MOVES TO ABOLISH CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Robert Bickerdike Will Explain Reasons for Measure on Second Reading of Bill

(Special to The Daily News) Ottawa, Feb. 4.—Robt. Bickerdike expects to move the second reading of the bill to abolish capital punishment on Thursday, when he will explain the reason for this humanitarian measure. Mr. Bickerdike is very sincere in his opinion that the death penalty should be done away with, and believes that it is not preventative and cannot be justified and is a survival of barbarity.

WILL TAKE NO ACTION RE DEPORTED LEADERS

Officially Announced That British Cabinet Will Not Interfere

(Special to The Daily News) London, Feb. 4.—It is stated on practically official authority that the government will not undertake any action with regard to the deportation of the South African strike leaders, believing the colonial officers had good evidence that this action was only taken after it was proved that there was a plot to capture the ministers and inaugurate a labor government.

ARMAMENT COMPETITION AFFECTS BRITAIN LEAST

But Will Eventually Lead to Disaster Is Opinion of Sir Edward Grey

(Special to The Daily News) London, Feb. 4.—Sir Edward Grey, addressing the Manchester chamber of commerce, referred to the foreign policy and armaments and said Great Britain had felt the financial strain of competition in armaments least of all the powers, but he had forebodings that the competition in armaments would eventually lead to disaster and sink the ship of European prosperity and civilization.

IMPERIAL OIL CO. REFINERY TO BE LOCATED AT VANCOUVER

EXPECT TO DEVELOP THE GRAHAM ISLAND OIL FIELDS—SEVERAL COMPANIES NOW MAKING TEST BORINGS—USE OF OIL FUEL IS INCREASING

More than $500,000 will be spent by the Imperial Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company, in an oil refining plant to be located on Burrard Inlet. A deal has been closed between the Imperial Oil people and Alvo von Alvensleben, Limited, whereby there was transferred to the oil company nearly one hundred acres of land directly across from Barnet, several miles up the inlet from Vancouver. The consideration named in the transfer was $150,000.

An official statement as to the consummation of the deal for the land and the plans for the British Columbia oil refinery, has been given out by Mr. C. M. Rolston, manager of the Imperial Oil Company for British Columbia.

Immediate work is to start, it is understood. Plans for the improvement of the property include a wharf from 700 to 800 feet long, capable of taking cars of steamers which will bring crude oil for refining. A refining plant such as will meet the needs of the Western Canadian business and the increasing demand for oil products will mean a large outlay of money, probably more than $500,000 on the start, and the employment of from 100 to 200 persons.

At the beginning the refinery will handle only the crude oils of California and Mexico. The Standard Oil Company is continually reaching out and searching new oilfield possibilities, and Manager Rolston said that his company will do everything possible to develop the oil fields of British Columbia. In this connection the interests are planning the development of the oil fields of Graham Island, where boring is now going on by one company and several other companies are preparing for the prosecution of development this spring and summer.

Something like 750,000 barrels of fuel oil are now being used annually in British Columbia. This oil comes from California duty free. These figures do not include the consumption of fuel oil by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, which has a private contract for supply from the Union Oil Company of California, the largest purveyors of this character of oil. Some 25,000 barrels of other products of crude oil, such as coal oil and gasoline, are also used annually in this province. On the latter the duty is heavy and the freight alone amounts to from 11 to 13 cents a gallon.

The Imperial Oil Company, when the refinery is completed, plans to bring in the Standard Oil ships the crude oil from California and Mexico. From this will be made fuel oil, and such other products as may be profitably extracted and for which the market in British Columbia is growing at a tremendous rate. It is expected that by the time the refinery is running there will have been adjustments of freight rates which will open to the refinery in British Columbia the markets of the prairie and middle west provinces.

ALL GOVERNMENT SEE THE PUBLIC GETS A SQUARE DEAL

W FISHERIES OFFICE TO BE CREATED—WILL HE HAVE POWER TO COMPEL HONEST MARKING TO IDENTIFY CONTENTS OF SALMON CANS?

As stated by the Conservative member for this riding that will be introduced at this session of the commons to appoint a sanitary inspector for salmon canneries. This has been advocated for some time, unless some new regulations made to be under the control of the new office the creation will be a farce.

