SHIPPING AND CUSTOMS GROW SHOW RAPID GROWTH OF CITY

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF REVENUE AND TONNAGE FOR PAST FIVE YEARS—THE INCREASE HAS BEEN ENORMOUS

The comparison of statistics prepared by the customs collector at this port shows a marvellous increase and rapid growth of Prince Rupert's business. It is a splendid way to grasp the development of Prince Rupert's trade.

The customs fiscal year commences on the first of April and ends 31st March.

Prince Rupert has the following ports under its survey: Inyo, Port Simpson, Stickeen, Newari and Massett, and postal collecting stations, Port Essington and Hazelton.

The tonnage statement does not include any tonnage of any of the above out ports. All out ports show an increase in tonnage over the previous fiscal year.

The only comparative statement which does not show an increase over the previous year is the "outwards foreign tonnage." This slight decrease in tonnage is due to Canadian and British vessels arriving here from foreign ports, which would be "inwards foreign tonnage," then clearing outwards coastwise from this port to another Canadian port.

The cost of collecting the revenue at this port is slightly over 5%. This includes all ex-

ASQUITH AND HIS ELECTION SMILE

Right Hon. Herbert H. Asquith, Prime Minister of Great Britain, is himself one of the best "stump" speakers in the Old Country. He is able to get and maintain the interest of his audience, even though it be very hostile. They do say it is largely on account of his broad smile, as seen in the picture.

SLIDE AND WASHOUT TIE UP RAILWAY

Monday's Train Will Leave Smithers Today—Train Out Again Saturday

Monday's train from Rupert to Smithers got through with very little delay, but it has not yet come back. There was a mud slide at Mile 174 and a washout of a bridge at Mile 209. These have held up traffic entirely. The slide is practically cleared out again and the repairs to the bridge are about complete.

No. 4 was expecting to pull out of Smithers this morning and may be in tonight.

Fortunately the accidents did not hold the train up at any point where the passengers could not get accommodation.

Back from Ottawa

Victoria, April 15.—Sir Richard McBride returned today from his visit to Ottawa, Washington and New York. His return has revived the report that he is to take the High Commissioner-ship in London. Sir Richard's visit to Washington, it is said, had to do with his scheme for a railway across British Columbia to Alaska.

Glasgow, April 16.—Scottish league results are as follows:
Queen's Park 3, Hamilton Academicals 1.
Ayr 3, Hibernians 1.

Leg Broken by Rock

Wm. Main, one of the workmen on the G. T. P. hotel excavation, met with a nasty accident this morning. He was helping load a car when a heavy rock fell and crushed his leg below the knee. He was bandaged up on the spot and then removed to the hospital in the ambulance. The ankle was dislocated and broken in two places.

Official Train Tied Up

The official train, which pulled out of here last Friday for the east with Vice-president Donaldson and others aboard, got off the track at a washout this side of Fort George and is tied up in the interior. The Fort George bridge having gone out, the train will not get through.

LOST VOLUME RESTORED THIRD BOOK OF KINGS

Tells of What Takes Place in the Latter Days—Believed It Has Local Reference

In the seventh year of King Bowserius the people had become very corrupt and forsook the ways of their fathers. The king had built for himself great palaces and to those that supported his evil ways did he pour out of his riches in abundance. And it came to pass that nearly all the people followed in the path of the great Conservatives for they desired riches more than righteousness, and that party increased in numbers even as the sands of the sea.

In those days the men of the north held council together saying: Have we not a land which is suitable for wheat and for barley, for vine trees and pomegranates? Our mountains are filled with gold and out of our hills thou mayest dig brass. Surely this land was not intended for some foreign monarch. Let us choose for ourselves a king to reign over us so that the spoils of this rich land shall be ours. And one of the elders arose in their midst and said: Is there not among us one Joseph who has come to us from the land of the heathen Americans and who shall instruct us how to oppress the poor and rob the widow and fatherless. And the people with one accord arose and shouted "Long live King Joseph." And they appointed his head with oil and placed a crown thereon and they did all bring tribute unto him, even the first tithes of all their earnings; and he did wax fat in the land and did allow them graciously to toil with the spade and the axe on the king's highway and upon the buildings of the great King Bowserius.

Behold in those days there arose a great captain in the land and in his heart he did hate the evil ways of King Joseph and of the great King Bowserius. This great captain and his officer Mordecai did labor long to lead the youth of the land in duty and honor and taught them how to use their swords and guns so that the enemies of righteousness did tremble and quake.

