SOCIETY CIRCUS BIG SUCCESS EXHIBITION BLDG. CROWDED

AND SIDE SHOWS PROVE GREAT ATTRACTION—THE POLICE COURT DID A BIG BUSINESS—MUSIC BY THE BANDS.

Society Circus held at the Municipal Hall last evening even a greater success than was expected of it. For over two hours the place was the scene of great enjoyment, a large number of people being netted for the Belgian fund. There was no lack of audience. The hall was filled during nearly the whole of the evening while all the booths and stands did a flourishing business.

The city band and the Metlakatla provided music. The center of the ground floor was set off as a dancing floor and for hours the place was fully occupied by those who enjoyed that form of amusement. All around were various side attractions.

The German attempts to check the inundations was stopped by our artillery south of Dixmude and the enemy driven out of a portion of their trenches by water. The German infantry attacks were repulsed, as also others on the Aisne near Vailley. There is violent cannonading at Reims.

Tonight the circus will be continued, but with a complete change of program. Anyone attending should put on laughing clothes and be prepared to relax for a few hours.

On the right is a scouting party from one of the best Austrian corps, of which very little is left since its retreat before the Russian hordes in the earlier stages of the battle.

GERMANS CONTINUE VIOLENT ATTACKS

Paris, Nov. 17.—(Official.)—From Nieuport to Dixmude and in the Ypres region cannonading has resumed today with greater violence than on the preceding days.

The German attempts to check the inundations was stopped by our artillery south of Dixmude and the enemy driven out of a portion of their trenches by water.

The German infantry attacks were repulsed, as also others on the Aisne near Vailley. There is violent cannonading at Reims.

BRITISH GENERAL KILLED IN ACTION

London, Nov. 17.—The announcement is made that Brig. Gen. Charles Fitzclarence, of the Irish Guards, has been killed in action at Ypres.

DISLOYALTY CHARGE IS REPORTED UNFOUNDED

The committee of the Council appointed to investigate the charge of disloyalty reported last night. The majority report is given below. There was also a minority report by Alderman Morrissey, which differed only in wording from the other.

Prince Rupert, B. C., November 16, 1914.

To the Mayor and Council. Gentlemen,—Re observance of holiday on 7th inst: We your committee find that work was carried on generally and that those who took the holiday were the exception.

We, your committee, regret that all work was not suspended on that occasion but we do not think that the action of the city employees who worked was intended to show any disloyalty to the Empire or disrespect to our volunteer contingent and that it was due to the procedure set on other civil holidays of giving the men the choice whether they worked or not.

We would recommend that, in future, when holidays are intended to be lived up to, the mayor shall instruct the heads of departments when he considers it necessary that work be suspended on such days and to insist on the carrying out of his order.

REPORT CRACOW ABOUT TO FALL KEY TO ATTACK ON GERMANY

RUSSIANS HAVE INVESTED CITY FROM THE NORTH—PART OF CITY IN FLAMES AND INHABITANTS IN FLIGHT—CITY MAY FALL ANY MOMENT.

London, Nov. 17.—A Venice dispatch says the fall of Cracow is expected at any moment. The city is invested on the north and parts of it are ablaze. The inhabitants are in flight.

For the Russians the fall of Cracow means the key to the industrial districts of Silesia and striking a vital economic blow to Germany.

JOE ROERIG'S SHOW.

The Society Circus is a great success and a credit to Prince Rupert. Everything went off without a hitch and even with a touch of professional air about it. Great credit is due in particular to Mr. Joe Roerig, who conceived the idea and carried out the plan in detail. If Joe has any more ideas like that in his cranium he better quit his office work and enter the show business. The circus will proceed tonight again with a complete change of program. It will end tomorrow night with a grand masquerade ball.

GENERAL DE WET REPORTED WOUNDED

London, Nov. 17.—A Pretoria dispatch states that General De Wet, head of the rebellion in the Orange Free States, has been wounded in the head. De Wet's followers are much dejected. It is said they are poorly armed and lack ammunition.

WASHINGTON DOES NOT GO DRY TILL 1916

Olympia, Nov. 17.—Attorney General Tanner has ruled that initiative measure No. 3, the statewide prohibition bill adopted at the election November 3, becomes operative January 1, 1916. The opinion was in response to request from Governor Lister for an interpretation of the act. This is the first official ruling on the measure.

Mr. Tanner's opinion goes into the question at length, pointing out that there is no violence done to the constitutional provision governing the initiative by advancing the date in the law itself, and cites many decisions in support of this contention. In conclusion, the attorney general says: "You are therefore advised that in my opinion initiative measure No. 3 becomes the law of this state on the thirtieth day after November 3, 1914, but that the provisions of such law do not become effective until January 1, 1916."

