TRAIN HOLDUP MAN KILLED THREE PASSENGERS ON G. N. R.

ATTEMPTED TO HOLD UP TRAIN--ATTACKED BY THREE PASSENGERS WHO WERE SHOT DEAD--ROBBERS ARE STILL AT LARGE

(Special to The Daily News)
Bellingham, Wash., Feb. 21.—A daring and brutal holdup occurred last night near here on the Great Northern train, in which three of the passengers lost their lives. The dead are J. Atkinson, travelling salesman of Vancouver; T. S. Wadsworth, C. P. R. conductor of Vancouver, and R. L. Lee of Bellingham, Wash.
The robbers were three in number and when first noticed seated in the smoking car. They covered their faces with handkerchiefs for masks and entered the day coach. One man walked to the rear of the car, another stopped at the door, while the other stepped inside the coach.
When the robber at the rear attempted to lock the door several men jumped from their seats and attacked him. The holdup man at the forward end then began to shoot at the lights. Meanwhile the robber who was grappling with the three assailants drew an automatic and shot the three men dead. The conductor in the adjoining car, when he heard the shooting, immediately stopped the train. The bandits left the car together as soon as it came to a stop.

The robbers did not succeed in getting any valuables, although several terribly frightened ladies were holding out their purses in the aisle as they passed out.
So far the robbers are at large, but the police are actively on their trail.

LEARN HOW TO TREAT MUSKEG FOR FLOWERS

Horticultural Society Will Have Discussion on How to Beautify Prince Rupert

Make Prince Rupert beautiful. That is the object of the Horticultural society, who will have a meeting in the city hall next Tuesday evening. The society has done good work before and is planning bigger things for the future.
One of the features of the meeting will be an address by Mr. Tomlinson, provincial horticulturist, on the best method of treating muskeg to make lawns and gardens. This will give residents some very valuable information.
There will also be discussions by a number of local gardeners and lovers of flowers on their experiences locally.
The society's plans for the season will be matured.

Construction work on the new Albert building on the Bank of Montreal corner will start early next week. It will be a one-storey building with four stores. One store will face on Fourth street.

WARK'S CHANNEL POWER

The government organ is now preparing the public for the announcement that the Wark's Channel power is already granted to a private concern. The Journal knows that William Manson and Bowser never meant the city to have that power, in spite of their pretensions that it was reserved.
It is all tommyrot to say that a company has legal rights because they once placed a stake on that stream. The government may refuse any power or land concession at any time in the interest of the people. William Manson and Bowser, however, care nothing for the people. They are false trustees of the public domain. They are giving away the only real water power Prince Rupert has. Citizens, what have you got to say about this?

The News regrets that a lot of local news had to be kept out of this issue for want of room.

GOVT. TO CONTROL EXPORT OF ALL OIL

May Be Needed in Time of War—Admiralty Asks for Measure

(Special to The Daily News)
Ottawa, Feb. 21.—The commons got started with their committee of supply early. Some of the larger estimates in the marine department included a vote for the St. Lawrence channel and this was voted in the evening.
Early in the afternoon Hon. J. D. Reid introduced a bill giving the government power to stop the export of oil at any time. This is done in accordance with the request made by the British Admiralty which in event of war desires to be assured of a plentiful supply of oil for Great Britain's battleships.

The fair spring weather of the past week seems to be having its effect on the real estate market. Numerous persons are enquiring for home building lots and even several business property deals are being negotiated.

ANOTHER APARTMENT HOUSE WITH MODERN APPOINTMENTS

HANDSOME BUILDING DESIGNED BY HARRISON W. ROGERS TO BE ERECTED IN SECTION SIX--OUTSIDE PROPERTY OWNER MAKING THE INVESTMENT

Prince Rupert has early been recognized as a city of apartment houses, and property owners, especially those out of the city, are alive to the good investments this city offers.
Architect Harrison W. Rogers has planned for an outside owner what is to be the largest and best equipped apartment building in the city. An excellent site in section six has been secured and its location, both for view and closeness to town, will be big points in its favor.
The building will occupy two lots and be three storeys and basement high, containing twelve large four and five-room apartments. The first aim in planning was to secure convenience for tenants and many new features locally will be included, such as hot water heating, elevator, roof garden, and latest garbage system.

