KETCHIKAN SHUT OUT IN GOOD BALL GAME—SEATTLE MAN THINKS CITY SHOULD ADVERTISE

MANY SPECIAL PRIZES WERE AWARDED FOR DECORATIONS

PROCESSION YESTERDAY SHOWED MANY EFFORTS WORTHY OF RECOGNITION—COMMITTEE GAVE HONORARY FIRST PRIZE TO SCANDINAVIANS

The special prizes handed out by the judges on the procession gave the tableaux prizes to the Canadian Fraternity and the Sons of England.

The smartest tradesman's light rig and best decorated trade rig went to the Prince Rupert Dairy and the Prince Rupert Bakery respectively.

The Imperial Oil Company got the heavy rig prize, and the P. Burns Company chariot got the prize for the best decoration.

The prize for the best costume representative of any nation went to the Scandinavian Society on their float which represented the seven kingdoms of the nation with costumes from each. There were the Danish, Norwe-

Officials Did Good Work

A very pronounced feature of yesterday's baseball game was the splendid umpiring of Messrs. Purinton and Wallace. In a contest where both teams are playing air-tight ball and with interest at fever heat, an error of judgment can easily be made, but throughout yesterday's battle there was not a decision which could have been questioned.

Mr. Purinton, manager of the Ketchikan team, umpired bases, and gave the 2,500 spectators a splendid example of clean, honest sportsmanship. His decisions, particularly the two or three close ones, were absolutely correct, and as manager of the losing team he is to be congratulated.

Mr. Wallace's judgment on balls and strikes was nothing short of perfect, and the local fans as well as the visitors saw a game decided on its own merits.

GOOD WEATHER FOR CELEBRATION

June Record Shows Big Decrease in Precipitation for Month

The weather man, who is represented by F. W. Dowling, was kind yesterday and put out a very good class of goods for a holiday. The showers during Tuesday night laid the dust and yesterday there was sufficient clouds to keep the air cool and enough rain to keep up one's spirits.

The rainfall for June in Prince Rupert was only 1.68 inches, which F. W. Dowling, the meteorologist, says is the driest in the history of the city. There has been a gradual change, however. In 1911 there were 5.29 inches for June; in 1912, the rain was 4 inches, while in 1913 it came down to 3.56, with another big cut as indicated above in this season. The monthly summary of the weather shows mean temperature 54.7, highest 76, on June 24; lowest 42, on June 5;

Patriotic Speeches at Theatres

Last night the closing events of a splendid day's sport were concluded by patriotic exercises in all the theatres. Patriotic songs were sung and speeches delivered by leading citizens. At the Majestic, T. D. Pattullo was the speaker; Dr. Clayton at the Empress, and Capt. Stork at the Westholme.

SEATTLE MAN SAYS CITY SHOULD BE ADVERTISING

RUPERT IS UNIQUE CITY FOR PROFITABLE INVESTMENT—ITS GREAT ADVANTAGES OUGHT TO HAVE PUBLICITY

Max Freed, one of the biggest merchants in Seattle, is registered at the Prince Rupert today. Mr. Freed owns considerable property here and contemplates building on Second Avenue later this year.

"I notice considerable improvement in your city since I was here last, and you look prosperous, I don't like to criticize, but I think this city is badly in need of advertising. You need capital here. You ought to be advertising in London, Paris, Berlin, New York and of course in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg."

You ought to be spending at least $5,000 to $8,000 a year on publicity. I have travelled in all parts of the world and I must say you have a unique opportunity here for profitable investment. You are bound to have a big city and with your limited building area land is sure to be very valuable. Your terminal transportation trade, your fisheries and your mines are going to make a big city earlier than many suspect. I have great faith in your city and I would like to see the citizens working together and advertising your advantages."

Yesterday's Observations

The celebration was the best yet.

W. E. Fisher made a tip-top John Bull.

Miss Elsie Taylor, with her glowing locks and beaming countenance, was a perfectly charming "Miss Canada."

George Frizzell looked swell on his black charger and appeared to enjoy every minute of it.

Canon Rix, perhaps our greatest imperialist, took a prominent part in the arrangements. Besides that he is a great sport and very popular with the boys.

The singing of the children was very good, and the enthusiasm they put into it very commendable.

The ball that gave Prince Rupert that home run is said to be going yet.

Capt. Fred Stork was in great glee as he watched the boys at his old game.

Besides being a neat get up, Frizzell's meat market was perhaps the best advertisement in the procession. It's pretty quick work to put a live pig into a machine and pick out the sausages at the other end. The abattoir for 1915 is a stately affair.

