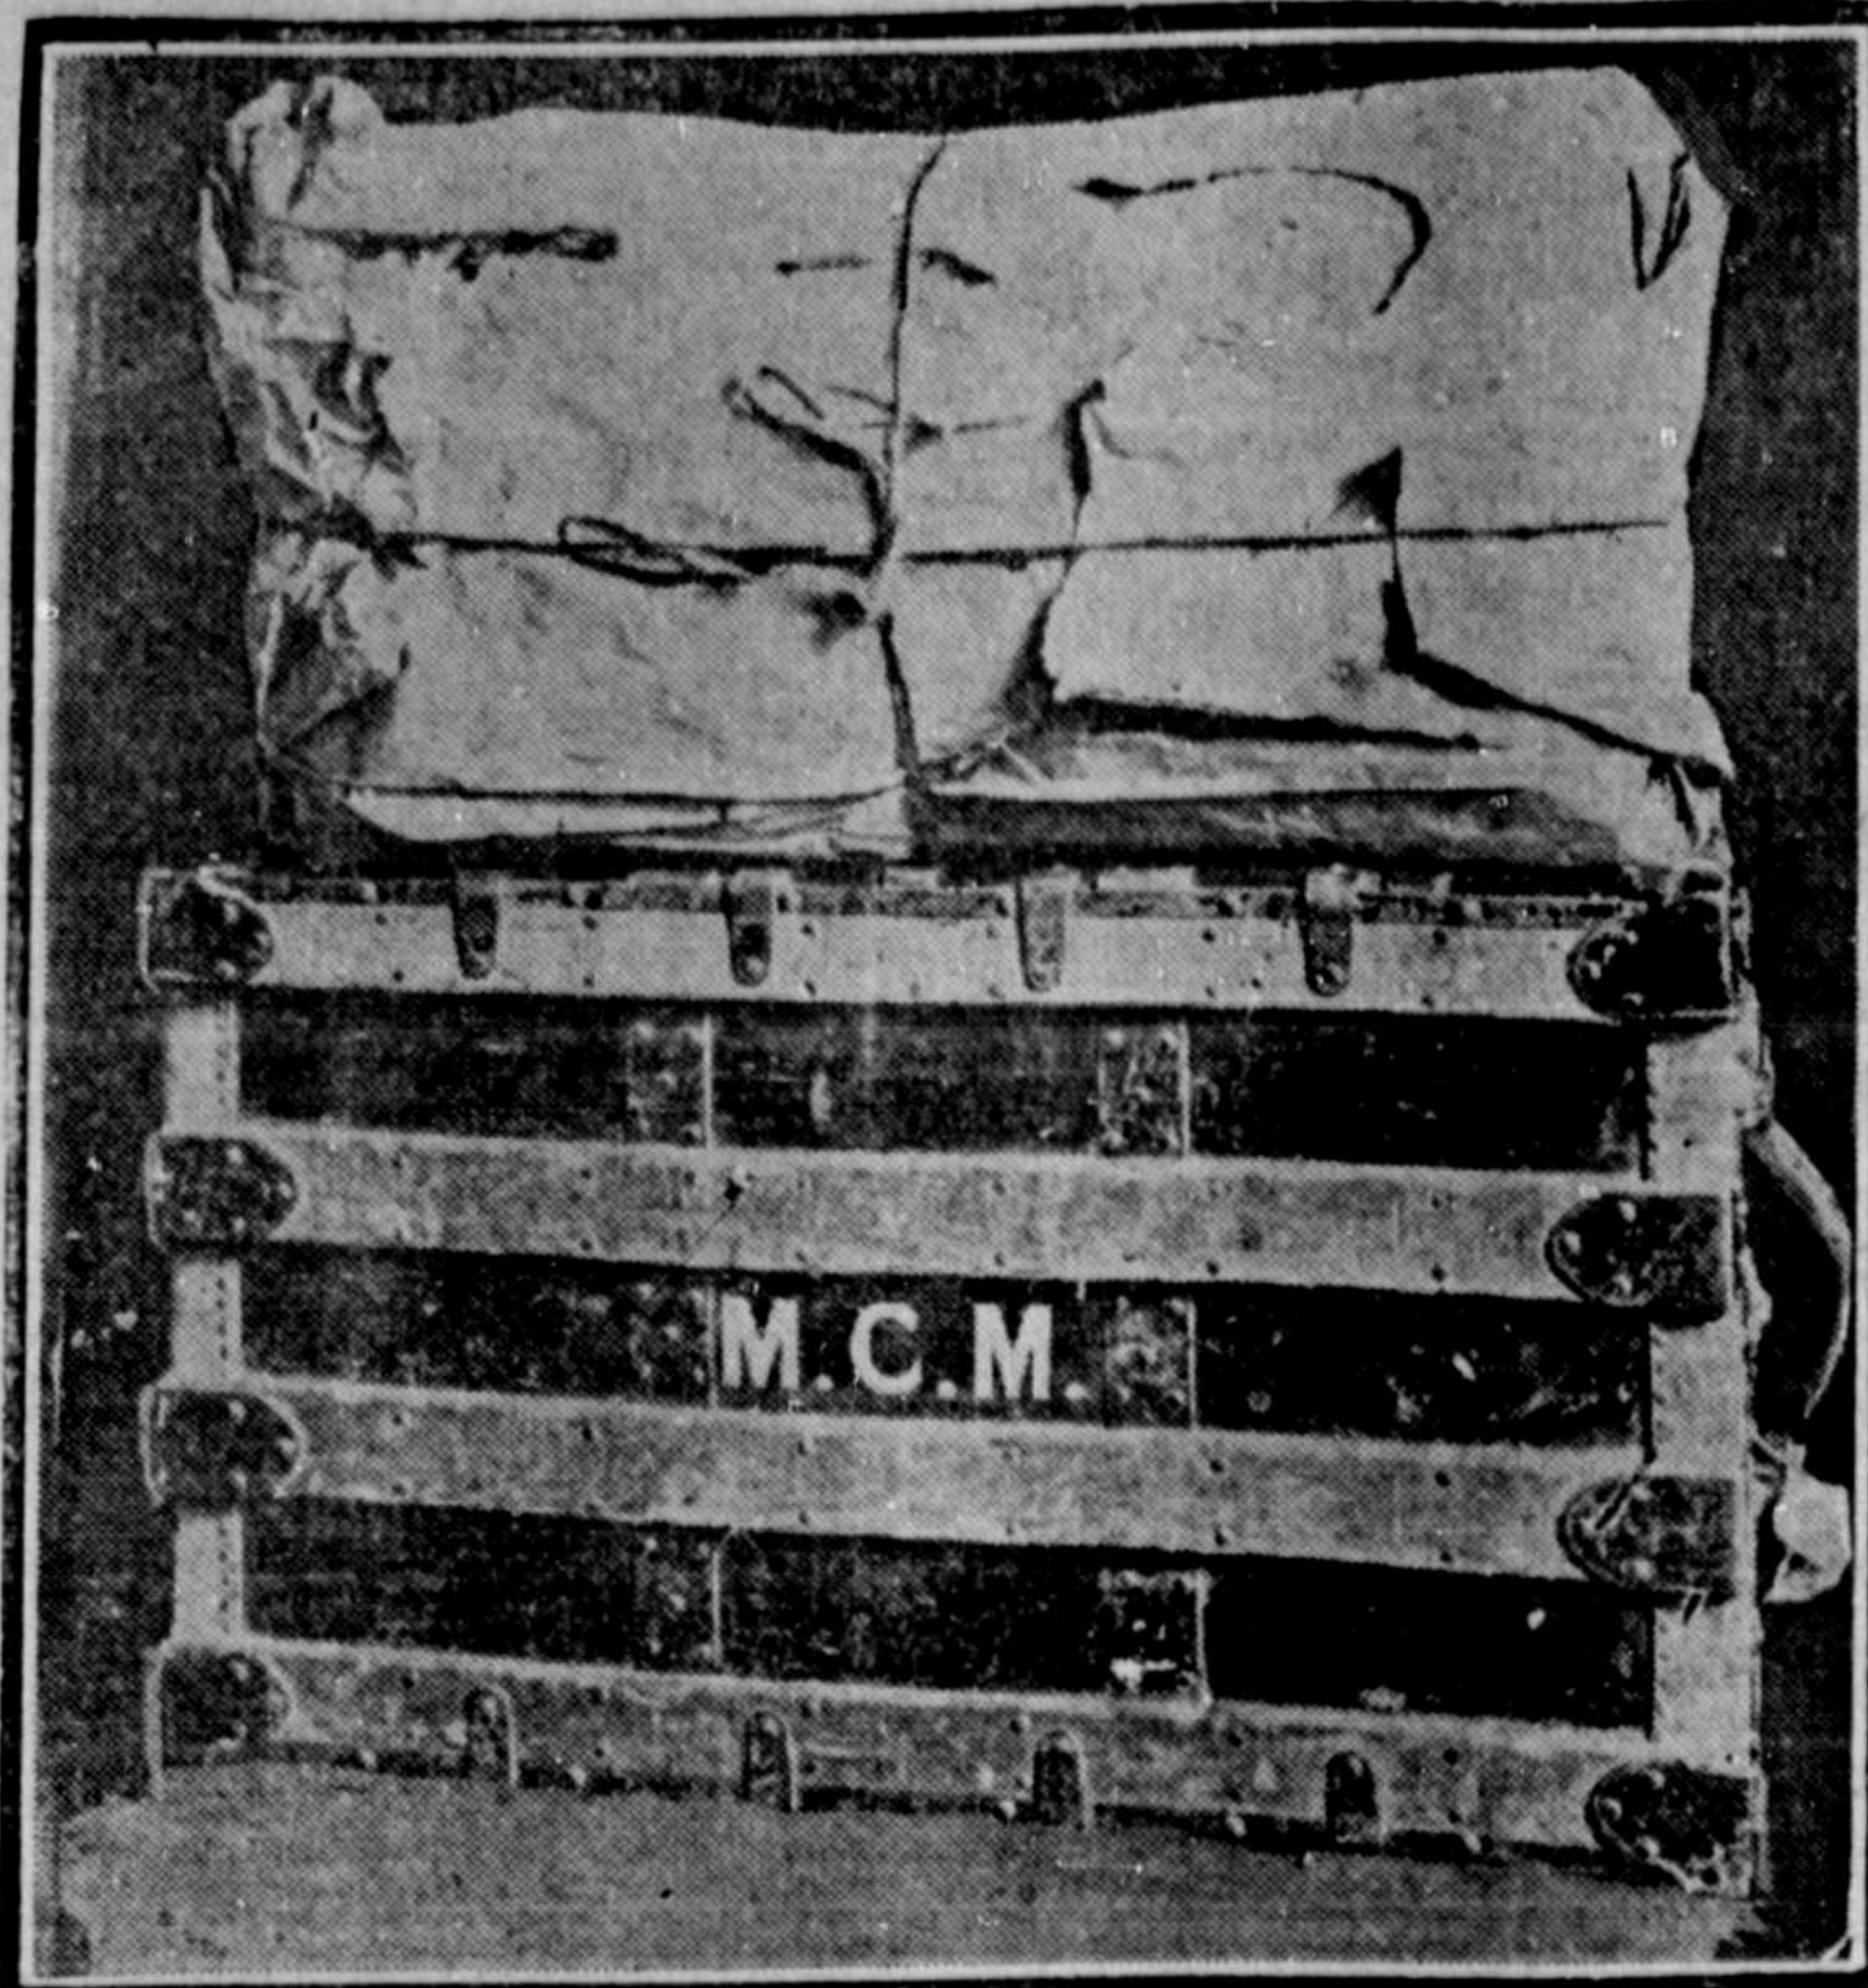

The cry of course is that the G. T. P. will not come through with an equal share. Well, what if they do not? Was not this road promised to use by the premier as a direct gift from the government and without any insinuation that the G. T. P. would be held up to pay a share of the premier's gift?

