PASSENGER CAR DITCHED EAST SMITHERS—SEVERAL INJURED — ENVOYS CHOOSE NIAGARA

PASSENGER CAR WAS DITCHED SEVERAL TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

TRAIN OUT OF SMITHERS SUNDAY MET WITH ACCIDENT — CAR WENT INTO WATER—CHIEF ENGINEER VAN ARSDOL INJURED

An accident of the G. T. P. east of Smithers occurred Sunday morning, when a passenger car loaded with passengers broke from the train and dived over the bank.

There are five people in the Hazelton hospital and two in the Prince Rupert hospital as a result.

The most seriously injured is Engineer C. C. Van Arsdol, who has an arm broken near the elbow, collar bone broken and several cuts on the head. His injuries are not dangerous but will keep him laid up for some time.

Other injured are a Mrs. [Name], who is in the Prince Rupert hospital, and a Mrs. Graham, of New Hazelton, who was at home. Five men injured in the Hazelton hospital.

The accident occurred east of Smithers. The train left Smithers Sunday morning with a load of passengers and a lot of freight. While running over a piece of track made rough by the frost it got out the coupling between the caboose and passenger car broke and the car tipped and went over the bank into the ditch. There was a lot of water in the ditch and the passengers were soon waist deep in it. It is miraculous that none were drowned.

Mrs. Graham was picked up jammed under a seat and under water. The passengers were thrown in a heap and no one knows how they all scrambled out.

A special train took the injured people back to Hazelton. Mr. Van Arsdol and Mrs. Patterson came down in Supt. Todd's car by yesterday's train. Dr. McLean of New Hazelton accompanied them. They were taken to the hospital here on the arrival of the train.

The accident was one to which no blame can be attached. On the new section of the road which has not been permanently ballasted such accidents are liable to happen, particularly in the spring. It was unfortunate that it had to be a passenger car that was ditched.

Rear Cars Thrown From Rails While Passing Over Track Under Repair

(Special to The Daily News)

Double Feature Bill at Westholme Tonight

The strongest feature bill ever shown at the Westholme will open there tonight, the first being a five-reel war feature, "The Battle of Gettysburg," and the second a two-reel Keystone comedy, "Zuzu the Band Leader." Both pictures are absolutely great and either one is worth the price of admission alone. Owing to the great length of the program, which runs fully two hours, the first performance starts promptly at 7:15 and the second at 9:15. The management guarantees you your money's worth at tonight's show.

Will Ship From Rupert

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doyle and family arrived on the Prince Rupert this morning en route to Mill Bay, Naas river, for the summer. Mr. Doyle is head of the Kincolith Packing company, who have the model cannery of the coast at Mill Bay, besides a cold storage plant for handling fresh and frozen fish. Mr. Doyle says he will use Prince Rupert for a shipping point as soon as the road is ready for through traffic. During this spring the Kincolith Packing company has been operating a branch at Simpson for handling fresh halibut.

Charged With Supplying

Indian Agent C. C. Perry is in Port Essington today trying a case against Alex. McPherson and Ed. Parsons for supplying liquor to Indians. This is a continuation of last week's troubles. Warrants were issued for these men, but they disappeared. Another man is also wanted and cannot be found.

Carpenters' Union

A special meeting of this union is called for Wednesday, May 6th, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of discussing proposed new bylaws.

A FAKE EXCUSE

Canada is this year spending nearly eleven million dollars for militia besides the many new armories that are being erected. Yet the people of Prince Rupert are told in official documents that Earl Grey's Rifles were disbanded because the department could not afford to keep up the expense of about $700 a year. The excuse is so picaresque that its very meanness betrays the fact that dirty politics was the reason for the disbandment.

Will Not Take Over Bridge

It is reported that J. E. Griffiths, the provincial engineer, will report as opposed to the government taking over the Hazelton high level bridge. Mr. Griffiths admits it is a good bridge, but it is different to the standard of this class of bridge used by the government. The department will offer to build approaches if the owners give the bridge to the province.