All the rooms will be finished in first-class style and the kitchens and bathrooms will be models in sanitary and labor-saving devices. Each kitchen will have a well ventilated cooling chest and will also be equipped with ranges, cupboards, etc., and everything needed in a first-class home.
The entrances and public corridors will be finely finished and the exterior design is not restricted. Arrangements are being completed so that the building can be begun shortly and it is the intention to have it ready for tenants by mid-summer or early fall.
The coming in-rush of residents is already taxing the present living accommodations and much building is being planned to start at an early date.

Old Offender Landed a Westminster Sentence This Morning

Indians of Port Simpson, in relation but different name, appeared in police this morning charged with drunk. They registered by names of Tate and Bryant.
They gave evidence to the effect that Jimmy McGinley got liquor for them. Jimmy denied the charge, but his alibi rather weak.
In view of his record, the magistrate gave him six months Westminster.
McGinley was fined $2 for being drunk and Tate was fined $10, being a past master in the art of getting booze.
The magistrate lectured the boys and warned them to stay away from whiskey alone.

USED BAD LANGUAGE TO INDIAN AGENT

Young Man Found What He Supposed a Flirtation to Be Serious Affair

Yesterday Indian Agent Chas. Perry, with Mr. Gurd, an interpreter of the native language, were discussing some official business with two Indian women on Second avenue. Carl Williamson and several friends came along and evidently mistook the object of the gathering. Carl attracted attention to himself by using obscene language. The Indian agent warned him to desist. Later, when the officials were walking down the street, Carl ran after them and assaulted Mr. Perry.
Special Constable Miller was in the vicinity and he took Williamson in charge.
The case was heard in police court this morning and Williamson was taxed $10 and costs, the charge being using obscene language on the streets.

Mr. H. R. Niven has just arrived from Portland with Johnson-Flynn films. These films have never been exhibited before. At the time of the fight it was feared that their appearance would arouse too great a race feeling, and hence they were prohibited. Mr. Niven has made arrangements to exhibit them at the Majestic theatre in conjunction with the regular big Saturday night bill, and no doubt the sporting fraternity will take advantage of seeing them. PROGRESS ON $3,000,000 DRY DOCK SHOWS IMMENSITY OF THE WORKS

Grand Trunk and Dominion Government Preparatory for Great Maritime Future of Prince Rupert---Building Complete and Machinery Installed by November

Two years ago Hays Cove was a little bay on the waterfront partially surrounded by hills of rock and gulleys of muskeg. At low tide the bay was a mud flat. A little stream ran through it, being the drainage outlet of Mount Hays. Today the cove is the site of Prince Rupert's three million dollar dry dock, an undertaking of the Grand Trunk Pacific which is backed by the Dominion government. What was wild two years ago is now a hive of industry representing tremendous work accomplished and countless days of labor to come.

Faith in Great Future
To the average citizen of Prince Rupert the dry dock construction represents a big payroll within the city, but to a careful observer it means much more. The Grand Trunk and Dominion government are not putting three millions into a dry dock for the mere purpose of repairing a few coasting ships. The statesmen and captains of industry foresee a shipbuilding trade and dry dock work which is going to keep these big yards busy. They foresee the big maritime trade that is going to centre at Prince Rupert. They also see the strategic advantage of this port to the naval service. Prince Rupert has a tremendous importance in the eyes of those who look into the future.

Change in Landscape
Few persons who have not kept in touch with the work going on at the dry dock site realize the extent of the physical change made in the landscape at that point. The rock hills have been cut down, the gulleys filled in and the bay covered with docks, built up on thousands of creosoted piles. The docks themselves are about complete, but the pontoons which make the dry dock are only now in course of construction.

