DAILY EDITION

Thursday, Sept. 10, 1914.

The whole civilized world, apart from Germany and Austria, have evidently decided that the Kaiser is the bad man of the war. A few of the leading journals think he is crazy but the majority put his actions down to an overbounding ambition. One thing is certain, that unbiased history will hold the Kaiser responsible for the awful slaughter of the present war. Whatever temporary glory he may get will be greatly offset by this judgment of history. This, too, in spite of the fact that he lays claim to the viceregency of the Almighty. This combination of "me und Gott" doesn't seem to work well but no doubt it is not the fault of Diety.

President Wilson refused to recognize Huerta as President of Mexico because he believed that his hands were stained with the blood of Madero. What of the man whose hands are stained with the blood of innocent men, women and children in Belgium?

Belgium lays before the neutral nations of the world that a wounded Belgian officer was murdered as he lay helpless—that farm houses were burned and the inhabitants butchered—that atrocious crimes were committed against women and children without provocation—that an aged man was maltreated and finally burned to death—that women and children were used as shields for a German advance.

Belgium lays before the neutral nations of the world, not a charge, but an admitted fact that bombs were dropped by midnight Zeppelin murderers upon the city of Antwerp, destroying houses and killing people who were innocent of the bloodshed caused by the war as the members of the Mohonk Peace Conference. In which respect do these assassins differ from the gunmen whose murder of Roosevelt shocked the people of New York two years ago?

The dropping of these bombs is generally condemned by the American press. The New York post says that it not only shocks the moral sense of the world, but fires the defenders with a new determination to resist the invaders to the death.

Belgium lays before the world the wanton and causeless destruction of the beautiful city of Louvain, a senseless act of savage and barbaric fury.

It must be borne in upon the hearts of the people of the United States that this is not an ordinary war between nations, but a fight for freedom and civilization. If the Kaiser's infernal machine were not separated from the United States by the width of the Atlantic, the Republic would even now be in imminent danger. If the Kaiser should make himself master of Europe, the Republic may yet have to fight for its liberties—that government by the people and for the people.

There is one thing more deadly than shot and shell

on the battlefield. IT IS HUNGER. Bread is the foundation for the soldier's rations. Bread that makes bone and muscle and girds the strong right arm for the bayonet charge—bread that feeds and nourishes the entire body and permits of unerring aim to decimate the enemy's ranks. But any bread won't do. It must be made from the ripest, plumpest wheat. It must be cleansed of all impurities. A perfect flour for Tommy Atkins is ple shall not perish from the earth.

What would the men who trampled on the rights and neutrality of Belgium, and despised England's pledge to protect that neutrality as "a piece of paper," care for the Monroe Doctrine? The United States are a powerful people, but even they would have to fight for freedom and for their very existence against the powerful German army if the Kaiser were as potent upon the sea as upon the land. The continent of America contains many tempting prizes for a clique crazed with the idea of world conquest.

The work of the Allies in the field is a work for civilization and freedom all over the world. It is our duty as Canadians to give them active aid. And even outside the British Empire and the other countries which have thrown themselves into the fight, the Zeppelin murders and the other atrocities in Belgium ought to be condemned by the conscience of the world. No country can view with indifference the prospect of Europe being dominated by a gang of criminals crazed with the lust of conquest and the lust of blood.

BRITAIN'S PRESS BUREAU SCORES SACK OF LOUVAIN

"UNPARDONABLE ACT OF BARBARISM AND VANDALISM" DE-NOUNCED—THERE WAS NO EXCUSE—EVERYONE HAD SURRENDERED.

London, Sept. 10.—England was aghast last week over the details of the destruction of Louvain. The complete wiping out of the entire city has exercised all high government officials and, following a conference with Premier Asquith, the official press bureau issued a lengthy denunciation of the deed.

"The destruction of this ancient city was an unpardonable act of barbarism and vandalism," said the bureau. "It was a deliberate act in complete violation of the law of nations. It is indeed a crime for which there can be no atonement. The German contention that it was an act justified by war and a proper reprisal because the inhabitants had fired on the German troops is utterly without warrant. It has already been plainly proven that when Louvain was surrendered to the Germans everyone gave up their arms. Even the city civil guard was disarmed by order of the burgomeister. Now for Germany to contend that these unarmed residents fired on German troops is absolutely beyond credence.

"The assumption of the German commander was, under the circumstances, so wide of probability that it can only be supposed that in the desire to conceal the facts the first idea which occurred to him was seized upon as an excuse for an act without parallel in the history of civilized peoples. Louvain has been utterly destroyed by one of the Emperor's commanders in a moment of passion to cover the blunder of his own men. Humanity thereby suffered a loss which never can be repaired."

