REVIEW OF STRIKE WHICH WAS FOLLOWED BY MILITARISM—FINANCIAL AID TO STRIKERS NOW SHUT OFF

(Written for The Daily News by B. A. McKelvie)

The withdrawal of the financial support of the United Mine Workers of America from the striking miners on Vancouver Island has been the probable ending of the bitterly waged labor trouble in the history of British Columbia. For twenty-two months the miners at Extension and Cumberland have been idle, while at Nanaimo and South Wellington the coal diggers have been on strike since 1913. During the time the coal diggers have been idle there have been repeated attempts on the part of the owners to re-open the collieries to their full capacity, but without success, although at Nanaimo, contrary to the provisions of the Coal Mines Regulation Act, the mines have attained their output by the employment of menials below ground.

The attempt on the part of the owners last year to open their mines resulted in rioting at Nanaimo, Extension, South Wellington and Ladysmith. The year in which the Government flooded those camps with militia is well known. All agree that the presence of the soldiers were needed for a few days to preserve order and restore the peace, but their continued presence in the coal camps is looked upon as an act of intimidation on the part of the Victoria authorities.

That the unfortunate trouble could have been avoided had the Minister of Mines cared to act when the miners first threw down their tools is something that only the most rabid supporter of the Government will deny.

Briefly, the events that led to the trouble in the Vancouver Island and coal districts had their origin in the explosion at the Extension mines in October, 1909. Thirty-two men and boys met their death in the darkness of No. 2 colliery. Five hundred of their fellows escaped. The conditions prevailing in the mine prior to the explosion were such that experienced men knew that a disaster

LEADERS MOBILIZING FORCES FOR THE FIGHT

General Mobilization Taking Place Today, It Is Reported

Belfast, July 25.—Satisfied that nothing will now come of the Buckingham Palace conference relative to Home Rule, the leaders are hastening plans for completing the mobilization of the forces. From one source it is learned there will be a general mobilization today.

With this there will probably be the proclaiming of a provisional government on Monday. Ulster's military campaign is costing a huge sum of money. One estimate states that $35,000 are daily required. Therefor Ulster does not want any longer delay.

CANADIAN LEADS OXFORD AMONG RHODES SCHOLARS

John B. McNair of New Brunswick Secures High Honors

In a copy of the Fredricton (N.B.) Daily Mail to hand, there is a report from Dr. George R. Parkin, Rhodes Scholarship Commissioner for Canada, with regard to the work done in the last year by the Canadian Rhodes scholars. In that report mention is made of Mr. John B. McNair, B.A., appointee of the university of New Brunswick, who has just completed his course at Christ College, Oxford, taking the degree of B.C.L. with high honors in Grade "A" Class and leading all the other Rhodes scholars at Oxford. Only three among all the Rhodes scholars have attained to Grade "A" rank and Mr. McNair is the highest of these. In his university course at Fredricton, he secured high honors with an average of 98.

Mr. McNair is a brother of Mrs. H. F. McTear of this city.

COMMISSION WILL TOUR WHOLE COUNTRY

Judges Who Will Make Redistribution Organized Yesterday

Vancouver, July 25.—Mr. Justice Morrison and Mr. Justice McDonald, who are to constitute the commission to report to the Legislature as to the division of the Province into electoral districts, as announced recently in the News, were sworn in as Commissioners yesterday before Mr. Justice Murphy. In their investigation of matters in connection with the redistribution of seats of the Province they will start on their duties at once. W. P. Ogilvy was sworn in as secretary.

The commission leaves today for Cariboo to hold the first meeting at Kamloops, July 31. This will be followed by meetings at other towns throughout the district.

At the end of the trip into the interior the commission will return to Vancouver before starting for Tete Jaune Cache and Fort George by way of Edmonton. Following the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific through the northern interior, the Skeena River towns and settlements will be visited as far as Prince Rupert.

After the northern tour the commission will go to Vancouver Island.

T THOUSAND BONES TO CALL AT RUPERT

Excursion Party Will Pay Us a Visit at a Price

Local real estate man is in communication with a firm in Antonio, Texas, who are offering an excursion of 100 people north for a trip. They allege excursionists are ranchers, owners, monied-men and papermen. They purpose visiting at Prince Rupert and visiting the country.

The circular says they will come from eight to twenty-four and requests that the Board of Trade guarantee $1,000 towards their expenses while here. They are scheduled to arrive at the 25th.