NEW ZEALAND READY.

Wellington, New Zealand, Nov. 17.—Commenting upon Britain's call for further contingents for abroad, the Prime Minister, Hon. Mr. Massey, said that if it became a duty to ask New Zealand for more men he had not the slightest doubt but that the response would be satisfactory. He thought the Dominion could send 15,000 men.

CITY BUYS LUMBER AND PAYS BY NOTE

The city has received the sum of $8,000 from its brokers, Terry, Brigs & Selater, to apply on the consolidated local improvement bylaws which this firm has contracted to place. The money will be used as far as it will go in paying for the labor of replanking Borden street and Fifth and Sixth avenues. The lumber for these streets has been awarded by tender to the Westholme Lumber Company. Mr. Alberts appeared before the council last night and agreed to supply any amount of the order required by the city and take in payment the city's notes at three months with 7 1/4 per cent. interest, and the permission of extending it another six months if required or of paying off in the meantime. This was accepted on the understanding that the Westholme would sign a letter to this effect, which will be drawn up by the city solicitor.

MEXICO JEALOUS OF EUROPEAN WAR GETS IN THE LIMELIGHT

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 17.—War has been declared between the Carranza and Villa elements of the Constitutionalist army, according to advices received at Juarez tonight from officials of the conclave of chieftains at Aguas Calientes. A preliminary battle already has occurred at Leon, between the convention city and Queretaro, it is reported.

General Pablo Gonzales, the Carranza commander, has moved his forces from Queretaro north to Silao to meet the Villa advance. General Manuel Chao, a Villa chieftain, departed today from Aguas Calientes with a strong column.

A message from official sources given out by Rafael Muzquiz, the Carranza consul general to the United States, said: "The first chief is at Cordoba. A majority of the principal chiefs have declared in favor of Carranza. Villa has called on the people to take arms. All the south and east is loyal to the first chief."

AMERICAN WARSHIP HELPS NONCOMBATANTS

Athens, Nov. 17.—The American warship Tennessee has arrived at Port Vurla, in Asia Minor, and will put a stop to the ill-treatment of British, French and Russian residents there. The authorities at Smyrna, fearing a bombardment, have left for the interior.

LORD ROBERTS WILL BE BURIED IN ST. PAUL'S

London, Nov. 17.—The body of Lord Roberts will be buried in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, and not at Ascot, as previously announced.

GASOLINE LAUNCH FOR CITY DISCUSSED

The City Council has not yet decided upon the buying of a launch for the use of the electrical department. Tenders were in last night but were not opened.

Alderman McClymont asked before the tenders be opened for some information on this matter. He wanted to know what the launch would be used for.

Alderman Montgomery contended that last year it had cost nearly $5,000 for launch hire. There had, of course, been a lot of use made during construction, but there would continue to be a demand for a launch. He said it was not proposed to get one large enough to tow the garbage scow. That would cost too much. It was proposed to get one at a cost of about $300 or $400, which would be available for the electrical engineer to make a quick run to Shawatlans in case of need or to take anything light there.

Alderman Maitland was afraid the engine would not be in good order when needed if so managed.

Alderman Morrissey also felt that the launch might be of little use if not kept under the eye of some one practically all the time. Besides he doubted the wisdom of incurring such an expense now at this late date in the life of the Council.

It was finally decided not to open the tenders for a week to allow the matter to be looked into.

The death of Lord Roberts will cause regret throughout the whole British world. Coming as it did so suddenly and at a time when the counsel of her great soldiers was so much needed by the Empire, the loss will be felt all the more. Lord Roberts has made for himself a place in British history that is on a par with great heroes. He has served his country long and well. He was the man at the helm on several occasions when the prestige and security of the Empire was at stake and he saved the honor of the flag. It will be well remembered with what enthusiasm his appointment as Field Marshal in the South African War was received and how victories followed his appointment in quick succession.

It would be folly, however, to think that the death of Lord Roberts will affect the conduct of the war. His full quota of service has been already rendered. He carried the weight of 82 years on his shoulders and his part in the war was little more than an intensely interested spectator. Indeed, it is possible that the excitement of the war in which he could not take part contributed to his hasty demise. The conduct of the war has all along fallen on the rugged shoulders of Earl Kitchener, who appears to be well able to carry the load.

