EMPLOYMENT AGENT OF G. T. P. WAS ALMOST MOBBED BY MEN WANTING WORK—SNAPSHOTS TAKEN OF THE RUSH THIS MORNING

In answer to an advertisement for thirty men on the G. T. P. steamer board at the wharf this morning, a crowd of over two hundred men appeared on the pier and an extraordinary sight was witnessed when the employment agent stepped in among them to deliver tickets to the men. Every man there wanted work, and apparently determined to get it, numbers of hats were knocked and trampled under foot in the surging and swaying of the crowd, all bent upon getting in as close as possible to the man with the tickets. At one time it seemed as though the railing on the outer side of the plank roadway would be carried away and a part of the crowd thrown over the side. This was prevented, however, by a number of the officials charging into the bunch and after a time getting them thinned out a bit, while the employment agent escaped and got back into the office as quickly as possible.

A number of snapshots were taken of the affair by people who were lucky enough to have their kodaks on hand at the time.

WITH SIZZLING IRON WOMAN HITS INTRUDER

Mrs. Half His Mustache Off Before He Knocks Her Into Large Clothes Basket

Mount Vernon, Wash., April 26.—Mrs. Thos. Bear of Big Bend, seven miles from Mount Vernon, hit a man who assailed her in the face with a hot flat-iron and burned off half his mustache. He knocked her into a clothes basket and fled to the woods with his companion, a younger man. Mrs. Bear was completing her daily ironing, about 8 o'clock, when two men entered the house. They demanded her money, and she gave them her purse, containing $5.40. While one man had his back turned, looking in the cupboard for more, Mrs. Bear hit the larger man in the face with her hot iron, and instantly the room was filled with the smell of burnt hair as half his mustache was burned away. The lower portion of his face was also badly burned. With a cry of pain the injured man struck at Mrs. Bear, and as she fell over into the clothes basket her husband entered the room. Her assailants fled.

PRINCE ALBERT BEAT NEW CITY OF SEATTLE

Steamers Had Friendly Race All the Way Up the Coast

An interesting marine race came off Saturday and Sunday between two well known steamers on the coast run. The contest was purely incidental to the regular trips of the Prince Albert and the new City of Seattle. The Albert is known among the skippers as a pretty rancy craft and also a dangerous rival in a race, while the Seattle has just been newly equipped and has greatly increased her speed.

They both left the south together for the north and kept within sight of each other all day. The Seattle was first at Seymour narrows and laid to for an hour for a more favorable tide. In the meantime the Albert went through against a strong tide and got the lead. A few hours later the Seattle overhauled her and again took the lead. After a tight, steady run the Albert forged ahead again and pulled into Rupert last evening at 8 o'clock, about fifteen minutes ahead of the Seattle.

The Albert carried 600 tons of coal and 100 tons of general freight.

Wrestling Match Gave the Boys Some Good Sport Saturday Evening

The wrestling match and boxing bouts in McIntyre hall Saturday evening gave the boys some good sport. Pete Sigurdson, the local boy, won the wrestling match in two straight falls over Bert Caldwell of Rock Springs. The first fall took 22 minutes and the second five minutes.

Only two preliminaries were put on owing to the late hour at which the match started.

Valpie and James boxed a draw and gave a splendid exhibition. Popular opinion was that Valpie won on points.

There was a fair sized audience.

'THE THIRD DEGREE'

At the Westholme on Wednesday and Thursday

Always on the alert for the highest class attractions, Mr. Strassburg, the Westholme's personal representative in Vancouver, has secured for next Wednesday and Thursday Chas. Klein's great play in five big reels, "The Third Degree." This play was the sensation of two continents, and having been produced in Prince Rupert is well known to everybody. Seeing it in the pictures is quite a different thing, however, from seeing it on the stage as produced by the Griffith company. First of all the company that made the pictures is very much larger and very much better. The actors are all high class professional stars and an attention to detail and natural scenic surroundings is made possible in the pictures that cannot by any means be reproduced on a stage. This presentation of "The Third Degree" will give you an entirely new conception of this great play and will no doubt prove a great drawing card. A special musical program has been prepared for this event by Mr. Werner and the justly famous Westholme orchestra will be heard in some new selections.