The Board of Trade have received no notice of the excursion and will not likely entertain the proposition.

CONFERENCE FAILED TO AGREE ON AREA

Would Exclude Ulster But What Part of Ireland Is Ulster?

London, July 25.—The report current that the conferences relative to Home Rule for Ireland were abortive by failure to agree to the area of Ulster to be excluded from the control of the Dublin parliament has been confirmed by Premier Asquith in the House of Commons. The Premier stated there was only a brief possibility of finding an area to be excluded from the operations of the Irish Home Rule Bill.

This was considered, he said, but the conference was unable to agree upon the principal boundaries of such an area, which brought the meetings to a close.

"ROBIN HOOD" IN MOVIES

Fine Four Reel Romantic Feature at the Westholme Monday and Tuesday

Robin Hood is probably the most popular of the heroes of the middle ages "when knights were bold," and the story of his adventures has entertained and fascinated both young and old for ages.

This story, properly staged and costumed, will be shown in a splendid four reel set of animated pictures at the Westholme Opera House, Monday and Tuesday. There is plenty of action in this production with not a dull moment from beginning to end.

The pictures are instructive as well as entertaining, and deserve a large patronage.

A fine comedy and a new gazette will conclude the program.

HON. BOWSER AND HIS PARTY HAD HOT TIME IN FORT GEORGE

CHAIRMAN AFRAID TO PUT THE VOTE OF CENSURE—LITTLE NAPOLEON GETTING TO KNOW MEN OF THE NORTH

According to the following, from The Bella Coola Courier, the Ministerial party on the trip through the interior, had a warm reception at Fort George:—

"They are an uncharitable lot, those fellows at South Fort George, judging by the way they treated the stranger within their gates.

Of course, poor Billy Ross is always in trouble and must be getting used to it. But fancy one of those tiresome Liberals daring to land on both of the honorable gentlemen present with both feet at once! And fancy the whole gathering (with the exception of those on the platform) cheering him on. Then as a climax, fancy this un hospitable person moving a vote of censure on the government. But worst of all, just fancy the chairman of the meeting, in the presence of the little Napoleon himself, not daring to put the motion. Then, let us forget, let us try to fancy the feelings of the Attorney-General and the Minister of Lands.

But wait. Mr. Bowser speaks. We do not read of him glaring Sidney Fay into submission. Mr. Bowser is nothing if he is not a judge of character, and he knew that he had no such man as John A. Fraser or Wm. Manson to deal with. So he fumed and roared and freely perspired, until someone struck with compassion moved a vote of confidence in the government. But alas for Mr. Bowser, this kind-hearted person's intention was treated with scant respect, for he was promptly howled down, his motion was unseconded and was therefore not put to the meeting.

Mr. Bowser is getting to know the people of the North. He is finding out for himself. As he becomes better acquainted with conditions (particularly in the North) the more clearly will he read the handwriting on the wall.

BRINGS RICH CARGO OF GOLD BULLION

Alaska Liner Victoria Has a Shipment Valued at Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars

Seattle, July 2.—Bringing a cargo valued at $900,256, consisting of bullion from the mining properties of the Seward Peninsula, rich gold bearing sand from the Nome Beaches, shipments of furs, ivory, whalebone and other consignments, the Alaska Steamship Company's liner Victoria, Captain John A. O'Brien, reached Pier 2 from Nome and St. Michael.

The gold, in great steel chests, was stored in the vessel's hold. It was dumped on the pier with as little ceremony as a shipment of salt fish.

The shipment of furs brought by the Victoria consists of 350 packages.

Saturday, July 25, 1914.

During the discussion of the Bank Act in the parliamentary session of 1912-13, it was strongly urged by different Liberal speakers in the Commons that the interest rate upon deposits in the Government savings banks should be increased.

