GERMANS ARE OFFERING DESPERATE RESISTANCE

CANADA'S TROOPS HAVE SAILED CONVOYED BY STRONG FLEET

(Special to The Daily News.)
Valcartier, Que., Sept. 25.—The portion of Canada's continental force for service in Europe is already on the way to the front. On September 25, the transports heavily armed and loaded with British men-of-war in the escort force to prevent an attack by German cruisers. The escort force consists of battleships, cruisers and destroyers has been gathered at Quebec under the command of Admiral Wemyss. Other ships are collected at convention points.
More than a week ago, the transports at Quebec commenced loading war stores and since then there has been a steady flow in the direction of Quebec from the camp. As the transports were loaded they headed seaward. The conveying warships picked them up. All the transports are carrying heavy guns.
A large proportion of the infantry, all the artillery and much of the equipment has departed.
The remainder will quickly follow.
The above, by request, is by the permission of Colonel Hughes.

and of the country generally.

GERMANS MAKING DESPERATE RESISTANCE

(Special to The Daily News.)
Paris, Sept. 25.—The Germans are continuing a desperate resistance against the advance of the Allies in the north. It is only by a continuous raking artillery fire and hard fighting that the Allies are able to continue to advance against the vicious attacks of the enemy. The Germans are sacrificing masses of men for a quick advantage. They must concentrate on their right to prevent being outflanked. A long siege by the Allies is probable.

JUVENILE BOSTONIANS.

The Juvenile Bostonians Opera Company, coming to the Westholme for seven nights, starting Saturday, September 26, is now making its tenth annual tour, completing a decade of successful
theatrical history rarely equalled.
Founded in the beginning as a group of clever child actors, it has become one of the best-equipped light opera organizations, from the standpoint of splendid voices and clever acting, now on tour. The management changed its policy considerably in the evolution from a "novelty" musical show to a production of such dignity as "The Isle of Spice" and "The Golden Slipper," two operas that will be presented here. They have clung to the one rule, that only girls in their teens are eligible to a place with the attraction. Miss Thom
Hellen, Patsie Henry, Billie
O'Neill, Doris Canfield, Ina
Mitchell, Mazie Hill and Alice O'Neill are still with the company. For the opening performance has been chosen New York's latest success, "My Tango Maid."
List of seats will be at Orme's.

PRINCE ALBERT REACHED RUPERT IN TOW OF SALVOR

The Prince Albert arrived in Rupert today in tow of the Salvor.
She certainly looks somewhat the worst of her experiences on the rock. Her rudder is broken off and she is taking water freely but her pumps are quite able to overcome this.
She was floated off the rocks
Saturday and taken to an inlet with a mud bottom, where she was patched up temporarily. She was expected to have some in to Prince Rupert on Wednesday in order to get a few further repairs made but on her first trial leaked so freely that they were compelled to put back. On their second trial they were more successful and she arrived in port today at 12 o'clock.
Considering the fact that she was at first believed to be a total wreck, the success of the salvage company was quite complete.

WOMAN'S BEST MEDICINE

Mrs. Kelly Advises all Women to Take "Fruit-a-Tives"

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., AUG. 26th, 1913. "I can highly recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' because they did me an awful lot of good and I cannot speak too highly about them. About four years ago I commenced taking 'Fruit-a-tives' for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollars' worth, but it was money well spent because they did all that you claim for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other laxatives, that I found only with other laxatives, in taking pleasure, as well as health, in taking them. They seemed to me to be particularly suited to women, on account of their mild and gentle action, and I trust that some other women may start taking 'Fruit-a-tives' after reading my letter, and if they do, I am satisfied the results will be the same as in my own case."

MRS. W. N. KELLY

PROBABLE EXTENSION OF ORIENTAL ORDER

Another Six Months May See Order in Force Prohibiting Asiatics into Canada.

That another order-in-council barring Orientals for six months more from coming to Canada, excepting, of course, those returning here, will be issued seems certain, in light of advices received in steamship circles. The matter has been formally taken up by steamship companies competing for the Chinese traffic.

It is understood that a reply has been received advising that steamship agents refrain from booking Chinese other than those who, having been in Canada, are returning here. This advice was in view of pending legislation.