The appointment of a cannery inspector ought to have the power to compel sanitary marking, the proper disposal of refuse, the keeping clean of cannery premises, and the housing of the help under sanitary conditions. Combined with this office should be regulations compelling every cannery to mark the cans in a way to identify the contents, and it should be the duty of the inspector to see that all cans are honestly labelled and that no tainted salmon is packed.

STR. VADSO WENT DOWN IN 170 FATHOMS OF WATER

Struck Rock in Nasago Gulf and Sank in Thirty Five Minutes--- All Crew Saved---Coming in On Venture

The steamer Vadso of the Union Steamship Line lies in 170 fathoms of water. She struck a rock in Nasago Gulf off Portland Inlet and sank in thirty-two minutes. She was south bound after discharging cargo at Granby Bay, and struck a rock at 3:45 a. m. Tuesday.

She started sinking immediately and the crew took to the lifeboats. They made Naas Harbor and are coming in on the Venture today.

Captain John Richardson was in charge of the Vadso.

A telegram from Port Simpson to the local agent, Mr. J. H. Rogers, brought news of the disaster.

The Vadso was formerly of the Boscowitz line and has been on this coast for several years. She was used as a freighter and when she sank she had over 100 tons of coal for Messrs. Rogers & Black of this city.

Last year she had an accident at Nanaimo and was afterwards overhauled and put in fine shape.

She is now a total loss. It is supposed that she struck during a snow storm.

CITIZENS ARGUED CASE OUT OF COURT

Two Black Eyes and a Five Dollar Fine the Net Result

Yesterday David Schienman gave evidence against Geo. Tessier in the liquor selling charge, Tessier in his defence brought in the name of Mr. Grossman. The latter thought Schienman was responsible.

W. Christensen, a clerk in Grossman's store, went into Lando's store to argue it out with Mr. Schienman. Mr. Lando eventually landed on Christensen and threw him out. Then Mr. Schienman went up to explain to Mr. Grossman and Mr. Grossman met him coming and landed first.

Just then a police officer appeared and the case went back to court.

Grossman paid $5 fine this morning.

Judgment Reserved

The Tessier liquor selling case was completed at this morning's session of the police court. The verdict is reserved. The evidence put in this morning by the defence was that a quantity of liquor had been taken in the Tessier home by other parties. The prosecution gave evidence in rebuttal showing that Tessier had bought beer he said he had not purchased.

Tomorrow Tessier and his wife will appear on the charge of keeping a disorderly house.

P. F. Roosa of the cold storage company is in Granby this week. He has just received word from California that his wife lies very sick there. He leaves Friday to attend her.

REV. DR. MACLEAN FRONTIER MISSIONARY

Man Who Believes in Helping Man and Beast

Rev. Dr. Maclean of New Hazelton returned to his home today after spending a few days in town as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McRae. Dr. Maclean and Mr. McRae were college chums in old Dalhousie.

Besides being a Christian minister, Dr. Maclean is a qualified veterinary surgeon, and in his tramps through the wilds of Northern British Columbia he has been a faithful friend of both man and beast. He is another example of the strong men to be found out upon the frontiers of civilization holding high the banner of the church, and by their manly conduct making it a living force among the people.

A false alarm from the corner of Sixth Street and Second Avenue got the firemen out at eight o'clock last evening.

MICKY GOT NINETY DAYS BUT FROST GOT CLEAR

Watch Stealing Case Heard by Judge Young This Morning

John Frost and Mike McDonough, charged respectively with stealing a watch and pawning it, elected yesterday for speedy trial and appeared before Judge Young this morning.

Frost admitted stealing the watch from James Cummings, with whom they were drinking. He took it as a joke.

McDonough after seeing it taken got it from Frost and then pawned it under a fictitious name.

The evidence was practically the same as given in police court. Frost was dismissed and McDonough given three months for pawning the watch, knowing it to be stolen.

GUARDED BODY OF DEAD SISTER THREE WEEKS

Shocking Discovery Made When Police Enter Room in Los Angeles Apartment House

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 3.—Hours of diligent investigation brought to the police little light upon the apartment house death mystery, whereby Miss Nanette Warren, aged 45, was found in her room closely guarding the body of her sister Mary, who had been dead apparently for twenty days.