Mexicans Mined Railway

Washington, May 5.—Information has come from Vera Cruz that the Mexican federal troops have mined the railroad tracks between Vera Cruz and Mexico City. This move is made in preparation for the utter destruction of the road in event of the American forces attempting to advance on the capital.

Majestic Theatre

The Majestic theatre has an excellent program tonight in the second series of "Lucille Love," which has created a great sensation everywhere. They will have on Friday night an excellent comedy by the famous original actor of the Keystone comedy company, who is now employed by the people who furnish the Majestic pictures. He has carried with him all his old time popularity.

A Handsome Bar

The new bar for the Savoy hotel has been installed and the Savoy now boasts of the finest bar in British Columbia. The fixtures are of solid mahogany. The counter has a marble base and the back piece has dainty inlaid decorations on the pillars. It is 40 feet in length and bevelled glass mirrors run almost the entire length. The under equipment is for four clerks. This part is all fitted with German silver. It was made by the J. D. Ross Showcase Co. of Vancouver.

BURNING STEAMER KNOWN AS FREIGHTER COLUMBIA

THIRTEEN OF CREW DISCOVERED IN SMALL BOAT—ANOTHER BOAT WITH 19 STILL MISSING—FIRST AND SECOND OFFICERS ABOARD

(Special to The Daily News)

Boston, May 6.—The mystery of the identity of the steamer afire near South Sable island is solved by a wireless message from the Franconia telling of the burning of the freighter Columbia and the rescue of thirteen of the crew in a small boat. The death of the chief steward and the disappearance of a second boat with nineteen men, including the first and second officers, is reported. The survivors were so exhausted by the experience that they could tell little of what happened. The Franconia continued the search until nightfall for the rest of the crew, without result. The search is not given up. The steamers Manhattan and Havreford are heading for the burning steamer.

LLOYD GEORGE ACCUSED OF PREPARING FOR ELECTIONS

WILL RAISE ONE HUNDRED MILLION MORE THAN LAST YEAR TO BE APPLIED ON SOCIAL REFORM MEASURES—OPPOSITION SAY BRIBERY

(Special to The Daily News)

London, May 6.—The Times states that the Premier has taken the initiative in the conversations on the Irish question. At a private meeting at Downing St. Bonar Law, Carson and the Premier will discuss questions of procedure and the possibility of bringing the parties together.

Later reflections on the budget confirm the view that the Chancellor has prepared for electioneering in his budget. The Telegraph declares that the Chancellor will probably raise $100,000,000 more than last year which the next budget will apply to social reform measures calculated to secure votes.

The budget is bribery says the Express.

ROOSEVELT'S HOT PACE MADE BRAZILIAN SWEAT

Father and Son Hunt Tiger Cats but Only Get Scratches

New York, May 5.—Anthony Fiala, the explorer, who was in charge of the Roosevelt expedition in Brazil, arrived in New York on the steamer Denis from Rio Janeiro. He vividly described the experiences of the expedition, both before and after he separated from Colonel Roosevelt and Kermit on February 4. Telling of his 400-mile journey across country with Roosevelt, Fiala said:

"At times we were all forced to dismount from our horses and cut our way with knives through the dense undergrowth."

"When we reached Matto Grosso we rested for a couple of days and then all went hunting. In one party, which went for tiger cats, were Colonel Roosevelt, Kermit, a Brazilian chief of police, a Brazilian colonel and several natives. Kermit, I believe, is made of coiled wire all bound up in bronze. He's tougher than his father, if such a thing is possible. The party started out early in the morning and pushed their way all day through swamps filled with crocodiles and snakes in pursuit of a tiger cat that had scared up. The Brazilians did the best they could, and, with the negro boys, kept up for several hours. But the pace set by the colonel, even in their own jungle, was too much for them. Late at night a boy returned to the camp and said that the colonel and Kermit were about two miles off in the jungle. When they finally came out their clothing was torn to shreds and their arms and legs were bleeding in many places. But they were carrying the Brazilians' guns and shoes. The Brazilians had quit and were lying on their backs in a dry place recuperating. The cat got away."