The order-in-council barring Chinese immigrants was passed six months ago and the date of expiration is September 30. It seems likely that with the exception of merchants and students no more Chinese will be permitted to come to Canada until the last of March, 1915.

The Chinese themselves are said to have had a great deal of influence with the Government in this matter. At present the Chinese labor market is overcrowded. Many Chinese live in the Coast cities and cannot get work owing to the closing down of many enterprises in which heretofore their labor has been in demand.

JOHNSON CLAIMS HE NEVER BECAME FRENCH CITIZEN

Notorious Pugilist Applies to American Embassy for Passports to Russia.

London, Sept. 25.—Denying stories that he had taken out French naturalization papers, Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, visited the American embassy and made oath that he was a citizen of the United States, whereupon he received passports to travel in Russia. Johnson was severely cross-examined but persisted that he had never dreamed of expatriating himself and denounced as an invention the statement that he was a Frenchman. He showed as passport obtained from the American ambassador in Paris six months ago which had expired. He was in Russia a few weeks ago, then in Berlin and Paris, whence he came to London.

Johnson is going to Russia to fulfill theatrical engagements which he entered upon long ago. His wife and his retinue were to accompany him.

Mrs. Johnson's diamonds so dazzled the embassy clerk that he scarcely could write the passports.

GENERALS MUST WIN OR BE DISGRACED

Stern Laws Which Govern War Make Death Preferable to Defeat or Capture.

Those who know Kipling may recall the lines his poem, "The Day":
"And the Major cursed his Maker
'cause he'd lived to see that day,
And the Colonel broke his sword
across and cried."

Incidents of soldiers taking their own lives rather than fall into the hands of the enemy are common in the annals of warfare, ancient and modern.

Conspicuous is the case of General Bourbaki in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870. He was commander of a French army of 100,000 men, mostly raw recruits who had never fired a rifle. Suddenly confronted with a greatly superior force under General von Werder, Bourbaki's troops fled, many of them escaping to Switzerland with their loaded muskets still in their hands. In despair at the disgrace which had fallen upon the French, Bourbaki attempted to blow out his own brains, but he succeeded only in inflicting a serious wound. He recovered, and when he returned to France he found that his fellow-countrymen appreciated the fact that he had done all that was possible to avert the rout, and lived among them in honor until his death.

Probably it was the fact that he suffered a severe wound in the war with Germany that saved Marshal MacMahon from disgrace, but the French people felt that he had not been to blame, and eventually made him President of the Republic. General Stoessel, who surrendered Port Arthur to the Japanese after one of the most desperate defenses in history, returned to St. Petersburg a ruined man, under sentence of death, which was only commuted by the Czar. On the contrary, Kouropatkin, who had suffered one defeat after another, was loaded with honors. In this war there were scores of instances of Japanese soldiers and sailors taking their own lives rather than fall into the hands of the enemy.

General von Emmich, the leader of the German troops who stormed Liege, committed suicide. Whether he was to blame for the delay in reducing the forts, or the plans of the general staff were responsible, the fact remains that the first important move in the war was entrusted to him, and that this plan miscarried and made necessary the alteration of the whole German plan of attack. Von Emmich knew the Kaiser well. He was aware that for failure there could be no excuse. Von Emmich's failure occurred at a critical moment. He could expect nothing better than disgrace, and he chose death.

All the powers in the war now raging have very strict military laws covering surrender or failure; the commander appears to have the pleasant choice of conquering or of surrendering and then being shot at leisure when he returns home.

Any commander who surrenders, whether he is British, French, German, Russian or Japanese, leaves himself open to a court-martial. In fact, a general who surrenders is left with the onus of guilt upon him, and has to clear himself of it before he is permitted to assume his rank in the army. Only last year the Czar issued in his own name an order to the Russian navy commanders that they were to sink their vessels rather than surrender them in the event of war. The British regulations proscribe severe penalties not only for the commander who surrenders, but for one who is captured, having failed to take due precautions.

BRITAIN IS SENDING GERMANY FOODSTUFFS

Serious State of Affairs Revealed by Investigations of Daily Mail.