The Indian Bands made an excellent showing. Besides being good musicians, they are a splendid looking body of men.

The welcome given to Ketchikan was very fitting. The northern boys appear to be good sports and good fellows. Their band added very materially to the celebration and is up to date.

It's a pity the chairman didn't call for "hats off" during the singing of our national anthem. Canadians need a little drumming up in this respect.

The Scandinavians made about the best showing in the bunch. They turned out a large number of "skookum" fellows.

Adair Carss seems to have picked most of the plums. That apparently is an old trick of Adair's. He has the making of a fine clean athlete.

If those Ketchikan girls were Ketchikan, some of the "Rupert sprinters" would be getting busy.

Somebody who hasn't a very keen sense of the fitness of things placed a foreign flag on the pinnacle of the drydock smokestack.

It's no wonder the Callies didn't win that game with eight Scotchmen on the opposing team.

Extra Prizes

The general celebration committee wish to announce that in addition to the prizes awarded by the judges of the procession, the following supplementary prizes have been awarded:

Best heavy team: Prize $15; awarded to Pony Express team.

Best decorated bicycle, prize value, $4; donated by J. A. Kirkpatrick.

The awarding of these prizes by the general committee instead of by the judges was made necessary by the fact that the official programme had already been printed and was in the hands of the judges who had no list of the supplementary prizes.

I take this opportunity to thank all those who so generously gave of their time and their money to make the procession the success it was.

W. BARRATT CLAYTON, Chairman Procession Committee.

Wire Thief Got Six Months

This morning Pat O'Farrell and Jos. Potvin appeared before Judge Young for speedy trial on the charge of stealing copper wire from the city.

The complaint was laid by the city on June 27 at 11 o'clock and by six the same evening Officer Bailey had recovered the wire from Crosby's second hand store and brought in two prisoners.

The evidence went to show that O'Farrell had stolen the wire and Potvin sold it. There was 135 pounds of it. O'Farrell was found guilty and sentenced to six months at hard labor at New Westminster. Potvin was discharged.

NEW C. P. R. STEAMER LAUNCHED LAST WEEK

Princess Margaret Will Be One of the Flyers on the Pacific Route

The new C.P.R. steamer Princess Margaret was successfully launched last week at the yards of Denny Bros., Dumbarton, Scotland. The fine flyer glided down the greased slip smoothly, and not one unforeseen incident marred her first plunge. Mrs. Redmond, daughter of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, acted as sponsor, and as soon as the lines, holding the ship were released, she christened the ship in a formal manner, sprinkling the contents of a bottle of champagne over the bows of the newest addition to the C. P. R.'s great fleet.

It is expected that the Princess Margaret will be ready to leave the Clyde early in December for Victoria. According to the present intention of the C. P. R. heads, she will make the voyage via the Panama Canal, providing the great ditch is open to the world's commerce at that time. The great ship will make the passage using oil as fuel. She will fill her tanks on the Clyde, and it is expected that she will make her first stop at Trinidad for refilling. From that point she will head for Panama, pass through the canal and make her next call at San Diego for sufficient oil to last her for the remainder of the voyage to Vancouver.

It is believed that the Princess Margaret will complete the long run of about 8,000 miles in thirty days.

RECREATION PARK ASSURED FOR FORT GEORGE

Government Has Reserved Block For Use of People of Greater City

Word was received this week from Fort George that the blocks asked for by the people of the district as the site for a ball park and recreation grounds have been reserved by the government.

That is, the government has reserved for the people there its share of the lots in the blocks mentioned and the Grand Trunk Pacific has already guaranteed to reserve for the same purpose the lots held there by the railway company.

The recreation site is in Blocks 263 to 367 inclusive, situated at the back of Connaught Park. The land is level and most centrally situated to serve the needs of the future city of Greater Fort George.

Issue Neat Blotter

The members of the Prince Rupert Typographical Union have just issued a very attractive and useful blotter for business men. The blotter, which bears the imprint of the Premier Press, has a celluloid top and good pad of blotting paper. The inscription advises the use of union printing and gives seven good reasons for it.

The Henriette came in today with several car loads of pipe for the city, 600 cases of empty cans for the Prince Rupert Cannery, coal for the G. T. P. and miscellaneous cargo.

DOMINION DAY CELEBRATION WAS BEST HOLIDAY IN RUPERT'S HISTORY

Splendid Parade in the Morning--Good Field Sports--Home Team Won Great Baseball Game--Exciting Football Match--Good Management

Prince Rupert celebrated Dominion Day in grand style. It was a busy day from dawn until dark and every person in the city thoroughly enjoyed it. The day was a great success and credit for this is due the officers and committees who had the affair in charge. It was the best organized celebration the city has yet had and everybody has a word of appreciation and praise.