(Special to The Daily News)

Hawa, May 6.—The house passed the motion of censure by Hon. H. R. Emmerson against the mismanagement of the Intercolonial railway by 69-39. Mr. Emmerson commented that the increase in light rates should have been decided by the board of management appointed by the late government. Americans were now employed as officials while there are all kinds of good Canadians who could fill the bill.

DAILY EDITION

Wednesday, May 6, 1914

As an additional evidence that the McBride government is incapable of handling conditions in a growing country, the following will suffice: Large sums of money are being spent every year to induce foreigners to come to Canada. Many of these find their way to British Columbia, and when they get here they are not allowed to enter even the primitive calling of a fisherman. According to the government regulations they must become British subjects before they can secure a license, which means that they must lie around for three years before they can enter their chosen calling. There are a large number of such cases to be found in the vicinity of this city and nothing is being done for them. This is surely a stupid way to develop a new country.

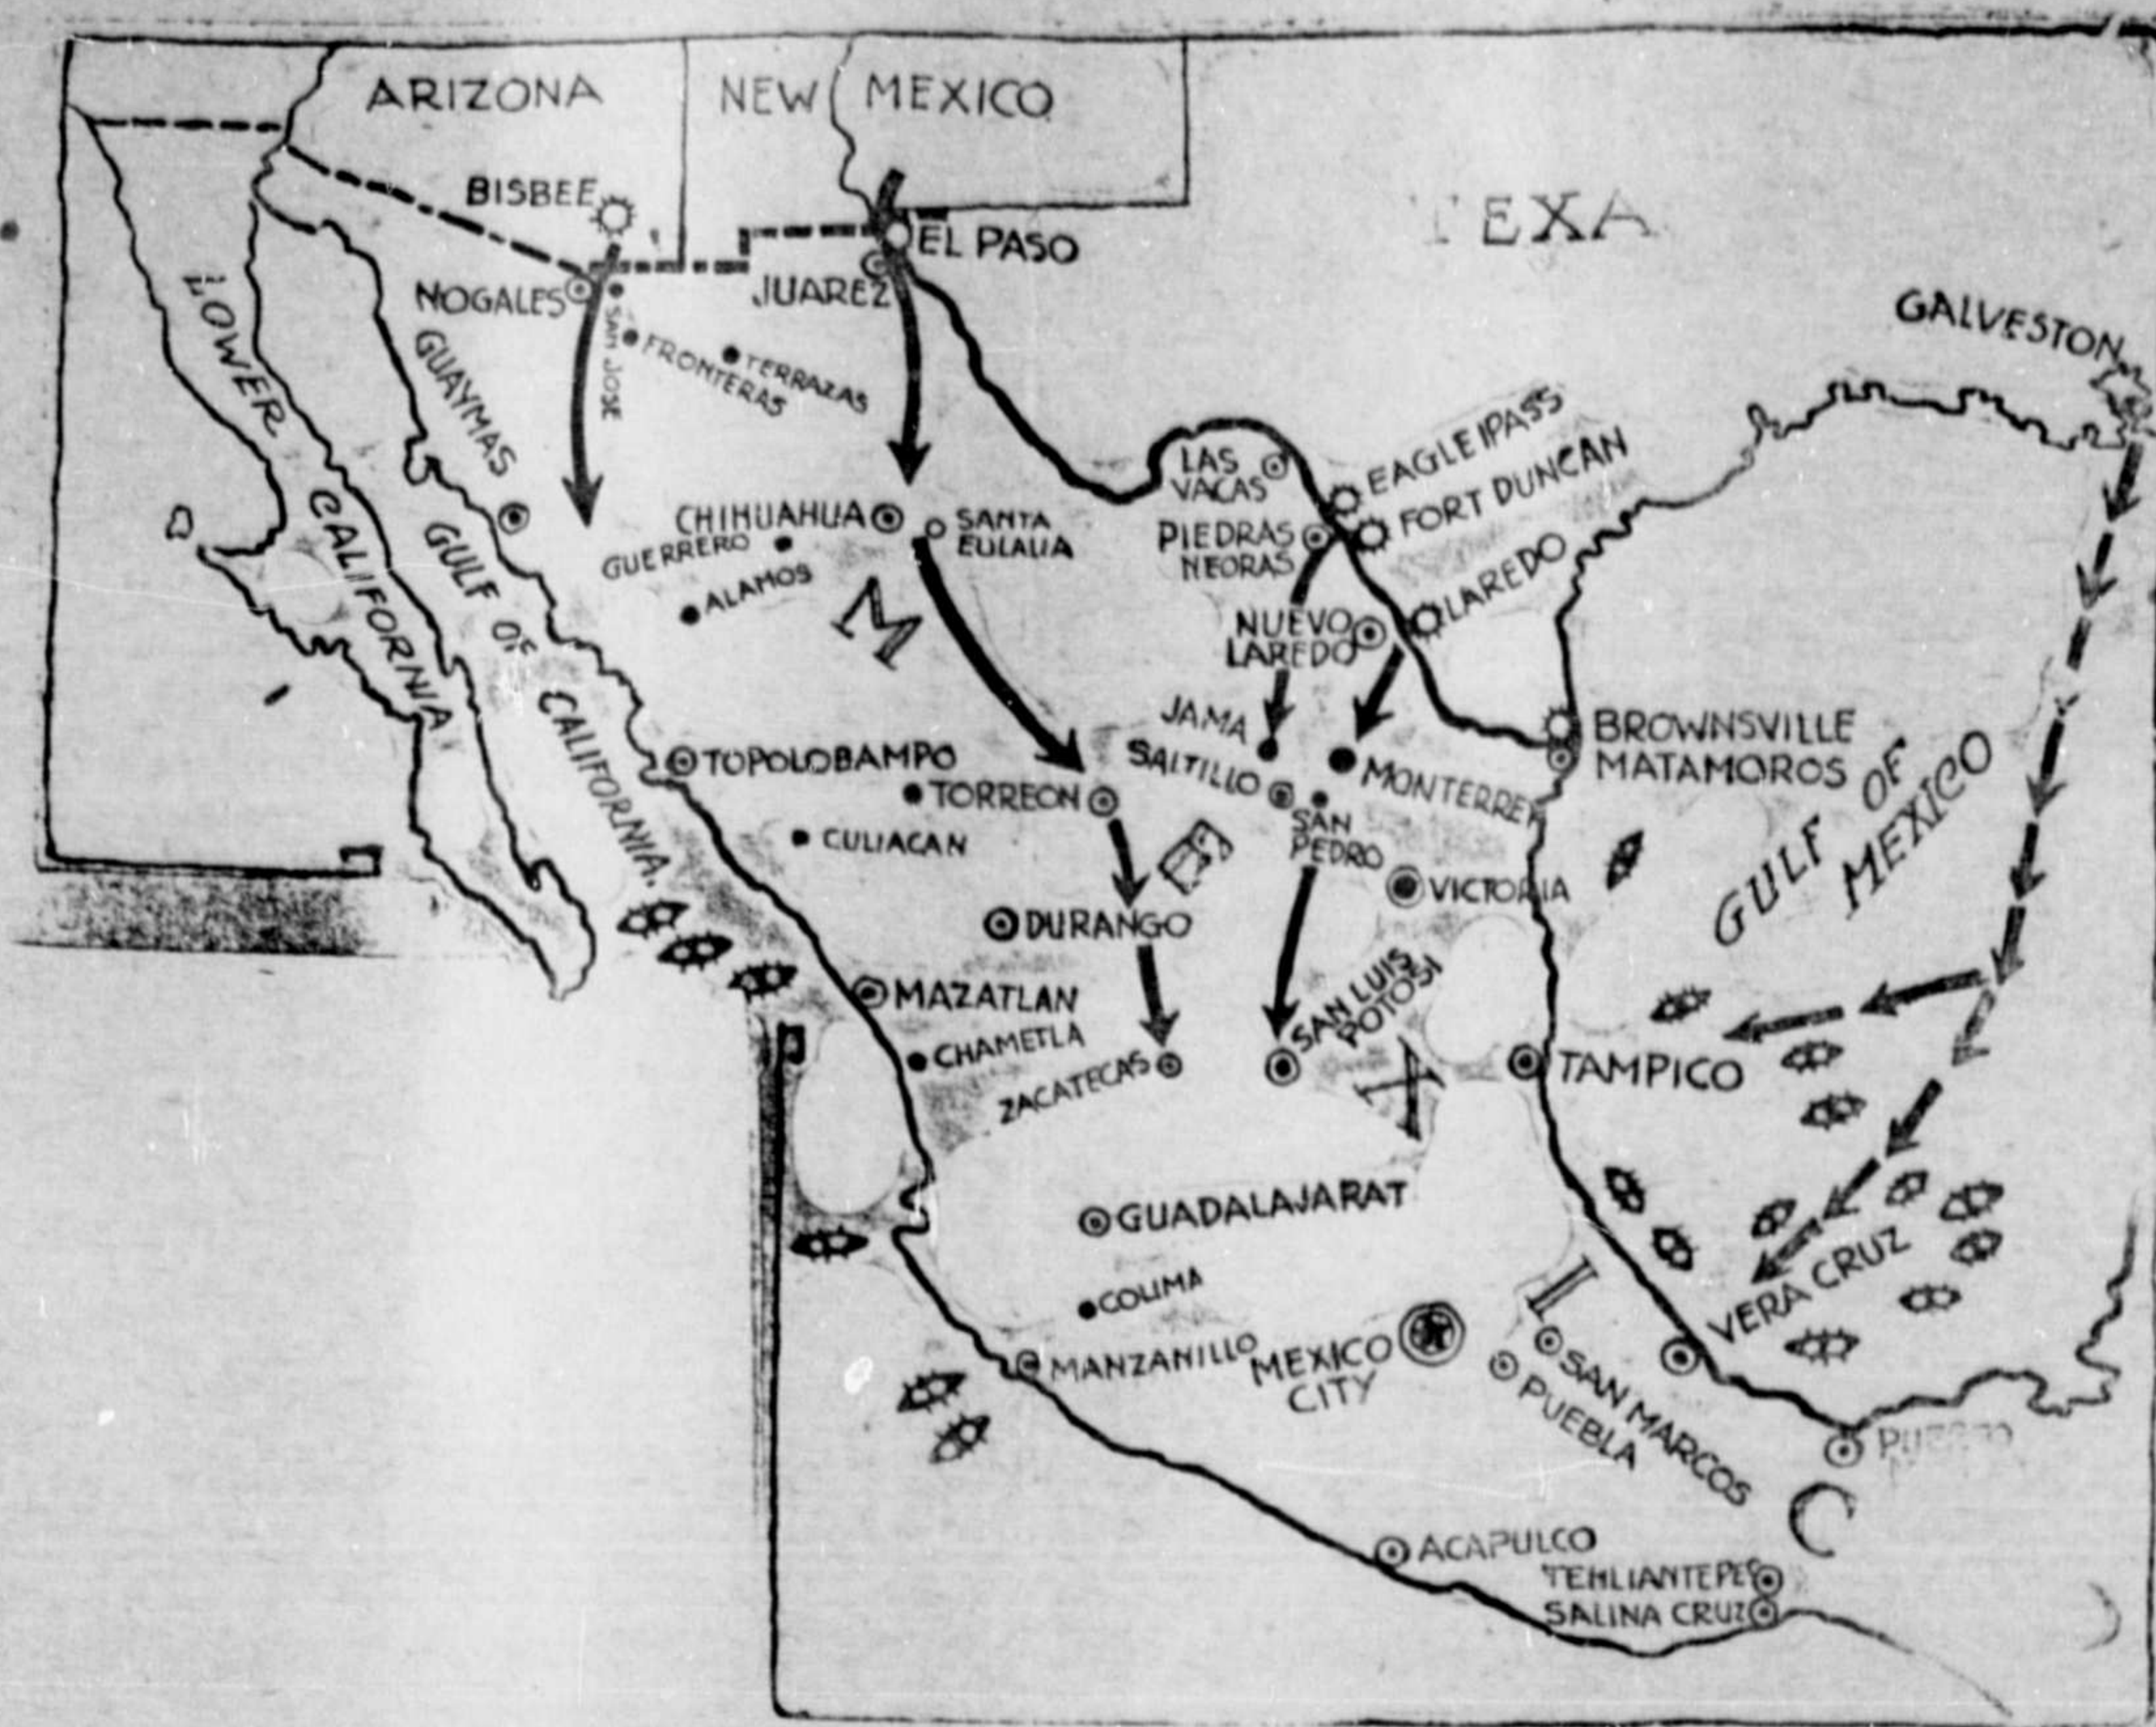