London, Sept. 25.—According to The Daily Mail investigations at Liverpool and other ports, it is certain that foodstuffs and raw material are still being shipped, even from British ports, for the use of Germans. Shipments made from Liverpool last month of canned goods, feeding cakes, flour and cottonseed oil were ostensibly bound for Holland, but comparison with exports of other years makes it more than probable that they may have gone to Germany. One Liverpool firm, The Mail says, has refused to supply its Rotterdam correspondent with certain raw materials until Holland ceases to supply Germany.

BRITAIN WILL NOT BECOME TROOP SHIP

New York, Sept. 25.—Cunard Line officials have denied the report that the Lusitania was hastening to Halifax to transport troops to Europe. The Lusitania sailed for Liverpool Wednesday, they say.

Mr. M. B. Christensen, the well known merchant of Hagensborg, returned last Sunday from a visit to his relatives in Washington.

Dr. W. J. Quinlan, dentist, returned to his headquarters in this town after a visit to Alert Bay and several other points to his south.

Mr. Conway, mining engineer of the Granby Smelter Co., arrived here by the last steamer from the south. The purpose of his visit is to look over the Saloomt mine with a view to purchase. Mr. Conway left town on Monday for the mine and the result of his investigation is being eagerly awaited.

Harry Kivett, of Firvale, left for Campbell River, where he expects to be employed on survey work.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hall left on the last southbound steamer. They expect to spend the winter in Washington.

S.S. Celtic called at the local cannery on Monday and loaded some two thousand cases of salmon. She is expected to return in the course of a few days with a large consignment of empty cans. This fact goes to show that the cannery intends to continue operations for some time yet.

The run coho salmon continues satisfactory and there are not yet any signs of the run nearing its end.

J. McCrae, provincial timber inspector, called here on Wednesday. He said the sawmills in his district are all undesirous of increasing their supply of logs. The hand loggers will therefore be at a loss for employment.

"THE DAY."

"O. S.," which initials thinly veil the identity of Sir Owen Seaman, editor of Punch, has never written anything finer than the ode, "Dies Irae. To the German Kaiser," which he contributed to a recent Punch. We cite the four last stanzas:

You shared our griefs with seeming-gentle eyes;
You moved among us cozily
treated,
Still hiding, under that fair outward guise,
A heart that cheated.

And now the mask is down, and forth you stand
Known for a King whose word is no matter,
A traitor proved, for every honest hand
To strike and shatter.

This was the "Day" foretold by yours
and you
in whispers here, and there with beery clamours—
You and your rat-hole spies and blustering crew of loud Potsdamers.

And lo, there dawns another, swift and stern,
When on the wheels of wrath, by Justice's token, Breaker of God's own Peace, you shall in turn Yourself be broken. O. S.

MINES WILL RESUME.

Trail Smelter Again Ready to Receive Shipments of Silver-Lead Ores.

Nelson, B. C., Sept. 25.—Mines in the Kootenay and the Boundary, some of which, because of the demoralization of the metal market on account of the war, can now resume shipments to the Trail smelter.

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company has notified shippers that a basis of settlement for silver and lead ore has been established. By an arrangement with the Dominion Government with the banks difficulties which might arise in disposing of silver immediately have been obviated. Within a week silver-lead mining in the district will have returned practically to normal conditions, it is said.

The Consolidated Company has continuously operated its Rossland gold-copper properties.

LUSITANIA WILL NOT BECOME TROOP SHIP

New York, Sept. 25.—Cunard Line officials have denied the report that the Lusitania was hastening to Halifax to transport troops to Europe. The Lusitania sailed for Liverpool Wednesday, they say.

DAILY EDITION  Friday, Sept. 25, 1914.