And it came to pass that when the king heard of all the captain had done he was sore afraid, and bade his servants to summon all his mighty warriors, even the Philistine whom he had appointed ambassador to Ottawa. When they were assembled in the chamber of the winebibbers, King Joseph, standing in the midst said unto them. It has come to my ears that the captain of the host is a righteous man and doth train up the youth in the paths of righteousness, and to hate iniquity. Now it shall come to pass that all the people shall turn unto him and forsake our ways. Come therefore, let us slay those mighty men of war. And to this they did all agree and an evil band was sent in the middle of the night and they did slay the great captain and his host.

When the people did perceive that this evil was done they were wroth and there was great lamentation in the land and the people assembled themselves together and it came to pass that two followers of the great captain, even Chuck and Leek, the sons of Anglo, did proclaim bitterly against the work of the evil doers until all the people arose and smote upon their breasts saying, we will not have this man to rule over us. Selah.

WILSON GETTING FIRM WITH DEMANDS MADE ON HUERTA

WILL NOT ALLOW HUERTA TO TEMPORIZE ANY LONGER—MUST SALUTE AMERICAN SHIPS OR TAKE THE CONSEQUENCES

(Special to The Daily News)
Washington, April 16.—Huerta has submitted the American demand that American ships be saluted to an executive session of the senate. No answer had been received by the Washington government up to late last night about the result of the deliberation. Huerta was given a final warning that unless salutes were fired within a reasonable time serious consequences would result. Huerta, when apprised of the demonstration, argued that the episode growing out of the arrests of the bluejackets should be submitted to arbitration at The Hague. President Wilson told Huerta that the time for delay by evasion had passed. The United States government will temporize no longer.

ACTIVE DEBATE ON BUDGET LIBERALS WANT FREE WHEAT

CONSERVATIVES INSIST ON PROTECTION ALL AROUND FOR PROTECTION OF BIG INTERESTS

(Special to The Daily News)
Ottawa, April 16.—Today's speakers on the budget were Carroll, Wilcox and Lemieux.

Mr. W. F. Carroll declared in favor of free implements, free wheat and corn, and favored moderate protection on iron, steel and coal.

Mr. Wilcox twitted Mr. Carroll with inconsistency. The farmers were as much entitled to protection as the steel interests. He maintained the Liberals were always on the wrong side of the tariff as on other questions. The prosperity of the country was due to Conservative policies.

Presbyterian Literary Society

The "Hat Night" at the Presbyterian club last night proved to be another distinct success. There was a large attendance, and the hat contained a varied assortment of subjects for extempore speeches. Most of the subjects touched upon the burning questions of the day, and were handled by the speakers in a very able manner. The lighter side was also in evidence, and caused much merriment. The speakers were allowed five minutes each, and the following subjects were spoken on: Eugenics, high cost of living, American additions to the English language, the place of women and the order of things, is socialism practicable, the joys of bachelorhood, the cigarette evil, the liquor traffic, table manners, hygiene, or should kissing be abolished? is early rising beneficial to health? the money stringency.

STONE WALL SLIPPED FELL INTO CITY HALL

Gave Plenty of Warning and Everybody Got Out of the Building

The big dry stone wall being built by the Dominion government on the hill in the rear of the city hall slipped this morning and one corner fell out. The stones rolled over against the city hall and broke in the window of the assessor's office.

Fortunately the wall gave warning some time before it went out. All the furniture in the city hall building was moved out of the corner near the wall, and the employees got out.

At 9:20 the wall fell with a rumble. Big stones broke in pieces and splinters flew, but no serious damage was done.

The other corner, which has been patched with cement, is also sliding, and the engineer has ordered it torn down. It is now being taken out.

The slide was caused by the heavy rain increasing the pressure behind it.

PRINCE RUPERT NEEDS CAPITAL TO DEVELOP ITS INDUSTRIES

GEORGE H. HAMMOND, THE GREATEST PUBLICIST IN CANADA, VISITS PRINCE RUPERT—LOOKS FOR BIG MINING DEVELOPMENT

George H. Hammond, head of the Natural Resources, is in the city. He is waiting for the train to go through to Hubert and Fort George. Mr. Hammond is making his first visit to Prince Rupert, and is agreeably surprised at the development here.

The physical difficulties are what I was led to believe. You can make a splendid city here. These little hills will not bother you. Other coast cities have overcome them. Your harbor cannot be beaten any place in the world. Your business seems healthy compared with other cities.

"It seems to me that your greatest need now is a little campaign of publicity for capital. You need money to develop industries to employ men. I am going to make a trip all through this district a little later."

Incidentally it might be remarked that Mr. Hammond is the greatest publicity man in Canada. He has spent enormous sums on advertising and knows the value of it.

When asked about the real estate business, Mr. Hammond smiled.

"Real estate is out of fashion just now, but I look to see this country have quite a movement in mining."

Referring to Hubert, Mr. Hammond said that he was now going in to plan the development of that townsite. The company have 17 business houses ready to go in as soon as the road is opened. There will be no boom. Only small blocks will be put on at a time to take care of the natural growth. This town is in the centre of the Bulkley valley and all the business there will be tributary to it.