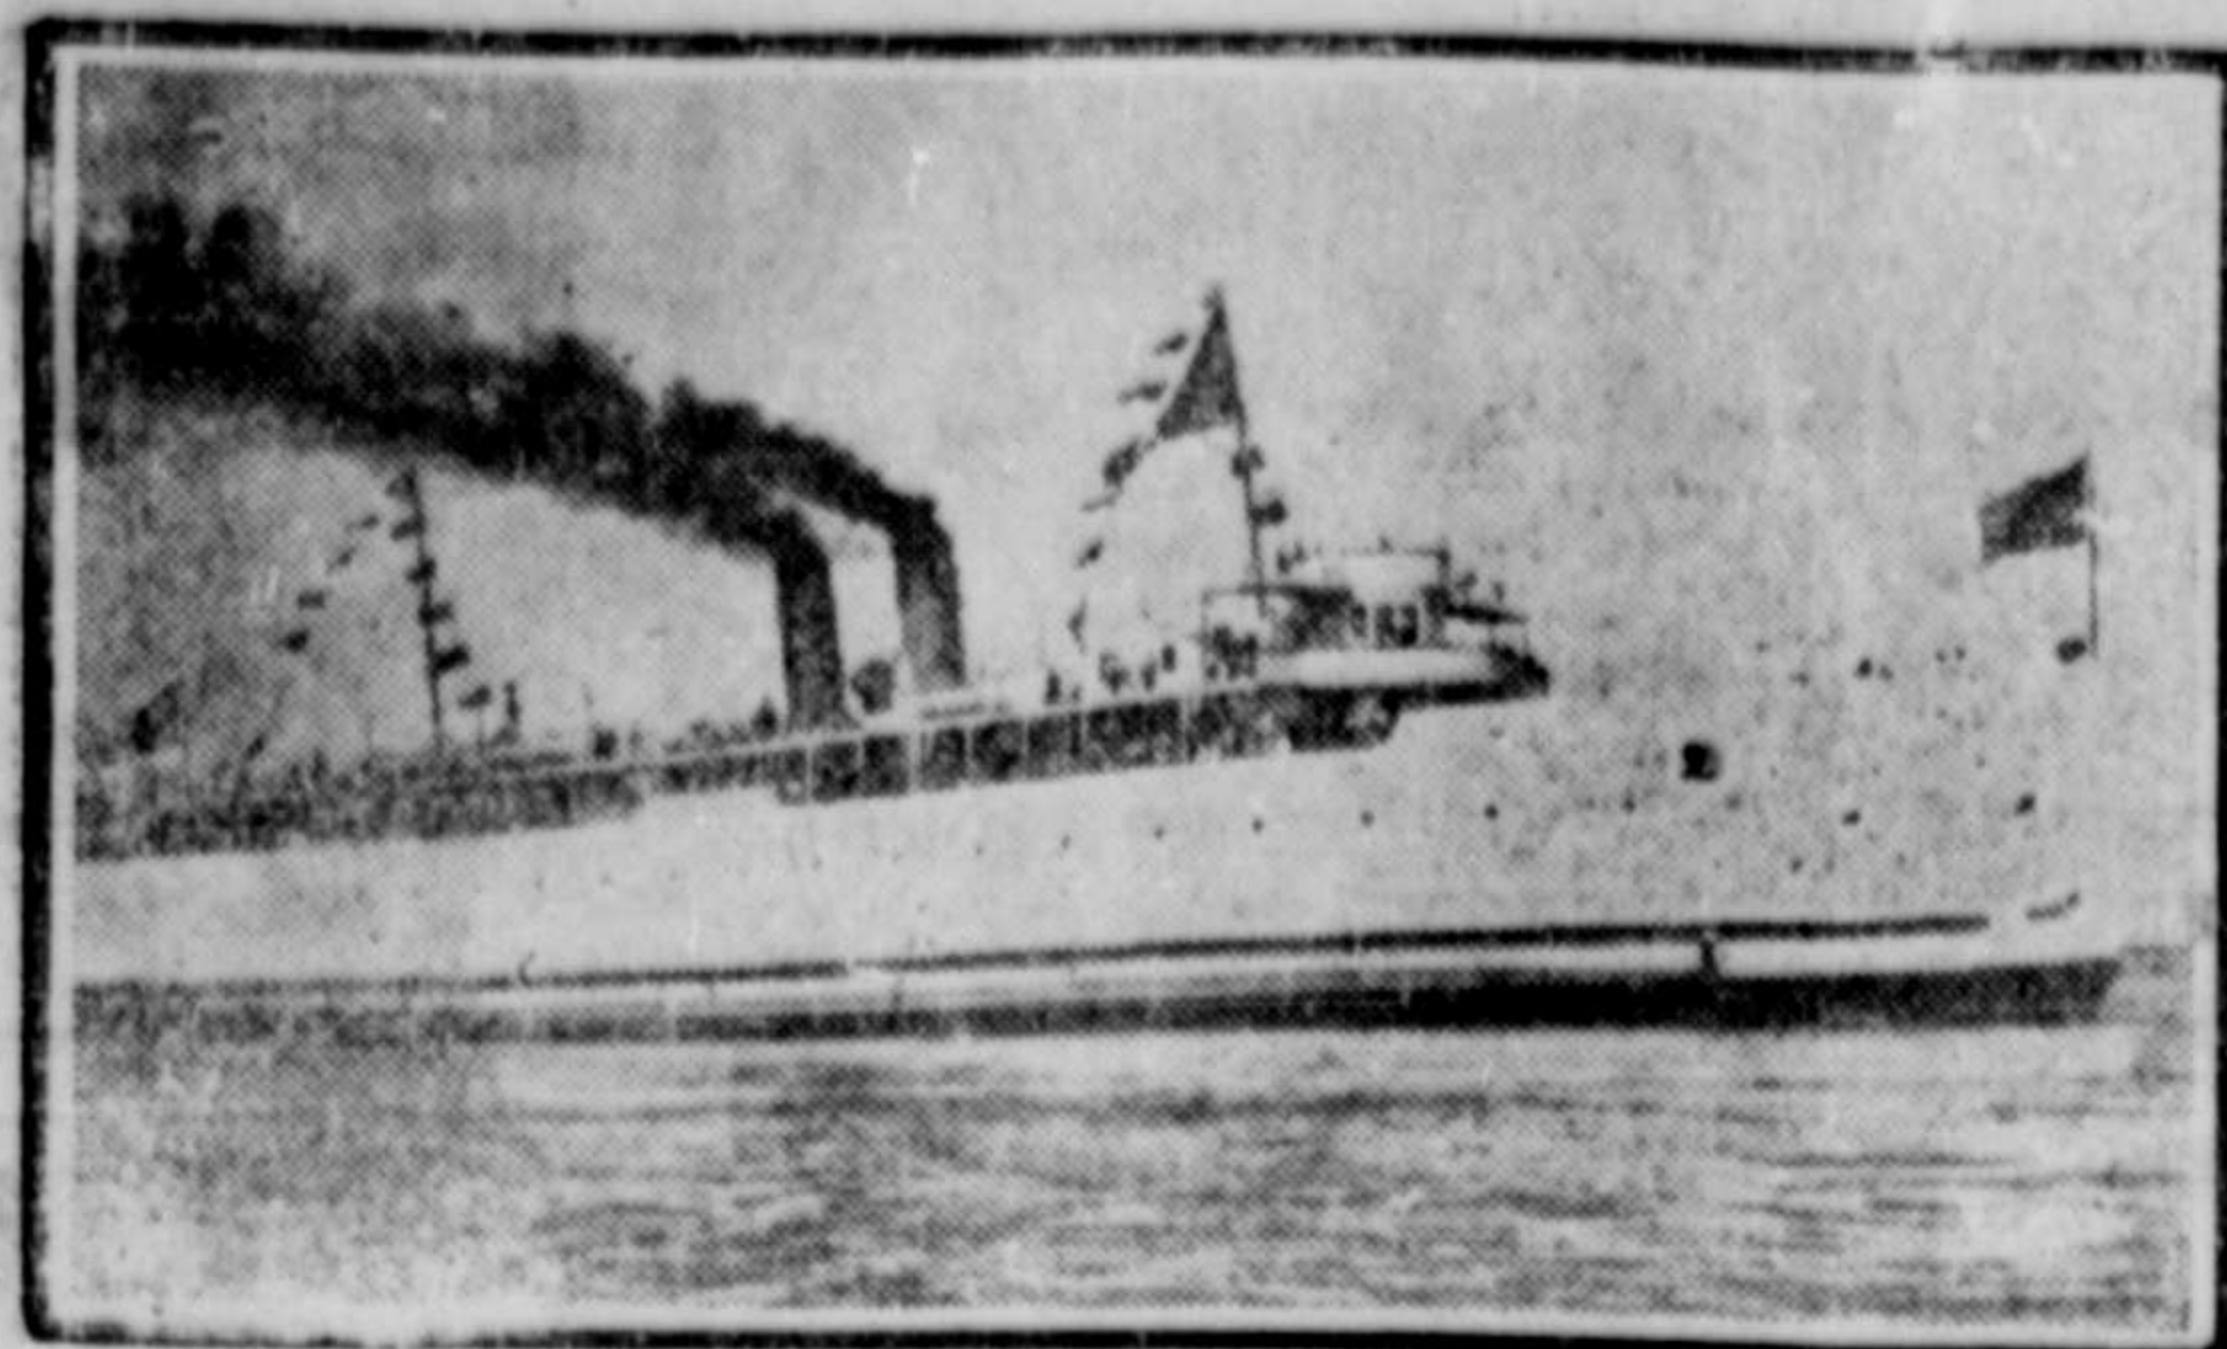

During the session just closed, the Liberal suggestion was renewed. "There is a general outcry amongst the plain people of the country," declared Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux.