This also shows the insincerity of the Conservative governments. When the Liberals were in power at Ottawa the great cry was for a white British Columbia. Now that they are in power, however, very little is being done to wrest the fisheries from the Japanese. It is repeatedly said that white fishermen cannot be had. If this is so the most of the blame lies with the government, when they allow conditions to exist whereby new arrivals are not allowed to fish. If we are going to invite white foreigners to our shores let us give them a chance to make good and throw away this foolish notion of saving jobs for the man who has a vote.

In a speech in parliament on April 16 the New Zealand minister of defence said that the government had decided that in future its duty was not to contribute five hundred thousand dollars a year to the British admiralty, but instead to utilize the money on training New Zealanders to serve both New Zealand and England. Was New Zealand, he asked, ready to rely for protection on a mere trade alliance with Japan? Was she to have no voice in the expenditure of her contributions, and was she to have no say in questions of peace or war? It would appear that New Zealanders, like Canadians, feel the throbbing of mainhood in their veins and will insist on playing their own hand in this game of nations.

That trite phrase "the member for the district" seems to have dropped out of local print. That is just a forerunner of what will soon happen the "member."

The number of government-owned launches is rapidly increasing. This is a great convenience to the officials who are helping the pioneers to open up the country, but they would not be so quickly forthcoming if it were not for the convenience they are to the local machine. Between joy riding and assisting the local member to visit his constituents, there is little time for the boats to be of any other service.

When Premier McBride visited Rupert two years ago he told us the provincial buildings would start at once, also the road around the island. It looks now as if we would need a few more visits before anything permanent is done.

Did you hear the latest about that $35,000? If not you're slow. Just ask the first man you meet.

FRANK HAD LONG WALK

Reached Fort George After Walk From Mile 190

(Fort George Tribune)
 Frank A. Ellis who, with Jas. Armstrong of Vancouver, has charge of the sale of government lots in this district and at McBride, came in on Thursday night from the latter place and is staying at the Empress hotel, South Fort George. Mr. Ellis will leave on the return trip to McBride today or tomorrow, as he must be there by April 29, which is the date fixed for the sale of lots in McBride townsite. Owing to the condition of the railway line from Mile 190 to here Mr. Ellis had some unpleasant adventures on his journey. He left the freight train on which he made the trip from McBride about seven miles this side of Mile 190, and walked the remainder of the journey, some 40 miles, carrying his grip. He made the walk in one day.

SQUAW KILLED BRUIN WITH AXE

(Portland Canal Miner)

There is at the King Edward hotel a black bear skin measuring eight feet in length, killed by a squaw living at Tombstone bay on the Alaskan side of Portland canal. The skin covering the skull bears a large rent which tells mutely the manner in which bruin came to his death. The Indian while chopping wood heard a rustling in the brush, and realizing it was an animal, grabbed her rifle. Peering through the underbrush she discovered a huge black bear advancing towards her. Hastily taking aim she fired point blank at the best and missed him. Realizing that the now infuriated bruin would be upon her before she could reload her old fashioned weapon, she picked up her axe, and as the bear lunged forward on his haunches dealt it a crushing blow which penetrated the brain. Later three cubs were found in the brush, which speedily joined their mother in the happy hunting grounds. Joe Rogers prizes the trophy on account of its excellent fur and size.

