RUSSIANS CONTINUE TO OVERPOWER THE GERMANS

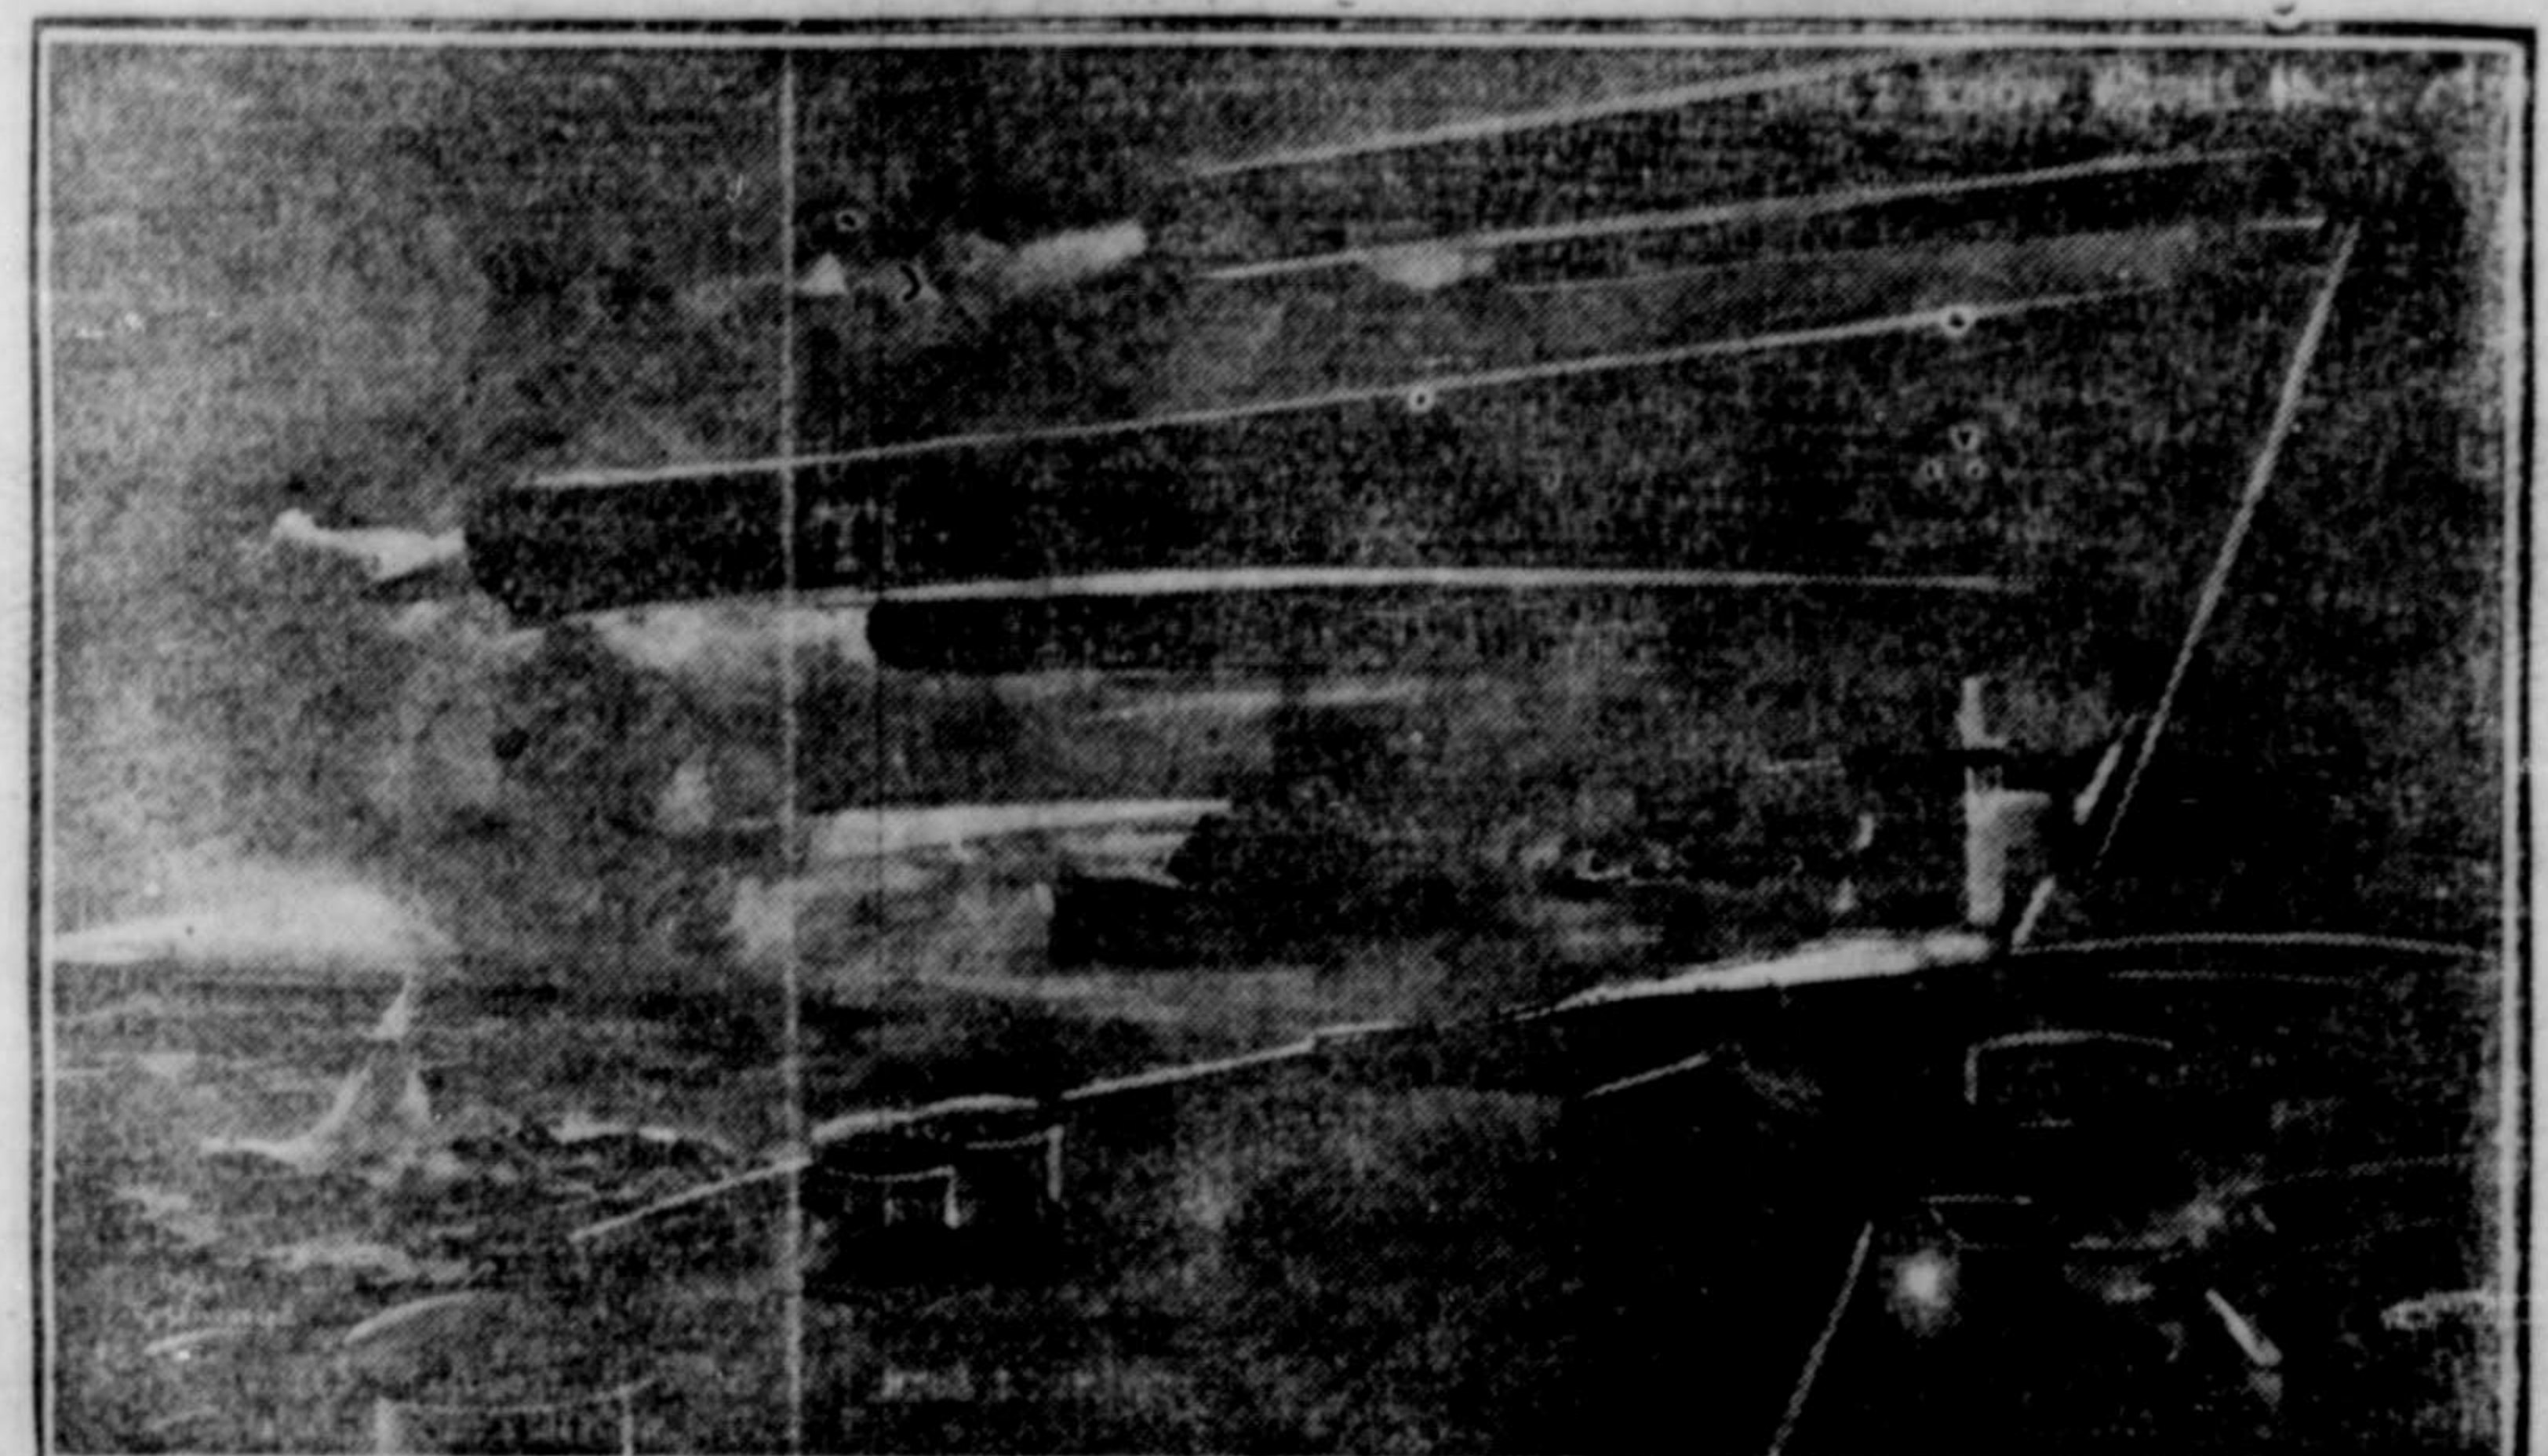

ALLIES ARE DOING WELL IN FRANCE--TWO GERMAN WARSHIPS ARE INTERNED AT HONOLULU

RUSSIANS MAKING BRILLIANT PROGRESS AGAINST GERMANS

12,000 MORE PRISONERS TAKEN LAST FRIDAY--BOTH FLANKS
ARE MARCHING AHEAD AND A VIGOROUS INVA-SION OF GERMANY NEAR.

(Special to The Daily News--2:30 P. M.)
London, Nov. 9.—Russia dominates the military situation today. The speed with which she has cleared the invaders from Poland is expected to have a great effect in the western theatre.
The Germans admit that the Russians have crossed the Warthe river. There have been Cosack raids into Silesia. The Allies occupy German territory in Alsace, Silesia and East Prussia. Petrograd reports indicate that Russia now that Poland is free of invaders may turn its attention to Austria and Turkey, leaving Germany alone until these are reduced.

Petrograd, Nov. 9.—(Official.)—Russian cavalry has entered Germany on the left bank of the Vistula, damaging the railway track near Pleachon.
In Galicia.
Our troops are continuing offensive movements and in the latest engagements captured 175 officers and 12,000 men, and also over a thousand south of Przemysl on November 6.
Petrograd, Nov. 9.—An official statement issued from General Headquarters say that the Russians dislodged the Germans in the region of Wirbalien, on the eastern frontier, which was strongly fortified, and progressed as far as Stalluponen.