The bureau then discusses at length all the contentions raised by the Germans, and quotes the official statement issued by the Belgian legation as proving conclusively that Germany was not in any way justified in its reprisal.

The Times Aflame.
The Times, which has hitherto been most restrained in its references to German barbarities, is afame at the destruction of the beautiful city of Louvain, which is the Oxford of Belgium. The intellectual metropolis of the Low Countries since the fifteenth century is now a heap of ashes. The beautiful Hotel de Ville has been ruthlessly destroyed, also the stately church at Pierre; the famous university with a library of 70,000 volumes, and priceless manuscripts. Historic defences were disarmed. A town with 45,000 inhabitants, the size of Calgary or London, Ontario, has been completely wiped out on the most flimsy military pretext.

"This infamous crime," says The Times, "is without a parallel even in the dark ages. Even Attila spared Milan. Our modern Attila of Berlin respects neither laws nor nations, nor the laws of God. His evil deeds cry aloud to heaven and to horror-struck watching nations. The wickedness of this abominable act shall be expiated to the uttermost when the day of reckoning comes."

COMMITTED SUICIDE IN COMOX RESORT

W. B. Chivers, late of New Hazelton, and known there as a Texan, committed suicide last night in a Comox Avenue resort. He had been hanging around the city for some time and latterly was drinking heavily.

Last evening he went down Comox Avenue and entered Alva O'Neill's place. Soon after he pulled a gun out of his pocket and fired a shot through his breast. It was fatal and he dropped instantly.

Chivers was a young man of powerful stature. During the recent bank robbery in Hazelton he took an active part in the defence of the town. He was a good man with a gun. So far as is known Chivers has no relatives in this country. An inquest will be held today by Coroner McMullan.

GRAND TRUNK ADOPTS IMPROVEMENT THAT WILL APPEAL TO LADIES

The Grand Trunk Railway is introducing another improvement in connection with its passenger cars. This will provide greater safety and comfort for the traveler, allowing passengers to alight from the car to the platform and vice versa even more easily than they have hitherto been able to do. Railway travelers, particularly ladies, have sometimes found the distance between the platform and the car steps a little trying, especially in the bustle of the station when their thoughts are centered on some detail of the journey. The railway has now adopted a new design for its car steps. This is a four-tread step, which reduces the distance from the rail to the top of the first tread to fourteen inches. In the case of low platforms, mounting and dismounting is thus made easier. This improvement has become standard also on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Don't think because a girl's complexion is a dream that all dreams are hand-painted.

BLOOD EVERYWHERE IN LIEGE BATTLE

American Girl Describes Terrible Sight When Big Fight Ended.

New York, Sept. 9.—The battlefield of Liege as seen through the eyes of an American girl was vividly described by Miss Anna Laing, a graduate nurse of the Bridgeport, Conn., hospital, a passenger on the steamer Ryndam, just arrived from Rotterdam.

"I was in Liege when the fighting started," said Miss Laing. "Several Belgian officers who were friends of mine took me to a house where I was practically out of the range of the shells that were being hurled at the city by the Germans. During the evening the Germans withdrew for some reason, and during the lull in the fighting two of the Belgian officers invited me to go out over the field where the heaviest of the fighting had taken place.

"The ground was literally soaked with blood and the bodies of men and horses lay everywhere. There was many a place where blood had flowed down the sides of little hills and earthworks; its course was plainly marked. Some bushes were spattered with red as high up as eight feet above the ground. I saw trenches filled with dead German soldiers. These trenches, the Belgian officers explained, had been dug by the Belgians and occupied by them until the great army of advance had forced them to retreat. As the German infantry mounted the breastworks in front of the trenches the retreating Belgians poured a fire into their ranks and their bodies fell into the trenches.

"Then, the Belgian officers said, their men mowed down more Germans with a deadly cross fire, which not only filled the trenches with bodies but left many piled on top of one another on the breastworks and the ground near by."

When Miss Laing returned to the city she helped dress the wounds of many Belgian soldiers. She left the city before it was captured by the Germans, and managed to make her way to Rotterdam, where she boarded the ship that brought her to New York.

GERMANS HAVE ABANDONED LUNEVILLE

BIG BODY OF ORE FOUND BY TUNNELS CO.

Portland Canal Operators Run Into Big Vein Silver-Lead Ore.

The Portland Canals Tunnels Company, which has been driving a tunnel under the mining claims of some of the big properties there for the purpose of developing the properties, last week ran into a big vein of silver-lead ore on their own property.

The tunnel is now in 3,600 feet and a vein is opened for 45 feet and the end of it is not yet found. The ore is silver-lead and will run $10 to $12 a ton. The big body of it should make it a profitable proposition.