But Hon. Mr. White brushed the idea aside. He was made Finance Minister, not at the command of the "plain people," but on the order of certain Special Interests which he had served faithfully for years.

chartered banks of the country. "If my honorable friend (Mr. Lemieux)," he said, "had taken the trouble that I have to look into this matter and had examined the statement, say, of the Bank of Montreal, he would have found that to increase the rate of interest by even one-half of one per cent would have a very serious effect on the earning power of that institution."

It is true that Mr. White argued that an increase in the Government interest on savings deposits would result in an increase of the discount rate by chartered banks to the loss of "the manufacturers and business people of Canada."

It cannot be denied, of course, that Mr. White runs true to form in taking this position. Among the members of a Government placed in power by the Special Interests and representative of those interests, Mr. White stands out pre-eminently as "their man."

LARGEST CAR FERRY ON THE GREAT LAKES

The Ontario No. 2, a car ferry now in course of construction in Toronto shipyards, will, when completed, have the distinction of being the largest vessel on the lake. It will be 318 feet in length, 54 feet moulded breadth. She has room for twenty-eight cars on four tracks. The upper decks are for passenger accommodation, of which she will carry 1,000. She will likely be launched before the fall season.

SIR CONAN DOYLE DECLARES CANADA IS LOYAL TO EMPIRE

FOR A CENTURY, AT LEAST, THE DOMINION WILL NOT SEEK TO CUT LOOSE—WILL THEN BE LARGER THAN THE MOTHER COUNTRY

London, July 25.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle reached home from his Canadian tour. Speaking of the Dominion's political destiny, he said: "Annexation to the United States is absolutely out of the question. In my opinion there is no single instance in history where two nations standing apart like well-rooted oaks have ever become united."

"Then there is the possibility of Canada becoming independent. I have the strongest view that this is equally impossible. Canada gets 73 per cent of her investments from Great Britain, 14 per cent from Americans, and 12 per cent within her own border. We give her a free insurance policy in the navy, and the diplomatic service of the Empire is at her disposal. Canada is bound in honor in the near future to make the Mother Country some return for these privileges, but from a material point of view she cannot break away from us, for at least two or three generations, and, apart from material considerations, which I do not wish to rate too highly, I am convinced there is a very real, widespread element of loyalty and imperialism in Canada. They retain the tradition of their ancestors of 1782."

ada is not likely to throw off her allegiance.

"A disturbing element in our relations just now is the Hindu question. I consider that the most difficult and indeed dangerous one. If ever the Empire is wrecked it will be on some such rock as this. Canada had no choice but to back up British Columbia in keeping out the Indians."

FIVE MEN KILLED ON PANAMA CANAL

Premature Explosion of Dynamite at Cucaracha Slide

Panama, July 25.—The premature explosion of 4,800 pounds of dynamite at Cucaracha slide yesterday killed five workmen, four of them white men, and severely injured one white man and seventeen negroes.

The workmen were aboard the drill barge Teredo, which was wrecked and sank in the channel. The men had just completed charging the last of eight drill holes with 600 pounds of 60 per cent dynamite when the explosion occurred. The charge was to have removed the last stone in the channel cut.

"Perhaps by the end of the present century, when Great Britain will find her daughter bigger than herself, the question of independent existence will come up in strong form and will have to be settled one way or the other, but until then, at any rate, Canada is not likely to throw off her allegiance."

AIRSHIP RESCUED DROWNING PERSONS

Collision in Lake Washington Threw Many Into Water

Seattle, July 25.—Seven persons in danger of drowning were hauled out of the waters of Lake Washington yesterday afternoon within five minutes with the assistance of Silas Christofferson's hydro aeroplane.