DAILY EDITION

Thursday, April 16, 1914

A recent visitor to Prince Rupert has used a convincing argument in favor of the importance of this city's future. He compared the resources of this city to that of St. Johns, Nfld. St. Johns is located in a rough and rocky region. The products of the soil are a nonentity. A small amount of mining is carried on, but the chief resources of the city are derived from the fish. Yet in spite of that St. Johns is a city of some fifty thousand people.

The fishing grounds tributary to Prince Rupert are equal if not superior to those of St. Johns. Besides the fishing business, however, we have a harbor that is open all the year, while theirs is frozen over for many months. We are the terminus of a great transcontinental railway with a throbbing, wealthy country behind us, while they are the terminus of a little narrow gauge track across a land of barren waste. And yet there are some people so shortsighted as to think that Prince Rupert has no great destiny. The fact of the matter is that there is nothing under heaven except our own stupidity that could prevent the city advancing rapidly to a first class modern city.

The city council have built for themselves a monument to their lack of vision and incompetence, which proclaims to the world that they belong to the "cent belt." They have refused to sanction a small vote for city publicity in spite of the fact that advertising has made Canada what it is and that all over the west cities stand where villages have stood because their citizens were progressive enough to tell the world about their resources.

The striking thing about the vote was that the wage-earners voted against the grant while the only business men in the council voted for publicity. From this one would understand that the day laborers in the city council do not want this city to expand. Of course they are more happily situated than the many other workmen in the city. They have a preference job at which they get 45c an hour up, while many workmen in the city are compelled to work for 35c when they can get it, and the rest of the time go without work. Workmen should elect representatives from among them who will give them a square deal and at the same time work for the advancement of the city.

A few months ago it looked as if the McBride government had reformed with regard to the giving away of the lands of the province. This apparently is not the case, for that interesting periodical the B. C. Gazette still contains notices of cancellations of reserves. Surely enough harm has been done to the province in giving away the many millions of acres already alienated. Why not call a halt, which would at least convince some people that the government were at least penitent for their past conduct.

EAST FIFE, MR. ASQUITH'S SCOTTISH CONSTITUENCY

East Fife, which Premier Asquith represents in the House of Commons and where he was elected by acclamation last week as a result of his acceptance of the portfolio of War, is in the northeasterly section of the Scottish Lowlands. On the two previous occasions when he ran, Col. Spry was beaten by 2,059 in Jan. 1910 and by 4,788 in Dec. 1910. In the last of these two elections the vote was 5,149 to 3,350.

MAKING RAPID PROGRESS ON THE HUDSON BAY ROAD

ROAD WILL BE CLEARED TO 100 MILES FROM NELSON BY SPRING — OVER 200 HUNDRED TRAINS ENGAGED IN FREIGHTING

Winnipeg, April 16.—N. K. Boyd, of the Hudson Bay Construction Company, who returned from a 375-mile drive along the Hudson Bay railway line reports splendid progress, camps erected and supplies all in to Landing River, within 120 miles of Port Nelson. Over 400 trains have been engaged in freighting this winter. The road will be cleared to Kettle Rapids at the second crossing of Nelson by spring, which point is within 100 miles of Nelson. All of the rock cuttings and large earth cuts have been worked during the winter, and no delay to track laying will occur from that frequent difficulty during the coming summer.

"Pretty cold work laying steel in the winter, up there, is it not?" Mr. Boyd was asked.

"Oh yes, but we have laid 1 1/2 miles per day notwithstanding the weather. Hon. Mr. Cochrane insists on pushing ahead regardless of the weather or imaginary difficulties."

"Where do you expect the steel to be this fall?"

"We intend to be at Manitowish, the first crossing of Nelson, 250 miles from the Pass by the close of the season."

"And when do you expect the line to Nelson?"

"Under ordinary circumstances, weather, labor, etc., we will have it graded into Nelson by fall of 1915; but these two bridges over Nelson may hold back track-laying. By the first of May we will have 13 heavy locomotives, 175 hand cars, 150 flats, 100 box cars, 3 steam shovels, and full equipment of plant to rapidly push the work to completion."

JUGGLING WITH POSTERITY SAYS PARKER WILLIAMS, M.P.P.

SOCIALIST MEMBER FOR NEWCASTLE DISCUSSES PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT AND MR. BOWSER

Following up the assertion only one or two officials ten that posterity had not a vote and could therefore be safely juggled with, Mr. Parker Williams, M.P.P., speaking at the Colonial theatre in Vancouver on Sunday night last, said that when posterity came to look for the money to pay the debts they had been saddled with they would find one of the principal sources of revenue, from timber, tied up by the McBride administration of 1914.