The London Times has voiced the feelings of the Empire when it says that the Allies are "firmly and irrevocably resolved not to stay their hands until German militarism is crushed." The British people are in this war to the finish, to destroy the menace of two decades and make its recedescence impossible. The division of territory that will come at the end of the struggle is only a secondary matter compared with the main result that must be achieved. A hard and binding agreement has to be reached to put an end to the insane competition in armaments that has been eating away the hearts of so many countries. If Germany as a nation has to be humbled to attain this end the humiliation is of her own making. No nation can continually threaten others, more powerful than herself, without ultimately having to pay the penalty. Enough will not have been accomplished if France is given Alsace-Lorraine; if Belgium is idemnified to the full for the losses which have wantonly been inflicted on her; if Russia should absorb East Prussia and Galicia, and if Britain should possess all Germany's Colonial Empire. There is a debt still left to pay to civilization. Where the war was made it should be finished—namely, in Berlin. Only there, unless Germany surrenders unconditionally before the armies of the Allies reach her capital, can the desired purpose be achieved. The Allies have entered upon the struggle without prejudice and without passion, but with a determination which will grow stronger with succeeding months. The obliteration of the influences which have made such a war possible is the end in view. Looked at from a purely concrete standpoint, it is a business war in which the document being drawn up must be signed, sealed and delivered before the sword is returned to the scabbard. If Germany has not yet realized this so much the worse for her.—Ex.

PASSING EVENTS

The gift of Mrs. T. W. Crothers, wife of the Minister of Labor, to the soldiers going to the front from St. Thomas was warm foot covering for use at night when sleeping in the open. These, over ninety pairs, were her personal manufacture.

The Duchess of Connaught, who, today, is regarded as an English princess, is nevertheless the daughter of Frederick Charles of Prussia, the Red Prince, "whose name the mothers of Lorraine villages invoke today as the Scottish peasants of old invoked the name of the Black Douglas to terrify their children. He was a conspicuous figure in the Franco-Prussian war.

Lady Borden, wife of the Prime Minister, expressed her desire to present colors to the Nova Scotia companies going to the front with the Canadian expeditionary force. Colonel Hughes accepted the offer. He did the same with regard to the offer of Mrs. J. D. Hazen, wife of the Minister of the Naval Service, who wished to present colors to the New Brunswick companies.

At a recent meeting, under the auspices of the Household League of Ottawa, it was resolved to advise Canadian women to purchase only Canadian-made commodities so far as possible during the coming crisis. This is calculated to minimize non-employment. Among the prominent women present were Mrs. Adam Shortt, Mrs. Lyman, Mrs. R. H. Coats and Mrs. J. A. Wilson, national convener, household economies.

Mrs. Arthur Murphy, of Edmonton, president of the Canadian Women's Press Club, known throughout the English speaking literary world as "Janey Canuck," has recommended to the Women's Press Club all over the Dominion to issue at regular intervals a "home letter" to the Canadians enlisted as soldiers, sailors and nurses in Europe. The Women's Press Club of Edmonton was the first to take up the idea. Its officers will issue letter twice a month for distribution among the men and women sent to the front from the province of Alberta. These letters will contain brief items of news from the various cities, towns and villages and cheery editorials. It is estimated that 20 per cent of the adult male population of Edmonton, a city of 73,000, has enlisted for service in various branches of Great Britain's army and navy.

In a forcible speech at the Toronto exhibition luncheon, Hon. George E. Foster said that instead of closing down factories and laying off men, the manufacturers and industrial owners of Toronto should seize the opportunity to extend their markets, which the war affords. They had, he said, already competed successfully with Germany, and it was now both their opportunity and duty to go out to the German foreign markets and wrest the trade from them. He predicted better times for the farmer, who would now get much more for his products.

A meeting of prominent citizens of Halifax has just been held to organize a campaign for the raising of that city's share of the Patriotic Fund which is to provide for the dependents of the men who go to the front to fight the Empire's battles. The Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Murray, Hon. George E. Faulkner, Hon. A. K. Maclean and a large number of the business and professional men of Halifax were present. Finance, executive and relief committees were appointed to organize the campaign for raising and administering the fund.

A mass meeting of the I. O. O. F. Chapters in Winnipeg was recently held at the Industrial Bureau to appoint a committee to work with the men's executive of the Patriotic Fund workers. The ladies' part will be visiting, chiefly, Mrs. Scott, of the Margaret Scott Nursing Mission, has offered the Auxiliary the gratuitous services of the mission nurses in any needy cases which may come to light. Convener of the committee is Mrs. S. B. Steele.