There were hundreds of visitors in the city for the day. The Ketchikan base ball boys brought a flotilla of small boats and about seventy-five guests, including the ball team, the band, and a number of ladies. They arrived about nine thirty o'clock Tuesday evening. From the Government Wharf up town the boys formed in procession while the ladies took autos to the hotel.

Yesterday morning saw many visitors from Simpson, Essington, up river points and from the canneries. The latter contingent was smaller than usual because fishing is good and the canneries are busy.

The musical part of the day was looked after by a good committee headed by Mr. Woodland. There were three bands, Ketchikan brought in by the Ketchikan ball team, and the Port Simpson and Metlakatlah bands. The two latter were handed time slips in the morning which gave them instructions for the day and this helped to make the day's proceeding work systematically.

The procession formed promptly on the advertised hour on Third Avenue and paraded down to Lynch's corner, around First Avenue and then up Second Avenue to Market Place.

At the head was George Frizzell, with his effervescent smile. He wore a silk tite, a handsome Prince Rupert sash and rode a prancing black horse. The Ketchikan band, twenty strong, was first in line, and immediately behind them the Prince Rupert Veteran Fire Brigade "all that was left of them." They carried axes, pails and hand fire extinguishers. The modern fire brigade with the auto wagons were next and behind them the Veterans with their nobby hats.

The Canadian Fraternity float was applauded all along the line. It was built like the hull of a battle ship on an auto truck. Aboard it were boys dressed as the primitive Indian and on a throne in the rear was Miss Taylor representing a charming and vivacious Miss Canada who threw union Jacks to the kiddies along the line of march, and W. E. Fisher as a typical John Bull. His make-up was excellent. The members of the Canadian Fraternity followed.

Next was a pretty float by the Sons of England representing English costumes and the St. George Cross. The members of the order were behind their float.

The Scandinavian Aid Fellowship float was another very handsome and striking display. It was built like a Viking's battleship and manned by vikings and pretty maids in native costume. This float was very picturesque and merited the continued applause it got.

The Metlakatlah Band led the school kiddies who all carried flags.

In the trades procession, Frizzell had a representation of a ten storey abattoir which is to be built in 1915. At the rear was a trade scene. A live pig was put into a machine and sausage was taken out.

P. Burns & Co. had a chariot that looked good enough to win a race.

Other trades represented were Prince Rupert Dairy, P. R. Bakery, Mussallem & Co., Williams & McMeekin, Imperial Oil Co.

The Ketchikan ball team were in an auto and the Simpson Band brought up the rear of the procession.

Address of Welcome

On arriving at the Market Place the school children gathered on the tier of seats and the platform while the public lined up in front. The stand was very prettily decorated by the Daughters of the Empire, whose monogram graced the front of it.

Before the opening of the brief programme, the Canadian Fraternity gave cheers for Miss Canada and John Bull.

tendered thanks to the citizens for their liberal donations and for their interest in the celebration. It was a tribute to the patriotism and progressive spirit of the city.

Mayor Newton read a brief and appropriate address on Canada's natal day and what it represents.

The school children, led by the Simpson Band, sang patriotic songs, and Mr. Davies sang "O, Canada!" in excellent voice. The applause was liberal and genuine in recognition of all the numbers on the short programme.

The sports were pulled off on second Avenue, the major events in the morning and the children's events in the early afternoon. C. T. Heward was the most prominent worker on this end of the programme and did excellent work. He had several good assistants. The official starter was S. P. McMordie.

DAILY EDITION  Thursday, July 2, 1914.

The campaign in Ontario was admitted on all sides to be an uncertain issue. New lines of cleavage were supposed to have been formed and the church vote was supposed to be on the side of Mr. Rowell. There is no doubt at all about where the liquor interests stood and they are usually drawn from both sides of politics. At the same time the final position of the churches in many cases is very doubtful. Hard and dyed-in-the-wool party men are not easily changed and of these Ontario seems to have an undue share. They are with the moral issue just so long as the hymns are ringing in their ears but when they are face to face with a cold ballot and a party issue it is a different story. It will probably not be so easy to induce a party again to take up an issue of this kind after the treatment accorded Mr. Rowell in Ontario and particularly in "Toronto the good."

Apart from the temperance issue in the campaign there was no doubt another issue in the minds of the people. Premier Whitney is a man of high character and has rendered great service to his Province. Only a few months ago he lay at death's door and the sympathy of all peoples went out to him. He is still an invalid and perhaps his days are few. A good many people may have been loath to turn him down in his dying moments after his distinguished career. It is true that as such he should not have allowed his name to be used as leader but very often a man is in the hands of his party and does not wish to oppose them too strongly. This is no doubt the reason for his stand and the Conservatives of Ontario should be ashamed to pluck victory with the hand of a dying man.