The area covered by the wharves and yards is 22 acres. The railway company have in addition graded a still bigger area for their freight yards, which will be adjoining the dry dock site.

Chimney Almost Finished
One of the big jobs on the construction end of the undertaking has been the big reinforced concrete chimney, which stands 175 feet high. This is about completed, and the top of it can be seen from nearly all parts of the city. There is only the top section now to finish. This has a decorative sign which will add to the appearance of the immense tower.

The construction of the four buildings in connection with the works is now well under way.

Several Big Buildings
One of the smaller buildings is about complete. It is the

WESTERN PROVINCES TO BE CONSULTED

C. N. R. Application for Money to Be Put Up to Provincial Governments

(Special to The Daily News)
Ottawa, Feb. 21.—It is stated that the latest development in the C. N. R. situation is that before any action is taken by the government in the matter the four western provinces should be consulted as to the action necessary in view of the fact that all are deeply interested in the future of the Canadian Northern system owing to the provincial governments having guaranteed bonds to the extent of nearly $120,000,000. If the road should chance to become financially embarrassed it might seriously affect the credit of the four western provinces.

TWO M'BRIDE STREET LOTS SOLD TODAY FOR $36,500

OWNERS PURCHASED THEM TWO YEARS AGO FOR $17,000 WITH ONLY $5,000 CASH--AN ONTARIO MAN IS THE PURCHASER

Real estate in Prince Rupert has always been considered gilt-edged. Through all the financial depression prices have held firm. Now it appears that there is to be an active demand for property.
The biggest sale that has taken place for some time has just been put through by Mr. Baker of Westenhaver Bros. Lots 63 and 64, block 34, section 1, have been sold to an Ontario client for the sum of $36,500. These lots are situated on Mc-Bride street, close to Third avenue, and although at present they are not right in the business centre, everybody looks for that part of town to be the centre before very long.

The lots in question were owned jointly by H. F. McRae and the firm of Williams & Manson of this city. They bought the lots just two years ago for $17,000, with a payment of $5,000 cash. The profit made on the outlay runs into a very handsome percentage.

FIREMEN'S ANNUAL BALL GREAT SUCCESS

Big Crowd Enjoyed an Evening of Good Music and Good Dancing

Chief McDonald and the fire laddies were on duty in a new and interesting way last evening. They were hosts at their first ball which promises to be an annual affair in Prince Rupert. The boys all had their uniforms brushed and creased for the occasion and they were an attractive squad in the ballroom.
Outside the big new auto fire wagon stood at the entrance to the hall ready for action in case of necessity, but fortunately the evening passed pleasantly without any alarm.

St. Andrew's hall was elaborately decorated for the occasion. The whole ceiling of the auditorium was draped with flags and the effect was gay indeed. The boys spent much time on this feature. Added to the general brilliancy of the decorations were numerous colored lights which gave a pleasing effect.

A very large number of citizens turned out to enjoy the hospitality of the firemen and they were not in any way disappointed. The floor and music were excellent and the dancers thoroughly enjoyed themselves during the whole evening.
Refreshments were served in the adjoining rooms during the evening.

DAILY EDITION

Saturday, Feb. 21, 1914

When the Conservatives came into power at Ottawa they started a big fuss about the cost of the National Transcontinental railway. A commission was appointed to investigate the whole matter and report back to parliament. It is hardly necessary to say that the personnel of that committee was as dyed-in-the-wool as any Tory could be and that the very worst that could be said about the late government would be trumped up.

The report is now in and it is curious to notice that there is not one charge of graft. They of course say that there was in their opinion a needless expense of forty million. They tell us that the road was built too well. They say the grades are too easy and the curves too long. In other words, they would have builded a much inferior road, and of course they could have builded such cheaper.

Every knows—except a few cheap politicians in Prince Rupert—that the estimated cost of any undertaking nearly always falls far short of the actual cost. To estimate the cost of building a road through some of the rough places of Canada—and those conditions exist in the east—can only at best be a wild guess.

