BELIEVES HOME RULE NOT LIVE ISSUE IN LONDON--UNIONISTS' BEST CARD UNPOPULARITY OF INSURANCE ACT

(Special to The Daily News)
London, Feb. 16.—A canvass of the constituencies as to which the best suited for bye-elections will be held. A representative member reveals the fact that the question of Home Rule is not a question with the people of the north and east London. The member admits that the best card of the Unionists is the unpopularity of the Insurance Act among casual laborers. An investigation reveals an entire lack of interest in the possibility of civil war, the people being more interested in their daily bread. Sir Henry Lucy, a noted parliamentary writer, says the impression left on parliament by Asquith's speech was that he was prepared to exclude Ulster. Asquith secures the advantage of six weeks before he will be obliged to lay his cards on the table. This leaves an opportunity for further conversations which may be counted to overcome Redmond's scruples.

ALDERMAN AND NEWS MAN IN HIGH FINANCE

Why a Ten per Cent Debt Can Be Made to Look Like Money in the Bank

"I notice you have been saying about a ten per cent loan on your paper," said Alderman Crissey to a Daily News man. "Why don't you so-called financiers get a pencil and figure on to facts?"

"Well, what's the answer?" asked The News man.

"Why, that loan which you say costing ten per cent is actually giving the city a premium of five and a half per cent."

"Um-m! How do you make it out?"

"Why we save $25,000 for coal $18,000 in operating expenses in a year by having the steam plant instead of the steam engine."

"This loan has to be paid back the 1st next year and another made in its place?" suggested The News man.

"Yes."

"When will the new plant be ready?"

"Say November 1st to be safe."

"Well then the saving in coal and operating expenses can only be credited to this loan up to next June. After that it should be credited to the new loan."

"No, this saving is perpetual. The expense is wiped out forever."

"Then why not say that in ten years you will have saved $430,000? That would give us the money for nothing and leave over $400,000 in the bank."

"That's absurd," exclaimed the chairman of the finance committee.

"Yes, I guess so," agreed the newspaper man.

DISPUTE OVER PRIEST RESULTS IN GREAT RIOT

People Had Barred Doors and Windows of Church to Keep Priest Out of Court

(Special to The Daily News)
South Bend, Ind., Feb. 16.—Seven persons were seriously injured and nearly one hundred were hurt in a riot, when twenty-five policemen attempted to aid the sheriff in carrying out the judges order that a clergyman be placed in charge of the Polish Catholic church. A mob of two thousand men, women and children fought their efforts since the clergyman was refused the parish a year ago by the congregation who barred the doors and windows of the church and petitioned the Bishop to have him removed. Firemen were called out but were powerless to help the police since the people surrounded the wagons and threatened to cut the hose.

RUSSIAN BOY MURDER WORLD WIDE INTEREST

Secret Jewish Society Mixed Up in Affair Which Has Stirred Up the Nation

(Special to The Daily News)
Kiev, Feb. 16.—The murder of the boy Fastoff is assuming the dimensions of the Beiliss case. Like the earlier tragedy stories of mysterious characters are introduced. The Black Hundred and the Union of the Russian People are showing their old-time anti-semitic activity. The minister of justice and other judiciary have arrived and are sifting the evidence. The Black Hundred, after first asserting that the victim was a Christian, subsequently claim that he was a Jew and murdered by the Jews for the purpose of disproving the allegations of ritual murder and to demonstrate that Jews as well as Christians might be victims of a crime. The police have arrested Pashoff, a relative of Beiliss. The same counsel as in the Beiliss crime have arrived on the scene, while newspaper correspondents are thronging to Fastoff. Pashoff is still in prison, also the peasant Gontcharu, who is believed to have seen the boy on the day of the murder.

CITY ALDERMEN MUST KNOW WHERE THEY ARE AT BEFORE THEY WILL VOTE FOR STARTING ON THE WOOD-WORTH LAKE WORKS

The following motion has been placed upon the notice board at the city hall. The motion will be voted on at the meeting tonight:

The purport of the motion is said to be a brake on the apparent tendency of some of the aldermen to rush headlong into the city hydro-electric scheme before they know what it is going to cost or where the money is coming from.