The situation was revealed when the apartment house proprietor became apprehensive, realizing that the door of the Warren apartment had not been opened for three weeks. He was confronted by Miss Nanette, who desperately fought to retain the body of her sister.

A half empty chloroform bottle was found in the apartment, creating the belief that perhaps Miss Mary Warren, who was 50 years old, had not died naturally, and there was evidence that her sister had not eaten for more than a week, apparently in an effort to starve herself to death.

At first it was believed that the women were in straitened circumstances, but the police found in the rooms a quantity of expensive gems, jewelry and clothing.

Surgeons at the police receiving hospital had to feed Nanette Warren forcibly last night. The woman, however, consented to eat today. Her mental condition precluded any effort to obtain from her a statement concerning the death of her sister and her three weeks' vigil beside the body.

Love is like the measles, all the worse when it comes late in life.

PRINCE WILLIAM OF WIED.

GRAFTING A KING ON THE PEOPLE OF ALBANIA

Great ceremony planned. It is planned by the European powers who selected Prince Durazo and other ports with great pomp and show. His rival for the throne is Essad Pasha, who with 15,000 troops is virtually in charge of the country. Essad Pasha, it is said, has agreed to support Prince William, in which event the enthronement will be an occasion of great show.

Editor Fielding Retires

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—The retirement of the Hon. W. S. Fielding from the editorship of the Montreal Telegraph, owing to his adherence to Liberal principles, and because of his refusal to work under any dictation from Sir Hugh Graham, will probably be followed shortly by his active re-entry into politics. His presence in the house of commons is desired by Liberals, and also by the best financial and commercial elements of the country, especially in view of trade and tariff issues now before parliament, and if Mr. Fielding will consent, a seat will be opened for him in Nova Scotia by the retirement of Mr. Law, the Liberal member for Yarmouth. There is no doubt that Mr. Fielding could carry the constituency, but there is some fear that the government would take advantage of Law's resignation to delay the election for months, thus keeping both Law and Fielding out of the house.

We are informed that on Saturday evening the delegates to the Conservative Convention attended the performance of "The Glad Eye" at the Royal Victoria theatre. They had already enjoyed "The Glad Hand" of Sir Richard McBride, and "The Glad Eye" would follow as a matter of course.—Victoria Times.

With both houses of parliament in session a great many subjects for public discussion are now before the people. It is rather a pity that questions of this kind could not be discussed without the bias of party interest. To all these questions there is a right and a wrong side, and they should be decided entirely on their merits. As it is, however, the party in power is by force of interests compelled to uphold whatever legislation those in authority wish to advance. In private indeed they may condemn those actions, but in public never. Were it otherwise legislators would consider very seriously before bringing up any questions that might be unfair to the common people.

Moreover, it is a difficult matter for even an opposition newspaper to criticize a government in an effective way. Criticism there must be if popular government is to survive. At the same time, on account of the large amount of prejudice that exists the truth itself can hardly be forced into the minds of some people. It is only when startling outrages are committed that the people are compelled to think and that is why in British Columbia today an active agitation is on foot.

One of the recent actions of the McBride government is open for the severest censure. Governments make laws, but when those laws are set at defiance by their very authors how can the common people be expected to respect them? It is rightly held to be an illegal thing for members of the legislature to traffic with the government's business. They are supposed to keep aloof and conduct the public business in an impartial manner.

At the opening of the present session it was found that some members of the legislature had been in the employ of the government. As such they were not only disqualified as legislators but were liable to a fine. The highest legal authority in the province should have seen that the law was enforced. Bowser, however, does not believe that such laws apply to Tories, so he not only ignores the breach of the act but he takes steps to justify it. A new "Enabling Act" is passed for this special case in order that the members may take their seats. In other words he legalizes the breach of the law.

This is not the first time that Bowser has ridden rough shod over the laws of the country. At every time that a specific law has come in his road he has either set it aside or treated it with contempt. Indeed his actions in this respect are getting serious. We frequently hear a great deal about British justice, but how can there be British justice in a country where the highest authority in the land has no respect for law. The time has come for the people of this country to assert their rights and to cast from power a government who will trifle with our most sacred institutions.