Railway corporations are never looked upon as philanthropists. The men at the head of these concerns are hard-headed business men who are well paid to keep down expense at any cost. Consequently they invariably get the best end of the deal and it is foolish for the McBride government to expect that this company will give them the last item of their demand. Of course if it were the C. N.

R. the government would probably be paying them a handsome sum even for the right of way. The G. T. P. has, however, offered to put up a fair share of the cost of this road, and if the government had one shred of sincerity in them they would either proceed with this construction or pull their plans entirely off the map.

Socrates, the ancient Greek philosopher, was compelled to drink the poisonous hemlock because of a charge that he was corrupting the local youth. In these days, however, men receive whole forests of hemlock and fir because they are clever enough to succeed in corrupting the whole root and branch of society.

When the secret ballot was first introduced men believed that personal independence and integrity was right then secured, but the disappointing thing about conditions in B. C. is that such a large element have no conviction whatever about the sacredness of that privilege. When a political boss can lead a hundred men out of a government rock out, dictate to them how they shall vote, and then boast about it, one begins to wonder whether the secret ballot has done any real service or not. Many a man will vote against his principles in the dark who would not degrade himself to that level if he thought his neighbor was watching him.

WANT TO BE WICKED BUT ARE AFRAID TO DANCE THE TANGO

TORONTO'S GAY YOUNG PEOPLE ATTEND TANGO HALLS, EAT SANDWICHES AND WATCH INSTRUCTOR DANCE

As yet Toronto Saturday afternooners don't go to Tango tea rooms to Tango, says the Toronto Star. They go to watch the other people. Everybody does. So they sit round the walls nibbling sandwiches, looking over a dreary waste of shiny floor and staring nervously whenever a chair scrapes back. Meanwhile the orchestra tinkles out "Nights of Gladness" and the two police-women yawn in a bored manner. Someone had "warned" them that a new Tango tea room was to open on Saturday and when they arrived at the address there was a real striped awning over the pavement. That was afterwards found to be the brightest item on the programme, from the Tangoers' viewpoint.

Watched in Painful Silence

A slim and Romeo like instructor with skilful toes pleaded for someone to break the ice, but none could be lured forth. Then from a rear table came a vision in pink with a billowy skirt, which put all the stateliness of a minuet into the carefully danced tango. They were watched in agonizing silence, broken only by the crunching of toast. They sat down and the orchestra passed the time tuning up for the next wild burst.

Toronto Girls are Careful

Two reckless young men of 18 or under with Varsity pompadours had eaten macaroons for fifteen minutes just to keep on staying. They looked at two giggly young things in black curly hats who sat at the next table and reasoned thusly: If they didn't want to dance why did they come in. They did want to dance only none asked them. Q. E. D. said Bobby in the velvet tie. He rose with a veni, vidi, vici air, crossed over and asked Mamie in a casual, if shaky voice, if she would care to dance.

Mamies face lost every particle of human expression as her teeth chattered out: "I don't dance, thanks." Bobbie's face was sinning his hair, but he died bravely by asking Florrie the same question, more causally still. Before he had finished Mamie and Florrie were going out the door, drawing on their coats as they went.

"Well, hang it all, what did they come in for?" complained Bobby bitterly as he went back to finish the macaroons.

Two tall ladies with set smiles waltzed slowly round to Tango music.

Wanted Scotch Reel

"I wish they'd play a good Scotch reel," said one of the Morality Department officials. They then departed.

"The steps are very simple," urged the instructor cheerful to the ends. "We will teach new steps every afternoon from four till six."

Then everybody remembered it was time to put the kettle on, the afraid-to-tangoers melted out to Young Street, while the orchestra valiantly filled the air with "Too Much Mustard," and two small girls came in to see if any macaroons had been left.