A GREAT FIFTEEN-INCH NAVAL GUN.
No heavy metal has yet spoken in vital combat in the North Sea. At the present moment the British naval gun of 13.5-inch bore outclasses the German 12-inch. Soon—possibly in a few days—two new Dreadnoughts will be carrying the great new 15-inch gun.

(Special to The Daily News--2 P. M.)
Honolulu, Nov. 9.—The German warship Geier, which has been undergoing repairs here for several weeks, and the North German Lloyd steel schooner Loeksum were placed under guard of the United States troops today and will be held here until the cessation of hostilities.

The ships were boarded at midnight, which was the hour set that the Germans would be obliged to choose between leaving port or being permanently interned. The Japanese battleship Hizen and cruiser Asama were standing guard outside the three-mile limit waiting for the decision.

OFFICIAL REPORT IS STILL REASSURING

PELTED ANDY'S STATUE.

Public Feeling Expressed Against Laird of Skibo.
London, Nov. 9.—A dispatch to a news agency from Dunfermline, Scotland, says that local sentiment against Andrew Carnegie because of his alleged pro-German attitude is so strong that the statue of Mr. Carnegie, erected by the artisans of his native town last June, was pelted by a crowd.

OFFICERS PREFERRED BY THESE NURSES

London, Nov. 9.—In the Cheshire district yesterday two girls entered a building prepared for the use of the Red Cross. One of them timidly asked: "If this is the Red Cross?"
Being assured that it was, she answered: "Well, we want to do some nursing, and mother says she prefers it was officers."

PREMIER M'BRIDE ON DOMINION BUSINESS

Seems to be Taking Lead of Premier Borden On Coast Defences

London, Nov. 9.—Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, expects to sail on Saturday for Canada via New York, his visit having extended for only one week. Although the Premier's hurried trip was ostensibly taken in provincial interests, it has been really in the interest of the Dominion. It was learned that Sir Richard was in Ottawa and also conferred with Sir Robert Borden at Hot Springs, Va., before sailing for England. During the present week, it is understood, Premier McBride has been a daily caller at the War Office, the Admiralty and the Colonial Office, where he had, it is stated, important conferences on the subject of Canada's coast defence and other matters. As a result of the conferences, it is expected that important steps will be taken as regards Canada's coast defence.

EXHIBITION BUILDING DAMAGED BY WIND

The big storm on Saturday night blew off a portion of the roof of the new exhibition building. The situation of the building lends itself to an easy attack from the wind as it is situated in the highest site in the city. Indeed it is possible that considerable bracing will be required if it is to resist the severe winds that once in a while break over this district. The present damage can be easily repaired.