DAILY EDITION

Monday, Feb. 16, 1914

Mr. H. C. Brewster, accompanied by "Honest John" Oliver, has just completed a tour of the southern portion of the province in the interest of the Liberal party. The splendid reception they received wherever they went is a clear indication of public feeling. There is not the slightest doubt that there is an increasing number in British Columbia who are anxious for a change.

Mr. Brewster expects to pay the north a visit immediately after the Liberal convention, which will be held in Victoria on February 25. He will also be accompanied by one or more of the party's strong men in the south. Mr. Brewster is making friends for himself and for Liberalism wherever he goes. From the first he was recognized, even by his political opponents, as a man of sterling qualities and unbending principles. He has now spread consternation in the camp of enemy by proving that he is a good campaigner. His visit to Prince Rupert will be awaited with a good deal of interest.

The new parcel post system is proving a big disappointment. It has not come up to the expectations of the people. It was thought that its framers would follow very closely the plan of the United States bill. In that country the system is a grand success. Not only has it greatly reduced the cost of transportation but it has become a big revenue-producer for the government.

In Canada a good many people thought the bill was too good to expect from a Tory government, and especially one dominated by Bob Rogers. The Conservatives secured power by catering to the big interests. They are the friends of the corporations and the big capitalists. Consequently it was hardly natural to expect them to antagonize the big express companies. Of course they had no notion of doing that. The parcels post bill was framed up just to suit those parties. It made a pretense of giving the people something, but its real purpose was to strengthen the express companies' position and to prevent any agitation for lower rates.

What has happened is this: Except on very small articles and within the twenty-mile zone the rates are no lower than those of the express companies. Consequently there will be no competition and it is doubtful if the government will make enough to pay the cost.

In the United States the rates were reduced to one-half that of the express companies. As a result the service was flooded with business. The government made a good profit and the people got cheap transportation.

AVIATOR HAS NEW PLANS FOR FLIGHT OVER ATLANTIC

New York, Feb. 15.—Abraham Raygorodsky, who is known among aviators as "Ray," plans to fly across the Atlantic in an 800-horsepower aeroplane in fourteen hours next July. The machine will weigh 3½ tons, and is being constructed secretly in the vicinity of this city, and is now near completion.

Mr. Raygorodsky yesterday gave out details of his plans. He is being backed by several New York millionaires, one of them a prominent downtown lawyer. The machine will have four many novel departures from the accepted type of aeroplane will be taken to Newfoundland early in July. The flight will be attempted about the middle of the month. Mr. Raygorodsky will ascend to an altitude of 10,000 feet, where he expects to meet a wind of thirty miles an hour. His aeroplane engines will give him a normal speed of 100 miles an hour, and this will be augmented to 120 miles an hour by the wind. In fifteen hours at the most he expects to land in Ireland, where he will telegraph engines of 200 horsepower each, to be constructed by the Curtis Company, and they will drive four propellers. It will have regular sleeping accommodations, and two men, one a navigator, and the other an aviator, will accompany him.

It will carry nine tons of gasoline, sufficient for thirty hours' flight. The spread of wings will be 120 feet. A special type of stabilizer is installed on the machine, and this acts automatically when a greater pressure is exerted on one side of the wings than on the other.

The machine, which includes his arrival to London, and then continue his flight until the gasoline supply is exhausted. In this way he expects to reach Norway. Before the flight is attempted the machine will be subjected to a rigorous test flight of thirty hours.

ALDERMAN EJECTED FROM COUNCIL MEETING

Medicine Hat, Alta., Feb. 14.—Ald. McLean was ejected from a council meeting during discussion of the licence bylaw. He refused to vote when called upon to do so, and when called to apologize to the chair for disrespect, again refused. He was given the choice of walking out or going in a policeman's arms, and chose the former.

The resolution for ejection met with only one dissenting voice. On Monday night the same alderman caused some excitement by calling "liar" every few minutes, and today was pursuing the same tactics.