It is very significant how each crisis finds some character big enough to stand in the breach. The British nation has never been without its quota of great men. One seems to follow another in regular order and when the people have finished weeping for one of their historical heroes who have already passed away they suddenly find another waiting to take his place. All this would lead one to believe that it is opportunity and responsibility that makes a man. That the potency of greatness exists in the average man and that it only requires the circumstance to draw it out.

Historians will continue to tell us that history is a record our great men and the historians ought to know better. A man will never understand history aright until he finds out that great men are but the focus of the potential powers of the race. What is great about the British people is not their heroes but their breed; their capacity for throwing great men to the surface. Even the genius does not stand alone. He could never exist if it were not for the cumulative thought of his time. The thought of the multitude struggling for expression finds vent in some one man and he becomes the genius. He receives all the praise while the multitude that made him possible is forgotten.

CANADA'S FOOD GIFTS.

Hon. George H. Perley Contradicts Unreliable London Paper.

London, Nov. 13.—Hon. George H. Perley states that there is no truth in the report published recently in a London paper that Canada's food contribution had been lying neglected on the docks owing to failure to provide sufficient accommodation for storage.

This report appeared in a London paper possessing unenviable notoriety nowadays for unreliability of its special information, but despite this it was cabled out to the United States and went through Canada. Mr. Perley represents the circulation of such stories in Canada.

The local government board, without exception, says Mr. Perley, have dealt promptly with all cargoes from Canada, which at the outside have only remained on the dock for a few hours.

HAD HALF MILLION MEN ON THE YSER

German Losses on the Belgian River Total 90,000, Officers Say.

London, Nov. 13.—Telegraphing from the north of France, under date of Thursday, the correspondent of the Times says:

"According to German officers who have fallen into the hands of the Allies, about half a million men were fighting against the Allies at the beginning of the great battle on the Yser."

PANIC IS SPREADING THROUGHOUT GERMANY

Refugees From Silesia Fleeing Before Russian Invasion Pouring Into Berlin, Dresden and Other Towns.

London, Nov. 17.—With fog on the Aisne and snow on the heights of the Vosges the British and French continue to play the role of a stone wall, gradually wearing down the German forces, while Russia continues her pressure upon the heart of industrial Germany. Berlin messages through Holland indicate that, despite whole months of failure, Calais is still the German goal and hatred of Britain their most powerful motive. Other authoritative statements emanating from Germany show that the real situation is still hidden from the German people generally, but The Times produces evidence showing that the great bankers, shipowners and captains of industry know Germany cannot possibly win. Men like Ballin, Menken and Thyssen were assured by the general staff at the outbreak of the war that they could smash France in three weeks, and then knock out Russia before she had time to complete her mobilization. Belgium being sullenly acquiescent and Britain entirely inactive. Every one of these expectations has been falsified already, and panic is becoming evident as civilians, with all their belongings flee from Silesia to Berlin, Dresden and other towns before the Russian advance. The more German army corps Joffre and French hold up in North France the more quickly will Russia continue this invasion, bringing home to the German nation what her leading business men already realize.

Meanwhile conditions in Austria are rapidly becoming so demoralized that it is not impossible that she will be compelled to break away from the Dual Alliance and sue separately for peace.

Recruiting in England is still far too slow for the purposes of Kitchener and French. Only 800 men came forward in London on Thursday, while yesterday there were only four at Bristol, sixteen at Leeds and seventeen at Nottingham. Irish reports are much better. It is evident that the Nationalist volunteers are beginning to come forward. The Nationalist public bodies throughout the country are readily giving their servants leave of absence for military purposes. Forty-two employees of the Dublin corporation have joined the colors, which is compared with 439 from Belfast. The democratization of the British army continues. The last official gazette records the promotion of 121 non-commissioned officers to be second lieutenants for service in the field, but the problem of how to get along without compulsory service to raise the second million men for Kitchener's army which Parliament will vote this week remains unsolved.

FOR A PROLONGED STAY

Germans Took Their Threshing Machines to War With Them

London, Nov. 16.—A Petrograd despatch to the Post dealing with the failure of the German plans says:

"Three weeks ago the Germans planned to occupy Poland up to the Vistula, wintering in Warsaw and Ivangorod. They even brought reaping and threshing machines with them to gather the Polish crops, and there were other indications of a long stay. While established on the Vistula they were to assist Austria to recover Galicia. Unfortunately the Russian commander also had plans which he carried forward with iron rigidity and it is believed that Russia is preparing to move on a wide front into Germany when the time comes. This front has still a considerable extent of German territory to recover before it gets into line for this advance. "Russia's present objective is Danzig."

ALASKA'S WATER DEPTHS UNCERTAIN

Radical Changes in Ocean Floor, Affecting Navigation, Are Reported by Explorer.