LOCAL LAUNDRIES FORM AMALGAMATION

Pioneer Laundry Will Do All the Work and Northern Close Down.
The Pioneer and the Northern laundries have been amalgamated. An agreement was arrived at on Saturday afternoon which went into effect forthwith. As a result all the work will be done in the Pioneer laundry, the premises of the Northern laundry being closed down. This came into effect today. This came about not only as a result of the reduction of business but because it had been felt all along that there was not enough business in the city for two concerns, the plant of the pioneer being large enough to handle all the business in town. This machinery is the most modern to be found in any plant on the Pacific Coast. All the stockholders of both concerns will hold their interest in the new company, which will still be known as the Pioneer Laundry, Ltd. The aim of the new company is to give better service than ever. No expense will be spared to turn out the best work possible and with the assistance of machinery from both concerns this will be an easy matter.

AMATEUR BOXING STOPPED.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 9.—Local fight fans agreed today that even amateur boxing is to be killed here—the home of practically every national amateur champion. The Ohio State Amateur Boxing Tournament, held here last week, was turned into a farce when Police Captain Graul, acting as Mayor Baker's personal representative, allowed the show to continue with the understanding that "no hard blows be hit." On one occasion a bout was stopped because the "cheering was too loud."

GERMANS FORTIFIED IN EAST-- RUSHING TROOPS TO THE WEST

BELIEF IS CURRENT THAT ANOTHER DESPERATE ATTEMPT WILL BE MADE TO REACH CALAIS BEFORE GIVING UP.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Nov. 7.—(5 p. m. Saturday Special.)—Belief is growing in London that the Germans being safe within their defences behind the River Woerthe, in Poland, and with the Austrians in strongly fortified positions from Craew to the Carpathians, Germany is rushing the best of her eastern corps to the French front for a final and desperate effort to hammer a path to Calais. The Germans today seem to be concentrating all efforts on the Ypres-Arras line. They have brought up three new army corps near Arras.

It is announced from Berlin that the Emperor has ordered one more attempt to vanquish the British army and force a way to Calais before a great battle is fought near the Silesian front, says a dispatch to The Daily Mail.

MORE WARSHIPS TO HUNT GERMAN CRUISERS

(Special to The Daily News.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—(5 p. m. Saturday Special.)—Dispatches to the Japanese embassy here telling of the fall of Tsing-Tau said that three squadrons of warships would now be released to hunt for German cruisers in the Pacific.

RUSSIA CLOSING IN ON GERMANY

Operations Developing in Eastern
Arena Which May Shorten
Duration of War.

Petrograd, Nov. 9.—A new phase is now developing in the campaign against Germany and Austria. Russia's uttermost wings in East Prussia and West Galicia are now both forging forward to co-operate with the center advance on Posen. Silesia's great accession of fresh troops will be engaged in new operations and the numerical strength of the Russian dispositions may be gathered from the German retreat in East Prussia, which began with the danger of being enveloped and surrounded by the army that is growing with the continuous arrivals from mobilization centers. There are indications that operations are now beginning to develop which may drastically shorten the war.
Victory all along the line is today's news from the commander-in-chief and this line is not only the battle line on the Vistula itself, some 300 miles long, but likewise the front designated as East Prussian, beginning with the northernmost points.
The long-continued obstinate resistance alternating with frenzied attacks of the Germans has finally been broken. The German line, which a couple of days ago, was compelled to assume the defensive everywhere, has now begun to retreat. At most points the retreat was most marked and exactly at a point where the highest vital interest of the Germans required continued defence; namely, their right flank, where alone was there any chance of assisting their armies beaten in Poland.
Russians here have carried their success farthest and now hold Bialta and Lyck, once more cutting off all connection between the East Prussian front and the retreating armies now nearing the frontiers of Poland.

ARMENIANS ATTACK TURKISH ARMY

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Nov. 7.—(5 p. m. Saturday Special.)—The Turkish town of Van has been besieged by a detachment of Armenians, who are aiding the Russians. The town has a large arsenal. Another Armenian detachment is operating in the rear of the Turkish army.

DUTCH FISHERMEN DISTURBED BY MINES

(Special to The Daily News.)
Amsterdam, Nov. 7.—(5 p. m. Saturday Special.)—The Dutch fishing vessels have abandoned their fishing grounds. They report floating mines so thick that fishing is impossible. Many were caught in the nets.

37,000 GERMANS KILLED IN BATTLE

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Nov. 7.—(5 p. m. Saturday Special.)—After the retreat of the Germans in the region of Dixmude the Belgians sent out four burying parties, altogether 4,000 men, to bury the German dead, who numbered 37,000.

Laws Prohibiting Sale of Liquor
Spreads Throughout Union.
Chicago, Nov. 9.—Fourteen states now have laws prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages as the result of last Tuesday's election, on the face of latest returns, which show that prohibition was adopted in Arizona, Washington, Oregon and Colorado.
The states which prohibit the sale of liquor are Arizona, Oklahoma, Colorado, Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oregon, Tennessee, Washington, West Virginia, North Dakota and Virginia.
Alabama at one time adopted a prohibition amendment, but later rescinded it. South Carolina is largely so under various acts. Besides, a score of states have local option laws.

STUDENTS SLOW TO DRILL.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 9.—Principal Gordon makes an attack on the students in the current issue of Queen's Journal for their slowness in offering themselves for military drill and instructions. He declared there would be a great demand for trained men in the summer, when the college closed, and that the students should volunteer for these classes of instruction so that they would be ready. Only about one-quarter of the students have so far enrolled in these classes.