GERMANS RETREAT TOWARD BELGIUM PROVISIONS SHORT

Paris, Sept. 9.—The following official communication was issued here at 3 o'clock this afternoon: "On the whole, the Germans appear to be beginning a movement of retreat. The strategic position of the French troops is improving, but one cannot judge of a battle extending over about sixty-three miles.

"The Germans seem to be experiencing certain difficulties in provisioning. In general, the French troops seem to have the advantage."

NURNBERG CAPTAIN HAS HAPPY OUTLOOK

Says He Expects His Ship to Be Coffin for Himself and the Crew.

Honolulu, Sept. 2.—The German cruiser Nurnberg, which arrived here yesterday morning, was permitted to coal hurriedly, and sailed last night at 9:30, cleared for action.

Captain Schoenberg asked for 1,200 tons. Rear-Admiral Chas. B. Moore, the commandant of the naval station, refused to say how much he allowed to be taken aboard, but stevedores loading the cruiser said they were allowed 75 tons in her bunkers.

The amount of coal taken aboard would permit her only to steam to German Samoa. Her captain stated before leaving that he expected his ship to be a coffin for himself and crew.

The Australian warships Australia and Warrego were in communication with the British collier Strahardle, which arrived here, up to the three-mile limit. The Australian warships are reported to be in close proximity, and if they are waiting off Honolulu for the Nurnberg, the German cruiser will cease to be a menace to British shipping in the North Pacific within a very short time.

The Australia need only circle around her out of range, and knock holes in the German at leisure. The Nurnberg has neither the power to fight nor the speed to run.

MILITARY PROGRAM DREW FULL HOUSE

The Westholme Theatre was crowded to the doors last evening and the S. R. O. sign was out. The military program was the attraction and the audience was enthusiastic in its appreciation of it. In addition to a good list of films with military subject there was the patriotic song, "The Boys of the Old Brigade," by Sergeant McIntyre. This was heartily applauded.

There was a general salute and regimental bugle march sounded by nine buglers, under the direction of Sergeant Drummer Warburton, assisted by Corporal Endersby. This feature aroused the enthusiasm of the audience.

The entertainment was patronized by the officers of the regiment and ladies.

The program will be repeated this evening.

FARMERS URGED TO PLANT MORE WHEAT

Government Makes Appeal to the Farmers to Put Greater Acreage Under Cultivation.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—A patriotic appeal to Canadian farmers to plant as large an area of wheat as possible this coming season has been made by the government.

The following statement was issued by the department: "The Minister of Agriculture is in receipt of a cable from Liverpool expressing the views of some members of the Liverpool Corn Exchange in regard to increasing wheat acreage for the next year. It is pointed out that the area likely to be sown to wheat in Europe would be seriously reduced owing to the mobilization of nearly twenty million men. The Dominion government is strongly impressed with the desirability of increasing the acreage in Canada. Apart from the practical condition that wheat next year will yield a large financial return to the growers, there is the great fact that Canadian farmers who, by extra effort, enlarge their wheat acreage are doing the best thing possible to strengthen the Empire in its day of trial."

DECLARES RUSSIAN REPORTS GIVE TRUTH

Times Correspondent Says St. Petersburg Believes in Final Success.

London, Sept. 9.—Telegraphing from St. Petersburg, the correspondent of The Times declares that the war reports given out by the headquarters staff in the Russian capital are generally rather meagre, but in contrast to what is the case in Berlin and Vienna, they are always true. That the headquarters will stick to this plan also when the news is bad is proved by their recent announcements.

At the same time the Russian Fourth army crossed the eastern frontier of Galicia and after a series of minor encounters in which it was everywhere victorious, drove back the Austrian forces massed there until a general battle ensued, about thirty miles east of Lemberg. After long-sustained and heavy fighting at this point, the Russians occupied several places where the Austrians had taken up positions fortified by field works, namely at (name deleted by censor). Of the continued Russian advance on reports.

In conclusion, the correspondent of The Times says that the information given out at headquarters in St. Petersburg indicates that the Russians, in spite of the Austrian stubborn defence, will bring victory home; this long sustained and terrible battle in which probably more than 1,000,000 men are engaged.

ENGLISH CLERGYMAN WAS SHOT AS A SPY

This is a Report Which Has Reached London by Way of Copenhagen.

London, Sept. 9.—A Times Copenhagen dispatch declares that the German Emperor and several high German officers are selling their English and Russian orders and turning the proceeds over to the Red Cross fund.

A Danish subject is reported to have been shot as a spy at Hal-burg, together with an English clergyman who lived with him. It is alleged they established wireless station on the roof and intercepted several messages from the German fleet at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven.

The well known German airman, Halmuth Hirth, the dispatch says, was shot as a spy in Berlin. He was suspected because of his friendship for Roland Garros, the French airman, to whom he had written after the outbreak of the war.