It is reported that a case of heart failure was narrowly averted recently in The Journal office. The editor of that esteemed family (?) paper had it suddenly called to his attention that The Daily News was big enough and manly enough to withdraw a statement as soon as it was found to be in error. This action was so foreign to the nature of that gentleman that a collapse almost took place.

If it is a strange thing for a paper to do what any gentleman would do, The News has at least a splendid precedent in The London Times, which while perhaps not so well edited as The Journal has considerable weight among the world's periodicals.

It is true that The Journal has never had to apologize for anything. But that is because it never says anything. The editor of this paper would sooner have to apologize a thousand times a year than to be the author of wishy-washy piffle which may mean anything or nothing according as conditions may require. A writer who has any manhood in his veins will strike straight from the shoulder and if once in a while he does miss his aim he will at least be credited with having a mind of his own.

DID THEY CARRY ARMS CONTRARY TO COLONEL THE HONORABLE SAM'S ORDERS?

There is much talk concerning the action of the 65th Regiment of Montreal, which notwithstanding the positive orders of the Minister of Militia, paraded with arms at the religious procession of Corpus Christi. It is said now that the rifles they carried were not Government rifles, but obsolete weapons out of old stores. The picture shows the officers of the 65th Regiment waiting for the Corpus Christi procession to start, in front of Notre Dame Church. The 65th paraded with arms and saluted the Host at the elevation as on past occasions of this kind. The regiment also acted as a bodyguard to Bishop Gauthier who carried the Host through the streets. On the left is Sir Rodolphe Forget, honorary colonel of the 65th, and a prominent Conservative, and next to him is Senator Casgrain, honorary lieutenant-colonel of the 83rd; Joliette Regiment. On the senator's left is Rev. Father Deschamps, chaplain of the 65th.

CHET NEFF WON OVER ROUGH HOUSE BURNS

Went Twenty Rounds and Got a Decision on Points—Burns Almost Had Him Out

The boxing bout between Chet Neff and Rough House Burns in the Westholme Opera House on Tuesday evening drew a big house. It was a splendid exhibition, the best the sports have seen here yet. Chet Neff got the decision on points and several fans dispute his right to it. There was considerable money bet and many of the audience looked for a draw.

Neff was certainly clever with his mits and shifty on his feet. He easily landed three to one on Burns but they were mostly jabs to the face which did not appear to effect Burns. On the other hand Burns bored in with his head down waiting for an opening to get a knockout with his heavy right. He swung it several times but never landed with it until the eighteenth when he reached Neff's jaw and dazed the Seattle boy. Burns, however, did not have the steam to take advantage of his chance to follow up, and Neff was able to hold him off until the round finished.

Both boys went the 20 rounds without a fall and while both took punishment neither showed the effects after going to the dressing room. Neff had a slight cut over the eye and on his lip but was otherwise unmarked.

They weighed in during the afternoon. Neff was 134 1/2, and Burns 134 1/2.

When they entered the ring each was given an enthusiastic reception. In the early rounds Neff had a decided advantage in the boxing. He landed repeatedly on Burns and the latter took a lot of punishment on his face. Burns made a few effective stabs infighting, but Neff was too quick for him in the open.

In the tenth both boys were pretty tired. In the eleventh they did a lot of boxing and the round ended about even. In the 13th Neff landed a dozen vicious jabs on Burns face. The next round Burns got a heavy blow in on Neff's stomach which made the latter tired for a time, but Burns did not follow it up and Neff came out. The 19th round was all foot work by Neff who was keeping away to give himself a chance to recover. The last round furnished several mix-ups but with no results.

Referee Smeathers gave Neff the decision on points, claiming that Neff had out-boxed his opponent. A few heavy ones by Burns, who was looking for a knock-out did not offset the many times Neff had landed on him.

The Preliminaries

There were three preliminaries. Johnny Gilmore and Young Walters of Vancouver went four two-minute rounds without effecting much.

Monte Label, of St. Paul, had a four round go with Colored Carter. It furnished a lot of amusement for the boys, and Carter got in one good slap on Monte, but he afterwards re-

GOLD IS FOUND ON WILLOW RIVER

Stampede Now on From Fort George to Scene of the Strike

Gold has been discovered on the banks of the Willow River, in Willow River townsite, thirty miles east of Fort George, according to a private telegram received by Mr. E. H. Heaps, and there is great excitement in Fort George over the discovery. Many Fort George residents are staking claims, both quartz and placer, according to Mr. Heaps' message.