In Saturday's issue of this paper Bishop Du Vernet had an interesting solution of the land problem. He urged the speculator to hand over a portion of his holdings to the man who wanted to work it and thus help develop the country as well as make the adjoining land more valuable. This request to "pottatch back" what should never have been alienated would be practicable if everybody consented, which is hardly likely. Perhaps the better way would be for the government to take a hand in it. Why not tell all the holders of wild land that they must put a portion at least of it under cultivation or surrender one-half to the government.

This, too, would not work a hardship on anybody for forty acres of land adjoining a real farm is much better than a hundred in the wild wood. If even half the land that is now tied up in this country was thrown open for pre-emption it would make possible the development of a big area. There would be hundreds of little farms start up along the railway where today there is nothing but dense forest. The government might go a little farther, too, and "stake" the actual settler. It would be good economy to advance the means of livelihood to a man who undertook the clearing of the land of this province. Conditions are too severe in this district to expect a man to pay a big price for land and then spend half his lifetime in clearing the forest. If the country is to be developed the government must take a hand in it.

Under present conditions, of course, it will be impossible for the government to do any financing. It is possible, however, for them to assist in turning the land loose. This is a matter that should be taken up by every patriotic citizen and all influence should be brought to bear on the government to bring it about. It would be a good work for the City Council to take up and perhaps the local member could see his way clear to lend a hand to the movement.

Has it never occurred to anyone why so many prizefighters and sluggers come a thousand miles out of the way to "honor" Prince Rupert with their presence. Is it that this city lends such financial support that it pays to pass all the big cities by and come to Prince Rupert. This is hardly the reason. The real reason is that most decent communities do not allow them standing room. California, once the home of the prizefighter, is making strenuous efforts to rid itself of the plague. Boxing in itself is an innocent and wholesome amusement but it is almost impossible to control it. The first tinge of the professional poisons it and it develops into the most degrading practice possible. It is on a par with the gladiators of ancient Rome or the bullfights of Spain. It develops the beast in both participants and onlookers. It should not be tolerated in any self-respecting community and the sooner Prince Rupert puts it under the ban the better for all concerned.

SEEKING PEACE.

Story from Petrograd That Kaiser Sought to Enlist Influence of Dowager Empress of Russia.

London, Nov. 4.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Observer sends the following: "According to a report being circulated in army circles that Russia recently has been approached regarding the concluding of peace with Germany, it is said that the German Emperor wrote a personal letter to the Dowager Empress urging her to persuade the Russian Emperor to make peace.

"The Dowager Empress forwarded the letter without comment to Emperor Nicholas, who sent it to Grand Duke Nicholas, commander in chief of the Russian army. The Grand Duke returned the letter with this comment: 'If you comply, our armies will mutiny and there will be a revolution in Russia.'

CARRANZA THREATENS ANOTHER CIVIL WAR

United States May Not Withdraw From Vera Cruz.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Latest official despatches today from Mexico City said Carranza was threatening civil war unless the convention complied with his demand to retire Villa and Zapata with his resignation. The Mexico City papers, by order of Carranza, are publishing the correspondence with Washington over the conditions of evacuation of Vera Cruz.

The United States has addressed a note through the Brazilian minister in Mexico City to General Carranza reiterating its willingness to withdraw American forces in Vera Cruz, but insisting upon a compliance with the original demands of the state department for certain guarantees.

IN HEAVY STORM GOODHOPE'S BIG GUNS COULD NOT BE USED

SMALL SHIPS PROVED MORE SUCCESSFUL IN FACE OF TERRIFIC STORM—GERMANS REPORT MONMOUTH LOST WITH ALL ON BOARD.

Valparaiso, Nov. 6.—According to statements made by officers of the German warships which anchored here on Tuesday, the battle with the British squadron of Coronel, Chile, was fought in the teeth of a northly gale that assumed almost hurricane proportions. Small boats could not live in the sea. The heavy weather militated against the larger ships and the Goodhope found her guns almost useless because of the ship's roll.

The German China fleet, the cruisers Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Nuremberg, had joined the cruisers Leipzig and Bremen, which latter had been detached to patrol the coast north of Valparaiso. The unit proceeded southward, apparently well aware of the rendezvous of the British off Concepcion Bay. At the same time the British cruisers Monmouth and Glasgow, accompanied by the transport Otranto, moved north to meet the flagship Goodhope. The British ships evidently were not aware of the proximity of the Germans and they met off Coronel.

The Battle.

It was 6 o'clock Sunday when the Germans sighted the three British ships. At the moment the German guns were trained, the Goodhope was seen coming at full speed, and through good seamanship managed to join the other British ships.

The British had come about and the two squadrons sailed southward in parallel lines, the Germans being nearer the coast. Gradually the two lines came nearer to each other and the Scharnhorst and Gneisenau simultaneously let go their twelve 8-inch guns, which they concentrated on the Goodhope. The firing continued for several minutes without damage. The German shells fell short and the Goodhope had such a roll that she could not reply. The smaller cruisers were far out of range.

Slowly the sea fighters drew in nearer, and when the two units were but 6,000 yards apart, the Goodhope fired her two 9-inch guns. She was still unable to use her eight 6-inch guns, which on the gundeck were so near the water line that as the vessel rolled they were almost awash. A broadside from the Scharnhorst and Gneisenau crippled the British flagship and her engines stopped.

Sinking of Monmouth.

The Monmouth, recognizing the distress of her companion, made a dash to cover the Goodhope, but by that time the distance separating the two squadrons had been reduced to 5,000 yards and the Germans were able to bring in all their ships to action and to use all the guns of the five vessels.