President Wilson's Reforms

Corporation and trust abuses are to be materially restricted by legislation outlined in President Wilson's message. Prohibition of interlocking directorates for banks, railroads, industrial and commercial companies, and public service corporations is demanded. The seriousness of creating a body corporate and granting certain individuals corporate existence and powers has never been fully appreciated, and the result has been the toleration of many abuses. Interlocking operations, though often complicated, are simple in principle. Men owning or controlling fifty-one per cent. of, say, the stock of a railway company control it. They can organize themselves into a car-building company in which they own, say, ninety per cent. of the stock. As a car-building company they can sell cars to themselves as a railway company and pay an excessive price. For every dollar the railway company loses through an unfair bargain they lose fifty-one cents and gain ninety cents. This illustrates the principle underlying a multitude of dishonest operations through interlocking directorates. Many railways are impoverished by subsidiary companies. The men who secure control of fifty-one per cent. of the stock of a bank can organize themselves into other companies and thus lend the bank's funds to themselves for various projects. Men in control of a realty company can distribute its funds to themselves by buying property from themselves, or can organize themselves into a building construction company and make advantageous contracts with themselves. Evidently grave and well concealed abuses may develop through interlocking directorates. Radical and far-reaching legislation will be necessary to provide effective checks, but congress is in a mood for decisive action. It is outlined to reach the organization of trusts or companies to hold the stock of other companies, and the voting powers of men holding stock in numerous companies. The grave abuse of over-capitalizing and over-bonding railway companies would be restrained, according to the president's suggestions, by authority to be conferred on the interstate commerce commission. It is intended that bonds and stocks shall be restricted in par value to money actually invested. Railways are sometimes by mismanagement loaded with bonded debts that make their capital stock of little or no value. Stock is issued for various services and on slender pretenses. The larger the capital the lower must be the rate of dividend a company's profits can provide. By inflating the capital a dividend preposterously high on the money actually invested can be made to seem only a fair return. Profits paying, say, twenty per cent. on actual investments can be made to appear and be recorded as five per cent. by inflating the share capital four-fold. This low rate of return is used against agitators for rate reduction. Buyers of inflated stock who do not know that it does not represent actual investments claim that rates should be allowed sufficiently high to provide them dividends on the par value. The public feels an obligation to provide such dividends, so over-capitalization becomes a public charge. The freedom of the past in such matters is condemned, and is to be ended by subjecting new issues to official supervision. The Sherman law against the unlawful combinations is to be materially strengthened by giving private claimants who suffer a right of action after the government has established facts as to the existence of a combine. Serious penalties for individuals responsible for infractions of the law are an important factor in the President's recommendations. These and minor recommendations look like a determined effort to deal with entrenched abuses among powerful interests. The people of the United States made no mistake in selecting a man who actually understood the duties of the office to which he aspired.

WM. MANSON, M.P.P., GOOD TORY WHO SEES NO WRONG IN BOWSER

EVERY DAY SEES GOVERNMENT CRITICIZED IN LEGISLATURE—CONTINUAL CONCENTRATION OF EXECUTIVE POWER IS DISLIKED

(By John P. McConnell.)
 Press Gallery, Victoria, Jan. 30.—Not a day has passed in the legislature since the debate on the address began that one or more members have not taken a slap at the administration, at either its methods or its policy. Lorne Campbell of Rossland landed a resounding whack on the extravagance of the government in spending huge sums on constables, fire wardens and game wardens when the money should be spent on useful public works. He said it was impossible to travel ten miles in British Columbia without bumping into one or the other of these officials, and he recommended that a system of mounted police who could perform all these duties should be adopted. In this contention he is on all fours with the Liberal party. So we have now seen the land policy, the timber policy, the agricultural policy, the taxation policy, the administration of justice, the extravagance and lack of foresight of the government one after another all condemned and criticized on the floor of the house by its own supporters. No wonder Sir Richard plaintively pleads for criticism from the opposition. Criticism from political enemies would be duck soup compared to that which is handed out by the government's own supporters.

A LOVELY EVENING CLOAK
 Of the softest electric blue silk brochu, artistically draped with black chiffon velvet, supplemented by a becoming hood surmounted with a snow white fox collar.