A small power boat, carrying three people, and a canoe, carrying three more, were upset near the Kirkland ferry boat, half a mile from the Madison park dock, after a collision between the ferry and the power boat. The seventh person who got a wetting was C. B. Stanchfield. He dived into the water from the ferry to assist in a rescue. Three were picked up by Aviator Christofferson, three more by the ferry and one by a canoe which rushed to the scene of the accident. One of the rescued, a baby, was saved when thrown aboard the ferry from the boat which had just been run down.

REAL ESTATE is just as good an investment in Prince Rupert today as it was when the market was active and the speculators were making a quick turn over. No man who holds any bulk of property here anticipates or fears a slump. The big owners have perfect confidence in the city and in the real estate. They are improving their property and getting good revenues. That is where the small owner is handicapped during the period of inactivity. He has not enough money to improve his property and get a revenue. But if he pooled his available means with the savings of others, the whole would make a good working capital. That is where the Prince Rupert Building and Investment Co. is helping the small capitalist to make good. This company improves its property and has an income. It has been one of the most successful organizations in the city. It has paid an average of SEVENTEEN PER CENT in dividends in the past three years. NANAIMO COAL STRIKE AND CAUSES WHICH LED TO IT must occur. It did and after the terrible scenes of Black Friday when the wail of the Death March sounded throughout the little mining camp from dawn until well after dark, the men decided to form a union. They did so. It was not a foreign union nor was it affiliated with any Canadian or International body. It was to be a simple pure Canadian union with head offices at Ladysmith.

The union struggled on manfully for a brief time, but it had no power, nor could it finance a strike. This was first realized when the McKinnell incident arose. As related in the News many times, David McKinnell, a mine foreman, discharged a fireman for doing his duty in reporting all of the gas that he discovered below ground. McKinnell lost his certificate of competency, but it was handed back to him by the Minister of Mines prior to the last provincial election.

Again the infant organization wished to go out in protest when Donald McLean, the most proficient miner in the province, a graduate of Edinburgh University, was discharged and black-listed, because he attended, with two others, and at the request of the Deputy Minister of Mines and Chief Inspector, a conference at Victoria to make suggestions to be incorporated in the Coal Mines Regulation Act. The men felt that the department of mines should have protected the man to whom a special invitation was given, but nothing was done.

On March 12, 1912—just prior to the last election, a terrific explosion occurred in the workings of the Diamond Vale Colliery at Merritt. A number of men were killed. An inquest was held; it was adjourned, and again adjourned, and on the day following the election its findings were given out. The death of the miners was laid at the door of the department of mines.

Speaking at Ladysmith on March 23, the Minister of Mines, Premier McBride, said: "If there is one man in this room following that hazardous occupation beneath ground, who has the slightest reason to think that the mines are not being conducted to insure to the utmost the safety of his life, let him come to me. If necessary I will close down those mines for a year and make a thorough and searching investigation."

Along in July 1912, Oscar Mottishaw was refused a new place at Extension. He went to Cumberland, where he was discharged by orders of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd., a subsidiary concern of the Canadian Northern. He had obtained a job with a contractor in the mine, and the contractor was told that he must discharge him. Mottishaw concluded that he had been black listed because at Extension he had acted on a gas committee. A gas committee is a committee appointed and paid by the men to make an inspection of the mine following the regular firemen and thus prevent a recurrence of the McKinnell incident. This work is undertaken turn about by the men.

The Canadian union which the men had formed had in the meantime been absorbed by the United Mine Workers of America, and Mottishaw brought his trouble before them. It was decided to lay off work until the matter could be brought before the Minister of Mines. The miners at Ladysmith did the same thing and a delegation went to Victoria to see the minister. All that they asked for was an investigation. No demands were made at the time for any recognition of the union, shorter hours or increased pay. All that they asked for was an investigation into the charges that they made that the mines were not being conducted to preserve the safety of life. The investigation was refused, either under the Coal Mines Regulation Act or under the provisions of the Public Inquiries Act.

After being out two months the men declared that any agreement must be predicated upon recognition of the union. This the mine owners refused and in concert with the government have steadily refused to concede anything to the men at all, but are employing strikebreakers brought under contract from United States and Chinese.