Willow River townsite, as its name implies, is on the banks of Willow River. The townsite is also on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and is said to be owned by a syndicate largely controlled by local capitalists. Owing to its proximity to Fort George and the existence of a newly opened railway line the village was soon reached by scores of gold hunters as soon as news of the discovery leaked out.

The stream which the claims are being staked rises in the Cariboo country not far from Barkerville, the scene of many rich gold finds of earlier days. This fact lends support to the belief that valuable claims will be found at Willow River townsite, the precious metal having come down from the Cariboo.

Mr. Heaps said today that although he was interested there he had not been aware that any prospecting was being done in the vicinity of the townsite and the announcement of the find was entirely news to him.

quested Monte to go easy on him. Cockney Edwards and Ted Bidle gave four good rounds and did some good work. The Cockney is a good fast boy and has a nasty left punch. He got the decision on points.

Investment!

Today the real estate market is quiet. Property turns slowly and though prices remain firm the man with a few hundred dollars to invest does not see much chance for a profitable turn in buying an unimproved lot. It is the improved property that is making the money these days, but the small investor has no chance to get in on it himself.

But he has a chance to get in a syndicate—The Prince Rupert Building and Investment Company—an association of investors with small capital whose pooled resources makes it one of the most active and prosperous business organizations in the city.

This company has built many houses and has just completed a splendid apartment house. It deals exclusively in Prince Rupert investments. It has no paid officers and no operating expense, but it makes money. In three years it has paid an average annual dividend of 17 per cent.

A new stock issue has just been put on the market. It sells at $1.1 a share and we can recommend it to anyone who has a small amount of capital on which they would like to draw good interest with good security back of it.

NEW HAZELTON NOTES

(From the Herald)

Tenders are being called for the erection of a public building in New Hazelton. This building will be erected by the Dominion Government for the accommodation of the postoffice and Dominion telegraph office. Tenders are to be in by July 15th.

An unfortunate accident occurred on Wednesday morning at Lorne Creek where a new steel bridge is being put in the place of the wooden structure for the G. T. P. As a result one man was killed and one so badly injured that he was brought to the hospital for treatment. Yesterday morning Constable Lavery went to Lorne Creek to investigate the cause.

Rev. John Field and Mrs. Field returned to the district Wednesday night and were welcomed at the depot by a number of their old friends. Vaughan-Rhys, mining engineer of Prince Rupert, is in the district, and it is expected that in a day or so an announcement will be made in regard to the development work to be undertaken on the Harris Mines. The New Hazelton District Mine Owners' Association shipped five boxes of ore samples this week for the Canadian Government exhibition commission which is collecting ores for the Panama Exposition. Tomlinson upon its prompt action and co-operation.

The boys, as was announced a couple of weeks ago, have a lease on the several claims on the south side of Glen mountain, and soon after they started work they uncovered some fine ore on the Black Prince. This they have been working by drifting, and already they are sorting and sacking ore.

country, but its development has been held back on account of lack of transportation.

Mr. Cronin is taking several men in with him and it is the intention to do considerable work on the property before the snow flies again.

MINNEAPOLIS BANDIT PUTS ONE OVER COPS

Minneapolis, July 2.—A bearded bandit killed a man here Saturday night. The outlaw, who has robbed ten business places in Minneapolis in the last two months, entered J. E. Erickson & Son's shoe store at 10:15 p.m., held up the two proprietors, and two customers, shot the elder Erickson, robbed the son as he stood over his dying father, marched the son and the two customers to the cash register, robbed both the customers, and fled out the back door, where he and his look-out partner escaped.

The hold-up and murder occurred at the shoe store, while every drug store in the city was being watched by detectives and extra patrol men in plain clothes. Drug stores have heretofore been picked almost exclusively by the bearded bandit for his operations.

Obedied the Law

An elderly man in Rawden, Hauts County, N.S., discovered a fox den beneath an old log barn in the woods, and in it six fox pups, four blacks and two patches. He took them home, and in the course of time they became quite tame, lapping milk like kittens. One day he was told that it was against the law to have them in captivity, and he promptly let them go. They were valued at least at $50,000.

Diver's Narrow Escape

Cherbourg, July 2.—While a diver was engaged yesterday in recovering a torpedo buried in the mud of the harbor, the mechanism suddenly started and the propeller severed the air pipe of the diving apparatus. The diver, with great presence of mind, clung to the torpedo, which bore him to the surface. He was dragged into the boat by his astonished comrades in an almost asphyxiated condition. After an hour or two he was revived.