The work of building this road, however, was given by tender. Why didn't those Tories who say the prices we too big put in a bid. Contracts are invariably given to the lowest bidder. If the prices paid were too much surely that was not the government's fault. They could not furnish contractors. These are matters that are determined by conditions and over which the government has no control.

We are pleased to learn, as doubtless also was our morning contemporary, that subsequent to the advertisement of cancellation of the water reserves upon Kaien Island and the Tsimpsaan Peninsula, a notice was published in the B. C. Gazette making several specific reservations, notably McNicholl Creek and Cloyah River. This is well and it is gratifying that the matter was brought home to the attention of the government so sufficiently forceful that the reservation would now seem to be a permanent one, although no advices in the matter had been received at the city hall. This perhaps is not surprising, for even in the short life of this city matters between the government and the city have remained for years uncompleted. Plainly some departmental reorganization is necessary.

CREST (A) FALLEN

The Lady—I don't know what you are doing, John, but you are not helping a bit.

Does not this bring home the reflection that the government which has put a reservation on McNicholl and Cloyah creeks might well have put a similar reservation upon Woodworth Lake instead of giving the lake away to a Conservative politician at an expense of $15,000 to the city? We are distrustful of a government which would give away the city's only water supply. It is too much to hope that Woodworth Lake could quench the thirst of all these party heeled and it is well that a reservation would seem to have been placed upon other adjacent waters before they, too, are swallowed up.

foundry building, having steel framing and wooden walls and roof with many lights. Even this building is some considerable size, being 75 x 100 feet, which is about the same area as four city lots.

The big machine shop which will be a steel frame building will stand just west of the foundry building. South of these two will be the administration building 35 x 75. This will be a more stylish building in reinforced concrete.

At the base of the big chimney the boiler house is now in course of construction. It is a solid cement building with steel frame and cement roof. The power house which adjoins it is a cement building with steel frame. The size of it is 104x150 feet. In the boiler house at the present time will be placed four 600-h. p. boilers. The power house will be equipped with two 1000-k. turbo generators, both put on heavy cement bases. These generators will furnish the power and light for the whole plant. The building is large enough to enlarge the capacity many times.

The immense ship shed is on the waterfront at the west end of the docks. The dimensions of this building are 160x300 feet, which is almost as big as a whole city block. The ridge of the roof will be 100 feet above the docks. One the water side the roof will be cantilever style, necessitating heavy anchorage. It is in this building the new ships will be constructed. The launching ways are already in place.

Berths for Many Big Ships

On the different wings of the docks there are berths for several big ships as well as the three sections of the pontoons which will be used for the dry dock. The framing for these pontoons is now being done by a gang of skilled wood workers. They take a tremendous amount of timber. The actual construction of them will not begin for some time yet. Mr. Crowell, who is to be the permanent manager of the docks, has this work in charge.

Hays Creek Covered

The mouth of Hays creek, which runs into the centre of the big slip, has been covered over for a distance of 400 feet and the culvert is being covered with rock fill. A grading will be placed over the entrance to keep venturesome persons out of danger. In the slip several thousand yards of silt, clam shells and mud are being dredged out by a clam shell dredge. The deposit is dumped out at the end of the west wing of the dock, where there is a very deep hole. The method of unloading the scoops is hydraulic pressure.

Coal Handling Plant

One of the features of the dock will be a coal handling plant located at the extreme northwestern point of the yards. A clam shell hoist will be placed out at the west wing of the wharf to load coal boats. Coal will also be handled from cars on the railroad.

System of Railroads

The plant will have a complete system of railroads running from all the buildings to various parts of the yard and docks. This will handle all the heavy traffic about the plant.

More Contracts to Let

There is to be a system of water mains, sewers, electric conduits, steam lines and compressed air lines put in. It is expected that the contract for this will be let very soon.