Crawford—How did you come to let him join the Bohemian Club? He isn't an artist. Penfield—No, but look at the way he eats spaghetti.

CANADIAN GRAIN CROPS HAD A GOOD YEAR

Bulletin Issued by Census Office Shows Bigger Crops and Better Quality.

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—A bulletin issued last week by the census and statistics office gives final estimates of the area, yield and value of the principal field crops of Canada in 1913 as compared with 1912. Last year's season was very favorable for grain-growing in the northwest provinces, where during the ripening, harvesting and threshing periods conditions generally speaking were ideal. In Ontario, Quebec, and parts of the maritime provinces, on the other hand, the yield of grain was adversely affected by prolonged drouth. For the whole of Canada the principal field crops occupied a total estimated area of 35,375,000 acres, as compared with 35,575,000 acres in 1912, and their value, computed at average local market prices, was $552,771,500, as compared with $557,344,100 in 1912. Wheat upon 11,015,000 acres produced 231,717,000 bushels of the value of $156,462,000, the corresponding figures for 1912 being 10,996,700 acres, 224,159,000 bushels and $139,990,000. Of the total wheat area 770,000 acres were devoted to fall wheat, the production being 22,592,000 bushels and the value $18,185,000, as compared with 971,000 acres, 20,387,000 bushels and $17,157,000 in 1912.

Oats yielded a total of 464,169,000 bushels from 10,434,000 acres and the value reached $128,893,000, the corresponding figures for 1912 being 9,966,000 acres, 391,629,000 bushels at $126,304,000. Both the wheat and oat crops of 1913 are the highest on record in Canada, wheat as regards area, yield and value, and oats as regards area and yield. The value of the oat crop was exceeded in 1911, when the amount was $132,949,000.

Barley upon 1,613,000 acres yielded 48,319,000 bushels of the value of $20,144,000 as against 1,581,000 acres, 49,398,000 bushels and $22,354,000 in 1912.

Flaxseed occupied 1,552,800 acres, and the production was 17,539,000 bushels of the value of $17,084,000, as compared with 2,021,900 acres, 26,130,000 bushels and $23,608,000 in 1912.

The quality of the grain crops, as indicated by the average weight per measured bushel, is excellent and is superior to 1912. Spring wheat averages 60.37 lbs. against 58.90 lbs. in 1912; oats, 36.50 lbs. against 35.50 lbs., and barley 48.50 lbs. against 47.50 lbs.

In the three northwest provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the production in 1913 of wheat is estimated at 209,262,000 bushels compared with 204,280,000 bushels in 1912, of oats at 242,413,000 bushels compared with 242,324,000 bushels, and of barley at 31,060,000 bushels compared with 31,600,000 bushels. The wheat production of 1913 in Manitoba was 53,331,000 bushels from 2,804,000 acres, in Saskatchewan 121,559,000 bushels from 5,720,000 acres, and in Alberta 34,372,000 bushels from 1,512,000 acres.

Marjorie—"I don't see much difference since Charlie has learned to run the car with one hand."

Noblesse Oblige

Rank imposes obligations—
or—as the French put it—"Noblesse Oblige."

It is a very natural and right principle that those who by their position in life command the respect of others should deserve it and be worthy of maintaining their position. "Much is expected of those in high station."

But this principle is not confined to persons of noble birth—it has a hundred applications. It applies, for example, to those manufacturers of reputation and prestige who make goods of high quality and who advertise them constantly in the newspapers of the land.

By their advertising they have attained an eminence where the very best in quality and good service is expected of them. They have set a standard and their very business life depends on the constant maintenance of it.

So that when you buy advertised articles you rest assured that you are getting the best value that money can buy.

Well may you place your faith in advertised goods. Well may you give them preference over articles which you can only hope may prove satisfactory.

For the principle of "Noblesse Oblige" is your guarantee of excellence in Advertised Goods.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.
If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumden Building, Toronto.