Yukon Has Gold Yet

Leo W. Steel, a gold miner of considerable reputation in Alaska and Yukon, and who is said to control more placer claims in that territory than the Guggenheims, states that there is a vast difference in gold mining today and years ago. He believes that there is practically no speculation in the business today, except in the initial stages, and that profits can be figured in it more accurately than in most other businesses. He also says that the Yukon and Alaska fields are only in their infancy yet, a large proportion of those regions still remaining untouched.

Profit in Spuds

Roy E. Gault of Skagway last year planted one-fourteenth of an acre in potatoes and produced tubers at the rate of 17 1/2 tons per acre. They were sold at $50 a ton, or $875 an acre. The potatoes planted were Clark's Alaska seedlings, a variety that was developed by H. D. Clark, Skagway's leading farmer.

"IT PAYS TO BE KIND"

PRESIDENT E. J. CHAMBERLIN

To every employee of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific railways a message has been sent out from the president's office. This message deals with "Efficiency and Courtesy," and is signed by Mr. E. J. Chamberlin, president of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific railways. Mr. Chamberlain's message embodies the spirit of the modern railroad, an insistence on the right of the public, passengers and shippers alike, to demand the best possible service from the railway man. In his message to the passenger department employees the president says:

"The railroad company desires to sell its transportation. The ticket rates are alike for all, and any person buying a ticket, no matter what the style his clothes are, how much money he displays or what his position in society is, is entitled to proper and courteous treatment.

"The railroad man has a great opportunity for passing out kindness and good will. He comes in contact with every kind and condition of individual: the old, the young, the rich, the poor, the illiterate, the learned, the happy, the prosperous, and those in defeat, saturated with sorrow and distress; he sees them all and through intuition knows to what class they belong. A smile, a kind word, or a kindness done to any of these cannot fail to leave its impression for good and this good cannot help but expand. Try it."

The president's message to freight men says:

"The needs and wishes of shippers and consignees should be anticipated as much as possible. When cars are ordered the matter should receive close attention and in case it is not possible to furnish as ordered, shipper should be notified, so he may arrange his plans accordingly; he should be made to feel that you are interested in his welfare, and that his business is worthy of consideration. Do not discommode a shipper because of some omission of his own, but try to help him out. Railroads are the servants of the public, and it is their duty to serve well."

SCIENTISTS START OVERLAND TO ARCTIC

Going to Study Air Currents for International Meteorological Service

Edmonton, May 5.—John Pattison of the Toronto observatory has been in the city en route to Athabasca, and thence to the Arctic ocean, a trip which is being undertaken in connection with international work for the study of air currents in the Arctic regions, involving also the inspection of the meteorological service stations at Mackenzie river under government instruction.

For a portion of the trip north he will be accompanied by Geo. Hall Ingram, who is making a tour of northern Alberta to study the natural history of the northern areas, to collect specimens for scientific purposes, to photograph wild life, and to accumulate a mass of information for publication.

Mr. Ingram's expedition will be in part of a private nature, but he expects to be able to place at the disposal of scientists knowledge that will be of uncommon value.

Little is at present known of the territory through which these men will pass. Voyaging by canoe on the great waterways of the hinterland, the party will cover more than 1,000 miles on their outward course. They will strike north by the Athabasca and Slave rivers, up the Great Slave lake and chain of small lakes to the great northland, and on their return they hope to bring with them data of the most important kind. Notes and sketches will be taken during the journey, and to scientists and the general public alike it is anticipated that the information that Mr. Ingram and Mr. Pattison will secure will prove of immense interest. Mr. Ingram has made a special study of wild life and he expects to secure suitable subjects for publication.

Is Bowser Coming?

Latest reports from Victoria state that Hon. W. J. Bowser, who, with Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of lands, is about to make a tour of the province, will arrive at Fort George about the second week in May. It is expected that by that time the Grand Trunk Pacific will be running trains into this place from the west and probably the attorney-general and his companion will use that route.—Fort George Tribune.

The report just issued of the British royal commission appointed two years ago to investigate conditions in the civil service shows considerable divergence of views, but the majority of the recommendations will make no drastic changes either in the methods of selection or in conditions.