When the men foolishly rioted and criminally broke the law last year, 1,000 militia men were thrown into the district. They were needed there. Over 200 miners were arrested and the cost to the government was over $50,000 to send the majority of them to jail. To those who watched the events last year it was evident that the authorities were actuated by motives other than those of justice in dealing with the miners. This was evidenced in one instance when Israel I. Rubinowitz, the miners' lawyers, was thrown into jail. Since that time the Government has persistently ignored the strikers while the mine owners have crushed out the last particle of independence the men had left. The only retribution now left to the miners is their vote on election day, and they are sure to use that against the McBride Government.

BELLA COOLA AND DISTRICT
(Bella Coola Courier)

The first shipment of sockeye salmon went south on the Camosun this week.

It is a well known fact that all the trails in the adjacent part of the interior have been made by Indians.

Considerable improvement to the school building and grounds in the Mackenzie school district is to be undertaken.

Late arrivals from the upper country state that great improvement has been made to the trails by the Indians of Alcatheo, Anaham Lake and Clusku Lake.

The sockeye salmon fishing in local waters shows an encouraging improvement. The pack up to date exceeds that of any other year, except one, in the history of the local cannery.

A local syndicate who intend going into the ranching business at the head of South Bentick Arm are having a large scow built for the purpose of transporting a number of young cattle to the ranch. The scow is being constructed by Capt. Thorson.

The recent wet weather has caused considerable loss to several local farmers who were unfortunate enough to have their hay laying in the fields. The welcome change, however, will no doubt save the situation and there will be no shortage of hay this winter.

F. S. Brewer, of Ootsa Lake, formerly a frequent visitor to Bella Coola, had the misfortune to contract scurvy whilst engaged in trapping last winter. Mr. Brewer is now able to move around on crutches and hope is entertained for his complete recovery.

Tom Englebretson, the well known cattle rancher at Towdistan, brought down a fine bunch of steers which are to be butchered. The animals arrived here in excellent condition in spite of the fact that the trail is extremely difficult to drive cattle over. Were it not for this fact, many of the Chilcotin ranchers would ship their cattle by way of this port.

News has reached Bella Coola from the upper country that a strong syndicate of businessmen from the outside has been formed for the purpose of stocking a large tract of land in the neighborhood of Anaham Lake with cattle. Men are already in the country endeavoring to buy cattle and making preparations for the cutting and putting up hay. It is expected that the ranch will be in full operation this fall.

It is strange yet true that the spring salmon in these waters average considerably larger than at many places on the coast. Hereabouts they are of a fairly uniform size, weighing from thirty-five to forty pounds. The largest caught this season weighed fifty-two pounds. While quite a large fish, this does not approach the record of three years ago when a local fisherman took to the cannery one weighing seventy-five pounds.

This year the government intend to spend a paltry three hundred dollars on interior trails in the country tributary to Bella Coola, but while the powers that be are searching for a good Conservative to do the work (no matter whether he knows the country or not) a few Indians are doing in a few weeks what would take the Government months and cost the public thousands of dollars.

The Bella Coola Courier in a recent article complained that the farmer of the Bella Coola valley did not take a sufficient interest in the Rupert fair. WHALING OFF COAST IS GOOD AT PRESENT

Kyuquot Reported to Have Taken 120 Mammals

Victoria, July 25.—Whaling off the west coast of Vancouver Island is improving greatly, according to word brought in by the C. P. R. Steamer Princess Maquinna. The whaling steamers are harpooning a large number of mammals, and it is reported that the craft operating out of Kyuquot station have captured 120 whales which is splendid work considering the amount of bad weather which has interfered with little steamers. The season is not yet half over and the prospects are that 1914 will prove a successful year for the Canadian North Pacific Fisheries, Ltd.

When rounding Cape Scott, Capt. Gillam says that he sighted a right whale rising to blow. This is the second right to be seen in the North Pacific this year. The other right was caught by the whaler Blue, sailing out of Naden harbor.

PREDICTS BIG TOURIST TRADE FOR NEXT YEAR

Capt. Troup of C. P. R. Steamship Company, Says 1914 Not So Bad

Despite the fact that this is an off year for tourists and steamship business, the travel to Alaska ports continues big. Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the C. P. R. British Columbia Coast service, has just made a round trip to the north on the Princess Alice. He says:—

"There is a great deal more tourist travel to Alaska this year than most people think, despite the fact that it is an off-season. Not only are our boats handling many passengers to and from Skagway, via Prince Rupert, but the American steamers are also doing very well.

"From what I have heard, I believe that 1915 will be the biggest year the Alaska trade has ever known. Many people will be going to California from eastern points and will not return home until they have seen Alaska."