San Francisco, Nov. 17.—Remarkable changes in the ocean floor off the Alaska coast were reported here by Capt. G. D. Pederson, whaling master and explorer, who returned from the Far North several days ago with the whaler Herman.

According to Captain Pederson, the water between Hog Island and Amaknak Island has shoaled from an indicated chart depth of nine and one-half fathoms to a bare two fathoms at high water, making it impossible for vessels of large draught to use the passage. Captain Pederson believes the change is due to volcanic disturbances on Bogoslof Island and in Unalaska.

TO BLOW ROOF OFF HELIGOLAND

Admiral Beatty Eager for a Chance to Get at the Germans

London, Oct. 24.—(Mail Correspondence.)—The British public, which at first was inclined to be a little impatient about the inaction of the British fleet, is now more reconciled to the wisdom of the policy which has been adopted. In this connection it is told that some weeks ago Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, in reply to an enquiry, reported that he had no doubt of his ability to dig out and sink the German fleet, but that to do so would cost half his own, and that the waiting policy would secure the same end at far less cost. It is also told in naval circles that Admiral Beatty has applied to Jellicoe several times for permission to go in and "blow the roof off Heligoland," but that the naval commander-in-chief has refused. It is said, however, that he has promised Beatty, who is one of the most daring officers in the service, that when "the day" does come he will have a front seat.

CANADA MUST DO HER SHARE TOO

If Britain Needs Two Million Fighting Men, Dominion Will Send 150,000.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—The announcement from London that Great Britain proposes to put an army of two million men in the field has been received with great interest at the capital. It undoubtedly means that a correspondingly big effort must be made by Canada during the next year to maintain a steady and ever-increasing flow of Canadian fighting men towards the firing line in Europe.

It is estimated that if the war is still in progress a year from now Canada will have an army of approximately 150,000 men in the field.

Thirty-three thousand have already been sent to Salisbury Plains, Plains, 15,000 will go forward in late December or January. Before the end of February it is likely that 70,000 Canadians will have left Canadian shores.

The recent advices from the war office to the effect that infantry reinforcements to the number of 25 per cent per month are expected from Canada means that for this purpose alone from seven to ten thousand recruits will have to be supplied.

In government and military circles it is stated that Canada is prepared for an indefinite period to send forward men as they can be armed and equipped. It will not be a matter of one, two or three contingents, but of sending forward a continuous stream of reinforcements, so long as they are required to accomplish the desired defeat of the legions of the Kaiser.

CAMP JOURNALISM IS NOW FORBIDDEN

No Member of British Forces Allowed to Write for Any Newspaper.

London, Nov. 17.—Increasing stringency in the War Office regulations directed against camp journalism is seen in the fact that a new order has been issued that no member of the forces be permitted to correspond, either directly or indirectly, with any newspaper office.

A violent hailstorm which raged on Wednesday last caused much destruction in the camps at Salisbury Plain, several large marquees, including the tents of officers and men, besides orderly tents having been blown down.

With regard to the case of typhoid just reported, it is learned that the man stricken with the disease had resisted inoculation, as he objected to the practice.

That military caste distinctions are more pronounced in England than in Canada is exemplified in the complaint of a Canadian private who had sacrificed a good position to join the force, and who states that in a Salisbury hotel the manager requested him not to use the reading and smoking rooms when officers were occupying them.

CHOLERA GERMS FOR CANADIANS

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—A private letter received by an Ottawa citizen from a member of the Canadian contingent at Salisbury Plain describes in an exceedingly circumstantial manner an incident in the camp which has not before been related by cable or mail.

The statement is to the effect that during the first week at Salisbury Plain one of the sentries, while on duty by the big water tanks, challenged an individual lurking in the shadow of the structure. The sentry's challenge was answered by a shot which entered his arm, but which did not prevent him from returning the fire. According to the chronicler, who afterwards helped to dress the wounded man, the intruder was killed by the sentry. When the body was examined there was found several vials containing cholera germs intended, apparently, to spread disease through the drinking water among the troops. The writer states that the affair was hushed up by the authorities and kept out of the press.

TURNING POINT OF BATTLE IS IN SIGHT

Berlin Now Regards the Russian Menace as Paramount.

London, Nov. 17.—The slackening of the Teutonic offensive in the west as noted in yesterday's official reports from the Allies' headquarters is regarded here as due to the fact that Germany is obliged to maintain battle fronts so far apart as East Prussia and the North Sea. Huge bodies of German troops have been alternately thrown across the intervening thousand miles to counter anything in the nature of a positive success gained at either end and Germans' commanding superiority in numbers in the earlier stages of the war made progress of her forces easy and effective.