These were directed against the Monmouth, Glasgow and Otranto. The Otranto, badly damaged, escaped in the gathering darkness and soon afterward was followed by the Glasgow, which also had been put out of action but continued apparently seaworthy.

The five German ships continued their attack on the Monmouth and Goodhope until in a few minutes the former sunk. By this time only 4,500 yards separated the fighters.

The Goodhope, badly damaged, hung on until an explosion occurred on board her. She withdrew to the westward at 7:30 o'clock.

As she disappeared, flames were seen on board her. Whether her crew was able to stop the fire or if the explosion finally sunk her is not known. The flames died down and she was not seen again.

The Nurnberg searched until daylight for the wounded ship, when the German officers concluded that she had been lost with all of her crew. The only trace found of the Britishers was in the wireless message in which the Glasgow called unsuccessfully for the flagship. It was impossible to save any of the crew of the Monmouth as the Germans could not put over their small boats in the face of the gale and the Monmouth could not have lowered her boats.

Contrary to the first reports, the Glasgow did not reach Coronel or Talcahuane nor did the Otranto find a Chilean harbor. The German fleet, with the exception of the Leipzig and Bremen, after putting in here, sailed again Wednesday. If they had any word of the Leipzig and Bremen they did not make it known. The transport Prinz Eitel anchored in the bay Wednesday night.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM
Hundreds of People Have Found "Fruit-a-tives" Their Only Help

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Sunday School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

DOVERCOURT ROAD, Oct., 1st, 1913.

"For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy 'Fruit-a-tives'. I suffered from rheumatism, especially in my hands, for 18 months now, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. The enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the distress is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 18 months."

R. A. WAUGH

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is no longer one of the "incurable diseases". "Fruit-a-tives" has proved its marvellous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago—in fact, over all such diseases which arise from some derangement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers, e.g. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 3c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ALBERT OF BELGIUM EVERY INCH A KING

"My skin is of no more value to my country than is yours. My place is on the fighting line."
Thus spoke Albert, King of the Belgians, a king for the moment without a country, according to the Germans, but a king who bids fair to write his name in glorious letters in the world's history.

He spoke to the members of his personal staff, who urged him to leave the front, where he was actually under the German fire. A correspondent who saw him at the moment wrote:
"He was wet to the skin from the rain that had been falling for hours. His uniform was covered with eaked clay."

Not precisely the picture of a king on the battlefield as the great painters of the past have limned them, but one eminently stirring, wholly honorable, magnificently characteristic of a monarch and a people who have won the outspoken admiration and applause even of those they are fighting—a fact unparalleled in the history of war.

In a sense Albert of Belgium is an accidental king. His father and elder brother stood betwixt him and the throne which Leopold of Paris coulisse fame occupied, but did not adorn. But King Leopold outlived alike the heir-apparent and the heir-presumptive, and on his death Albert, then 34 years old, succeeded to the throne.

He brought to it democratic convictions and some experience of democratic institutions, for he had spent months in the United States, trying the life of a reporter in a St. Paul newspaper, traveling widely, always without indication of his princely state, and concluding his visit by writing a book which indicated clearly that American institutions had won him.

A lover of peace, a student of arts and sciences, an earnest advocate of the advancement of his country along industrial lines, he wholly believed that the treaty of London, which guaranteed Belgian neutrality, had assured her future peace. His first speech from the throne expressed that idea.

"We must," he said, "continue our unshaken attachment to constitutional liberty and the love of independence, and thus hold sacred our patrimony while advancing toward peaceful conquests in the fields of labor and science."

To a monarch holding such views the war which stopped the wheels of industry and obliterated the fruits of a century of peace must be a tragedy. It must be doubly tragic to Albert, united as he is by bonds of both blood and marriage to those who now appear in his land as conquerors and oppressors. His mother was a Hohenzollern, his wife a princess of Bavaria. But he is King of the Belgians and stands for and with his people against the Hohenzollern attack.

A king who, mud-stained and drenched, stands on the firing line amidst his own people takes us back to the time when kings did their own fighting. The spectacle is unique in modern wars. Perhaps if it were more generally regarded as part of the duty of a king to expose his life equally with that of his soldiers there would be fewer king-made wars.—Ex.

That would a condition to the sale contract.

Most Vulnerable Point.

The most vulnerable point in the purchase of German ships during the war is that the sale is not in any way conditional. The sale must be bona fide, absolute and unconditional to be recognizable, and there is some doubt whether it would hold water even then. The libel against a German vessel is thus a menace to such sales as well as being of itself a danger to the present German shipowners. The United States government, in the event that Congress ratifies the President's policy in favor of a government purchase of such vessels, would have to give serious consideration to this situation.

SHIPS IN PORT ARE IN A SORRY PLIGHT

German Craft Idle in American Harbors Are But Big Bill of Expense.

Washington, Nov. 7.—With British cruisers off the Atlantic coast keeping them penned in port and with libel actions tying them up in the United States courts and opposition developing against their purchase by the United States government, and the individual shipowners becoming increasingly wary of buying them, the German merchant vessels which have been lying in American ports since the outbreak of war, are in a serious plight and are causing a serious financial drain upon Germany.

Unquestionably, Germany would be glad to rid herself of a large portion of the burden this formerly great commercial asset has become. But the prospect of its purchase are becoming poorer and poorer. Great Britain's action in seizing the tank steamers Brindilla and Platara, and her reported intention of fighting the sale of these vessels from German to American shipowners, has an embargo against further such sales in all probability until these cases are settled.