Mr. W. T. Donnelly, who has built some of the finest floating docks in the world, is the designing engineer of the work. Mr. J. H. Pillsbury is the engineer in charge. It is expected that the buildings will be completed and the machinery installed by November 1, but it will be a year before the whole works are finished.

Waddell came to Virginia last season from Minneapolis.

It looks as though the entry list for Vancouver's third annual bonspiel next month will run close to sixty rinks. The widespread interest in the big event is well illustrated by one morning's mail received by Secretary Phil Ray, which included entries of two rinks from North Battleford, Sask., one rink from Lethbridge, Alta., and one rink from Fernie, B. C. Three provinces were in the list and there was an enquiry from Manitoba as well.

In the international association football game between Ireland and England the former won by a score of three goals to nil.

In the rugby international England defeated Ireland at Twickenham by a score of 17 points to 12. The Englishmen are the only team which has not suffered defeat, and their chances for winning international honors this year are increasing. Ireland will play Scotland for the Calcutta Cup at Edinburgh on March 24.

CUP TIE MATCHES BEING PLAYED TODAY

The following cup tie games are being played in the old country this afternoon, on the ground of the first named team:

Scottish Cup—Third Round Third Lanark vs. Raith Rovers. Aberdeen vs. St. Mirren. Steveston U. vs. Peebles Rovers. Kilmarnock vs. Partick Thistle. Forfar Athletic vs. Celtic. Hibernians vs. Rangers. Airdrie vs. Queen's Park. Broxburn United vs. Motherwell.

English Cup—Third Round Aston Villa vs. West Bromwich Albion. Millwall Athletic vs. Sheffield. Sheffield Wednesday vs. Brighton and Hove. Sunderland vs. Preston North End. Birmingham vs. Queens Park Rangers. Blackburn Rovers vs. Manchester City. West Ham United vs. Liverpool. Burnley vs. Bolton Wanderers.

In society they call it embonpoint, but in the unfashionable world it is plain fat.

THE ROAD TO THE RIGHT.

YOU'VE met at least one of those few good old souls, who are constantly getting the worst of it when shopping, who don't believe in advertising. A hundred disappointing and instructive experiences have failed to teach him their plain lesson.

When he bought his first watch he was beguiled into buying one without a known name or a trustworthy guarantee. That watch—a poor timekeeper—cost him dearly by reason of missed appointments and missed trains, and for frequent repairs. Yet he paid the price of a good watch.

It is the same story with regard to his underwear, his shoes, and his fountain pen.

This good old soul's case is not unique. Many of us, if the truth be confessed, resemble him; we allow ourselves to be sold merchandise with an unknown brand or trade mark instead of buying merchandise which is well known to us through the medium of advertising. In slang language, we get "stung" pretty often.

In most of these cases we have ourselves to blame, for "the road to the right" thing to buy has been made plain by advertising.

There is no good reason for passing by the known thing, soundly guaranteed, to buy a dubious article, which, quality for quality, cannot be cheaper than the known, branded article.

"It is better to be sure than sorry."

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

BIG CROWDS SEE IRISH PICTURES AT WESTHOLME

In spite of counter attractions a crowded house gathered at the Westholme theatre last night to see the two reel "Domino" Irish feature "The Filly," and a better pleased audience would be hard to find anywhere. The story is full of fine Irish wit and humor, with just a color of pathos and an exciting horse race at Donnybrook Fair, which is very realistic and was greeted with rounds of applause. Another fine picture was the "Reliance" comedy "The Flirt," which tells the story of three men and a maiden. The comedy work in this picture is excellent. The program, which opened with a splendid Weekly Gazette and closed with a very funny Keystone comedy, is one of the best ever seen at the Westholme. It will be repeated tonight.

Next Monday and Tuesday there will be an extra fine six-reel all feature program. "Carmen" in three parts will be the headliner, and the funniest Keystone comedy ever made will close the show. Prices of admission will be as follows: entire lower floor and first two rows in balcony, 25c; gallery, 15c; children, 10c.