"A MATCH FOR THE GODS"—ENGLAND'S RUGBY VICTORY OVER WALES AT TWICKENHAM

The struggle for supremacy in the rugby international match was a thrilling sight to witness. It has been described as "a match for the gods." It was a wonderful contest and a thrilling finish. Wales led, England led. Wales led again and then victory for England was secured at the last moment, the final result being 10 points to 9. The incident shown here is the scoring of England's second try from which a goal was kicked, giving England the victory. The ball bounced over the head of Paneroff, the Welsh full-back, seen on the right, and Pillman, his mop of hair blown back, dashing past at full speed, had a terrific race with another of the Welsh team, Watts, for the ball, and won.

The Tale The Wagons Tell

My office window faces a street, close to the railway freight sheds.

All day long a steady stream of trucks and lorries lumber by—loaded with boxes, barrels and bales.

One truck I noticed the other afternoon was particularly interesting. No two boxes were the same, and stencilled on the end of each was the name of some well-known product—soap, tobacco, socks, breakfast food, cocoa, port, tea, chocolates, perfumery and baking powder.

Gathered there in prosaic wooden boxes were the results of thousands of hand's labor in all parts of the world.

The cocoa had been grown in Brazil, shipped to Bristol, transhipped to Montreal and finally distributed from Toronto.

The tea was gathered by swart-skinned natives of the romantic island of Ceylon; from sunny Portugal the luscious, big grapes had been gathered years ago, fermented, bottled and branded with a famous name; from Egypt had come the cotton and from South America the dyes that entered into the product finally stamped with the brand of a well-known hosiery.

There, behind that obviously prosaic truck-load of freight was the whole romance of modern commerce—the skilled production, the universal demand for food, drink and raiment, and the world-wide distribution of the things we use every day.

And then I speculated why we use these things every day, instead of some other things; and that brought me plump back to my own job of advertising.

The names of some of the boxes on the lorry were known everywhere to-day, but had been unknown a few years ago; and I saw then more clearly than ever before that Advertising is really a great channel digger. It is like the Panama Canal. You can sail from Montreal to Vancouver now, around the Horn. You can get there, but it is going to take months. A year or so from now you will sail through the Panama Canal and chop the journey to less than half. A new channel will have been dug.

The great names in commerce to-day are those of the manufacturers who have let modern advertising steam-shovel a channel across the isthmus of distributing difficulties.

The great names in the commerce of to-morrow will be those of men who widen and dredge this channel so that the greater traffic may pass smoothly and quickly from the source of production to the homes of the consumer.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

A NEWSPAPER

for Prince Rupert and Northern B.C.

The Daily News goes into nearly every home in Prince Rupert. It is the popular newspaper of the city because it is clean and reliable. It has all the news of the city, and keeps in touch with events and topics interesting to Northern British Columbia. It treats these subjects with moderate optimism and reliability.

The Daily News is the most valuable paper to advertisers because it is read by the buying public. It has a bigger circulation than any other paper in the city. It is read by the class of people the advertisers want to talk to.

This weather promotes Coughs

Those who have trouble in shaking off a cough should note that Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil not only soothes the irritation of the bronchial tubes, and promptly stops the cough, but being a splendid tonic and healer it soon enables the system to permanently throw off the cold and restores the mucous membranes to their normal healthy condition.

Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil has won, by its merit, the largest sale in Canada of any medicine for coughs—35c large bottle, sold everywhere.

Hon. Dr. Young seems to have expressed a wish at the recent Conservative convention that he could have had a flashlight picture of those assembled. When "Honest John" Oliver heard this he said that that would be the best way to get a complete picture of the outside civil service of the province.

PROGRESSIVE TOPICS IN WEEKLY DEBATE

The weekly meeting of the Young Men's Progressive Debating society was held on Thursday last. A variety of topical subjects were raised in impromptu speeches by the members, including municipal ownership, the use of military force for the suppression of labor troubles, total prohibition, and the future evolution of man. What ever may be said in blame or commendation of the theories and views expressed, it must be conceded that they were at least "progressive." Indeed if some of the opinions are to become planks in the political platforms of the near future we may look for a speedy termination of party prejudices and an honest attempt to grapple with existing difficulties. At the meeting this week Mr. J. Munro will read a paper on the "Canadian Naval Question." It is hoped that by that time the syllabus will be ready for distribution among the members, and anyone desiring a copy may obtain one from the secretary, Mr. Donald Peddie.