Opposition Is Increasing

Opposition to the purchase of the German merchant fleet by the United States government is increasing. Not only is Great Britain's argument that such a purchase would create a gold credit for Germany recognized, but it is also realized that this transfer would relieve Germany of a financial drain, which would strengthen her in the war. That the United States government could not be a party in rendering such material assistance to Germany is the belief of most persons here.

The libels against many of the German ships is a further complication in the situation. The Kronprinzessin Cecilie is now in the hands of a United States court, and is technically United States government property. The purchaser of such a ship would have to buy it subject to the libel.

is a material consideration. Skelton crews must be kept on board and reports to Washington from time to time have indicated that some of the German vessels have been kept in such a state of preparedness that they have even had steam up ready for departure. The vigilance of the British warships, however, has prevented this in practically every instance.

Only seven German merchant vessels have thus far been transferred to American registry and the claim of the owners in each of these cases is that they have always been owned by Americans.

WASHINGTON GOES DRY.

Seattle, Nov. 5.—Returns thus far received on the "wet" or "dry" vote in this state indicate that the "drys" have won the day by about 15,000 majority.

"NATIONAL HERO SERIES" NO. 4

Lord Nelson—Old England's Great Naval Hero

WITHOUT Horatio Nelson, England would have been invaded and perhaps conquered by Napoleon. At Trafalgar he smashed forever the French Emperor's hope of creating a naval power. Never was man more idolized and beloved—not only by all of England's people who breathlessly awaited news of his telling victories, but by every man of his fleet. A true Anglo-Saxon, he detested tyrannous powers and legislative usurpations of every kind. He was particularly opposed to prohibitive enactments governing the diet of his men, who, like him, enjoyed Barley-Malt brews, even as their fathers did for countless generations before. Good beer, according to Lord Nelson, has ever been good food. Budweiser Beer for 57 years has been the product of an institution holding the highest ideals known to the ancient art of brewing. The output, due to Quality and Purity, has increased every year until 7,500 men are daily required to keep pace with the public demand. Budweiser sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles.

FINAL COUNT OVER BOXING IN THE SOUTH

Professional Twenty-Round Game Will Be Barred in California in the Future.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—It is a foregone conclusion that the final count has been made over the boxing game in California and the professional twenty-round sport declared officially out. There seemed to be a lingering, faint-hearted hope well into Wednesday night that later returns would prove favorable, but the latest returns indicate a stronger majority in favor of the anti-fight measure. Men who have been connected with the game from a standpoint of promoting are admitting that boxing has been killed.

Under the new law any boxer who has ever been paid for his services is barred as an amateur. This means that an entirely new crop would have to be developed. The law also prohibits anything more than trophies worth $35 and that in itself would be a dash of cold water to the boxers.

A poetic genius is one who is able to convert his stuff into real money.

THE BELGIAN RELIEF FUND.

Editor, The Daily News.

Sir,—At the present time, several patriotic local organizations are engaged in the good work of collecting funds for the Belgian Relief Fund. These efforts will, no doubt, result in the raising of a considerable sum for this charitable object. With regard to the disposal of the amount collected, this would I presume in the ordinary course take the form of a cash contribution to the central fund of the Belgian Relief Committee, forming one of many similar ones from other points, and thus losing if not in its identity, at least to a certain extent its individuality.

I venture to submit the following suggestion to those handling this good work for consideration: That instead of making cash contributions, they make the contribution from Prince Rupert, one of food products, preferably in the shape of either canned salmon from the Skeena River canneries, or of halibut shipped in cold storage.

We are all interested at the present time in making the fish products of the northern waters of British Columbia known to the Old World. A gift of this description would not only be acceptable to the heroic population of Belgium, and be remembered, but would also identify Prince Rupert as a center for fish products of quality unexcelled, especially interesting to the old country owing to the havoc that has been played with the fishing industry of the North Sea by mines at the present time.

A subscription plan of this description should obtain the hearty support of all interested in this industry, owing to the world-wide publicity that would surely be obtained.

The entry of food products for the Belgian relief is, according to latest advices, allowed by the combatants in the present war, so there would probably be no difficulty in making the necessary arrangements.

Submitting the above in the interests of the community of Prince Rupert and publicity, I remain, Yours very truly, F. S. WRIGHT, Prince Rupert, November 9, 1914. P. O. Box 249.

SPECIAL RATE MONTHLY

WILL DEMAND 2,000,000 MEN FOR KITCHENER

London, Nov. 6.—Every word from the front, official and private, tells of the unparalleled fury of the German onslaughts on the British and French lines last week-end, attacks so desperate that German officers threatened to fire upon any troop which hung back. It is from German, not British bullets, that our latest prisoners are suffering. The enemy's efforts have slackened for the moment, but it is futile to imagine that they are ended in Northern France and Belgium.

The Daily Mail correspondent declares the German right has been smashed like a fallen wine glass. Their retreat from Northern Belgium was like a rout; even wounded comrades being left behind. Other reports, however, show that the Germans are preparing for a prolonged resistance around Brussels, which they may hope to tempt the Allies to bombard, and on the historic field of Waterloo, which has become a mass of trenches. Ever given to the theatrical, the Kaiser may hope to conjure up the figure of Blucher, "that man who, in Napoleon's day, won the battle of Waterloo for the traitorous English."