Military observers, here, however, take the view that Russia on one side and the armies of three nations on the other side, now having had time in which to mobilize their forces more fully, the effectiveness of this process of shifting large bodies from one theatre to the other is no longer so pronounced and that any thinning of the German line on either side must mean hereafter at least a temporary assumption of the defensive on the part of the German and the resumption of the offensive by the Allies.

For the moment Berlin, according to English opinion, appears to regard the Russian menace as of paramount importance.

The intimation of the official reports, however, are considered here as more promising from the Allies' point of view and there is a disposition to think that the turning point soon may be reached which will open a new phase of the long drawn battle.

DOES NOT DESPISE THE BRITISH FLEET

German Naval Critic Warns People That It is Still to Be Reckoned With.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—Count von Reventlow, writing in the Tageszeitung, again sounds a note of warning against the popular exaggeration of Germany's successes in the past, or of results attained by the German fleet. At the same time he cautions his readers against a contempt of the strength of the British fleet. This naval critic expects a complete victory, but he writes that the people should not, for a moment suppose that the British fleet has suffered severely from the losses caused up to the present time by German ships.

"We have no reason to disregard the British fleet," he says, "or to believe that its fighting spirit and effectiveness are not of a high standing. It may be said that those best able to judge in this matter in German naval circles have no such conception."

NO MORE TIME FOR VON KLUCK

One Hour for Von Kluck the Next Time He Suggests Surrender.

London, Oct. 24.—(Mail Correspondence.)—A story which has come over from France, which has not been allowed to see the light here is that when President Poincare went to the front recently, he fully expected to assist at the surrender of Von Kluck's army. The Allies had been gaining daily successes for some time and there is no doubt that the German general was indeed hard pressed. One morning he was reported to have sent a parlementaire to the French commander to ask for terms of surrender. The reply was that his surrender must be unconditional, and must include men, guns and stores. Von Kluck managed to spend a day in talking it over and then pretended to accept the terms, but said that he must have the authority from Berlin and the allied commandry officers gave him another day to secure it. The wily German general utilized the two days thus gained to rush up reinforcements by train and motor car and to give his exhausted troops a rest. Then he broke off negotiations and President Poincare went back. The next time Von Kluck asks for terms he will be given an hour to come in, or be annihilated.

HUGE BRITISH ARMY.

With the new levy of a million men made in Britain the strength of the army will be brought up to 2,800,000 men. This is about one in seventeen of the population. If Canada raises the same proportion she would have 470,000 men under arms. This is by far the greatest army in Britain's history.

NOT LIKE CANADIANS.

London, Nov. 17.—Captain Shaw, of the Canadian Field Artillery, asked the magistrate of the Marlborough Street Police Court to make an example of a sergeant in the Canadian contingent, who was charged with begging. The prisoner, who was sentenced to one month in jail, declares he served in the South African war and gave up a good situation in Canada to join the contingent.

Tenders for a new telephone directory were received last night by the Council. The Journal put in a bid of $104. The other offices put in a price of $140, which is based on Vancouver prices. It is well known that the city has been getting all its printing done in the past at prices away below those given in Vancouver.

In the past the members of the local press were compelled to use in the Council Chamber a rickety old table that might fall down if an extra sheet of paper were laid on it. Last night there was a dandy new table installed containing a cute little drawer with lock and key for each reporter. The new table attracted so much of the scribes' attention that they almost forgot to report the proceedings.

Wm. Angles account against the city for drawing plans for a scow is still unpaid. Alderman Dybbavn said the price of $70 was absurd. He only had given a sketch plan, from which the city engineer drew to scale. The Board of Works had ordered it paid but it was decided to hold it over for a week to get the advice of the city solicitor. It may mean another lawsuit for the city as Mr. Angle has placed his account with his solicitors for collection.

KAISER'S MOUSTACHE.

Disappearance of Upturned Extremities Said to Have Given Impression of Despondency.

Copenhagen, Nov. 17.—The Kaiser has clipped off the upstanding ends of his moustache. This startling change in the Emperor's appearance was observed in the past day or two, when the Emperor was passing through Central Germany on his way to inspect a large number of recruits completing their military training.

The loss of the aggressively erect moustache extremities robs Wilhelm II very much of his semi-ferocious martial appearance. When it was observed some time after the beginning of the war that the Kaiser's hair had turned white no one paid much attention to the change, but the removal of the moustache ends had struck the public imagination and, strange as it may seem, has done more, perhaps, than anything else, to convince the people of Berlin that the war outlook is becoming bad for Germany.