ENGLISH HAND-MADE LACE

MADE BY THE COTTAGERS OF BUCKINGHAMSHIRE.

This is the old-fashioned lace made on the cushion, and was first introduced into England by the Flemish Refugees. It is still made by the village women in their quaint old way.

Our Laces were awarded the Gold Medal at the Festival of Empire and Imperial Exhibition, Crystal Palace, LONDON, ENGLAND, for general excellence of workmanship.

BUY some of this hand-made Pillow Lace, it lasts MANY times longer than machine made variety, and imparts an air of distinction to the possessor, at the same time supporting the village lace-makers, bringing them little comforts otherwise unobtainable on an agricultural man's wage. Write for descriptive little treatise, entitled "The Pride of North Bucks," containing 200 striking examples of the lace makers' art, and is sent post free to any part of the world. Lace for every purpose can be obtained, and within reach of the most modest purse.

Every sale, however small, is a support to the industry.

Collars, Fronts, Pinstripes, Jabots, Yokes, Neckties, Stocks, Camisoles, Chemise Sets, Tea Cloths, Table Centres, D'Oylies, Mats, Medallions, Quaker and Peter Pan Sets, etc., from 25c. 60c., $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 up to $5.00 each. Over 300 designs in yard lace and insertion from 10c. 15c., 25c., 45c., up to $3.00 per yard.

IRISH CROCHET. Mrs. Armstrong having over 100 Irish peasant girls connected with her industry, some beautiful samples of Irish hand-made lace may be obtained. All work being sold direct from the lace-makers, both the workers and customers derive great advantage.

EIGHTEEN APPLICANTS IS THE JOB VACANT

City Council Discusses at Length a Job Which Many Want

Ald. Maitland suggested to the city council last evening that it would be fair to advertise in the city papers for a sanitary inspector. Give everybody a chance.

The mayor wanted to consult the chairman, Ald. Kerr, who was out of the city.

Ald. Dybhavn advised advertising in an outside paper as well. It is a serious problem and the city wants a man who understands the business. It might not be possible to find him in the city.

Ald. Dybhavn and Ald. Basso-Bert submitted a motion to that effect.

Ald. Montgomery thought it would be well to find out if there was a vacancy first.

The mayor said the inspector was only appointed temporarily and the chairman should decide whether there was a vacancy or not.

Ald. Morrison said that according to the communications received a week ago there was a vacancy.

Ald. McClymont said that just picking up a man on the street would not fill the bill. The applicants should present qualifications.

Ald. Morrissey said there was no vacancy. He hinted that the present incumbent of the office had given some dissatisfaction through misunderstanding his instructions.

Ald. Dybhavn knew nothing of the complaint against the officer. He made the motion because he believed the office was only filled temporarily.

The mayor said he understood the man himself only considered the appointment temporary.

The city clerk then pointed out that among the eighteen applications just received was one from the man himself.

This seemed to clinch the argument that it was only a temporary appointment and the motion was amended to empower the chairman of the committee to advertise and have applicants show qualification.

Wm. George on Trial

Today Wm. George is being tried on a charge of robbing a drunken man of $100. The case is being heard before Judge Young and will probably occupy all day. At the time of going to press no new evidence had been offered. It is understood the defence will endeavor to show that Richmond spent more money in the bars and down Comox than he testified. The bills he spent on Comox will be produced in court.

Water Certificate Issued

The city council is in receipt of a communication from the provincial water department stating that the certificate for the water rights on Shawatians and Woodworth lakes had been issued in favor of the city. The authorities were asked to furnish $125, being $25 for registration fee and $100 for the certificate. These water rights were applied for in 1911 and have just been issued. This is considered by some to be quite rapid work on the part of the provincial water department.

Thawing Pipes Caused Fire

A plumber thawing pipes in the Helgerson block this morning using a blow torch. Soon after McMeekin's grocery store turned in a fire alarm. The store was full of smoke. The firemen had some difficulty in locating the fire, but discovered it inside the wall, having caught from the plumbers blow torch. The chemical extinguished it.