Empress Theatre

The management of the Empress theatre has secured one of the greatest features in the film world for the next attraction, it being Mary Pickford in David Belasco's masterpiece "The Good Little Devil," produced by the Famous Players' Film company, which insures the onlooker a great if not a wonderful production. "The Good Little Devil" produced in five parts will be the attraction at the Empress for two days commencing Wednesday, April 29, coming direct from a week's run at the Globe theatre, Vancouver, where it played to capacity audiences during the entire run, and such should be the case in Prince Rupert, for never before has there been a feature here that will appeal to both old and young as this feature. Mary Pickford made her greatest dramatic success in "The Good Little Devil," which ran for two solid years at the Belasco theatre in New York City at the price of two dollars, but comes to the Empress at a much less scale of prices, the film version containing the same all-star cast as the dramatic version; Miss Pickford is supported by Ernest Truex and Wm. Norris. The management makes an announcement most extraordinary in regard to the next feature attraction at the Empress theatre, which will be Eugene Walter's five-year dramatic sensation, "Paid in Full," produced by the All-Star Feature Co., with members of the original cast in their respective places, Tully Marshall as Joe Brooks and Wm. Riley Hatch as Capt. Williams.

MOBS IN MEXICAN CAPITAL TRAMPLE STARS AND STRIPES

ATTACK AMERICAN CLUB AND LOOT JEWELRY STORE WHILE POLICE LOOK ON—UNITED STATES CITIZENS ARE IN GRAVE DANGER

Mexico City, April 26.—Mobs in the streets of Mexico were trampling under foot the stars and stripes and threatening American pedestrians when the refugees train, engaged under the auspices of the British and German legations, left for Vera Cruz carrying some 600 fugitives of various nationalities.

Immediately after the news of the landing of American blue-jackets and marines at Vera Cruz was made known in the federal capital by extra editions of the local papers, crowds of students and government office employees began to gather.

By dusk a mob had assembled in front of the American club, where they smashed windows and howled insults at the Americans inside, all of whom they threatened to assassinate.

An American jewelry store was looted by the mob at midnight. The police looked on without taking action.

UNFULFILLED IDEALS ARE NOT FRUITLESS

Rev. E. Smith in Presbyterian Church Preaches Eloquent Sermon

The Presbyterians have been fortunate in the class of men they have had supplying for them since the recent vacancy. Yesterday the services were taken by Rev. Edwin Smith, who will remain for five succeeding services.

Mr. Smith comes from that famous Pietou county in Nova Scotia where they turn out more professional men to the square inch than any other part of Canada. He is a graduate of Dalhousie university and Pine Hill Presbyterian college, with a post graduate course in Oxford tacked on.

Last night in the Empress theatre he preached on "The Value of Unfulfilled Ideals," and showed that not only those ideals to which we have attained, but even our unfulfilled ideals have a value in the eyes of God and in the formation of character. "It is our ideals and purposes that make, shape and color life, and it is good to have them. They are the bloom of life's deeds, flowers out of which fruits of action spring. A young man without ideals is mere driftwood upon the sea of life." The words of the text were from II. Chron. 6:8. "Forasmuch as it was in thine heart to build an house for My name thou didst well in that it was in thine heart. Nevertheless thou shalt not build the house." The preacher next set forth the thought that the literal fulfillment of our good purposes may be denied us, but the Lord is pleased with us for having offered them. "In human life tendency must always be the main thing. It is not so much the number of miles we travel as the direction we are going. It is not so much the amount of work we do as our motive in doing it. And when our day is past and our bit of work is done the ideal we have served will whisper a sweet and secret joy. Thou hast labored and others will enter into thy labor."

LOCAL ODDFELLOWS PARADE TO CHURCH
The local Oddfellows held a special church parade last night, and attended divine service at the Anglican church. Canon Rix preached an excellent sermon on the brotherhood of man and the place fraternities held in that sphere. He illustrated by telling that to the sufferers in the Ohio flood of last year the Oddfellows of British Columbia had contributed $2,000. Owing to the wet evening a number of members were absent, but about forty turned out.