W. Manson of Skeena, Pooley of Esquimalt, and McKenzie of Delta are so far the only speakers who see no evil in the government and no good in the Liberals. Skeena and Esquimalt both roundly condemn the tour of Liberal leaders in this province. In their eyes this tour and the things the leaders say are little short of lese majeste. Both these gentlemen represent the good old type of Tory, who believes that that the earth and the fulness thereof belongs to the Tories, because forsooth the Tories made all the good things therein. They complain that the Liberal policy is not constructive, but is only destructive. If there were a few Liberals in the house the Liberal platform might be cited to show that every plank in it is constructive and progressive, and it might also be pointed out that the government's record has been destructive of almost every tenet of political morality. But as there are no Liberals in the house to answer these gentlemen they are permitted to get away with their foolish statements, even though they are made before a house that yawns and engages in conversation or entertaining reading while they are getting off their fulminations. Not the least of the causes of dissatisfaction in Victoria is the persistent concentration of executive powers in the various departments, especially those for which the attorney-general is responsible or over which he exercises his domineering proclivities. Session after session of the legislature sees more and more of local control of affairs, public and private, pass into the hands of the lieutenant-governor-in-council. That mouth-filling phrase does not mean that the lieutenant-governor has anything to say in the various matters which come before the council. He is not a responsible representative of the people and always acts on the advice of the cabinet.

Sir George Ross III

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—Sir George Ross, Liberal leader in the senate, who has been suffering from severe cold and recurrence of rheumatic troubles for the past week, was taken to Toronto last night in the private car of the minister of railways. Sir George's condition is not at present causing any alarm, but his physicians advise absolute quiet for some time for fear his heart may be affected, causing fatal results. Senator Bostock will act as Liberal leader in the senate in case Sir George is not able to return when the senate resumes on February 17.

Modern Beacon Fires

THE old beacon fires were the great advertising mediums of their age.

Though they could not advertise merchandise, they advertised the things of most vital interest to the people.

Placed on the summits of high hills, bearing a message to thousands of "readers," they were prototypes of those modern fires of Twentieth Century commerce—the "beacon" fires of Newspaper Advertising.

The advertisements appearing in the newspapers to-day are shining lights in the world of commerce, flashing out news and information to a waiting world.

When the modern manufacturer lights the Beacon Fires of Newspaper Advertising he places his message before the people in a way that will impart knowledge, beget appreciation and win preference for his goods.

Who can fail to see any day the gleaming messages of "Magic Baking Powder," "Standard Ideal Ware," "Sunlight Soap," "Gillette Safety Razors," "Penman's Underwear," "Infants' Delight Soap," and many others?

To the Manufacturers of Canada

Each day sees more articles given publicity in the newspapers. Are your products and your brand still in the valley of obscurity, or are they blazoned forth by the beacon fires of advertising on the high hill of public favor?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—"Sir James Whitney had a somewhat restless night, but his general condition is good. There is no change in the condition of Sir George Ross."

The above bulletin was issued at the general hospital today. Sir James slept but little through the night and rolled and tossed in a restless manner. The premier has been enjoying restful nights and his restless condition last night came as a surprise. His physicians, however, state that he is doing nicely.

The condition of Sir George Ross is much the same. He rests quietly, partakes of a little nourishment, and while he is not gaining perceptibly, he has shown no sign of losing ground.

RICH COPPER LANDS SOLD FOR $500 000

Claims in Kamishak District Purchased by British Columbia and Arizona Capitalists

J. D. Meenach of Seattle, a pioneer in the development of Alaska copper properties, former owner of the Ellamar mines and the first operator to ship the ore in commercial quantities out of the north, has closed a deal for claims in the rich Kamishak Bay the purchase of fifteen valuable districts as the representative of British Columbia and Arizona capitalists. More than $500,000 is involved in the transaction.

Kamishak Bay is in the Cook Inlet country, which is served by vessels of the Admiral line. In connection with the opening of the claims and the development of the properties, which are said to be the richest in the entire Cook Inlet country, Mr. Meenach is planning the construction of a railway sixteen miles long from the mines to tidewater.

Big shipments of railway equipment and supplies will be sent from Seattle to the north, beginning early in April. It is planned to build bunkers with a capacity of 5,000 tons of ore at either end of the railway to facilitate the handling of the shipments.

Mr. Meenach received rich returns from the Ellamar mines, which he sold to their present owner, F. M. Jordan.