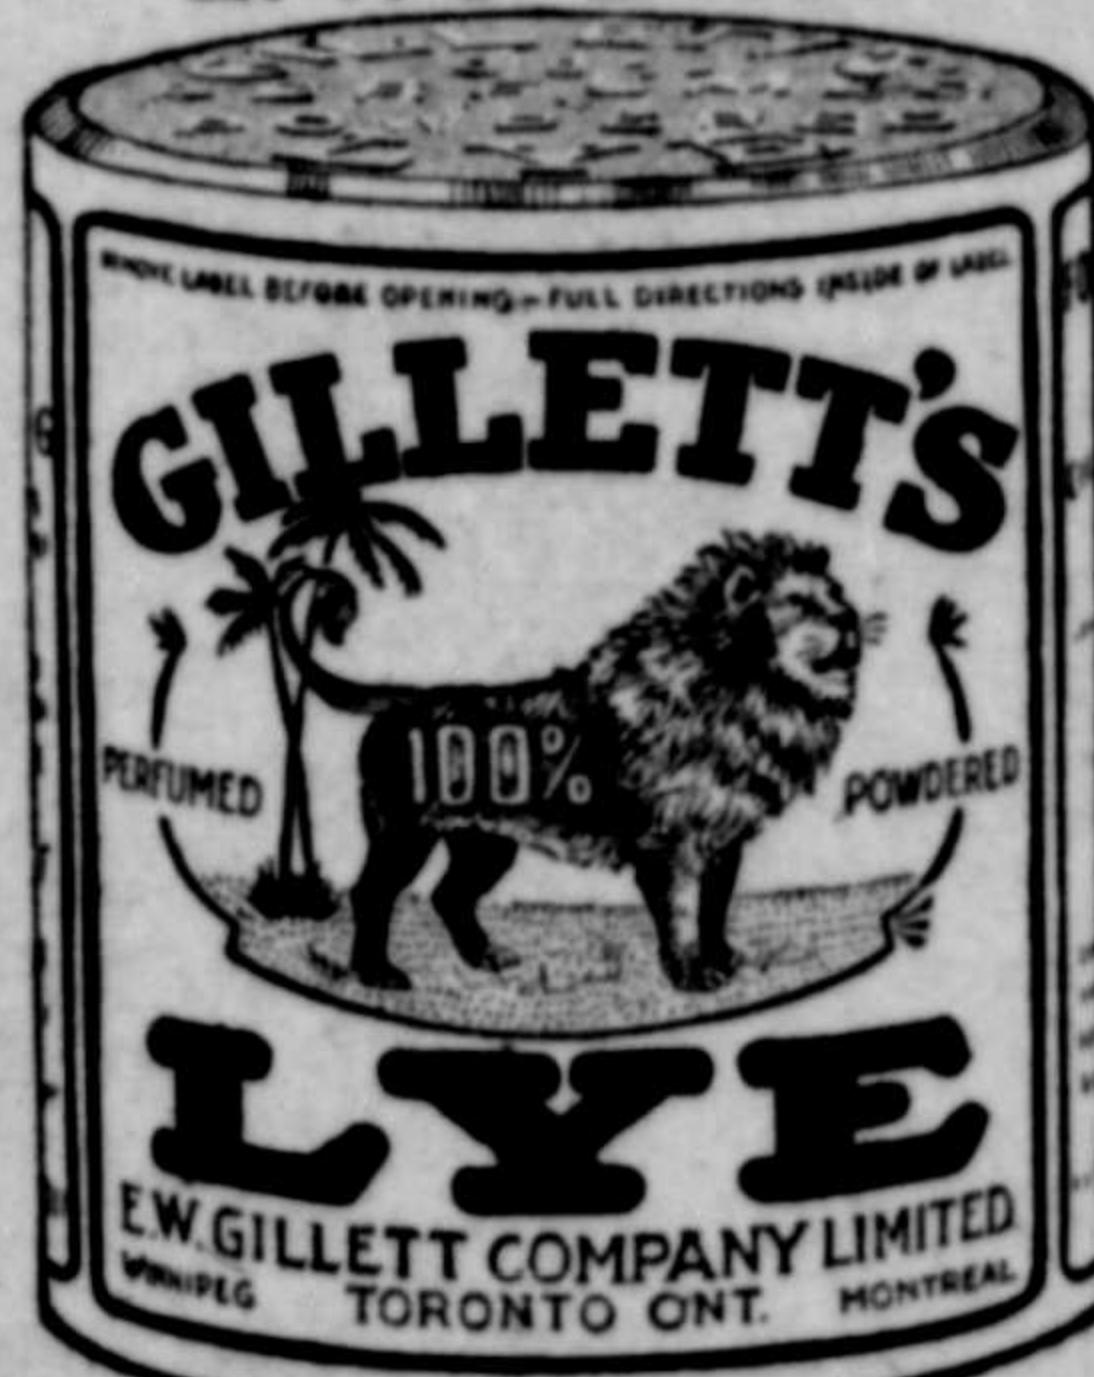

The Times, in an editorial, warns the English public against the delusion that the end of the war is within a measurable distance. It will take far more crushing blows, it says, before the 65,000,000 high-spirited Germans, their immense resources of men and materials, admit defeat. When Parliament meets, next week, demands are likely to come from influential quarters for some form of compulsion which will give Kitchener two million trained men by next March—Vancouver Province.