INDIAN ATE DINNER WHILE JOE FACED DEATH

Thrilling Experience of Rupert Fisherman in the Wilds of Lakelse

One of the Rupert sports who went fishing at Lakelse last week had a rather thrilling experience in the Kitselas river on Saturday. He was fishing in the river from a little dugout. After drifting down stream he threw out the anchor in a likely looking spot. The water was fast and the anchor would not hold. A short distance below were perilous rapids and the dugout was almost upon them when Joe spied an overhanging tree. He grabbed it as he went under and stopped the craft, but he could not get up the tree, nor could he control the boat, which threatened to get away from under him.

He yelled for help, but the boys at the hatchery could not hear. He yelled some more and an Indian came out from a cabin on the other side of the river. He gave Joe a look and went back. More yells—maybe half an hour—and his hold was weakened. Finally the Indian came out again and rescued Joe.

"Why didn't you come when you first saw me? I might have gone over those rapids."

"I see you all right. Finish my dinner first," was the Indian's explanation. Joe was indignant.

Mrs. Harry Daggett left yesterday on the Spokane for a visit to Boston, St. John and other eastern points. She will be absent some months.

DAILY EDITION  Monday, April 27, 1914

The argument that a publicity grant is useless until there is more accommodation in town to take care of the people who may come here is foolish. The thing that will justify the putting up of further hotels and lodging houses is the coming of more people. Get the people here and a means will be found to take care of them.

There are some people who do not want more people to come here. They say it will make too much competition. They overlook the fact that the city will either go ahead or go behind. It can't stand still. Were it not to go ahead the people already here would soon also be out of a job. But we may be cheerful. The town is going to make rapid progress, and the small-minded people who are afraid that somebody else may happen to get the dollar that they themselves so eagerly covet, may rest easy that conditions for them will be better, instead of worse, with the influx of population.

The council had better omit those secret sessions for the handling of the city's finances. The people want to know what is going on.

The people last January allowed ignorant men to so cloud their minds with prej-dice and political partisanship that they were unable to vote intelligently upon the numerous bylaws submitted to the people at that time. Just stop and think for a moment that the people voted for an improved telephone system last January, but voted down a building in which to install the system, and now a Jew bylaw is about to be submitted for a telephone building by the same men who induced the electorate to vote against the last bylaw. It is to be hoped that the ratepayers will pass the proposed new bylaw, as it is necessary that they should, but it is to be hoped also that the electors will learn to use a little more reason and common sense in the casting of their ballots in future and not allow themselves to be bamboozled by men who are not only ignorant but who do not hesitate to deceive the people.

It is a fact, though a regrettable one, that good clean government is difficult to maintain. The great body of the electorate who believe in and practice integrity of purpose all too frequently show too much apathy as to how public affairs are conducted. Other than to vote they take no active interest in affairs governmental, and sometimes they even neglect to vote. The result is that numerous unscrupulous hangers-on who hope to feed at the public trough, who are always loud-mouthed, and who bitterly oppose any clean administration, too often are able to get their noses into the trough.

The public, of course, has to foot the bill and frequently does so quite complacently until the swine become so numerous, so voracious, and so vicious that the public finally drives them into the sea.

EASTERN FISH DOCKS TRY CLEAN HANDLING

Changes in Methods at Boston Fish Pier Which Are Worth Noting

The Canadian Fisherman in its April issue says:

Fish merchants and others connected with the trade are beginning to realize that cleanliness is their best card in promoting the welfare of the fish business. In a recent editorial the Canadian Fisherman preached the gospel of cleanliness, and as an evidence that such is the best thing for the business, we quote the following from the Gloucester Times:

Changes in the methods of handling fish will be introduced at the new Boston fish pier. Efforts will be made to avoid forking the fish any more than is absolutely necessary, and the gurry and scale-coated wooden hand-carts which have long been in use at T wharf may be replaced by conveyances of a type more easily kept clean. Experiments have been made with a metal handcart with a removable body that can be placed upon the scales for the purpose of weighing fish and then replaced on the wheels. Such a cart would do away with much unnecessary handling of fish. Another innovation is to have employees who handle fish wear uniforms which shall be spick and span each day, instead of wearing for indefinite periods clothing caked with fish scales and other dirt.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC FED BY BRANCH LINES