Mr. Williams continued that he did not know whether this was legal, but as Mr. Bowser said it was, they went ahead and did it.

Criticizing the various departments, the speaker showed how many of them, employing

McBRIDE STILL HAS CHANCE FOR THE PLUM

Ottawa, April 15.—There is no confirmation here of the Vancouver report to the effect that Sir Richard McBride has been appointed Canadian high commissioner to succeed the late Lord Strathcona in London. No appointment has yet been made, and none is expected for some time. Sir Richard McBride has not been at Ottawa for some weeks. It is believed, however, that Sir Richard is in the running for the position and will be a strong candidate. In connection with the Vancouver report, it is believed that the wish has been father to the thought.

G. T. P. MEN WERE GIVEN RECEPTION

Officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, who reached Vancouver on the steamship Prince Rupert on Saturday night, after having made the trip from Winnipeg through to the northern terminal on the newly linked up transcontinental line, were afforded a hearty welcome on their arrival by a delegation representing the city council, Vancouver board of trade and business interests.

The Oldest Ship

The old Dashing Wave went north yesterday afternoon in tow of the tug Pioneer. She serves as a floating warehouse for the Taku cannery. The Dashing wave is supposed to be the oldest vessel under the American flag now in active service. She was once chased by the Confederate privateer Alabama and a shot fired by that vessel was dug out of the Dashing Wave not very long ago.

Man Carried Half Ton

St. Catharines, Ont., April 15.—Rev. H. A. Graham of London, preaching at Welland Avenue Methodist church here, speaking of strong men, said: "When I was pastor at St. Mary's, we had a man there so strong that he could do almost anything. This story is told of him, which is true: One time feed in his locality got very scarce, and he went to a neighboring farmer and asked him how much he would charge him for all the hay he could carry away with a rope he had.

"Oh, two dollars," said the farmer. "He carried away half a ton, and hay was twenty dollars a ton.

Royal Standard Pancakes

OH BULL Gave me this Recipe!

They first started to eat pancakes in Merrie England on Shrove Tuesday. It is safe to say that had the flour been ROYAL STANDARD, pancakes would have appeared every day in the week! I say use ROYAL STANDARD and not just "flour" because the best is the cheapest in the long run. I mean by that there will be second helpings aplenty because ROYAL STANDARD GOES FARTHER. And the quality!—well, just bake pancakes WITH and then WITHOUT Royal Standard and see!

Your grocer's ready with a sack.

MORE GOOD PICTURES

At the Westholme Opera House Tonight

Another fine moving picture program was shown at the Westholme theatre last night to a large and well pleased audience. "A Lawyer, a Dog and a Baby" is a very clever Thanhauser comedy in which the Thanhauser twins and the kidlet take prominent parts and are seen to good advantage. "The Junior Partner" is an up-to-date story dealing with modern life and an exciting scenes, among which are the escape from a high tower by means of a slender rope and the burning of a large two-storey house from which the hero and the heroine fortunately escape by means of an underground passage used by smugglers who formerly occupied the house. "The Loafer" is also a very good film and tells an interesting story. Last but not least is the Keystone, the first part of which is educational, showing scenes from Moscow with an exciting wolf hunt at the finish, and the second is a very funny force comedy entitled "A Flirt's Mistake." This programme will be repeated to-night.

IRISH SITUATION MORE CRITICAL THAN EVER

J. Devlin Says the Irish Will Not Concede Anything More

Belfast, April 15.—An independent critic would have said yesterday that a solution of the home rule situation was near at hand. Today one would emphatically predict that the situation in Ulster is more critical than ever.

Joseph Devlin, in a speech today, bade defiance to any solution that excluded from Ireland's own sphere one section of the country. The situation at Belfast was replete with danger to one who knows both sides, he said. Those who live in Belfast in the heart of the Carsonian movement know how great a sham, fraud and humbug has been subsidized and arranged at enormous cost to bluff the British people into defeating home rule in parliament. The act will be placed on the book. The Irish cannot and will not advance one inch further toward conciliation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davies of Vancouver are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. C. Brown. Mr. Davies is looking over prospects in Prince Rupert with the view of locating here.

"THE PRIDE OF JENNICO" DREW CROWDED HOUSE

"The Pride of Jennico," the first of the series of Famous Players photo plays to be shown at the Empress theatre, was put on the Empress bill last evening, and it attracted a crowded house during the whole evening.

The pictures were well worth the interest the public showed in them. The scenes were magnificent and expensive productions and would be intensely interesting even without the thrill of the play. The play itself is one full of heart appeal and lively action, and the work of the players themselves is so splendid that one forgets they are acting. There were four reels to the star feature and two good comedy reels as well.

The next Famous Players' picture will be next week, when the "Squaw Man" will be shown in six reels.