Completion of Arteries From the Main Road Will Open Much Fertile Country

Winnipeg, April 25.—With the approaching completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific's main line, the preparations that have been made to feed the main artery with a series of branch lines are of particular interest. When in 1903 the Canadian government and the Grand Trunk Pacific railway entered into an agreement for the construction and operation of a railway across Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the necessity of these branch lines was kept in view, and in 1906 a subsidiary company was incorporated under the name of the Grand Trunk Pacific Branch Lines company, with a capital stock of $50,000,000. This company was authorized to construct branch lines through fertile sections of the country, with an aggregate total mileage of about 7,500 miles.

An early start was made on the construction of the branches and already, west of Winnipeg, about 1,200 miles of subsidiary lines have been completed, while arrangements have been made between the various provincial governments and the railway for the construction in the near future of many hundreds of miles of additional branch lines.

That the Grand Trunk Pacific has the strongest belief in its revenue earning power is seen in the preparations that have been made for handling traffic in the future. It has erected along its route over 300 elevators at various points that will be grain-producing centres. These are built in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Its chain of hotels and terminals is rapidly becoming completed to attend to the wants of tourist trade.

Mining Recorder at Dawson is Working Over-time

Dawson, April 25.—Staking continues to occupy the attention of the stamperers in the Sixty-mile country. Ten to twelve miles are staked above the portion described as a river, and river claims are staked along a good portion of the ground between the creek limit.

Ten-mile, a tributary of Sixty-mile, has been staked to the clouds. The posts extend to or into the sixties above discovery.

In the Scroggie district some staking of placers has also been done of late. Mariposa claims are being renewed, and the future of the creek is encouraging to the men who have been working there.

The Dawson recorder is flooded with applications for claims staked on O'Brien and vicinity. The several creeks there are long, and prospectors have been much encouraged by the finding of traces of gold in several places and the location of seven-cent pans at the bottom of the shaft sunk on discovery by McLaughlin and partner. The district is easily accessible, and if it is developed into a paying one will be within easy reach of the steamers all through the open season.

Bowen creek, which lies near the boundary, and was known by some as Dominion, has been prospected quite a little of late, and the fractions recently have been staked. Some of the Chisana prospectors are said to have moved down to Bowen to work.

Box-making Machine

The Balmoral cannery has installed a box-making machine and it is now in operation making up boxes in which to ship the empty cans to the other B. C. Packers' canneries in the district. Usually boxes are not made up until the plant is complete, but this year the new sanitary cans for all the canneries are being made at the central plants and shipped out. This is the first box-making machine installed in district No. 2.

Graham Island is preparing for its new automobile service on its north beach. 87tf

GOVERNOR-GENERAL TO AID BOY SCOUTS

Following Letter Received by The News Will Explain Itself

Dear Sir: His royal highness the governor general is very desirous of raising a fund to provide for the cost of controlling and directing the work of the boy scouts throughout the Dominion, and more especially to cover the salary and expenses of a travelling secretary.

Whilst the eastern provinces have responded most liberally to this appeal, there does not appear to have been the same interest shown in the west. His royal highness, however, considers the cause so meritorious, and is personally so desirous of placing it on a regular and satisfactory footing before the close of his term of office, that he has asked me to appeal for subscriptions of any amount that will indicate the interest of the people of British Columbia in a movement which he considers of growing importance to the future of the Dominion.

THOS. PATTERSON, Lieutenant-Governor.

HON. R. L. BORDEN IS COMING TO THE COAST

"If present arrangements are carried out the people of British Columbia may expect a visit from the Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden during the coming summer," said Sir Richard McBride in the course of an interview. "The date is as yet uncertain," the premier said, "but it will probably be towards the end of the summer. The prime minister when I saw him at Ottawa was looking well and working hard."

We have gone through our entire Suit and Coat Section and readjusted prices on every garment for a clearance.
